Richard Sibley was a tray maker in the town of Salem MA
 It is believed that he was the brother of John Sibley, and that they came from Dorset, England, where their father was William Sibley.
 They arrived in America in 1629 with the Winthrop Fleet, also called Higginson's Fleet, because the leaders were John Winthrop and Francis Higginson.

A noted biographer, he is best known for his Biographical Sketches of Graduates of Harvard University. Sibley was born in Union, Maine on December 29, 1804, and died in Cambridge, Massachusetts on December 9, 1885.

Sibley's personal diary spans nearly 37 years, with entries beginning on January 1, 1846 and ending on August 29, 1882. In it he recorded the details of daily life, often commenting on local and national current events, as well as Harvard affairs.

December 29, 1846

Tuesday. Forty-two years ago to-day, in 1804, I was born in Union, Maine, on the Robbins Neck, on the side of the hill northerly of the junction of the St. George's river with the Seven-Tree pond, in the Southwest lower room of the house subsequently owned by Rev. Henry True and in the same room in which Henry A. True, his son, was born. My mothers' name was Persis Morse. She was daughter of Obadiah Morse and born at Sherburn, Massachusetts. My father, a physician & the first who established himself in Union. He studied medicine with Dr. Carrigain of Concord, N.H.. He was son of Jacob Sibley of Hopkinton, N.H., who was son of Jonathan Sibley of Stratham, N.H. who was born at Danvers or Manchester, MA & whose father, 'tis said, lost his life at the time Haverhill, MA was destroyed by the Indians, though his name is not among those killed on the occasion. There is a tradition that after the fight he went to assist in extinguishing the fire of the meeting house and thus lost his life. My grandmother's name was Anna George. She was a native of Haverhill, MA born some distance below the village.

May 30, 1866

I was advised & urged to the step I have taken by numerous and various influential friends, who insisted that I out to put myself out of Divinity Hall & under some roof where at my age & with my liability to attacks of disease I could be properly cared for. We begin to live in a simple way. My walk will be about four miles a day. Nobody was present at the ceremony but Mary McCrossen, the girl who has long lived in the house, and Dr. Peabody who officiated. We had no wine, no wedding cake, no cards, did not even change our everyday dress. For certain reasons & on account of the pressure of business, it is proposed to keep the matter quiet for several days.

SIBLEY in Robinson Gen. bk, V T

In Reply to: SIBLEY in Robinson Gen. bk, V T by Nancy Dewey Rice of 565

I am a gg.grand-nephew of this John Sibley, who was a son of Zadock Sibley of Readsborough. John's second wife was Clarissa Robinson, a second Robinson line of mine, derived from Clarissa's sister Caroline, who married Abraham Burton. They were granddaughters of George Robinson, shown below, a Revolutionary War Pensioner & Veteran of the MA Continental Line, who died at Bennington.

John Sibley was a Democrat and a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, He served as Justice of the Peace at Bennington for 25 years and was a county commissioner.

Obituary: Died --In Bennington, Wednesday, Feb 4th, 1880, Mr. John Sibley, aged 80 years and 2 days.

Last week we briefly noticed, as we went to press, the close of a long life in our midst. What we then said of him, comprehended the character of the man. Mr. Sibley was born in the adjoining town of Woodford, but coming to Bennington in early life, he had for the more than three-quarters of a century been identified with this town and its interests. It is recorded of him that his first vote was given to free the slaves of the man who employed him. However that may be, his later record was with the Democratic party, of which he was almost a life long member. Mr. Sibley's honest intentions in politics were never questioned by his friends of whatever party, but like all men, he was not infallible, and while consistent to his political faith, his course in adhering to the policy of his party has sometimes been criticized. In his personal intercourse with his fellow man, his integrity of character was never questioned - none have ever said aught against him as a Christian gentleman, his life showed his sincerity to the M. E. Church, by being "a charter member" and dying in the faith of his early espousal. Mr. Sibley was married twice, his first wife being Lovica Clench, and who died seven years afterwards leaving three children; for his second wife Clarissa Robinson, who survives him together with a part of their family. The Herald & Globe speaks of "Uncle John," as he was familiarly called by a great many:

"Bennington loses a notable landmark in the recent death of County Commissioner John Sibley. A life-long Democrat, he cast his first presidential vote for Jackson and his last for Tilden. He was a justice of the peace for 25 years. On his 80th birthday (last Monday) he could recall only three persons in the town who were residents in his boyhood."

Clarissa Robinson, John's second wife, was the sister of Caroline Robinson, who married Abraham Burton.

Intention of marriage between Oscar Sibley of Augusta and Etta L. Smiley Vassalborough, of recorded Dec 14, 1868 [pg295]

Nancy, Oscar, Avis and Andrew were siblings, children of Ebenezer and Laura Perkins. This Oscar is the same one I have who was married to Lora Henrietta Smiley? I also have an entry for Oscar Sibley married to Etta L. Smiley, dau of Hugh Smiley and Esther nee Hall. This Etta had siblings: Mary, Benjamin, Horace, Otis, Laura. Etta's marriage to Oscar was 11 Dec 1868.

Thanks Linda - I also have this to add to your details on Oscar:

"The family went to California in 1874 and returned to Vassalborough, Maine, 2 years later."
(not the Etta one but the Lora Henrietta spouse).

Cheers Keith Smiley in Oz

Notes for Frank E. Sibley:

The economic recovery found its most important stimulus with the arrival of the first railroad. The Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway, reached San Antonio in February 1877. Its completion to the coast made the shipment of local products far easier and helped to fuel a rapid growth in population. The number of inhabitants in the county nearly doubled over the next decade. Many of the new residents were recent immigrants from Europe and Mexico. Of the total population in 1880, 7,912 were foreign-born, with the largest numbers coming from Mexico and Germany. After the Civil War, Bexar County's black population also grew dramatically as many freed slaves settled in and around San Antonio. By 1880, the number of African-American inhabitants had reached nearly three times what it had been in 1860.

The building of the railroads stimulated the establishment of many new communities, particularly along their route, including Macdona, Von Ormy, Cassin, Atascosa, Thelma, Beckman, Luxello, Converse, and Kirby.

The 1880s also saw many new industries. By 1887, San Antonio had three bookbinderies, four breweries, three carriage factories, four ice factories, three tanneries, one wool-scouring plant, and an iron foundry. After the turn of the century, the manufacturing sector continued to grow.
