Stroud Family Seeks Recognition As “First Family In Crawford County”

After spending a week in Mississippi last month (August), I returned home and had a lengthy phone message from Fred Harbison. He said he owned the land once owned by Thomas Stroud and wanted to know if he could get some sort of historical marker designating the site as the “first settlement in Crawford County.” He requested any direction I could give, or point him to someone who could help him achieve this purpose.

I talked with Richard Eastridge, our Crawford County Historian, and he agreed that it would be difficult to “prove” that Thomas Stroud was the first person to settle in Crawford County around 1806. It would involve researching all the land records available in the old records of the Indiana Territory. Also what part did Elisha Tadlock have in this property, for on the sheepskin deed, Thomas Stroud is listed as the Assignee of Elisha Tadlock. According to the

Dr. Oliver Belcher had roots in Crawford County

OLIVER L. BELCHER, physician and surgeon at Monroe City, is a member of a family that has been in Indiana for considerably more than a century. The family for the most part has been substantial farmers. The two counties that have known members of the Belcher family have been Crawford and Knox.

Doctor Belcher was born in Harrison Township of Knox County, May 7, 1884, son of Joseph and Isabell (Helderman) Belcher, a grandson of Jeremiah Belcher and a great-grandson of the Belcher who came from Germany and settled in Crawford County in early pioneer times. Jeremiah Belcher was born in that county in 1820. Joseph Belcher was a native of Knox County, born in 1855, but spent the greater part of his active life on a farm in Knox County. He was a local leader in politics. His wife, Isabell Helderman, was descended from the Helderman family of North Carolina.

Doctor Belcher was the second in a family of nine children. He grew up on a farm, attended public schools in Knox County, spent two years in Vincennes University and one year in the State Normal College. His professional training was acquired in two institutions, the first two years at the University of Indiana and the second two years at the University of Louisville, Kentucky, medical department, where he was graduated M. D. in 1908. Doctor Belcher sub-

“We Keep The Books”

The volunteers of the Crawford County Historical Society who work four hours a day, four days a week, from 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. at the old court house deserve our thanks and gratitude! At least they have mine!

The Month of July has been slow with only about two visitors for the month. But with all this hot weather, at least we can stay cool in our air conditioned room. During my stay at the archives on Thursday, I transcribe Tract Book Three. As of this month, I am about half way through, just finishing Sterling Township. When Roberta Toby and Ruth Terry “pull their duty” on Mondays, Roberta has been looking through all the old newspapers and looking for items of interest to her and others.

On Tuesdays, Hugh and Evelyn Jackson come in for their shift. Evelyn usually does research on one of the several organizations she belongs to, when she is able. Lately she has had trouble with her eyes and it may require further treatment. Hugh spends his time reading.

On Fridays, Don Standford mans the place. He usually spends his down time reading.

I also thank Edith Key and Roberta Toby and Ruth Terry for filling in for me on at least one occasion.

While we all “do our own thing” during our four-hour stretch, we always await the visitor who needs some guidance in finding their ancestors and we are eager to assist them — sometimes the job gets boring with no visitors!

The Archives will close for the year at the end of September. Visits after that date will be by appointment only.

Thanks again for all your help!!

from your Archives Coordinator.

sequently took post-graduate work in Rush Medical College of Chicago. He has practiced his profession at Monroe City since 1908, the only important interruption to his service among the people of that community being during the World War period.

He was with the colors a year and four months, connected with the Tenth Division at Camp Funston, Kansas, as first lieutenant, and was in the Hospital Ambulance Corps and Infirmary Division. He was ordered overseas but the order was cancelled. Doctor Belcher is a member of Monroe City Lodge No. 548, A. F. and A. M., is a Democrat in politics, and a member of the American Legion at Vincennes. He married on September 17, 1904, Gertrude Teverbaugh, of Knox County, daughter of Wesley and Sarah (Marsh) Teverbaugh. The Teverbaugh family is a pioneer family in Knox County, Indiana. Wesley Teverbaugh was a veteran of the Civil war serving with the Union Army, from Indiana. He followed farming all his life and died in 1901 and his widow survived until 1917. The two daughters born to Doctor and Mrs. Belcher are: Cecil Marie, a member of the class of 1932 of Indiana State Normal at Terre Haute in art and music, and Goldie Jewel, member of the class of 1933 in the same Terre Haute institution.

Doctor Belcher is a member of the Knox County, Indiana State and American Medical Associations. In 1927 the doctor visited Belgium, France and Switzerland and took a post-graduate course at Heidelberg University, Heidelberg, Germany.

John H. Weathers reference cited:

Thomas Stroud was listed as the first settler of Crawford county by a young Crawford county attorney and historian John H. Weather in 1889, after publishing a “Crawford County History”. I quote: “There were pioneers in what is now Crawford County—hunters and adventurers were here as early as 1804, among them John Peckinpough, but none of them settled permanently in that year. In 1806, quite a number of families came to southern Indiana. One man settled on the Cider Fork of Whiskey Run Creek in what is now Whiskey Run Township. This was Thomas Stroud. He must, therefore, be accounted the first settler of Crawford County, having settled in March 1806.”

dictionary, assignee means: 1) A party to which a transfer of property, rights, or interest is made. Or 2) One appointed to act for another; a deputy or agent. Since Thomas lived on this property for several years is pretty good proof that he did in fact purchase the property. And that he later sold the property is further proof of ownership.

While the internet article cites the small booklet of a Crawford County history that deals mostly with the caves of Crawford by John H. Weathers, 1889, and the fact that he mentions Thomas Stroud as the first settler in Crawford. However, the more thorough history of Crawford by H.H. Pleasant, dated 1926, does not even mention Thomas Stroud, but instead mentions the Walker family who settled near the mouth of Blue River in 1806.

Other Crawford names which were in the Indiana Territory in the 1807 Census of Clark County were: John Ruth, David Stewart, Joseph Bowman, William Patrick, William Bullock, Peter Bloom, John Coons, James Scott, John Prather, Samuel Walker, George Jones, William Woolley, James Lemon, Peter Smith, James Wood, and more. More noteworthy of this 1807 census is that there is no listing for a Thomas Stroud or Elisha Tadlock!!

There is no doubt that Thomas Stroud was an “early settler” in Crawford County — but there are lots of questions as to who was the first settler in this portion of Indiana that came to be called Crawford County.

Tombstone of Thomas Stroud had to be dug for in order to be re-assembled by his descendants.

Thomas Stroud Genealogy

Thomas was born in 1772, in Randolph county, North Carolina. He died near Marengo in 1852, one day after his wife Jane, and is buried in the Old Section of Marengo Cemetery. Their tombstones are located there and have been restored. Today, many Crawford county families carry the Stroud name.

The legend is Thomas used the Johnson Cave as a shelter for his family while building his log cabin in March 1806. Until 1968, the cabin remained standing on the Jesse L. (Buddy) and Estell Crecelius farm (now owned by Fred Harbison), and was located northeast of Marengo on Baylor Road. My cousin, Daniel Crecelius, and I would play in the log cabin when we were young boys. The cabin was then relocated, by Lowell and Betty Seacat, on property north of Milltown, near the Blue River where it remains today.

Thomas Stroud had many relatives who served in the military. Elder brother Jesse Stroud (1755-1812) was believed to have enlisted in 1781, with the militia under Captain John Hinds in Randolph county during the American Revolution. Jesse Stroud lived in Floyd county, Indiana, was born in North Carolina and died the same year as his father, Abraham. He was buried in Schrader Taylor Cemetery near Greenville, Indiana.

Thomas lost three grandsons who were killed in the Civil War, of which sons Abraham lost one and William lost two. Thomas' son, Riley and Nancy Key Stroud also had a son, Aniel (1840-1920), who served in the Civil War. Aniel Stroud mustered in, June 1861, served in company G, 13th Regiment, Indiana Volunteer Infantry; re-enlisted December 1863, company B, 13th Regiment, as wagon master. Later, in December 1864, he transferred to company D, of the same regiment. Aniel returned from the Civil War to become a farmer in Liberty Township in Crawford county, Indiana. Aniel and Cynthia Denton Stroud had three children: Gertie, Raymond, and Russell. Aniel is buried in the Milltown Cemetery in Harrison county, Indiana with other family members.

Abraham's sons were: Isaac Stroud, 49th Indiana Infantry, Co. E, killed in action in Carrollton, La., 16 August 1863. Burial place is unknown. Simon Stroud (1840-1913), 81st Indiana, Co. A, was honorably discharged 13 June 1865. He then returned home to marry Elizabeth Brown and become a farmer. They had four children. Simon died 8 March 1913.

William's sons were: Elisha Stroud, 81st Indiana, was killed in action at Lookout Mt., Georgia, 7 September 1863. His body was returned for burial at Walton Cemetery in Washington county near Hardinsburg, Indiana; Barnett Stroud died in General Hospital, Bowling Green, Ky., 22 August 1862. He was buried at Old Unity Cemetery in Posey Township, Washington county, Indiana.

William had two other sons: Annel Stroud (1835-1901); John Stroud (1832-1866). (half brothers of Elisha and Barnett Stroud) Annel served in 13th Indiana Infantry during the Civil War. Annel and wife, Martha, had one child while living in Harrison county, Indiana. Annel's second wife, Elizabeth Moon, gave him 3 children. They resided in Green Springs, Vernon county, Missouri. Annel is buried in the Sandstone Cemetery in Vernon county. John also served in the 13th Indiana, Co. C. He enlisted 8 February 1864 and was discharged 5 September 1865. He married Louisa Ott and together had one son, Hezekiah. John Stroud died at home, 18 April 1866.

John (brother of Thomas) had three grandsons serving: Andrew J. Stroud, 49th Indiana Infantry, Co. A. He died on 10 February 1863 at Young's Point, La. Burial place is unknown; Andrew's brother, George Stroud, also of the 49th Indiana Infantry, Musician Co. A, was discharged on 7 March 1863, at Young's Point, to return home in Patoka township, Crawford county, Indiana, as a farmer. The parents of these young men were Wesley and Winifred (Key) Stroud, also of Patoka township.

Henry Stroud (1844-1926), son of Isaiah and Alia Ann Highfill Stroud, served in the 53rd Regiment of Indiana Infantry, from Patoka township near Taswell in Crawford county. Henry married Rachel Eastridge on 5 April 1866, after discharge from the regiment, raising four children Mary, James, Samuel and Ida.

Jesse Stroud (brother of Thomas) and his wife, Jane Field Stroud (1769-1859), had four grandsons, three in the Army of the Confederacy: Samuel Stroud, 30th Regiment, Texas Cavalry; Stephen Stroud, 1st Texas Partisan Rangers, Co. A; George Stroud, serving in 15th Baylor's Regiment; and one in the Union Army. Joab, the son of Neil and Mary Lewis Stroud. This family lived in Marion township, Lawrence county, Indiana. Joab served in the 16th Indiana Regiment of Volunteers. He was married three times, the last to Maria Fitzpatrick, 11 April 1896.

The Stroud family clearly paid a heavy price with many of its young men lost, fighting in the great battles of the Civil War.

John Stroud (1765-1847) and wife Mary had nine children, with Isham being their first born. After the War of 1812, Isham and wife Sarah (McCrary) Stroud resided for many years in Crawford county according to military records, rearing eleven children, then later in life moving near their daughter, Susan, in Southeast township, Orange county, Indiana.

During the War of 1812, Isham Stroud (1789-1860), was an early settler of Harrison County, Indiana. On 12 September 1811, less than a month after his marriage, he volunteered in Corydon, Harrison County, Indiana, as member of Spence's Yellow Jackets, so called for the yellow trimmings on their uniforms. They were mounted riflemen of the 4th Regiment of the Indiana Volunteer Militia, under General William Henry Harrison. He served as a fifer (musician) in Capt. Spier Spense's company and was wounded on 7 November 1811, in the Battle of Tippecanoe and was discharged 23 November 1811, at Shakertown, Indiana. Isham's wound was caused by a bullet which passed through his left hip and resulted in the contraction of the muscles. He was believed to have arrived in Indiana in 1806, with Thomas, Jesse, and John his father, settling in Harrison County.

"Why would Thomas Stroud and family travel from North Carolina to Southern Indiana?" would be a reasonable question. A possible answer may be: Indiana was a territory at that time and in order to reach statehood, 60,000 people needed to be in the territory. Therefore, land prices would have been low. The southern states also may have lost many residents to the Indiana Territory because of slavery which they could not accept. In any case, the Thomas Stroud family and others traveling to Indiana Territory from North Carolina were true early pioneers who prepared the way for all Americans today.

The following is a list of my Stroud ancestors:

Thomas and Jane Stroud had eight children, with Annanias Stroud (my direct ancestor) being his second child (1815-1888); Annanias and Mariah had nine children with John Calvin Stroud being the third child (1840-1917); John Calvin and Louisa had seven children with Virgil Stroud being the fifth child (1873-1947); Virgil and Emma Jane had seven children with John Floyd Stroud (my beloved grandfather) being the fourth child (1903-1981); John Floyd and Lois had two children with one being my father, Lester Dale Stroud (1928-2005); Lester Dale married my dear mother Norma.

My wife, Charlla and I have two sons Lonnie and Lucas Stroud. My grandchildren are the 9th generation of the Stroud family in Crawford county and the 12th generation in the New World. I have research information on many branches of the family that I am willing to share, if any of the Stroud family is interested. I have a sheepskin land deed dated 1819, and a photo of the old log cabin that Thomas Stroud built in 1806.

Larry, Here is some additional Poe family information concerning the descendants of Jacob Poe and Indiana Boston. Jacob was one of the sons of Jeremiah Poe and Hannah Doan and there was information on Jacob in your previous Poe genealogy but this information would be the family groups of Jacob's children. Don't feel that you have to use this in your newsletter since you covered so much before. I just had it and thought I would pass it on. Any additions or corrections from your readers would be appreciated.

Thanks for sharing so much information that would not ordinarily be available for us.

Larry,

As well, I may be able to add some information to the question on page 34 of the Alonzo Belcher situation. I'm sure he was not a Belcher but a Clark.

I went to Washington, IN, Daviess County, last summer with one of my Belcher cousins and we dug into a lot of stuff. I made a book up thru Jesse Belcher and Sarah Kellams (have copy of their marriage license) for my other cousin who lives in Iowa. I think I have some listings that I kept. I gave him most of the stuff.

But it seems that William Washington Belcher (son of Jesse & Sarah Kellems Belcher) was married three times. He m. 08 April 1905, W #1 Louise Shaner, d. 18 May 1912 of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, age 25, buried Aikman Creek Cemetery per death certificate. Louise is the mother of my two Uncles-Alvin & George by marriage. (I have a photo of William W. and Louise Shaner Belcher if anyone is interested.)

Marriage # 2 was to a Mary_____. (Will have to check with my cousin on this.)

Then William W. married 20 July 1928 wife #3 who was Sinnie Adaline Clark b. ca 1866.

Sinnie Adaline had been married to a William Clark. The newspaper article talked about William Clark leaving and going somewhere-can't remember. So don't know if he died or Sinnie divorced him seems like we found where she divorced him, not sure. Maybe he never returned. I will have to ask my cousin. Sinnie and Clark had a son Alonzo Clark. Therefore Alonzo was a half brother to Alvin and George Belcher, sons of William Belcher and Louise Shaner.

We found Alonzo C. Clark, Sept 10, 1906 (b or d, not sure) buried in Mt. Gilead Cemetery and we think it is Daviess County, IN. We drove and drove with directions from a person in the Health Dept. and think we stayed in Daviess County but not sure. Several other Clarks are buried there but no record of William W/ Belcher. We have reason to believe that Sinnie married again as there is a stone there that says Sinie Clark Kaericher, 1877 (April 11, 1958) (have photo). Sinnie would have been about 81 years old when she died.

There is an interesting family story about the death of William W. Belcher, d. 15 Oct. 1930 age 53 years from fracture at base of skull, result of fall. Death Certificate says buried in Mt. Gilead Cemetery but no record can be found of him there. A newspaper story tells of his getting into a fight with another man, getting hit, falling in an ice house where he worked and later dying. No one knows where Sinnie buried him. Supposedly (according to story handed down in the family) she took him off, didn't tell the family and no one that I'm related to in the Belcher family knows where he is buried. There is no stone in Mt. Gilead for him and no record in the published book record of Mt. Gilead that an elderly member of the church let us look at and copy some information. William W. Belcher's obituary out of the newspaper also listed a Ulysses A. Clark, (9 Nov. 1910-19 April 1970-on stone in Mt. Gilead Cemetery), as a stepson. Apparently Sinnie and William Clark has at least two sons Alonzo, and Ulysses plus three daughters (see below)

My cousin has a written page from his Dad, Alvin, stating that the family lived in a Henry White House in Daviess Co. two times and that bro. George was born there. He states that shortly after he was born the family moved away and the Wm Clark family moved there. Mrs. Clark who years later became my step mother. Their oldest son Alonzo was born there. We have reason to believe from the census that William W. was possibly a boarder in Mrs. Clark's house before he married her.

William W.'s obituary stated that he was born in MO on 15 April 1877 and died 15 Oct. 1930, age 53. He married twice previously and his first wife died several years ago. He married 20 July 1938 Sinnie Clark.

Marriage 1 childred surviving: Alvin Belcher, George Belcher and Fern (D/B)elcher all of Washington, IN and Rosetta Anberry of Akron, OH.

Surviving stepchildren: Mrs. David Reel Washington RFD3; Mrs. James Greenwell, Vincennes, Cecil Quben, Washington; Ulysses B. Clark of West Washington.

Others Surviving: Mrs. Mary Myers-Mother; bro. Mr. John Belcher of Lintoh; sister, Mrs. Frances Wratten of Washinton and 2 grandchildren.

If you have Stephen Tuttle's e mail address you can send him this. I remember seeing a query on the internet a couple of years ago where a Tuttle was looking for information on the Belcher's. Of course, there is no e mail address unless one answers the query.

MORE On Alonzo Belcher

I also have some photos that no one knows the identity of but the men in the photos sure look like the Belcher's we know. I can share them if anyone is interested. They came from my cousin who is a Belcher in Iowa left from his mother and father's photos. Of course, no names or clues just the features.

I will double check this information when I'm more alert as it is now 1:30 a.m.

Simpson Chapel Cemetery

I had a query this week (Aug 20th) about this cemetery in Liberty Township.

From: "Carol or Billy" <carolbilly94@bresnan.net>
To: "Larry Burmeister" <burmeisterlarry@yahoo.com>
Subject: Simpson Chapel
Date: Sun, 19 Aug 2007 22:53:50 -0600

Larry:

Do you know of anyone that might have an old photo of this cemetery? Mary Douthit Sloan wife if Benjamin Neal Sloan is suppose to have been buried there. I have visited the cemetery there are very few stones still standing and hers was not one. Also is there list of who is buried there? Thanks.

Carol Nicholson

Do any of "our people" out there in Crawford County have any old photos of this cemetery? Maybe you have some old listing or other evidence of this Mary Douthit Sloan being buried there.

Larry Burmeister
