

Schirmer, Jacki, Dr (from University of Canberra website)

Australian National University, B.Ec., 1998. Australian National University, B.Sc(Forestry)(Hons), 1999. Australian National University, PhD, 2006

Social Scientist, Bureau of Rural Sciences, Department of Agriculture Fisheries and Forestry 2003–2005. Research Fellow, The Australian National University & Cooperative Research Centre for Forestry 2005– . Senior Research Fellow, University of Canberra 2012– .

Her current research examines the social impacts of environmental change, focusing on how changes in management of natural resources such as forests, fisheries and agricultural land affect the health and wellbeing of the people and communities who depend on these resources.