

Kay, Geoffrey (from LinkedIn)

Education

The Australian National University Bachelor of Science (BSc) / Bachelor of Science (Forestry) (Hons), Conservation Biology, Ecology 2001 – 2008

Experience

Project Manager, Environmental Stewardship Project Australian National University January 2010 – . New South Wales Area, Australia Manage the operation of the Australian National Universities biodiversity monitoring contract with the Federal Government's Environmental Stewardship Box Gum Grassy Woodland project for Prof. David Lindenmayer (ANU).

Owner Geoffrey Kay Enterprises January 2004 – .

This consultancy offers a range of services:

- * project management and field support
- * remote project logistics
- * GIS mapping and spatial analysis
- * biodiversity monitoring
- * Environmental Impact Assessments
- * fauna and flora surveys, with experience using an extensive range of terrestrial and marine biodiversity survey techniques

Environmental Consultant Australian Wildlife Services 2005 –2011 Canberra Area, Australia

Booderee Long-term Fire Ecology Research Project Australian National University 2009)Jervis Bay, New South Wales

Senior Environmental Consultant Platina Resources Limited 2008 Skærgaard, East Greenland

Honours Project Australian National University 2007 –2008 South-west Western Australia

Completed a pioneer study exploring the genetic diversity of fauna of the south west Western Australian Biodiversity Hotspot. This study represents the first efforts to elucidate phylogeographic patterns underlying the formation of this significant, and one of the worlds Top 25, biodiversity Hotspots.

Wildlife Ecologist Wildlife Conservation Society 2007 Makira forest, Madagascar

Biodiversity Officer The World Bank 2007 Antananarivo, Madagascar

Wildlife Ecologist Parks, Conservation and Lands 2007 Canberra, Australia