Preface

The book contains errors. We are trying to clean them up but:

1. The grave stone does not agree with the family bible.
2. The names and dates in the bible were written in well after the fact, and are the best recollection of who ever wrote them. We can't read their handwriting.
3. The ship's captain couldn't spell any better than ggggg...g grandpa
4. "Standard Spelling" is a relatively recent invention.
5. The census worker couldn't spell and had really bad handwriting that day.
6. The newspaper misprinted the names and dates in the 'obit.
7. The courthouse burned down and/or was flooded, so the original records are not available.
8. Translation from old high German to modern English is not an exact science.
9. The church records were destroyed in the same fire/flood.
10. We have the person's name on four different documents and it is spelled 4 different ways.
11. Some information appears to have been altered or excised by little old ladies who's sensibilities were offended.
12. Military records are maintained by staff clerks who can neither write nor spell.
13. The ink has faded, and you wouldn't believe the stains on these documents.
14. Not every girl knows who the father was, or tells. The fathers are even less certain. We are going by the official family story until the DNA tests come back.
15. Mandatory reporting of births, deaths, and marriages is a relatively recent invention.
16. The entire census for this county was lost. (It was probably legible.)
17. Rather than research which John or Abraham was their ancestor, someone guessed.

Foreword

The compiler of this work would like to acknowledge and thank all of the family researchers who have worked over the years to put together this puzzle. The puzzle is not complete. I have over 1,000 individuals listed in my data with a Latshaw/Latsha/Lotshaw/Letshaw etc. family name, but no clear link to the main family line. I hope that in publishing the information we have compiled to date, others may be able to piece in how their family belongs to this line.

As note (with a smile) in the Preface, there are errors in this book. It is hard to read old records, people make mistakes, and even typewritten information can contain typos. Bad guesses get put into books (like this one) and people take it as fact from then on. If you find such an error in this book, let me know at: gsmith13@kc.rr.com. I plan to re-issue the book from time to time with corrections and additional information.

The book currently contains only information from 1601 to about 1901. As so many have requested, I am not publishing information between 1901 and 2001 in order to protect the privacy of those who are still living.

I never visited a graveyard, courthouse or even a family history center to collect this information. All of the hard work was done by others. I only type things into a computer. I have tried to acknowledge these "hard leg-work" sources in the Bibliography, but I am sure that there are hundreds, if not thousands, of others who have contributed to the research on the family. I do not know their names. I honestly want to thank all of you. And in return, I give this book; to remember your efforts to keep our family history alive.

Descendants of Family Name Löttscher

Generation No. 1

1. Family Name¹ Löttscher

Notes for Family Name Löttscher:

(Latschar, Lachat, Lörsch, Lörttscher, Latschaw, Lotshaw, Leutscher, Löttscher)

A Mennonite family name, derives from Löttscher from Latterbach near Erlenbach in the Simmental, canton of Bern, Switzerland. The first member of this family known to have been an Anabaptist was Hans Löttscher, who was born in Latterbach in 1601. He wrote a hymn of 41 stanzas entitled "Ein schön new geistlich Lied." In 1633 he married Anna Kammerer from Latterbach. The three oldest of their five children, Hans, Melchior, and Anna, were brought before the Täuferkommission in Bern because of their Anabaptist beliefs. They remained true to their faith and were imprisoned. The brothers Hans and Melchior escaped in 1667 but were soon returned to prison. After four years in prison at Bern they were sentenced to galley service with four other Anabaptists in 1671-73. They returned to claim their inheritance from their father, who had died while they were away, but were refused it. In 1667, while imprisoned at Bern, Hans Löttscher wrote a letter which is preserved in the Martyrs' Mirror (E 1129-30), in which he lists some 40 persons who met death in Bern because of their Anabaptist faith. Abraham Löttscher, youngest brother of Hans and Melchior, immigrated to Holland in 1711, where the name soon became Leutscher. A number of his descendants have been Mennonite leaders in that country.

The family name takes the form Latscha and Latschar in the Palatinate and in North America. About 1714 Hans Heinrich Löttscher emigrated from the Simmental to Alsace, and later to the Palatinate, Germany, where he settled on Kühbörncheshof near Katzweiler. His children settled in various Palatinate Mennonite communities. One son, Johannes Franz, immigrated to Pennsylvania. The chief homes of the family in North America have been Berks Co., Pa. and Waterloo Co., Ont.

Notes for Hans Lotscher:

Hans Loetschar was an Antibaptist and published a poem called "A new Spiritual Song" which is still kept in the state library in Bern, Switzerland.

In 1667, three of the children of Hans and Anna Loetschar (Hans, Melchior and Anna) were imprisoned in Bern because of their Antibaptist beliefs. Hans and Melchior escaped but were recaptured. During his imprisonment, Hans got access to the tower book, a record of all of the Antibaptists who were martyred for their faith in Bern. This list in 1711 was carried by Christian Kroppf from Alsace to Holland. From Holland it was taken to Ephrata in Pennsylvania where the Martyrs Mirror was published containing the letter of Hans Loetschar.

Some of his six sons settled in Mehlinger, Germany and Erpotzheim, Germany, and later came to America. His son Frantz came to America on the "Mortonhouse", landing August 23, 1728, at Philadelphia. His son Peter Joseph came to America in 1722 aboard the "Marlborough" and settled first in Germantown, later moved to York County, PA. Son Abraham Joseph settled in York Co., PA.

[The Mennonites of the Kuhbornscheshof in the Vicinity of Katzweiler]

"The Kuhborncheshof (the name of a Hof, or landed estate), on the hill country west of Katzweiler, is listed as one of the larger Mennonite settlements in the Palatinate.

The supposed origine of the estate was under the Crown Elector Karl Philipp through the Elector's court in Heidelberg. On the date of January 19, 1717 the Mennonite Hans Heinrich Lattschar by the 'Kipp Henges Brennen' (by the spring on the Kipp slope) was given a piece of land 220 acres (the acre equivalent of a Morgen is hard to state, for it varies from time to time and place) as an inheritance, for which he was to pay eight measures of rye and seven measures of oats to Martin for the right to the slope on the Lauter (Lauter, in this case refers to the river in the area).

'Kipp Henges Brennen' indicates that there was a spring that belonged to Henchen (Henry) Kipp, and from this old name 'Kuhbornscheshof' came into existence.

Hans Heinrich Lattschar, a Mennonite, who fled for his faith out of the Simmenthal (Simmen Valley) in the Canton Bern, Switzerland, by way of the Alsatian cathedral (Masmunster) in 1715 into the Palatinate, originally cultivated the land with his wife and children and built the Hoff, (landed estate). He is the original ancestor of the widely branched Zipp Lattschar (Latschar, Latscha) family, who lived on the estate for 250 years, and still occupies it as well as many other parts of the Palatinate and of the German Confederation. Two sons of the immigrant emigrated to Pennsylvania as early as 1728 and 1741. From there the family spread out, even to Canada. And in later years more families moved to the USA from Kuhborncheshof."

Although members of tthe Latshaw family were to provide leadership for the church in the early portion of the 19th century, only one Latshaw is listed as a member at the start of the American Revolution. "Mary Latzscho" seems to have been the widow of Joseph Latshaw (1699-1761) whose will was filed on January 26, 1761. Mary Latshaw and Isaac Latshaw were the executors for his will. Joseph Latshaw seems to have been married to Mary, who is listed as a 1770 member of the Big Conewago Congregation.

"Died in Colebrookendale Twp., Berks Co., PA FRANTZ LATSCHAR a German Mennonite in 102 years. A few days before his death he traveled 20 miles to visit sick relatives. He frequently walked 20 to 25 miles a day." Feb. 6, 1787 Germanuner Zeitung Frantz came to America, arriving in Philadelphia from Rotterdam on August 24, 1728 aboard the Mortenhouse after a voyage of 70 days. He was born about 1685 and married Anna Gabel in 1730, had a son Abraham in 1739. Frantz died in Feb 6, 1787 and his will was dated March 8, 1781 and was probated Oct 29, 1795.

Very little is known about the first years of Franz Latshaw's life in Pennsylvania, but it appears that he soon settled permanently in what is now Washington township, Berks County - then still a part of Philadelphia County known under the general name of Goshenhoppen. Berks County was organized in 1752 and about the same time the area in question was organized into Hereford township. Later Hereford township was divided and part of it became Washington township. Franz Latshaw acquired a number of tracts of land located in the area now occupied by the town of Bally and the Mennonite meeting house at the west end of Bally is located on part of this land. This church is known as the Hereford Mennonite Meeting house.

Franz Latshaw made a will dated March 8, 1781 and it was probated at Reading on Oct. 29, 1795. There is no information about his age in these records, and he was probably buried at Hereford meeting house, but there is no gravestone.

The Will of Franz Latshaw:

"First, it is my will that all my just debts and funeral expenses shall be paid off and I give, demise and devise unto my son, Abraham Latshaw, of Hereford township, a piece or tract of land situated in Hereford aforesaid, between the land of Frantz Latshaw, Jr., Christopher Schultz, and Philip Christman, being in length 86 perches and in breadth 32 1/2 perches, containing 17 and 1/2 acres of land with all the appurtenances, unto the said, my son, Abraham Latshaw, his heirs and assigns forever.

Item - I give unto my son John Latshaw, the sum of Fifty pounds of hard money, Pennsylvania currency, and it is my will that all the rest of my personal estate shall be equally divided and shared among my children and step-children, to each and equal share with any other of them, viz: to John, Frantz, Abraham, Jacob, Mary, and Henry Gable, also an equal share to the children of my deceased daughter, Barbara, to be divided in equal portions among them, and also an equal share to the children of my step-daughter, Catharina Lantz, deceased, in equal portions to each of the said two deceased daughter's children when they come to their legal age, and I make and ordain, the said, my son Frantz Latshaw of Hereford township aforesaid, and my step-son Henry Gable of Colebrookdale, aforesaid, to be my executors of this my will.

In witness whereof, I, the said Franz Latshaw, have to this my last will and testament, set my hand and seal the day and year above written (March 8, 1781).

One Frantz (John Francis) Latshar, a native of Switzerland, came to America on the "Mortonhouse," which qualified at Philadelphia Aug. 24, 1728. On the list of passengers his name is spelled "Frans Latshow." His first settlement in Pennsylvania was near a place called Upland, in Chester county, where he remained a few years, and then went to Oley, Berks county, later settling in the Tulpehocken Valley in the latter county, where he died. He made a permanent home in Colebrookdale township. His last will and testament, made on 1781, was probated Oct. 29, 1795. He was twice married, the first time in Switzerland, and tradition says his first wife died leaving him a number of small children and no one to help in the house. Accordingly he went to Philadelphia (the pioneers were obliged to do in those days for merchandise or help) for a woman to look after his home and children. He was told of a young woman of good repute whose husband, a Mr. Gabel, had died on the voyage to America, leaving his wife with two small children. At Philadelphia she began a struggling life with her children, finding a place as servant in a Germantown family. Mr. Latshar became acquainted with her, persuaded her to accompany him home as house keeper, and later they were married. Her son Henry Gabel, was taken along with them, and early in life was taken into the Rutter household, the Rutters being the early iron-masters of Colebrookdale, and he fell heir to some of the Rutter money, also being remembered in his stepfather's will. He was a Mennonite, and is buried at Boyertown; his birth occurred in 1734. Frantz Latshar and his second wife had children also. Her maiden name was Sowers, and she was from the Tulpehocken Valley, in Berks county. He left a large estate, which he divided equally among his children, those mentioned in his will, as recorded in Book B, page 398, being John, Frantz, Abraham, Jacob, Mary Lantes (Landis), Henry Gabel (step-son), Rebecca Shelly (deceased, the mother of six children), and Catharine Lantz (stepdaughter), of whom Abraham lived on the Hereford township (Berks county) farm and Frantz elsewhere in the same township. [Latshaw Walt Schoenly.FTW]

John Franz Latshar is supposed to be buried in the Hereford Mennonite Church Cemetary. However I was unable to find his grave. A number of graves are marked with sandstone headstones and these are either broke off or completely defaced, making them unreadable.

See "Mennonite Church of Boyertown, PA", by Mary Latshaw Bower.

Arrived in Philadelphia on the "Morton House", August 24, 1728.

"John Latsha lived in Colebrookdale township., where he died in 1794. He made his will in 1787 (Will Book B, page 360), dividing his estate among his brothers and sisters. He made his home with his brother Jacob, and if he was married he had no children."

All his property was left to his brothers and sisters and their heirs. The U.S. census of 1790 showed him living in Hereford township and his family was listed 1-1-1, indicating that there was one boy under 16 years and one female in the family. Just who these were is not known. His will is as follows:

"In the name of God, Amen. Thirteenth day of February in the year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, John Latshaw, of Colebrookdale township and County of Berks, State of Pennsylvania, laborer, being aged and feeble but of sound mind and memory, thanks be to God, therefore calling into mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, make and ordain this as my last will and testament:

First of all, it is my will and I do order that after my decease my body be buried in a Christian decent manner and that all my just debts and funeral charges be first paid and satisfied by my executor whom I shall hereafter nominate and appoint.

Item - It is my will and I do order that 12 months after my decease all my effects, bills, bonds, money or moneys worth whatsoever name it has or may have, or which is justly due and to become due to me, I give and bequeath to my brothers and sisters to be divided into five equal parts (that is to say, one full fifth part to my brother Frantz Latshaw and to his heirs and assigns, and one full fifth part to the children of my sister Barbara Shelly to be divided into six equal parts, that is to say one sixth part to her son Abraham, one sixth to her daughter Elisabeth, on sixth to her daughter Susanna, one sixth to her son Frantz, one sixth to her son Jacob, and one sixth to her daughter Barbara - and one equal fifth part to my bother Abraham Latshaw and to his heirs and assigns, one equal fifth part of my sister Mary Latshaw, one equal fifth part to my brother Jacob Latshaw with whom I now live and dwell, and to his heirs and assigns, provided, nevertheless that my brother Jacob Latshaw, with whom I have lived and intend to live until I die, shall have full power and liberty to make a reasonable charge, should I become weak and sickly and should I want nursing and tending, for any service answerable for my support, and shall be paid first of all out of my estate, and neither of my brothers or sisters or any of them in their stead or behalf shall make any charge or claim or demand on my said brother Jacob Latshaw for or in respect of any service he had for me since I lived with him and - I do make, constitute and appoint my said brother Jacob Latshaw to be my sold executor of this my last will and testament.

Ratifying and allowing this and no other to be my last will and testament.

His will was made on February 18, 1820 and probated on April 18, 1820, with executors John Townsend and Robert Boyd.

Will lists 13 children. Alternate source lists all children except Abraham: "Brethern Heritage Along the Big Conewago" By Elmer Q. Gleim, Vol 1741-1991, Pgs 36, 50-52.

In his will, he mentions "my beloved wife Elizabeth Latshaw," " my son Abraham Latshaw," "all my children, namely Solomn Latshaw, Isaac Latsahw, Mary Flanaman, Peter Latshaw, Elizabeth Burkholder, John Latshaw, Sarah Treator, Hannah Burkholder, Eve Wright, Joseph Latshaw, George Latshaw and Catherine Ester." As Abraham wasn't listed with all the other children but was listed separately with an indication that he needed care, he must have been either physically or mentally incapacitated. Executors were John Townsend and Robery Boyd. The will was dated 18 Feb 1819.

The presiding elders of the congregation were most often individuals who had proven themselves as farmers, businessmen and family leaders. One such successful farmer was Isaac Latshaw, Sr. (April 20, 1764-June 5, 1833) who purchased a farm along the west banks of the Big Conewago Stream in Reading Township (April 20, 1793). The farm of 140 acres was assessed in 1799 at $1,387.00 for tax purposes. Some old land records show this was "improved property" as early as January 21, 1755. Isaac Latshaw presided over the life of the Big Conewago Congregation from 1790 until 1832.

She was born 1734, and died May 1828 in Lycoming twp. N. Umberland Co., PA.

Notes for Abraham Latsha:

Several sources vary on his birth date, some giving 1729 in York County, PA., others listing May 29, 1741 in Lycoming twp. N. Umberland Co., Pa

There are several other puzzles about Abraham and Catherine, and their children

1. Census of 1790 lists Abraham's household with 2 males over 16 and 3 males under 16 (Abraham and 4 sons) and one female (Catherine). And next to him was Jacob Latsha 1 male over 16 - 2 under 16 and 3 females. Close by were John Toner and not too far from there Frederick Row. (These names are spouses of children and grandchildren of Abe Latsha's) The North'd Co census for 1790 was NOT divided by townships - but these listings are no where near the listing of other lower North'd Co relatives, and the rest of the Latsha's. Anyway almost all of Abraham's vast landholdings were in what is now Lycoming County. Lycoming County was formed from Northumberland County in 1795. [Source: Louisa Latsha]

2. He drowned with two of his sons - 1791: From Dunlap's Daily Advertiser - August 17, 1791, page 3. " Harrisburg, August 11 On Friday evening the 29th ultimo, Major Abraham Latcha, of Northumberland County, with his two sons and son-in-law, in attempting to cross the west branch of the Susquehanna, with a canoe loaded with stones - the canoe sunk, and Mr Latcha and his two sons were drowned." None of the sons for this family show a death date of 1791.

3. Orphans court April 29, 1794 reveals the names of remaining family:

(page 213)-Jacob Latcha oldest son and heir at law of Abraham Latcha who died intestate leaving a widow who is name Catharina and issue lawful heirs - Jacob the petitioner , John, Andrew, Catharina intermarried with John Carbery, Anna intermarried with William Iddings. Then July 27 1794 page 225 - Jacob the oldest son, John, Andrew, Catharine intermarried with John Carberry, Anna intermarried with William Iddings, AND Martha intermarried with Frederic Row. Now Jacob states that he is the oldest son - and he was born in 1763.

4. Johannes Latsha (usually listed as a son of Abraham) was born in 1752, died in 1810 and has deeds of record in 1796, well after the death of Abraham and the actions in orphan's court. Heinrich's death is listed as 1823. - the John above, brother to Jacob died in 1802 and Andrew in 1807. It would seem likely at this time that neither of these men are the two drown sons of Abraham

Latsha.

It would seem from the evidence that Johannes Latsha (husband of Susanna Catharina Daniel) and Heinrich (Henry) Latsha should not be attached to this family, but I leave them here for the time being as a place holder for the two missing sons, and to remind us that we need to find the correct connections for these two Latsha men. We also need to address why the husband listed for Catherine in 1791 does not match up with the John Gerberich and children listed for her by so many other sources. Mary Ann Latsha may also be incorrectly attached to this family, or she may have been dead by 1794, and hence not listed.

He moved to near Phoenixville. His will is dated Oct, 14, 1822 and was probated at West Chester in 1829. The executors were his son, John, and a grandson, Jacob Staufer. The inventory filed totaled $4225.34, and the balance distributed was $2192.37. The will mentioned his wife, Catharina, and eight children. Mary's share was to be held in trust with the interest to her as long as she remained a widow, then the money was to go to her children.

During the Revolutionary war, Jacob would carry wheat and other supplies from his farm in Chester Springs to the starving patriots at Valley Forge. On his return trip he would bring the sick and wounded back to the hospital at Yellow Springs.

Isaac Latshaw (1764-1833) was the son of Joseph Latshaw (1730-1820) who migrated into Fayette county, Pennsylvania. E.L. Sheffer claimed that Joseph Latshaw was his great grandfather. {p52} As early as 1783, Isaac Latshaw was listed as a resident of Reading Township with 200 acres and five inhabitants. At this time, he owned four cattle, four horses, eight sheep and one still. The Latshaw family purchased a farm which lay close to the Kuhn Fording. The Latshaw family lived in a home in which the first floor was of stone construction and the second floor of logs. ... Isaac and Anna reared their children as farming people. Many of the sons acquired land in Reading, Washington, and Warrington Townships of York, and Adams Counties.

[Gettysburg "Compiler", June 11, 1833 obituary) DIED -

On Wednesday the 5th inst. after a protracted illness, which he bore with the most christian fortitude and pious resignation to the Devine will, Mr. Isaac Latshaw, of Reading township, in the 70th year of his age. The deceased was a Minister of the Gospel, and a zealous laborer in the vineyard of his Heavenly Father.

He has left behind him an aged and disconsolate widow, and a numerous family of children, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father. By his amiable and unassuming deportment, he had endeared himself to all who knew him. Society will long feel the loss it has sustained by the death of one of its most useful and long tried citizens. He has now received the end of all his hopes, the reward of all his toils, and joined in communion with Saints and Angels, in singing praises to the Lamb. S.T.R.

Source: "Brethren Heritage Along the Big Conewago", by Elmer Q. Gleim, who states that Anna Fahnestock (June 26, 1763-December 26, 1851,) was the daughter of Dietrich (1733-1816) and Esther Bauman Fahnestock (1740-1792.) However, in reading the will of Dietrich Fahnestock, he lists the names of 10 children, and none are Anna, nor are any married to a Latshaw. The book, "The Fahnestock Genealogy" states that Dietrich and Esther did, indeed, have a daughter named Anna, but she was born 31 Jul 1765, not 26 Jun 1763, and "must have died young, as she wasn't listed in her father's will." This book goes on to state that Isaac Latshaw's wife was _____ Snyder.

Possibly Anna 'Fahnestock' was married first to a Fahnestock and her maiden name was Snyder?

He married Sarah Porter 1798 in Shippensburg, Franklin Co., Pennsylvania. She was born November 11, 1781, and died December 01, 1863 in Shaker Prairie, Oaktown, Knox Co., IN.

Notes for Joseph Latshaw:

There is apparently an error in "Brethern Heritage Along the Big Conewago" which associates this Joseph Latshaw with Polly Riddle as his wife. Polly Riddle married Joseph Christopher Latshaw who went to Canada.

{Sketch of Joseph Latshaw of Sullivan, by Alex Latshaw }

He removed from Shippensburg, Pa. to Ohio and settled where the city of Columbus is now. Here he erected a cabin and cleared up a small piece of land according to the conditions of a contract he had made with the owner, who, upon his performing this work and payment of a certain sum, was to make him a deed. When he, Joseph Latshaw, wrote to the owner that he had one the work and was ready to pay him the money, he was informed the man was dead and that he had minor heirs and that there would be great delay in making a good title to the land he determined to a hand on the place.

He then locate near a place called Franklinton near the river Scioto. Here he lived until the spring of 1814. He built a boat and putting his family, now consisting of his wife and eight children, together with all of his other possessions aboard and in company with John Lowrie and David Porter, his brother in law, started on a voyage for Fort Harrison Prairie, now in Vigo County. They arrived at Vincennes safely and without accident in August 1814. He had grown tired of propelling his boat against the current of the mighty Wabash so he sold and bought a wagon and team.

He then started from Vincennes by land, Lowrie and Porter still with him, when on the evening of the first day after leaving Vincennes, he was met by a man riding post haste to let the people know that the country north of Busseron Creek was full of Indians and that they had killed one man and wounded another and had carried away two boys from Gills Prairie. They were then about three miles southwest of the present village of Carlisle. Fortunately they were near a new log house which was covered with clapboards held in place by weight poles. They had spades in the wagon and they immediately went to work and covered the roof with earth which rendered the building almost fireproof. There was a large hole under the puncheon floor where the wife and children were put for safety. There was also near by a log stable without any roof. Into this they put the horses, securing the door with a lock and chain. They made a quantity of cartridges so as to expedite reloading. Each of the three men had a good gun and opening portholes between the logs. They thought they would be able to hold the fort. The timber was cleared away for some distance around the house and stable and, although the Indians came near as they could tell by the fright of the horses, the Indians did not venture into the clearing. When morning came the coast seemed to be clear. But still it was not though prudent to continue the journey at that time.

While thus waiting, he heard of a tract of land of one hundred acres in the upper end of Shaker Prairie in Sullivan County. He was so well pleased with it that he bought it. He erected a cabin on this land and sometime in the spring moved onto it.

He was appointed a Justice of the Peace by Governor Jennings and was one of the Associate Judges of Sullivan County for a number of years. He always took an active part in politics. His first vote for President was for Thomas Jefferson (1800) and he continued a democrat all his life.

Having bought some land in Knox County, he determined in 1834 to build on it and make it his future home. When the people of Sullivan County understood that he was going to move out of the county they resolved, as a mark of their respect and esteem, to choose him to represent them in the House of Representatives in the State Legislature. In the spring of 1835, he moved into his house in the upper end of Knox County.

In 1842 his health began to decline from an attack of the Gravel in the Bladder. The disease continued to grow worse and after suffering greatly, he died September 11, 1845.

If not the first settler in what is now Mahanoy Township, Northumberland County, he was among the very first, as he has three acres of his land cleared for farming before the Revolutionary War. He took up a tract of 304 acres from the Commonwealth, it was surveyed in 1785; in rolled in the Rolls office for State of Pennsylvania in Patent Book No. 27, Page 213 and recorded in the office for Recording of Deeds in and for the County of Northumberland in Book H, Page 384, March 11, 1796, amount paid for this tract of land was 3 pounds, four shillings and three-pence, lawful money. He erected the first set of buildings on the land, and followed farming there, his home being near Mahanoy Church, where he died. He served in the Revolutionary War, according to one account under Captain Farmer, and after his discharge had two thousand coming to him. The Pennsylvania Archives, 5th series, Volume II, page 417, record one John "Latscha" a private in Captain Lewis Farmer's Company, Pennsylvania Rifle Regiment 1776; Samuel Miles, Colonel.

Isaac Latshaw, received but a common-school education in his youth but being a constant reader he became well informed on general topics, and in an argument on theological subjects would invariably carry his point. He was married in Pennsylvania in 1841 to Barbara Bricker, and to them were born eleven children.... Isaac Latshaw came with his family to Clinton County, Indiana, in 1854, and bought 134 acres of land in Ross Township from George Majors, for which he paid $25 per acre. He improved the land and erected a fine house and good barn, the land as before stated being now owned by (Aaron Latshaw), and is one of the best farms in Ross township. Here (Isaac) followed the nursery business from 1866 till his death. He was a member of the German

Baptist church till within the last few years of his life when he united with the Brethren denomination. (Barbara) also died in Ross Township, Clinton County.

CHARLES M. LATSHAW, a well known resident of Bicknell & a former Sullivan Coounty resident, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Vincennes Sunday after an illness of only 4 days. Latshaw formerly lived at Hymera, where he was proprietor of a barber shop and laundry business. Several years ago he moved to Bicknell & started a barber business, but a few years ago accepted a position as oil inspector & was making a remarkable record in this work. Last Wed. he complained of feeling ill and went to consult a physician, thinking his case was one of indigestion. His wife, Mrs. Pearl Latshaw was in Chicago Attending the millinery show; an opening medical examination showed that Latshaw had an acute attack of appendicitis and Mrs. Latshaw was notified and hurried to his bedside. He was taken to the hospital Friday and underwent an emergency operation. It was found that gangrene pisoning had set in and from the first his life was dispaired of. He passed away Sunday morning. Latshaw was well known in Sullivan having played with the Bicknell golfers in the various tournaments which the two country clubs have enjoyed for the past few years. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Bicknell this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in the I.O.O.F. cemetery of Bicknell.

He was born on the homestead and received such limited advantages as the subscription schools of his boyhood days afforded. He was reared to farming, which he followed all his life, beginning on his own account after his marriage, and in 1877 he came to the place in Washington Township where he resided at the time of his death, owning a highly cultivated tract of sixty-seven acres. He was an active member of the Reformed congregation of St. Peter's Church, which he served officially as deacon, elder and trustee, and he and his family donated a memorial window to that church.

[Brøderbund WFT Vol. 28, Ed. 1, Tree #1595, Date of Import: Mar 11, 2001]

He lived near Pump Station, in Jackson Township, Northumberland County. The Latsha homestead is located along the present State Route 225, about one and one-third miles south of Dornsife. However, the barn is no longer standing. The farm is now (1964) owned by Rev. Burlington B. Latshaw, Jr., and the old farmhouse is occupied by John T. Schascheck as a tenant. Michael, besides being a farmer also had a coal yard, and dealt in coal for many years. He also owned and operated the gristmill on the Mahanoy Creek (called Moxenay Creek by the pioneers), which later for many years was owned and operated by Samuel J. Wilkinson. This mill is now (1964) owned and operated by Ralph W. Bohner. Michael was also engaged in butchering, and in his various undertakings proved himself a man of much more than ordinary business ability.

Bethesda Evangelical Church Cemetary is in Clayton, PA. Actually there are two. Jacob, Maria, Tillie & others are buried in the cemetary across the road from the original church. The original church building is now used as an equipment shed, and is unrecognizable as a former house of worship.

This cemetary is about 2 miles east of the current church building on the same road but across route 100. The location is on the left side while heading east, near the top of a hill after a deep dip in the road.

INQUIRY SET INTO KILLING OF FUGITIVE

Inquest Ordered in Case Of Former Streetcar Man Shot by Officers

Details surrounding the death of J.O. Carr, 35 years of age, of 504 James street, who was shot and killed by Patrolman Heyer early yesterday, will be related today at the inquest set for 10:30 a.m. at the Coroner's Office. The shooting followed his escape after arrest by two radio patrol officers. Heyer shot the man as he was leaping over a rear fence at 543 Stanford avenue. Carr had knocked down Radio Patrolman Farrell after being taken in custody for carrying a concealed weapon.

Farrell and Officer Stewart arrested Carr in a café at Fifth street and Gladys avenue in a search for bandit suspect. They put him in a police car and were starting for the City Jail when he jumped out and ran. Farrell caught up with him on foot but was knocked down in a hand-to-hand struggle.

Patrolman Heyer then joined the chase and reported that he fired only after the fleeing man failed to heed a command to halt. One bullet struck Carr in the leg and another ripped through his body killing him instantly.

His widow, Mrs. Anna Carr, and his 19-year-old stepson, Edward Mallory, both declared yesterday they could not account for the fact that Carr had a weapon with him. Mallory said his stepfather worked as a street-car conductor five years ago and that since then he had been employed as a building wrecker and on laboring jobs.

Neighbors of the dead man said Carr bore an excellent reputation:

POLICEMAN UPHELD IN KILLING MAN

Slaying of J.O. Carr Held by Coroner's Jury to Have Been Justified

Death of Jess O. Carr, 47 years of age, former street-car -motorman, shot and killed by a police officer in, an alley in the rear of the 500 block on Stanford street, was held by a Coroner's jury yesterday to have been justifiable homicide.

In its verdict the jury cited that Carr, who lived at 504 James street, died as the result of a gunshot wound of the chest inflicted by Police Officer Heyer in performance of his duty when the man was evading capture after having been previously taken into custody.

Police Officer Farrell testified that a gun had been taken from Carr when suspicion was directed toward him in a restaurant in the 700 block on East Fifth street and that the man broke away and fled as he was being placed in a police car. Heyer joined the chase and after wounding Carr in the leg shot to kill in the belief that the man still had the gun in his possession, the officer testified

Fulton County, Indiana Obituaries, The News-Sentinel 1927

Monday, January 31, 1927

The populace of this city was given a genuine thrill early Sunday morning when the body of Ray "Foxy" FLYNN, aged 25, was found dead along the roadside at a point about one mile east of the Cornelius farm, which is located two and one-half miles north of this city on State Road [US] 31. Flynn had been shot through the heart with a 38-caliber revolver bullet.

The gruesome discovery was made shortly after 8 o'clock Sunday morning when Estil ROWLES, son of Frank ROWLES, who resides about four miles northeast of this city was on his way to Rochester. Rowles stated the body was lying about two feet from the ruts of the roadway. After ascertaining the man was dead Rowles drove into this city and reported his discovery to Sheriff Fred CARR. Summoning Coroner Herbert ZIMMERMAN the local officers went to the scene.

Flynn was lying flat on his back with his right arm swung over his face, and his right leg crossed over his other leg. A large handkerchief was tied loosely around his neck. This was presumed to have been placed there by the party who fired the fatal shot, as the handkerchief was not the property of the slain man. No footprints were found along the roadway at this point. The person or party committing the deed evidently had carefully laid the body along the roadbed, while standing on the running board of an auto. Lawrence KETCHMARK, center on the R. H. S. Zebras team, upon returning to his home which is just a mile and a half east of the old Cornelius farm, noticed an object laying in the road but thought it was a pile of old clothes. This was unquestionably the body of Flynn and the time Ketchmark passed this spot was 2:30 Sunday a.m., he having just returned from playing basketball with the Zebras at Crawfordville. Ketchmark, when interviewed this morning, stated he did not meet any cars along State Road [U.S.] 31 or on the side road which leads to his home.

An autopsy was held at the Zimmerman Bros. undertaking parlor Sunday morning which disclosed the bullet that killed Flynn had been fired from a distance of perhaps six to eight feet. The shot entered his left side just above the heart, severing a large artery, thence it ploughed its way on its diagonal course through the sternum and finally imbedded itself in the flesh below the vicinity right arm pit. The theory of suicide which was first advanced by some was soon discarded as the overcoat which Flynn wore was not burned or seared by the shot, as would have been the case had he killed himself.

Flynn, who was a butcher by trade, had been employed by the Ball Ice Co., for the past several months. On Tuesday of last week he was released from the county jail when he had completed serving a term for contempt of court for failure to make payments for the support of his divorced wife and two young children who now reside in Hebron, Ind. It was also learned today that three weeks ago he was arrested at East Chicago at which time he was accompanied by two 18 year old Rochester girls.

The officers are at work on several clues, one of which the eternal triangle looms up as a possible motive, and in this connection the names of the well-known Patchett sisters, Miss Fern [PATCHETT] and Mrs. Harold SHANNON and the latter's husband, are slated for a probing by the officers working on the case. Harold SHANNON is being sought at Medaryville, Ind., by the Sheriff of Winamac, today. If apprehended he will be summoned before Prosecutor Fred McCLURG.

Another clue which pertains to a larceny charge which was perpetrated in this city several weeks ago in which several local characters are under surveillance, is being checked up, it being the presumption that Flynn might possibly have been too well informed concerning the matter to make it comfortable for those implicated in this felony.

A stranger was seen with Flynn by Harvey WAYMIRE, local telegraph operator, Saturday evening about 8:30. They were walking east on Eighth street. Waymire stated he had never seen the man before and did not obtain any particular description of the man. The last time Flynn was seen according to all evidence now available, was at 9:30 p.m. Saturday night when he was standing with a stranger on the sidewalk directly west of the Court House. Sarah FELTS, who resides on corner of Bancroft and 13th street was passing along that side of the public square and saw the two who were engaged in conversation. Like Waymire, she could not give a minute or clear description of the stranger. From this time on and until midnight was the period in which the local man was shot, it was estimated by Coroner Zimmerman, who stated when Flynn was found that death had occurred between eight and nine hours previous.

Zimmerman stated at noon today he would probably hold the coroner's inquest sometime Tuesday. This official desires the presence of Harold Shannon at this investigation and it is believed the Winamac Sheriff will bring the needed witness into custody by tonight.

The body of the murdered man was taken to the home of his parents, Leander and Remanada FLYNN, in East Rochester this morning. Besides his parents the murdered man is survived by a divorced wife and two children, one brother, Leonard [FLYNN], and two sisters, Mrs. Jake GOOD and Mrs. Willie LIGHTFOOT. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been arranged.

Sunday, March 13, 1927

Kenneth LUCKENBILL, who shot Ray FLYNN in self defense on the night Flynn and YOUNG attempted to hold him up near Gilead, Saturday morning made a sworn statement in the office of Prosecutor Fred McCLURG in the presence of his father, Lon LUCKENBILL, and a number of local officers. This statement is being withheld at the present time by police. This statement probably will be released sometime next week. Prosecutor McClurg stated today that he believes the auto banditry cases will have to be tried in Miami County.

The mystery surrounding the killing of Ray (Foxy) Flynn who was found murdered on a lonely road north of this city on the morning of January 29 by Lawrence KETCHMARK center of the Rochester High School basketball team as he was returning from a game at Crawfordsville, was solved Friday evening through the confession of two men as was the theft of $400 worth of fur from Jay GINTHER on December 13 and numerous holdups in this county the past two years.

The confessions were obtained from Chester (Burnsie) YOUNG, who was arrested at Winamac Friday morning by Sheriff Fred CARR and Glen Howard BUTT 26, who was taken into custody Friday morning by a detective of the South Bend police force as he was working at the Studebaker Automobile Company where he has been employed since January 19. Butt's arrest was made at the request of Detective Cy Stout, of Plymouth, a Pennsylvania railroad detective who has been working on the case.

The confessions from the two men which implicated Oscar "Doc" BALENGER, 23, and who is now in jail, were obtained after hours of grilling on the part of Prosecutor Fred McClurg and Sheriff Danny HAINES and Prosecutor Abe LINCOLN of Columbia City, and Pennsylvania railroad detectives, Cy STOUT and L. H. RUPLEY of Columbia City.

The confessions which were obtained from Young and Butt is a story which could be the basis of a novel. The stories told by the young men are unbelievable were if not for the fact that evidence obtained by the six officers substantiates them in every detail. As a result of the arrests two men, Young and Butt, are being held for auto banditry. Ballenger is charged with being an accessory after-the-fact in the banditry case and Verne SPOHN, 23, was arrested Friday morning at his home in East Rochester for grand larceny.

Flynn, according to the confessions of Butt and Young was killed on a main traveled highway near Gilead, Indiana, about 8:00 p.m., January 28, as he attempted to hold up Kenneth LUCKENBILL, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LUCKENBILL, who lives two miles south of Gilead on a farm just 40 rods from the home of Glen Butt's mother.

Butt in his sworn confession which appears in another column of this issue, stated that he made arrangements with Glen OVERMYER in the Gilliland poolroom here on the afternoon of January 28 to use his car that evening. About 6:15 Butt says he got the Overmyer car near the M. & M. Department Store on West Seventh street and later met Young and Flynn on East Ninth street.

According to Butts they started out to look for a likely looking victim for holdup. The trio drove east as far as Athens where they turned south and at a point two miles south of Gilead, or a distance of approximately 20 miles from this city, they came upon Luckenbill who was walking from the Winona Interurban station to his home. Luckenbill had been working in Michigan and had come home to spend the week end with his parents.

Butt then stated that Ray Flynn said, "There goes a fellow. I wonder if he has any money." Butt cautioned against holding up any person there as he said it might be a friend or relative of his. The two men however disregarded Butt's warning and jumped out of the Overmyer car, Flynn first arming himself with a 45 calibre revolver which was in a pocket of the car and which Butt says was not loaded.

Getting out of the car Flynn and Young, one on both sides, Butt says Flynn ordered Luckenbill to "stick 'em' up." Luckenbill dropped his luggage and as he raised his right hand above his head drew a .38 calibre revolver from his left hip pocket and started to fire. Five shots were emptied from the revolver by Luckenbill either the third or fourth on striking Flynn. The fifth was fired at Young who was by this time retreating toward the Overmyer car.

Luckenbill then ran to his home about three-quarters of a mile away. After Luckenbill had left, Butt stated that he and Young helped Flynn into the car when the victim of the gunfire stated, "I have been shot. I cannot see." On the return trip to this city which was made through Macy, Young rode in the back seat with Flynn and supported him.

While making the trip here Butt and Young said they debated as to whether to take Flynn to a doctor but for fear of questioning decided not to do so. Their negligence will in all probability result in a charge of first degree murder being lodged against them which means the electric chair. Medical aid could have been procured at Macy where Dr. CARTER resides.

After returning to this city Butt then related that Young and he parked the Overmyer car on East Fifth street. Butt says both got out of the machine, he going to the Gilliland poolroom where he again met Overmyer and told him what had happened. Butt says he told Overmyer to be sure and determine if Flynn were dead before he disposed of the body. Butt also says he told Overmyer if it were him he would take Flynn to his home in East Rochester and notify his relatives.

Butt then related that Overmyer afterwards told him that he returned to his car and found that life was extinct in Flynn. Driving north of Rochester Overmyer dumped the body out along the roadway face down. Later when the body of Flynn was discovered a blue bandanna handkerchief was found around his neck tied in the manner of a highwayman.

While the officers would not state today how they secured their lead which led to the solving of the murder mystery it is said that information was obtained from Overmyer who is now in jail at Columbia City doing 30 days time on a public intoxication charge. Another reason assigned for the tip as to murder was procured from Young while in an intoxicated condition. Butt had often stated, "that he was afraid Young would get drunk and spill his guts."

The confession of Young and Butt are identical with the exception of one point as to just where Flynn passed away. Butt says he does not know but thinks it was near Macy while Young who was riding with Flynn states that he was still alive when they left him in the car by himself on East Fifth street.

The question of jurisdiction in the matter where it shall be vested with Fulton or Miami county authorities depends to a great extent upon the place where Flynn passed away even though the attempted holdup did occur in Miami county.

Fulton county authorities however are going forward in their attempt to bring the four men to justice and probably Overmyer will be included in this list later. The Fulton county grand jury will be summoned Monday by Judge R. R. CARR. They will be given detailed instructions to sift the murder, fur theft, and holdups to the bottom.

The Miami county authorities stated this morning that they did not care to handle the case against the five men and only would if they were forced to by point of law. The Miami county prosecutor stated that the Fulton County authorities had cleared up the mystery and he believed that they should prosecute the guilty parties.

There is till a possibility that Miami county authorities will have to take charge of the case and this move may be forced on the state by attorneys for the defendants who may raise the question of jurisdiction when the cases are called.

As yet none of the four men now held in the jail here have been arraigned. The charges of auto banditry against Young and Butt as well as the grand larceny charge against Spohn have been filed in the court of justice William EWING. Ballenger is being held on a vagrancy charge which will be charged sometime today to that of being an accessory. The four men will be arraigned probably Monday or Tuesday after which their cases will be bound over to the Circuit court. Judge CARR it is thought will ask high bonds in each of the cases.

Luckenbill, the young man who killed Flynn is not held responsible by the authorities in any manner. He impressed the sheriffs with his straight-forward story Friday. The officers stated that he should receive a medal for his courage in protecting himself even after being covered by the holdup gun.

Luckenbill stated that he was glad the mystery was solved as the suspense of being the possible cause of Flynn's death has hung heavily on his mind during the past six weeks.

Luckenbill also said that he had suspicioned Butt as being a member of the gang which held him up but as he was a neighbor he never voiced his thoughts.

Following the shooting a .45 calibre revolver was found in the roadway near where the holdup occurred. This was turned over to the sheriff of Miami county who later gave the gun to Sheriff Carr who now has it in his possession.

Luckenbill will come to this city late this afternoon or this evening. He will be questioned by local officers in an effort to make their cases against the four and possibly five defendants much stronger. Every effort is being made by Sheriff Carr and Prosecutor McClurg to make their cases against the defendants impervious.

Every one of the four defendants has talked and so has Overmyer. The four men taken into custody here were separated by the detectives and never given an opportunity to see each other until after their confessions were obtained. The story about the murder and fur theft is now complete.

Flynn, Overmyer, Young and Ballenger are well known to Rochester police officers. They have been in trouble here on numerous occasions and all have done or are doing time on various charges. Butt, of all the gang, seems to be the only one who has never been in trouble before.

The full story of the fur theft has not as yet been given out. Some rumors say that Overmyer shipped the furs to Nebraska where they were sold and others say that the pelts have been buried. Local officers during the past six weeks have jug around in several fields where it is thought the furs might be buried after they had received various tips.

Spohn can only be charged with the fur robbery which is a grand larceny count which carries with it a sentence of 8 to 10 years in the penitentiary. Overmyer knew the uses to which his car was being placed according to Butt who stated that Overmyer had asked him on several occasions to accompany them on their various robberies and holdups, but he stated he had always refused.

What charge will be placed against Overmyer has not as yet been determined. He will be given another severe grilling today by Columbia City authorities. The charge of auto banditry carries with it a sentence of from 10 to 25 years while that of first degree murder is either the chair of life imprisonment.

Butt is the adopted son of the late William BUTT who met a tragic death about two years ago at the Whisler crossing on the Winona Interurban Company trolley track near Chili when his automobile was struck by a car and he and his daughter-in-law were both instantly killed. Butt's name was originally [Glen Howard] MOORE.

Notes for Adam Leshner Troutman:

[Brøderbund WFT Vol. 28, Ed. 1, Tree #1595, Date of Import: Mar 11, 2001]

He was born and reared to farm life at the John Troutman homestead. He attended the Union (Bohner's) School, No. 1, located about one and one-third miles west-northwest of the homestead.

Adam and Lovina started housekeeping and farming on a farm consisting of about 120 acres obtained from Adam's father. This farm is located about one-third of a mile southeast of Hebe, in Jordan Township, Northumberland County, and is now (1964) owned by Elwood R. Strohecker.

Adam was of medium height and build. He was a good manager, and a hard working man. Adam did general farming, and was an industrious and prosperous farmer. Adam always tried to keep the farm buildings in an excellent condition and the surroundings neat. Occasionally he boarded cattle at ten cents a head per day for his half brother Simon, a farmer and drover, who also lived near Hebe. Adam at one time also kept a number of sheep for Simon. During the night dogs came along, entered the pasture, killing and crippling about twenty sheep.

In the late winter of 1914, Adam and Lovina had public sale, disposing of their livestock and farm equipment. They then retired and moved to Hebe, residing in the home which is now (1964) owned and occupied by Mrs. Elva M. Leitzel.

In political matters, Adam was a Republican. Adam was a member of the Troutman's United Evangelical Church near Pillow, and Lovina was a member of the David's Lutheran congregation at Hebe.

Marriage Notes for Inez Yoho and Samuel Woolfolk:

"At high noon on last Thursday occurred one of the prettiest weddings we ever witnessed. It was a beautiful day, and all nature was clad in her autumnal costumes, when the pretty bride, Miss Inez Viola Yoho was united in the Bonds of Holy Matrimony to Mr. Samuel S. Woolfolk. The event took place under an evergreen arch, tastily bedecked with daisies blossoms and roses, in the parlor of the lovely country home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs Geo. W. Yoho. The grooms nephew, Harry Randle, and the brides sister, Miss Edith, acted as best man and brides maid respectively, both bride and bridesmaid being dressed in white silk. The two couples took their places at the marriage alter as we listened to the sweet strains of Longherins Wedding March, played by Mrs. T. H. Vaughn. The ceremony, short and sweet, novel and neat, was performed by Dr. Lee T. Fischer. After the usual congratulations had been extended, snap shots were taken of the wedding scene with contracting parties of the solemn marriage vow."
