Notes for Thomas Lewis:

Historical Families of Kentucky (per Jane Adams <dja@vicksburg.com>): John Lewis, born 1678 in Ire, died 1762; married Margaret Lynn. He fled Ire. as fugitive to Protugal, then to (Lancaster) PA in 1729; there was joined by sons Samuel, Thomas, Andrew, and his wife. In 1732 went to (Augusta) VA. Quite likely, I think, that one of these sons may have fathered our Tom's father and left him behind in Portugal.

One listing of children of Thomas and Hannah Hopkins is: Lydia 1786, KY; Caskey 1788, KY; Margaret 12 dec 1791 (Floyd) KY. Not sure this works.

Marriage Notes for Thomas Lewis and Hannah:

This could be Hannah Hopkins, but it appears that her marriage was to Thomas Lewis of "the" Lewises (b. ca 1750's). This would make more sense, since Hannah was probably born fairly early 1700's.

Children of Thomas Lewis and Hannah are:

- 11 i. Hannah Lewis, born 1819 in KY; died Bet. 1880 - 1890; married John Crum April 29, 1838 in (Floyd), KY.

Introduction to her book, Margarett Sue (Burchett) Holden quotes Floyd Burchett, a son of Thomas Henry:

"Tom Henry Burchett was the youngest son of Bennie Burchett who was the youngest of five brothers who came from Scott County (?) Virginia to Floyd County, Kentucky around 1810.

"Bennie was married twice. His first wife was a Vaughn. They had three children, Billie, Settie and Betty. Billie married a Galloway. Settie married a Lewis. Betty married a Sellards. Bennie's second wife was a Lewis. My grandfather described her as a "full blooded Portuguese." They had nine children." (Holden, pgs. 1-3)

Children b. to Elizabeth to 1819; Kathy 1808-17; Nancy 1826-48. Problem??? Note repeat of names if you take Elizabeth and Kathy's children side by side!

Note a Christopher listed in Stokes/Rockingham Co., NC in late 1700's. By 1801 his 100 ac. on Hogan's Ck. sold by Sherrif of Rockingham (abandoned?); Omega Chafin, Sr., whom we lose track of quickly, is in Wythe Co., VA with a Christopher in 1806, and then goes to Stokes Co. after the 1810 Rockingham Census is made. In 1800 tax list, Joseph Berry, whoc is later with Chris in Lawrence Co., is in Wythe Co., VA, but there are no Chafin's there. According to Tabitha's deposition, the family lived in 1796 in Goochland Co., VA, which is where John (Chris's grandfather) had settled and died. In Dec. of 1836, Mary Ann moved, taking the children from apparently the South Point, OH area to Clermont Co, first to Cincinnati, then later to settle in Clermont Co. at Felicity with Tabitha and her new husband.

64. Christopher Chafin, born Abt. 1720 in Va; died 1768. He was the son of 128. John Chafin and 129. Mary. He married 65. Martha?.

65. Martha?

Notes for Christopher Chafin:

Born probably in Goochland, later Cumberland, later Powhatan.

Joseph, Standley and Nathan (listed as sons of John, Chris's father), could possibly Chris's sons. Simon, Jordan and John are most certainly brothers, and all located in the Sandy/Tug valleys of KY/WV, as did Chris, Jr. but I cannot prove that they are this Chris's sons.

Appraisalment of the Estate of Christopher Chaffin (Cumberland) VA Will Book 1, page 438. on file

Tax: 10 Aug 1759 (Cumberland) VA - tax on 1 tithable (with John)

Land Transactions:

1753 bought 200 ac. in (Cumberland) VA from father for L8 (probably married by then). Sold same to brother Nathan 2 Apr. 1753 for L53 (Proven by brother Stanley, witness to bill of sale, in court June 1753. Therefore, Chris died April- June 1753? Not likely: Stanley was in court to administer estate of Chris on 22 Aug 1768.)

Notes for Martha?:

Beers, Brown County, Ohio ?, The biography of Wiley W. Young, a grandson of Christopher's granddaughter Tabitha, says that Chris was married to a certain Martha between 1741 and 1749. Further says his father remembered meeting her. I suspect he remembered meeting Mary (Vawter), who was married to Christopher, II, but he may be correct.

Children of Christopher Chafin and Martha? are:

- 32 i. Christopher Chafin II, born 1757 in VA; died October 10, 1836 in (Tazewell), VA; married Mary Ann Vawter August 22, 1778 in (Powhatan), VA.
- ii. Simon Chafin, married Agatha.

Notes for Simon Chafin:

Simon bought 450 acres on Goose Ck., Bedford Co., VA, 13 July 1769. Simon and Agatha sold land in Montgomery Co., VA (23 Dec. 1795) to William Godbey at L60; he had bought the same on 5 Dec. for L13--110 ac. on Clabboard Ck. of New River. In 1860, a Simon, age 75 died in Lawrence Co., KY, but that could not be him if his father's death date was 1768; that would also eliminate Jordan and John from this family, since we know the three were brothers.

- iii. Jordan Chafin^{42,43,44}, born Bet. 1760 - 1765; married Elizabeth Berry July 17, 1798 in (Montgomery) VA.
- iv. John Chafin

Notes for John Chafin:

Speculation that he was father of the John of (Lawrence) KY; could be connected to the Shadrach of OH or another line I'm not familiar with.

Military Land Warrant #1469: John Chafin, 200 ac. 1 Aug. 1783--Virginia Line;

50 ac. 7 Feb. 1828 and 50 ac. 4 July 1835 on Big Blaine, Lawrence Co. (I think these Blaine entries were probably son, since that is where he lived.)

Notes for Joshua Chafin:

I have Mrs. Leonard Baker's sheets (from TX), who says that this Joshua was b. 22 Oct 1748 to John; md. 1779 in Amelia to Bettie B. Tinsley/m2. Patty Guiles; d. 17 Ap 1824 Amelia; has list of kids. Tinsley is intriguing. But I think it is Joshua Jr. referred to here.

Look for Raymond G. Mozley--history of this family branch.

Received 1/2 of 400 acre tract of father's 1741 patent and sold it on 21 Mar 1754 to Francis Apperson (Epperson) for L50.

23 May 1769 suit in (Cumberland) VA court: Standley Chaffin vs. Mrs. Basham, re ownership of a slave. Joshua and Esther were ordered to be awarded payment in tobacco (245 lbs. each) for travel of "65 miles coming and going" and two days expenses to be paid by Stnadley for their service as witnesses for him. Horsepen, therefore could have been about 65 miles from the courthouse.

Perhaps moved to KY, but nothing known of descendants. Author notes info. on John Sr., but does not claim proof that he was father of John Jr. Notes that there is another family of Duncans that are likely not to be the same family in Fauquier Co., but the possibility exists, including another John, Jr. (probably son of Joseph Duncan, Sr., which is probably John Sr.'s brother), and a Joseph Duncan called "Marsh" (to distinguish from Joseph Sr. & Jr.); a Lewis Duncan, and Alexander. there's even another Elizabeth that could be the same as this, but not likely. Very complicated, but well argued in the text.

84. History and Genealogy of the Utterback Family in America: 1622-1937, The, 9, Here, in Germantown, the oldest settlement in Fauquier Co., known in 1720 as the western part of Prince William Co., Va., we note the definite appearance of our Founder [Herman] who may have come to America in company with the Pastor of the Colony, Rev. Henry Hager, on a later voyage than that of 1714; however, it is the author's opinion that he came with the colony in 1714, but, being a widower, he made his home with one of his sons-in-law who could legally represent him in court for right to enter land just as may be explained why Rev. Hager's name did not appear in the Spotsylvania court records of 1724. While our Herman left no WILL that can be found, neither any date of his death, yet he is mentioned as living in Germantown by the itinerant Moravian Missionaries in their Diaries of 1748 in which they write concerning the inhabitants as those who "lived quietly and are nice people." This report that our Herman was living there in 1748 at the age of 85 was verified by his great-grandson, Rev. James Kemper (1753-1854), as grandson of John and Alice Kathrina (Utterback) Kemper.
85. History and Genealogy of the Utterback Family in America: 1622-1937, The, 14, The Church records show that these parents [Johannes and Anna] presented the following eight children for baptism, which, according to the custom of the Reformed Church, was performed in very early infancy; however, our Founder's name [Herman] does not appear among those baptismal records, yet, aside from documentary proof through his marriage certificate, we feel sure of our Founder's place in this family of Johannes & Anna Otterbach of Trupbach from the following quotation of Dr. Lothar Irle, an expert genealogist and abstractor of the old records at Siegen, Germany, where he now lives: 'Between these two baptisms, (i.e., those of Johannes, Jr., of 1662 and of Henrich of 1668), we may suppose the baptism, or, at least, the birth occurred for your Hermann Otterbach who married Elsbeth Heimbach in 1685.'
86. B. C. Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 482, "was a 'Fuhrmann' (carrier or carter), who transported goods and traded in them. They were the most important middle-men for the export of the iron products of Nassau-Siegen." Family emigrated to Virginia in 1714, but Hermann, wife, and two sons all seem to have died early in VA (perhaps before the group moved to Germantown ca. 1719). "The Utterback genealogy is in error in tracing the Utterbacks in this country back to Hermann's sons, John Philip and John Utterback, for all the Utterbacks in Virginia descend from Hermann's nephew and great-nephew, both named Johann Henrich Otterbach, who came over in 1734."
87. History and Genealogy of the Utterback Family in America: 1622-1937, The, 19-20, We have seen that between the baptisms of his brother Johannes, (in 1662 at Siegen, Germany), and that of his youngest brother, Henrich (in 1668 at Siegen), occurred the baptism, or, at least, the birth of our Herman who established the Utterback Family in America; and judging from other eventful dates in his life the author has taken the year 1663 to be his birth in lieu of missing Church or family records; however, there is a definite record, (i.e., Aug. 11, 1685), of his marriage to place him in a documentary way among the eight recorded Church entries of his four brothers and four sisters, none of whom came to America unless it might have been his brother Henrich as identical with a John Henrich who is on record as having landed at Philadelphia on Sept. 23, 1734. We have also seen that he married in 1685 to Elsbeth Heimbach and had nine children, all born at Trupbach of Siegerland, Germany. While we do not have definite records to prove our assertions it is the author's opinion that our Founder, together with seven of his children, since wife and two children had previously died, left Trupbach near Siegen, Germany, in the summer of 1713, was in London with his fellow Colonists in the following fall and winter, sailed with his family and landed in America April 1714 and appears through authentic records as a member of the 1720 Germantown Settlement.

Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 222, In 1631...Johannes Holtzklaue was teacher at Weidenau, and he probably continued to hold this position at least through the year 1635, while the Protestants dominated the country. In 1632 he seems to have owned a small part of the Schneppenkauten Hammer in Weidenau township, but had sold whatever interest he had in it by 1653, the year of the next extant list of owners. Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 216, Was Hebel, wife of Johannes Holtzklaue of Weidenau, a Glender of the Schneppenkauten ironworks, probably a younger daughter of Henrich Flender, called Muess, of Schneppenkauten? This is not proved as well as Johannes Holtzklaue's descent from Henchen Flender of the Hardt, but the following seems to me to be very good evidence for this conclusion. (1) From the year 1656 to 1671 four of the sons of Johannes and Hebel Holtzklaue were admitted to the Guild of Smelters and Hammersmiths, indicating probable close kinship with the ironworks families of the Weidenau township. (2) In 1632 Johannes Holtzklaue appears as owner of an unspecified part of the Schneppenkauten Hammer-works, right next to Thomas Flender Muess, eldest son of Henrich Flender Muess (A 281). Schneppenkauten was owned entirely by Flenders or Flender descendants, the families of Henrich Flender Muess and his cousin, Johann Flender, owning nearly 2/3 of the works in 1631 and 1632, and the largest part of the rest being owned by the Sprengers, with small shares to other descendants. Of course, the Johannes Holtzklaue mentioned may not have been identical with Johannes of Weidenau, but it seems probable, and that either he or his wife Hebel was a descendant of the Flenders of Schneppenkauten....
95. History and Genealogy of the Utterback Family in America: 1622-1937, The, 13, From the family records now on file in the vaults of the St. Nicolai Reformed Church at Siegen, Germany, we find that the earliest and most immediate ancestry of our Founder [Herman] consisted of three brothers--Hermann Otterbach (b. abt. 1620), Johann Otterbach (b. abt. 1621), and Johannes Otterbach (b. 1622, the oldest certified record), the last being the father of our Herman Utterback (Hermann Otterbach), but neither he nor his two brothers were among the 1714 emigrants from the "Vaterland" because of their advanced ages and because of the death of the Founder's father which occurred eight years before. [says later that the reason for his birth being the earliest record is the 30-years War].

Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 214, Was the wife of Wilhelm Holtzklaue of Weidenau a daughter of Henchen Flender of the Hardt ironworks? This is not absolutely proved, but there is very good evidence for it, mentioned in the Flender genealogy (pp.204-5). Henchen Flender of the Hardt (in the Weidenau township) in 1591 contracted a debt of 100 Gulden to the Siegen hospital on property that he owned. By 1607 he had paid back half this debt, but from 1611 to 1651 the remaining indebtedness was carried in his name, though he was born ca. 1555 and had died before 1624. In 1652 the accounts show this indebtedness as follows: "now Johannes Holtzklaue," indicating that Holtzklaue had received the property in the final distribution of Henchen Flender's estate. The Johannes Holtzklaue mentioned seems almost certainly to have been Johannes of Weidenau, who had inherited the property from his grandfather, Henchen Flender.

The Treasury Accounts show that he paid a defense tax of 3 Albus at Weidenau in 1624, 1626, 1628, and 1629. These records show that he was occupying only half a house in the village...and that (unless excused from the militia for some other reason) he was over 50 years of age...As in the case of his father, Franz Holtzklaue; it is interesting to speculate whether Wilhelm was a teacher... If so, he lost his position in 1626. In that year, during the dominance of the Catholics in the Thirty Years War, ...Count John the Younger issued an edict ousting all Protestant pastors and teachers from the churches and school. In addition to Johannes Holtzklaue, it is possible that Wilhelm Holtzklaue had a younger son, Wilhelm. In 1637 Wilhelm Holtzklaue is shown as a member of the militia at Weidenau...

He paid the defense tax at Seelbach in 1637, which, again, hardly means that he was over 50, but that he was excused from militia duty for some other reason. His wife was named Elizabeth, k and judging by the fact that two Neusses or Niesses were godparents of her children, it is probable that her maiden name was Niess (a surname springing from the Christian name Dionysius).

In the special tax of 1583, ...paid a relatively small tax of 6 Albus (2/9 of a Gulden). ...It is possible...that Franz Holtzklaue had married a daughter of this Hermann Huettchen... The second mention of Franz Holtzklaue was in 1595, when he was one of the three "elders" or assistant administrative officers of the township of Weidenau. He appears in 1595 in connection with the rebuilding of the chapel at Weidenau, which also served as a school, and again we may speculate that he may have been the teacher, as his grandson...and his great-great-grandson, Jacob Holtzclaw, were all teachers. ...he was certainly dead before 1619 when only his son Wilhelm appears in the village.

In 1624 and 1626 he paid the defense tax at Seelbach, which would normally indicate that he was over 50 years of age, but this can scarcely be the right inference in view of the date of his death. He must have been excused from military service for some other reason. In 1624 he also paid tax for an apprentice living in his house. On Mar. 20, 1526 Jost Heimbach was appointed one of the associate justices of the Hain Court. By 1638 his first wife had died and he had married (2) the widow of Hans Latsch of Gosenbach, who owned ironworks property and had been an associate justice of the court since 1613. 148. B. C. Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 196-9, Careful investigation in all the extant sources have made it certain that all the Holtzklaus who lived at Siegen around 1600 and before were descendants of the master baker, Johann Holtzklaus, who appears for the first time in 1558 in the register of the Siegen Baker's Guild; and that in addition, Franz Holtzklaus, who settled at Weidenau and is named for the first time there in the special tax of 1583 is to be claimed as Johann's son. Johann Holtzklaus, the ancestor of the family, came to Siegen in 1558 through his marriage to Treina, a widow of the master baker, Hans Latsch, who died in 1554; after his marriage he conducted in the "Latschen Haus" the bakery which had been carried on by his predecessor since 1543, with which was probably connected even at that time (a fact proved in later times) a public house or inn, until 1578, the year of his death.... In the [Siegen city accounts], from 1571 on among the receipts of ground rent...occurs the record: "The Latsch house, now Johann Holtzklaus, 6 Heller." The house, situated in the Lochrstrasse, gave a by-name to those who dwelt in it from time to time; thus Johann Holtzklaus was called by the nickname or by-name, Latsch, e.g., in the 1567 list of bakers; and his children were sometimes so-called, as well as his wife's third husband, who occupied the house after his death....

149. B. C. Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 199, According to the special tax list, levied in 1566 for the Empire and for defense against the Turks (Siegener Landesarchiv 22, NHO. 36), "Johann Holtzklaus" was assessed in the bakers guild with a tax of 14 Gulden, a sum which, when compared to other bakers, is not to be explained as the tax on a bakery alone, but points to an additional and not unimportant secondary source of income--as indicated previously, a public house or inn connected with the bakery. In addition to his own tax Johann paid the tax of "Ols Henchin's children" as their chief guardian, along with their associate guardian, Hans Sutell. The Siegen citizen, Henchin Ohl, came from Klafeld to Siegen in 1542/3. He had married "Beckers Aennchen" (i.e., Anna Becker), and from 1542 on managed in his own name the bakery which she had brought to him in marriage; in the lists of the members of the Bakers Guild he is called "Henchen of Clafelt" 1543 ff., from 1544 on "Henchen Ole of Clavelt," and from 1559 "Henschen Ole." His name is missing in 1567. Without doubt he was the father of Johann Holtzklaus's wards, having died 1565/6. His successor in the Siegen Bakers Guild was Hans Ahl (Ohl) of Weidenau, a son of Henrich Ahl (Ohl), who lived at Weidenau and died there between 1563 and 1566 (H. Boettger "Auf den Huetten," pp. 24/25, 28, 34). Through his position as chief guardian of Henchin Ohl's orphan children, according to the rules prevalent at that time regarding the appointment of guardians, Johann Holtzklaue was probably an uncle of the children on their father's side. The view is to be accepted, then, that his first wife, who died before 1558, was born an Ohl of Klafeld and that as a married couple they lived at Klafeld or Weidenau....

150. B. C. Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 200, Hans Stuell of Klafeld was probably fellow-guardian of Henchen Ohl's children...and the American utterbacks seem to be descended from him.... It looks as though Henchin Ohl of Siegen, "Olschen Hans" of Klafeld, Henrich Ahl of Weidenau, the first wife of Johann Holtzklaue, and possibly Hilla, wife of Hans Stuell of Klafeld, may all have been brothers and sisters, possibly children of Tillman Oel of Weidenau (or Hans Ohl of Klafeld of the 1528 record, if the latter was not identical with "Olschen Hans" of 1563).

Holtzclaw, Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (Germanna Record, No. Five, pub. by The Memorial Foundation of the Germanna Colonies in Virginia, 1964.), 212-213, The origin of the family is from the very ancient parish of Holtzklaue, first mentioned in 1089, with a parish church dating back to the 13th century in the central village of Oberholtzklaue, and a number of other villages in the parish, including Niederholtzklaue. There is a brook called the Klav...which runs through the parish, so that the name means "the woods of the Klav." ...Holtzklaue has always been an almost exclusively agricultural parish. The case is different with Weidenau, and to some extent Klafeld....Besides the old farming village of Weidenau, when our ancestors lived there, the township (Gemeinde) contained seven iron-works settlements as well, Hardt, Muenkershuetten, Muesenershuetten, Meinhardt, Schneppenkauten, Fiskenhuetten and Buschgotthardshuetten. Through marriages in the third and fourth generations of the pedigree given above, the Holtzklaue of Weidenau became connected with the ironworks people there, particularly in the family of Johannes Holtzklaue of Weidenau, Jacob Holtzclaw's grandfather.

He was probably a son of a Busch who was part owner of the Haardt iron-works in 1417. The Haardt included both a smelter and a hammer, and in 1417 was jointly owned by Busch and his presumed sister, Else Sel, a widow, both probably children of the founder of the iron-works about 1375. ...The three sons moved from the Haardt to operate the Hammer later known as Buschhuetten in the Bottenbach township just north of Weidenau... It seems probable that the chief home at Buschhuetten, in which the Busch brothers lived, became known from the van Wischel family as the "Flanders" or "Flender" house, and that Busch sons born in the house later adopted or were called by the surname Flender.
