Notes: "Grappa Great" was the only grandfather I had. My maternal grandfather died before I was born and my paternal grandfather died when I was three. He was tall, slender and quite. He and my great grandmother, "Gramma Great", lived in a small cabin in northern Michigan when I was a child and the most vivid memory I have of him is playing very serious games of Euchre for nickels and dimes and he was always, always smoking a pipe. In the 1960's and 70's, long distance phone calls were an event and everyone on your end would talk to everyone on the other end to catch up on all the latest news. When you called Grappa and Gramma Great, you had to make sure Grappa was the last one on the phone because when he was finished, whether you were or not, he would simply hang up.
