NOTE AND COMMENT.

THAT faction of the Republican party which is represented by Thomas C. Platt is much stirred up over Mayor Strong's appointments, which do not meet with their approval and in the making of which they say Mayor Strong broke his promises. Among machine Republicans there has been general dissatisfaction with Mr. Strong because he recognized the importance of keeping his promises to the various organizations which contributed their support at his election and because with this end in view he has chosen his appointees from their various ranks. While Mr. Platt has been displeased with many of Mayor Strong's appointments he has made no open kick until William Brookfield was appointed Commissioner of Public Works. This was a grievous disappointment to the boss and a direct blow at his leadership, for being dissatisfied with Mr. Brookfield he had him give place first to Chairman Hackett of the Republican State Committee and later to Edward Lauterbach as chairman of the New York County Committee. It was Mr. Platt's intention to have placed in the position of Commissioner of Public Works some one who would be at his beck and call in order that he could control the large patronage connected with that office. The appointment of Brookfield to this position is the worst for Platt's interest that could have been made, for having thrown him over he has nothing to expect from him, while the disposition of the patronage cannot fail to strengthen Brookfield's position with the Republican party, which is already divided on the question of Platt rule. At the meeting of his followers, which was called by Platt last Sunday to consider what should be done to punish Mayor Strong, many expedients were considered and it was proposed to hold up various measures in the legislature, the passage of which would aid Mr. Strong in his reform government. It is not probable, however, that anything of the kind will be done, because Mayor Strong is right and any action of the nature considered would only act as a boomerang upon the whole party and tend to destroy public confidence in it.

WHILE Mayor Strong's course in his effort for reform will meet the approval of all except a class of dissatisfied office seekers the steps taken by various state officers to secure to the victors the spoils are to be condemned. Superintendent of Public Works Aldridge, ignoring the fact that Republican assistants had been allowed to remain in office during the usual term under Democrats, has removed the three assistant superintendents, Flannigan, McDonough and Simmons and has filled their places by the appointment of Thomas Wheeler, of Utica, R. G. Lay of Buffalo, and J. M. Parker. Tenure of office and civil service rules were not considered by Mr. Aldridge in his endeavor to find places for machine leaders. According to the Utica Herald the appointment of Thomas Wheeler as superintendent of the middle division of canals is well received in this county by Republicans and Democrats alike. Mr. Wheeler is unquestionably a hard and successful worker in his party's interest but the selection of such a man does not tend to increase the respect for the Republican party.

THE Philadelphia mayoralty election held Tuesday resulted in a victory for the Republicans, who elected their candidate by 45,000 or 50,000 majority. Great interest was shown in this election and the campaign has been hotter than any other in years. The Democratic nominee was ex-Governor Pattison and had he been elected he would have been a prominent candidate for the Presidency in 1896. Another reason for the especial interest was that the Republican candidate was selected against Senator Quay's wishes and commands and it was thought he would be cut by the Quay faction. The result either signifies that Quay's influence, which has heretofore been paramount, is less than that of his former henchmen, or he thought better of the nomination and decided to throw his support to the Republican candidate. At any rate Governor Pattison's failure takes him out of the possible candidates for the Presidency among which he would have been prominent if he could have demonstrated his ability to carry Philadelphia into the Democratic ranks.

THE old proverb "Its an ill wind that blows no one good" was aptly illustrated recently. Mrs. Sophie Rhoades of Batavia owned property to the amount of $12,000. She made a will leaving the estate to her son and in the event of his death the income was to go to her husband and at his decease the property reverted to the Young Women's Christian Home of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Rhoades and her son were passengers on the ill-fated Elbe and were drowned. Mr. Rhoades died within a few weeks at Cincinnati and the Washington institution therefore will get the property

THE sudden death on Wednesday evening in Washington, D. C. of Frederick Douglass removes the most conspicuous American of the colored race in public life. He was without doubt the most eloquent orator of African descent and was a very prominent anti-slavery agitator. Mr. Douglass was born a slave in 1817 in Talbot County, Maryland and when he was ten years of age was sent to Baltimore and surreptitiously learning to read and write he decided to run away. This resolve he put into effect making his escape to New England in 1838. He settled in New Bedford, Mass., where he married and was assisted in his education by William Lloyd Garrison. In 1841 he made an eloquent speech at an anti-slavery convention and for several years after he traveled through New England lecturing as an agent for the Massachussetts Anti-Slavery Society. In 1845 he crossed to the Continent and here his friends raised $750 to purchase his pardon from his former master. Returning to this country in 1847 he founded an anti-slavery paper in Rochester which he carried on for many years. In that city he formed the acquaintance of John Brown and was supposed to be implicated in his raid into Virginia. During the war Mr. Douglass assisted in raising several colored regiments. Since the close of the rebellion he has held several public offices and filled a number of missions, namely to Santa Domingo and Hayti. Since the election of President Cleveland, when he resigned as consul general to Hayti he has resided in Washington.

OF the various changes made in the penal code to aid in securing pure elections, none will be received more gladly by candidates for public office than the amendment passed last week by the assembly, which was introduced by Mr. Conkling of New York. This amendment makes it a misdemeanor for any person to solicit of a candidate for office the purchase of ball, picnic or any kind of entertainment ticket. Solicitation of this kind was a great abuse and at every election candidates were obliged to buy quantities of tickets for entertainments in which they had no interest as a refusal meant the loss of many votes. It is greatly to be hoped that the senate will also pass the amendment and so put an end to this class of contemptible extortion.

AN effort is being made to secure admission to statehood of Arizona and New Mexico and it should not succeed. The total population of either of these states is exceeded by that of several counties in eastern states but with their admission to the Union they are entitled to fully as much representation in the upper branch of the National Legislature as other states. We have several examples of the early admission of territories as states and we have seen how some of the Senators have been able to tie up legislation. While many advantages might occur to the territories in question by the added dignity the welfare of the rest of our great country ought to be considered before addition is made to the number of states.

The Crouse Estate.

A move in the long drawn out Crouse will litigation that has long been looked for by every one connected with the case was made Tuesday, when, in Justice Vann's special term, Mr. Steele of the firm of Steele, DeFreise & Dickson of New York offered in evidence twenty-seven contracts between the Security and Trust Company of New York as guardian of Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, and the twenty-seven first cousins of the late Daniel Edgar Crouse, by which the residue of the estate is equally divided between the parties to the contracts. By the contracts the New York Security and Trust Company as legal guardians of Dorothea Edgarita Crouse Wilson will receive in round numbers $1,500,000 and each of the 27 first cousins will receive a little more than $50,000. The agreements have been executed in proper form and as soon as the actions now pending in the Supreme Court are finally disposed of the executors will pay the proceeds of the residuary estate to the New York Security and Trust Company for distribution to the compromising claimants. Dorothea pays 1 per cent. to the state, and the other relations 5 per cent. as their inheritance tax.

Killed at Oneida.

Thomas Pendergast was killed at Oneida Saturday night. He was about 43 years old, and from Rome. He, in company with a man named Frank Allen, boarded the train that arrives in Oneida at 9:50 from Syracuse. They had no tickets, so jumped on between the baggage cars. When the train arrived in Oneida they jumped off on the opposite side from the depot and when the train again started they went to get on to come to Rome, where Pendergast had resided nearly all his life. Pendergast succeeded in getting on the train, which was then going pretty fast, but Allen missed it. He thought Pendergast would get off but after waiting some time and not seeing him he got a ride to Rome and then learned that his chum was dead. It is likely that Pendergast, when he found his chum was not on the train, jumped off in front of a switching engine and was killed. The coroner held an inquest at Oneida Monday and the jury returned a verdict that Pendergast came to his death through accident and absolved the railroad company from all blame. Pendergast leaves a mother, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. William H. McCann, of Utica.

DOINGS IN ALBANY.

Legislative Proceedings In Both Senate and Assembly.

ALBANY, Feb. 15.—As the senate did not have enough members present to pass bills, it adjourned after a 40-minutes' session.

The Brann free transportation for public officers' bill came out of the judiciary committee reported simply for consideration.

It was drawn by Louis Marshall and provides for the issuing of certificates by the secretary of state and by mayors of cities which simply attest that the holders are state or civil officers. On presentation of these, all transportation companies must carry said holders without charge.

The hearing on the Gerry society whipping post bill has been postponed until Wednesday, Feb. 20.

In the house Mr. Ainsworth presented the annual appropriation bill and asked that it be printed and referred back to the committee on ways and means. The amount appropriated is $9,656,000.

Bills passed:

E. C. Stewart's, authorizing the comptroller to sell the securities on which the proceeds of the sale of land and land scrip is invested and credit same to the general fund.

Mr. Conkling's, amending the penal code relative to making it a misdemeanor for any person to solicit candidates for elective offices to purchase tickets for balls, picnics, etc.

ALBANY, Feb. 16.—In the senate were Senators O'Connor, Kilburn, Donaldson, Owens, Lexow and two Democrats, Senators Parker and Rice.

Senator O'Connor took the chair, pounded gravely for order, and the six men took their seats.

Senator O'Connor maintained a dignified gravity, but the other four Republicans grinned significantly at the minority. Then each of the senators shyly handed up protests against the Sunday opening of saloons.

A number of bills were received from the assembly and referred. The senate then went into committee of the whole, with Senator Rice in the chair. Several bills were advanced to third reading.

Mr. Ainsworth was in the chair when the house was called to order.

Upon motion of Mr. Burns of Westchester, the resolutions relating to the preservation of the Palisades, were passed.

Also a bill carrying out the provisions and allowing the governor to appoint a commission to confer with a commission from New Jersey and report as to the best means of preservation.

The commission is allowed to expend not more than $1,000 in the investigation.

The bill was ordered to a third reading at once.

An attempt was made to pass bills, but there were not enough of the members present, and the house adjourned until Monday.

ALBANY, Feb. 19.—The nomination of Silas W. Burt as civil service commissioner was a lively topic of conversation in the senate.

Senator Mullin is authority for the statement that the nomination will be favorably reported.

Among the more important measures passed are the following:

Senator Child's, conferring additional powers on trust companies in counties of 130,000 inhabitants and less than 600,000.

Mr. O'Grady's anti-mortgage shark bill.

Senator Stapleton's, giving town auditors in towns of 12,000 or over, 30 days instead of 10 to finish their work in.

Senator Coggeshall's, allowing an additional trustee in villages of 1,200 for each additional 400 inhabitants.

Senator Mullin's, preventing towns which have built bridges costing more than the allowance per cent from throwing the surplus as a cost on the county.

A lively tilt in the house between Leader Ainsworth, who is supposed to represent Mr. Platt, and Mr. Nixon of Chautauqua, who is an anti-Platt man, is the beginning of what promises to be lively politics.

Mr. Nixon called up his bill, laid aside, making an appropriation of $8,000 for horticultural investigations and experiments in the Fifth judicial department. He moved to amend by making the amount $16,000.

Mr. Ainsworth opposed the amendment.

After a few sharp exchanges between Mr. Ainsworth and Mr. Nixon, a vote was taken on the amendment and it was adopted—yeas, 64; nays, 28. All the Democrats voted in the affirmative. The speaker was not recorded.

ALBANY, Feb. 20.—The bill allowing New York city to spend $5,000,000 on new schools and sites was passed by the senate. It now goes to the governor.

Another bill passed was that of Senator Lamy, providing for the organization of a loan association for the relief of the poor in counties of between 200,000 and 600,000 inhabitants.

There was great fun in the assembly when Mr. Cutler called up his theater-high-hat bill.

The bill was placed on its final passage. A number of members explained their votes in serious and humorous veins.

The bill was lost—ayes 56, nays 53—not a constitutional majority.

Mr. Cutler moved a reconsideration, and the motion was laid on the table.

Mr. Clarkson called up his bill making provision for issuing bonds to an amount not to exceed $9,000,000 for improving the state canals and providing for submitting the question to the people at the next general election.

The bill passed—yeas, 83; nays, 31.

Mr. Nixon secured a reconsideration of the vote by which his bill to amend the agricultural law in its relation to agents appointed by the commissioner of agriculture to investigate the disease of yellows, or black gnat, was lost, owing to the light attendance on that day. The bill was then passed.

ALBANY, Feb. 21.—The public building committee reported favorably the Lawson flag bill, and on request of Senator Robertson it went to third reading.

The Troy police bill gave the senators a chance to ventilate themselves politically. Senator Collins offered an amendment allowing the mayor to appoint the police commissioners.

The amendment was voted down by a viva voce vote. The bill was then put on its final passage.

The bill passed by a vote of 18 to 12.

In the house Mr. Foley moved that the committee on cities be discharged from further consideration of Mr. Norton's bill, extending the power of removal to the mayors of all the cities in the state.

Mr. Ainsworth moved to lay the motion on the table. He declared it was a reflection on the committee. The motion to lay on the table prevailed.

M. F. Smith's bill, increasing jurors' fees in justices' courts from 25 cents to $1, was passed.

Both branches of the legislature will adjourn over Friday, Washington's birthday.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS DEAD.

The Famous Freedman Expires Suddenly In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Frederick Douglass, the noted freedman, orator and diplomat, died a few minutes before 7 o'clock last night at his residence in Anacostia, a suburb of this city, of heart failure. His death was entirely unexpected, as he had been enjoying the best of health. During the afternoon he attended the convention of the Women of the United States, now in progress in this city, and chatted with Miss Susan B. Anthony and others of the leading members with whom he had been on intimate terms for many years.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.

When he returned home he said nothing of any feeling of illness, though he appeared to be a little exhausted from the climb up the steep flights of steps leading from the street to the house, which is on a high terrace He sat down and chatted with his wife about the women at the convention, telling of various things that had been said and done.

Suddenly he gasped, clapped his hand to his heart and fell back unconscious. A doctor was hastily summoned and arrived within a very few moments, but his efforts to revive Mr. Douglass were hopeless from the first. Within 20 minutes after the attack the faint motion of the heart ceased entirely, and the great ex-slave statesman was dead.

Mr. Douglass leaves two sons and a daughter, the children of his first wife. His second wife, who is a white woman, survives him.

Dog Days In New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The 19th annual bench show of the Westminster Kennel club opened at the Madison Square garden with an entry of 1,631 dogs, New York leading and Boston being a good second so far as numbers are concerned. A greater number of St. Bernards were entered than any other class, with fox terriers, pointers, English setters, Irish setters, spaniels, bull dogs, bull terriers, Scotch terriers and Irish terriers in the order named. The Westminster Kennel club alone will distribute $10,000 in prizes, and other clubs who are represented at the dog show will contribute another $5,000.

WHEELMEN ELECT OFFICERS.

Asbury Park Chosen As the Place For the Next Meet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The 14th annual convention of the League of American Wheelmen opened in the Grand Union hotel.

He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by E. G. Brown, Druggist.

A Fatal Fight.

Thomas Spellicy of Florence died Sunday. He was an old man and a cripple but it is a question whether his death was not due to injuries inflicted by his son during a fight. A week ago Wednesday the son Andrew returned from Camden and showed he had been drinking. A quarrel arose and a fight ensued in which the old man was worsted, his daughter-in-law also taking a hand. His head and face were cut and he was otherwise badly bruised. He took to his bed and on Sunday died. District Attorney Klock was notified but owing to business had to have the inquest adjourned until Saturday, Mar. 2d. No one has been arrested.

Saved!

For two years I suffered worse than death from inflammation of the bladder and enlargement of the prostate gland. No rest day or night. The agony was unspeakable and almost unendurable. Our local physicians did the best for me they could, but I got no relief, and was told nothing but death would end my suffering. I prayed for that, but found out a man could not die when he wanted to. In my extremity I applied to Dr. Showerman, of Rome, and was told at once that my case was curable. He commenced treating me, and now I rejoice in comparative health, and Dr. Showerman did it. I will answer any letters from sufferers like me, gladly.

Hamilton, Jan. 9th, '95.

J. F. HOWE.

It will be noticed that cures done by Dr. Showerman are among the most difficult—those that baffle the best physicians.

Dr. Showerman,

No specialist ever came to our town who was so thoroughly qualified and produced such satisfactory results in the treatment of chronic diseases as Dr. Showerman. His rooms are crowded, and almost without exception his patients all tell the same story. CURED—Why is this? Because the doctor is thoroughly qualified in his profession. A graduate of two of the best medical schools in the country. He keeps right up to date in everything pertaining to his specialty. All that science can give, his patients get. Every prescription is carefully prepared in his laboratory. He has had thirty years' experience in his profession. 6tf

Murder in Gloversville.

The body of James Jamieson, 16 years old, was found in a stall in a barn in Gloversville Friday night. Death was caused by two bullet wounds in the body, and there is no doubt but that the boy was foully murdered. The revolver was found under a pile of blankets in the office. Several persons were in the barn at the time, but none of them heard the shooting.

The dead boy was a son of L. M. Jamieson, a livery stable keeper, living at No. 16 Cottage street. He was a very bright, winsome boy, and a general favorite, which makes the motive of the murder the more mysterious.

When Mr. Jamieson left the barn to go home to supper, about 6 o'clock his son and a little boy named Johnny Hayes were in the livery office. Eugene Sparks, a driver for the D. M. Smith hair company, which occupies a half of the barn, subsequently drove up. Young Hayes then left the barn, leaving Sparks and young Jamieson there.

About half an hour after this Mr. Jamieson returned from his supper to the barn, and found his son lying on the floor by one of the stalls. Sparks was standing near the boy. Mr. Jamieson asked Sparks what was the matter. The latter replied: "Jim has had a fit." His father said his boy never had fits, but that he thought the horse must have kicked him. Mr. Jamieson took his son in his arms and carried him to a drug store. A physician was summoned, but the boy was dead when he arrived. An autopsy held Saturday evening showed that the boy had been shot twice, both times in the body, one bullet passing through the heart.

Sparks claimed that he chanced to look up and saw the boy fall where he was found. He claimed that the shooting must have been done in the office when he was in the barn, but insists that he did not hear any shot fired. From the distance from the office to the barn, where he was found, with a heavy sliding door to open and shut it is considered utterly impossible of belief that the boy, with a bullet through his heart, could have reached the horse stall. Sparks was detained as a witness.

The coroner's jury in the above case rendered a verdict Tuesday that the boy was accidentally shot. The jury did not say who held the revolver, but there is very little doubt but that Jamieson himself did it.

Prominent Citizens of Oneida Co., Dead.

Gen. R. U. Sherman died at his residence in New Hartford at 5 a. m. yesterday. He has been sick since the latter part of January, but it was not until two weeks ago that his disease assumed a serious nature. For a week past, however, it has been evident that he could not recover, and for thirty-six hours before his death he was only partially conscious. His wife, his daughter, Mrs. Cookinham, and his son, Sanford F., were with him when he died. Death was the result of Bright's disease. Hon. James S. Sherman is in Palatka, Fla., and was at once notified of his father's death. He is expected to reach Utica, Saturday.

George D. Pomeroy, died suddenly at his residence in Utica Wednesday evening, after a brief illness. A few years ago Mr. Pomeroy had an attack of rheumatism which weakened his heart. Last Friday he was taken sick with pneumonia, the result of exposure and hard work at his place of business a day or two before. Both lungs became involved and Wednesday night during a convulsion brought on by the pneumonia he died. Mr. Pomeroy was a prominent business man of Utica and the only surviving son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pomeroy. He leaves also a wife and five children.

The death of Hon Eaton J. Richardson, one of the oldest members of the Oneida county bar, at his home in Yorkville, at 10:10 p. m. Sunday, closed the career of one of Utica's best known lawyers. About a year ago Mr. Richardson sustained a bad injury by falling from the Genesee street bridge, then in course of construction, and on account of his advanced years his recovery was slow. Mr. Richardson was bore in West Schuyler, Herkimer county, May 14, 1814. and was in his 79th year.

How to Save Money and Health.

Senator Coggeshall was There.

The World, in describing the anti-Strong conference in New York Sunday, says: Of the long list of senators and assemblymen there were present only Senators Coggeshall of Oneida, who only asks to be re-elected; Lexow of Rockland, who wants to be governor; Kilbourn of Franklin, who wants to be bank examiner, and Donaldson of Saratoga, who wants anything he can get.

GENERAL HOP REPORT.

WATERVILLE MARKET.

With some of our dealers it has been a quiet week, with others there has been considerable buying. The prices do not change for the better however. Among recent sales are: J. Petrie, near Clinton, 22 bales, 5c; Patrick Murphy, Augusta, 14 at 5c; Mr. Burg, Augusta, 46 at 5½c; Frank Hubbard, of Augusta, 27 at 4c; Wm. Welch, Edmeston, 42 at 7c; George Kennard Augusta 14 at 2½c: Bird & Terry Augusta, 50 at 5c., Mr. Jordan of Oriskany Falls 77 bales at 5½c.

(N. Y. Journal & Bulletin, Feb. 22.)

Export demand is only fair, but shipments making absorb the greater portion of the really fine hops that comes in from the interior, and prices for desirable export lots remain quiet. With other grades the experience is different, however, since home brewers are still very indifferent buyers, while little, if any, difficulty is met in purchasing good useful stock in the interior markets at late lowest prices. The volume of business is only fair and orders involving other than comparatively small lots are the exception.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 21st—3:45 p. m.—Closing-Hops at London—Pacific Coast firm at £2 5s @ £3 5s.

—Cooperstown Republican, Feb. 20: A little more life was manifested in the hop market last week, 412 bales being purchased. There is nothing new to report however. The range of transactions was: 55 bales at 10 cents, 35 bales at 9½, 41 at 9, 16 at 8, 51 at 7, 45 at 6½, 39 at 6, 31 at 5¾, 11 at 5½, 45 at 5, 31 bales '93's at 3½, and 12 bales '93's at 4c.

—Oneida Union, Feb. 20th: The hop market remains extremely quiet in Oneida, as elsewhere throughout the country, though shipments to Europe have been somewhat more active within the past few days. The most of our local dealers, in the absence of orders, are doing next to nothing. W. C. Steinkampf, however, has been doing something in the line of purchases since our last. He has bought over 200 bales, within the past few days, the heaviest lots being 125 bales of F. S. Keyes, of Skaneateles, and 30 bales of Abram Tuttle's growth, of Clockville, in each instance paying 5 cents per pound. He has also bought 20 bales of '94 hops of Fox Brothers at 4 cents per pound, and about 30 bales of '93 hops of other parties for 3 cents. Few sales are reported in other parts of the country at about the same figures. It is stated that nearly all of the best quality of the Pacific Coast hops have already been shipped eastward, though there are plenty of an inferior quality still in the hands of the growers.

Electric Light Association.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—At the session of the convention of the National Electric Light association the first business taken up was the report of the financial committee. The total receipts during the past year were $5,998; total disbursements, $5,449; present total assets, $1,633. A paper on "Large Arc Dynamos" followed, by C. N. Black of Cleveland, and a general discussion on that subject was participated in by a number of delegates.
