GREAT INTEREST CENTERS IN MATINEE RACES TODAY

Five Events of Evenly Matched Runners Will Afford Amusement for Lovers of the Thoroughbred

Again will Tampa sporting society be rendered happy by the horse racing when the five big racing events take place this afternoon at the fair grounds race track, the best put together and participated in the races at the state fair also being scheduled to participate in the races this afternoon, being on the return trip from Havana to their various home courses. The one-day's racing here will be for the benefit of the horsemen who encountered hard luck at the Havana fair, which turned out bad financially. Undoubtedly a big crowd will collect this afternoon at the race track, which was donated for the occasion by the fair association and which will be put in thoroughly good shape by means of harrowing, etc., especially as this will be the last time Tampa residents will have the opportunity of seeing real racing until the next fair. This afternoon's races may even rival in interest the famous South Florida Derby. The following officers have volunteered their services: Presiding Judge, B. D. Lawrence; Associate Judge, W. C. Galtner, W. P. Stovall, D. J. Shaw, and Starter Dan W. Wiggins. Jockeys participating are: Frank Otis, McCormick, Dyer, Jordan, Caslin, Peters, Mooney, Christian and Sullivan.

SEVEN TOLD TO GO AND SIN NO MORE

MEN WHO VIOLATED FISHING LAW GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY

Were Given a Hearing in Criminal Court and Only Required to Pay Costs of Court—Other Criminal Cases

H. M. Howitt, Noah Freeman, C. Schwilchewitz, A. J. Pitts, Jackson Castillo, M. L. Oliver and Robert Swilley, fishermen charged with violating the stopnet law, were given a hearing in the criminal court yesterday and after having plead guilty were liberated upon payment of costs and further sentence suspended on their good behavior. The case attracted widespread attention among local and fishdealers along the coast, as it was a test case of a law that is alleged by fish dealers to be ruinous to them by interfering in their mode of catching fish. The stopnet law provides that for this kind of fishing nets of a greater length of 350 yards shall not be used. It was claimed by the officers arresting the men that some of the nets were over half a mile in length. The fishermen stated to the court that they did not know they were violating the law. Upon promising to stop using such nets and payment of costs they were let go.

Oscar Williams, a negro, was up on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He plead not guilty. When arrested he had a razor on him but proved that he was taking it to a barber shop to have it sharpened. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Confessing to the theft of a razor from Walter F. Roberts and a piano scarf from C. H. Thompson, Frank Zayner, a young white boy was held over by Judge Gordon to be sentenced at a later time. Zayner was represented by Attorney W. T. Martin.

Charles Pleas, a negro, was up on a charge of stealing a bicycle from J. S. Jones. He plead not guilty. Testimony of witnesses proved that he stole the wheel and sentence was withheld.

Albert Johnson, a young white man, who was alleged to have robbed an old man in a drunken condition in a saloon on Franklin street, plead not guilty to a charge of second larceny. He tried to prove that he did not commit the act but evidence introduced proved conclusively that he did. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. He will be sentenced later.

Cases on the docket for the remainder of the week are as follows:
Wednesday—H. D. Ballard, mortgaging personal property under lien; Norman Milton, breaking and entering; Ike Williams, larceny; Henry Locust, receiving stolen goods; James Adkins, assault and battery.

Thursday—L. W. Gordon, assault to murder; Tom Booker, assault to murder; Frank Williams, attempt at burglary; Corn Johnson, petit larceny; Esisto Richardson, assault to murder; George Purdy, assault and battery.

Friday—E. G. Robertson, concealed weapons; Garfield Brady, assault and battery; Edward Thomas, larceny; Sallie Williams, assault and battery; Josephine Smith, aggravated assault; Charlie King, breaking and entering; J. A. Stevens, entering dwelling to commit a misdemeanor; E. G. Robertson, obtaining property by false pretenses.

Saturday—Morris Lucas, assault and battery; Louis Williams, trespass; J. H. Hutson, impeding want of chastity to unmarried female; G. Bruno, petty offense; G. Pascual, using obscene language publicly.

The jury: E. L. Sutton, J. W. Gibson, Chas. A. Freeman, D. H. Yancey, H. C. Durham, J. S. Goodrich, J. F. Kirkland, J. H. Smith, E. S. Beasley, W. F. Price, J. W. Arms, and W. Grier. This term will continue throughout this week and next.

REGISTRATION IS FALLING WITH WARMTH OF CAMPAIGN
According to the new registration, sixty-five in number, at the courthouse yesterday there is no decrease in the interest in the matter. Everyone entitled to registration probably will register is the opinion of Supervisor of Registration, Boudin. He says that more interest is being shown in this matter than at any time heretofore. Few transfers were made yesterday, there being only twelve recorded. Three registrations were made. Reports from all precincts show that the county point to heaviest registration in years.

FIRE DESTROYS THE DAIRY INN

ORIGIN OF FLAMES NOT KNOWN, BUT CARELESSNESS BELIEVED

Expected That a Handsome New Structure Will Be Erected as Soon as Owner Richardson Knows Loss

Fire totally destroyed the Famous Dairy Inn at Sulphur Springs at an early hour yesterday morning. Mrs. Joo Smith who conducts the inn, was sleeping there at the time and narrowly escaped with her life.

While some think that the fire was of incendiary origin Joseph Smith, the proprietor, does not give this suspicion credence. Mr. Smith said that he did not think that the fire was of incendiary origin for he knew of no reason why anyone should want to burn his place of business at the springs.

He did say, however, that several mornings ago at an early hour Mrs. Smith who stayed at the Dairy Inn, was awakened by sounds of some one knocking on the front door of the building. When asked what was wanted she was told by a man that he had a lady with him who must have a room for the night. Mrs. Smith told the man that she could not accommodate them. The man insisted but finally stopped talking to her and with some one presumably a woman walked to the end of the porch where they remained until daylight when they left, the man using several curse words.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Smith at nearly 3 o'clock yesterday morning and as she was the only one sleeping in the inn had no one to go out and give the alarm. She threw something around her and ran out of the burning building into the house of Manager Joseph Richardson and roused Mrs. Richardson's brother who telephoned to the city.

Mr. Smith secured a team from a livery stable and was rapidly driven to the burning inn where he found Mrs. Smith nearly prostrated. She was placed in a car and brought to her home in this city. An effort was made by those whom Mrs. Smith awakened to form a bucket brigade and save the building but it was too far gone for effective work, and it was burned to the ground.

The structure was a large one-story affair and has been used many times as a place for large dinners and banquets. It was a much frequented resort and Manager Smith expected to have one of the most successful seasons he has ever had. He said that Sunday his receipts were larger than at any time previous.

The loss on the building is estimated at about $8,000, and at the time of its destruction the policy that had been issued on it had been allowed to lapse. Mr. Robinson, the owner, is in New York and it is not known what he will do about rebuilding the hotel. There is no doubt that the inn will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

The loss of Mr. Smith, who owns practically all of the furnishings of the inn, amounts to about $2,000. His loss is pretty well covered by insurance.

THREATENED STRIKE IN COAL REGION HAS PASSED

Would Have Caused National Calamity, and Would Have Tied Up Nearly Every Road in U. S.

(Special to The Tribune)
CHICAGO, April 7.—The threat of a protracted strike in the bituminous coal fields that would cause a coal famine has passed, but it was not until the big steam plants in Chicago and vicinity and the railroads had filled their bins and yards to overflowing. During the winter the coal operators had their dull times, but thanks to the "impending strike" business has been better of late.

The demand for an extra stock of coal has reduced the number of idle railroad cars by 20,000, according to American Railway association figures; between March 4 and March 18, the number of idle cars decreased from 130,000 to 119,000. Chicago alone consumes for heating and power an enormous amount of coal, a large percentage of the 46,500,000 tons that was produced in Illinois in the one year of 1927. This week a $15,000,000 merger of retail coal dealers will begin business in Chicago, having purchased the teaming and storage facilities of the big retail companies. It will have a total of twenty-two yards all located on railroads, but the officials maintain that there is no intention to freeze out the smaller dealers, but to "economize in the cost of delivering coal."

POLICE COURT

While rather long drawn out, Police Court was not lacking in interest in the cases tried this morning, two "dope" cases and a sensational rooming house case, speeded with several lighter offenders, occupying His Honor for two hours.

Rabbit Released.
Jack Rabbit is a "coon" who was arrested at the request of J. B. Socklinger, who this morning refused to appear against him. Jack says he was helping to unload bananas and was discharged, and when he asked for his pay was told he would be locked up.

Took a Wheel.
Herman Jones, a negro boy, stole a wheel from the Vincent Hotel on Tampa street. He was sent to Justice Drumright for further instructions how to get in the county hotel.

Put Hand in Pocket.
Charley Durham, a white man, while intoxicated, put his hand into the pocket of a stranger in Beatty's saloon and then tried to fight the man's friend for taking it out. He was fined $10 or 20 days.

She Was Very Mad.
Lisa Brooks, a dark Amazon, raised much "cat" at Harrison and Tampa streets last night, requiring three officers and two other men to get her to the box. Her father helped get her there, and testified this morning that she was "mad as the devil." The court assessed her $10 or 20 days, which the father will probably pay.

Will Nobles, a white youth, rode a wheel without a light, and paid $1 this morning for thus endangering life and property.

Rosa Valentine, colored, was arrested for stealing, and failed to appear, forfeiting a bond of $5.
