

Houghton-Darling.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., May 25.—In the First Congregational Church this afternoon Frederick Morton Houghton and Miss Katherine Evans Darling, the eldest daughter of Mrs. D. H. Darling of 1 North Street, were married. The bride was given away by her brother, D. H. Darling of Pittsburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Ryder of this city.

The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor L. Darling, a sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel C. Wilson of Palatka, Fla.; Miss Mary E. Clough of Boston, Miss Harriet M. Ryder of this city, and Miss Margaret Darling, a sister of the bride. The best man was Herbert Pierrepont Houghton, a brother of the groom.

The ushers were Scott McLane and Harry C. Scofield of New York and Walter E. Houghton and Louis Darling of Stamford.

The New York Times

Published: May 26, 1904

Copyright © The New York Times