Crawford Co. Native Constructed Colorado Landmark

Wonder Tower in Genoa, Colorado
(from un-named newspaper)

This view looking southwest is from what remains of abandoned Hwy 24 - some of the asphalt still exists. I-70 is on the opposite side of the tower.

From a mile away the Wonder Tower appears to be bustling. "See Six States!" yell the hand-painted signs. "Confirmed by Ripley!" One sees cars in the parking lot, and people at the top of the Tower, trying to see the advertised six states.

Once you arrive, you realize that the parked cars are 40 years old and stuffed with sun-bleached bottles, their tires buried six inches deep in windblown prairie dust. The people in the Tower are crude fakes - lumps of red sheets wearing sunglasses.

MORE: Charles Gregory

The Wonder Tower, built in 1926 at the highest point between New York and Denver, was a major stop. Charles W. Gregory, Colorado's P.T. Barnum, would stand on the Tower and spot license plates of approaching cars. When tourists were within earshot, he would boom appropriate greetings through a megaphone. "How're things in the Buckeye State?" His billboard motto was Eat, drink, gas and pop at the Tower.

Then the interstates came. C.W. died. The owners for the past 20 years, Jerry and Ester Chubbuck, have kept the Tower alive charging one dollar for admission. Small signs at the entrance promise "Animal Monstrosities," and "Two-headed calf."

CHARLES GREGORY DIES THURSDAY AT DENVER

Sherman County Herald, Goodland, Kansas, July 15, 1943

The many friends of Charles Gregory were very sorry to learn of his death last Thursday in a Denver hospital where he had been taken for medical treatment several days previously.

Mr. Gregory was a well-known character through western Kansas and eastern Colorado, where he had spent the greater part of his life. Coming to western Kansas as a young man, he gave many years of his life to the upbuilding of this section which he always had called "home."

"Charley," for as such he was known to his many friends, spent several years in business in Goodland where he enjoyed many staunch friendships. He was an active member of the Methodist church and a most earnest worker in the cause. From Goodland he moved to Genoa, Colo., where he erected the "Tower" which is widely known to the traveling public and has attracted nationwide attention. Here he also erected one of the finest lunch rooms "along the trail," as well as a museum of some note which featured many articles of interest to this section as well as crop displays and other items; "The Tower" and other buildings will stand through the ages as a monument to his untiring efforts to improve his holdings and advise the world of the many possibilities of the west.

Mr. Gregory came to Goodland about 1900 and found employment with the Rock Island water service, later went into the shops as a tinner, then fireman of the shop boilers, to locomotive fireman and engineer. He was a member of the B. of L. E. and in good standing when he resigned his position sometime about 1916 to engage in the plumbing business with Hottel & Williams. Later he and George Johns opened a plumbing shop in the building now occupied by Freda's café, which was carried on for several years. He built what is now the Colony Club for a cabin camp, which later was sold and he moved to Genoa.

Charles W. Gregory was born in Salem, Ind., on July 27, 1876, [other sources, i.e. another newspaper obituary says Charles Gregory was born in Crawford County Indiana] the son of Caleb and Nancy [Brown]Gregory, and died in St. Luke's hospital, Denver, July 8, 1943, being of age, 66 years, 9 months and 11 days.

As a small child he came with his parents to western Kansas where he since has resided with the exception of the past several years spent at Genoa, Colo. On April 21, 1898, he was untied in marriage with Ethel Mae Kirk, who preceded him to the great beyond in December, 1926. To this union six children were born, of whom four survive: Bert, of Goodland; Lieut. Bob, who is a prisoner of war held by the Japanese in the Philippine islands; Mrs. Vera Rush and Miss Lola Gregory, both of Chula Vista, Cal. One daughter, May, passed away in infancy, and Verle answered the final summons in August, 1928.

He leaves also to mourn his passing, one brother, A. P. Gregory; eight grandchildren, one great grandchild, and several other relatives as well as a host of friends who have known and admired him for many years.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Goodland Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Basil Johnson and burial in Goodland cemetery. Music was by Rev. and Mrs. Johnson who sang: "I Love to Tell the Story" and "In the Garden," with Mrs. Pearl Baumgartner at the organ. Pallbearers were: Ed Newton, Fred Patrick, Dan Gilbert, Jay Morey, Arthur Kemp and Sanford Adams.
