REFERENCES & INDEX

Numerical reference notations are provided where the author felt it was appropriate. Aside from the source material which is numerically noted, a substantial amount of other source material has also been relied upon. With respect to the references cited, however, I have tried where possible to cite as many sources as I can that can be found on-line. An all-name Index is provided in Section 4 of this genealogy.

ADDENDUM

NOTE: The following Stone family genealogy was compiled over many years. Since genealogy, for all practical purposes, has the potential to continue indefinitely, any compiler who wishes to type-up and index their findings will be faced at some time in the process with establishing a cut off date for their work. With respect to this genealogical write-up the cut off date I have established is 1 January 2017. However, because I know that new information pertaining to the Stone family will be forthcoming in the future, an Addendum covering any new information, with associated references, will be provided in Section 5 of Part II of this genealogy.

INTRODUCTION

For more than 125 years, beginning with my great-grandfather, Thomas Jefferson Stone, whose first genealogical notes were made in 1888, down through his son, Robert K. Stone, and including more than thirty-six years of my own personal research, every attempt has been made to compile a more comprehensive genealogy of our Stone family. This endeavor would never have been possible, however, without the assistance and input of hundreds of Stone "cousins," who were as interested in their roots as I was.

When I first started doing genealogical research in the late 1970's, my goal was to take all of my pedigree families back in time from where my direct-line ancestor tied into a particular family. Over the years I was able to research and write up genealogies on over 300 families, taking almost all of them back into the 1600's, with some back into the 1500's or earlier. With respect to my Stone family, no one seemed to be able to get beyond our ancestor, Spencer Stone, who was born in Virginia in 1755, and died in Kentucky in 1838.

Because I remember my grandmother, Ruth Melissa Stone, telling me that she had always been told that her family was somehow related to that of William Stone, third Proprietary Governor of Maryland, as well as to the Thomas Stone who signed the Declaration of Independence, I, and many others, spent countless hours of research over the years trying to trace our Stone family back to Governor William Stone and his ancestor, William Stone de Twiste of Lancashire, England, who is believed to have been born in about 1510.

For years I was aware of an article published in the July 1902 issue of the "Virginia Magazine of History and Biography" by the Rev. E. A. Stone, which specifically referred to a Thomas Stone and Mary Butler who came to Virginia from Maryland, and had five sons whose names were Benjamin, Spencer, John, Thomas, and one whose name was not known, having died in the Revolutionary War. This article also stated that this Thomas Stone, who married Mary Butler, was said by some to be a great-grandson, but by others to be a great-great grandson, of Governor William Stone of Maryland.

Because one of my goals was to trace my grandmother's Stone family back in time until it connected with that of Governor William Stone, I have to admit the above article definitely gave me hope of their being a connection. Since the above mentioned article was the only one I knew of at the time that pertained to a Spencer Stone in eighteenth century Virginia, and which also mentioned his parentage and several siblings, I tried very hard to confirm it. However, no matter how hard I tried I was unable to confirm any connection between my Spencer Stone and Thomas Stone and Mary Butler. As a consequence, I shifted my research efforts toward trying to trace down from Governor William Stone in an attempt to make a connection that way.

Unfortunately, every attempt to trace the family of Governor William Stone down to my grandmother's line, also ended in failure. This was primarily due to the fact that early published genealogies such as "The Stone's of Surry" by Charles H. Stone and "The Stones of Poynton Manor" by Harry Wright Newman, and others, took it upon themselves to add a fictitious fourth child to a family that all evidence indicated only had three children. Because any connection between my grandmother's Stone family and that of Governor William Stone had been predicated upon that fictitious fourth child, I no longer believe there is a connection. Ironically, while doing my research, I did discover that my grandmother actually was also a descendant of Governor William Stone of Maryland, but not through her father's Stone family. It turns out that she was related to Governor William Stone through her mother, Olive Hester Allen's family.

Even though there does not appear to be a verifiable connection between our Stone family and that of Governor William Stone of Maryland, two new sources of information have recently come to my attention that at least resolved the issue of Spencer Stone's parentage. Based upon this new information, it appears that the Rev. E. A. Stone's article, though not completely accurate, was very close to the mark.

In April of 2009, Mr. William M. Stone of Lenox, Massachusetts published a book entitled "The Chronicle of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish in Colonial Virginia." This very well documented resource substantiates the relationship between this Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish and his sons; Thomas, who married Mary Butler, William, who married Hannah Conway, and John, who married Mildrudge Corder. It also provided information regarding Thomas Stone and Mary Butler's children, including my Spencer Stone.

The other reference which helped solidify in my mind that Spencer Stone was indeed the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler was the book published in 2001 by the late John P. Alcock entitled "Fauquier Families - Volume two (supplement)." This reference included tithing and personal property tax lists, some of which were found among unrecorded "loose papers" in the basement of the Fauquier County Courthouse in 1996. Since so many records from early Virginia have been lost or destroyed, it was very fortunate that these tithing and tax records were uncovered.

On page two, column one, of the 1778 List of Tithes taken by William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish in Fauquier County, Virginia, Thomas Stone, Sr. (husband of Mary Butler) and his youngest son, James Stone, were residing on the same property, and were assessed two tithes. Thomas Stone, Jr. and Spencer Stone were residing on lands adjoining Thomas Stone, Sr. and were assessed one tithe each. Thomas Stone, Sr.'s son, Benjamin Stone, who was assessed one tithe, is listed in column two of page two, indicating that he probably resided some distance away.

In my opinion, this List of Tithes definitely indicates a connection between our Spencer Stone and the other Stone's living in Leeds Parish. Additional support for this being our Spencer Stone and his family comes from the fact that a Thomas Smith and Scarlet Smith were also residing on lands adjoining those of Thomas Stone, Sr. and Mary Butler. These, of course, were Spencer Stone's future father-in-law and brother-in-law.

In light of the newly obtained information cited above, there is no longer any doubt in my mind that our Spencer Stone was the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, and the grandson of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia. Although a number of researchers over the years have stated that Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish was the son of Thomas Stone, Gentleman, of Charles County, Maryland and his first wife, Jane Hoskins (not Martha Hoskins as most claim), this is not believed to be correct. Thomas Stone, Gentleman, of Charles County, Maryland was the father of only three children; David, Mary and Anne, no Thomas.

In light of this, and until future research yields sufficient evidence to verify beyond reasonable doubt who the parents of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish were, this genealogy will begin with Spencer Stone's grandfather, Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, representing the earliest known progenitor of our branch of the Stone family.

NOTE: Because I have not been able to connect my two Stone family lines, even though the effort continues, I have incorporated the genealogical information that pertains to my two Stone family lines into two parts. PART ONE covers five generations of the ancestors and descendants of Gov. William Stone of Maryland, while PART TWO covers seven generations of the descendants of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia down to my grandmother, Ruth Melissa Stone.

DATES

For the most part, many conflicting dates were easily straightened out by simply rechecking the source material or official records. In some cases, however, marriage dates may vary from other published works because the researcher used the date of a marriage bond, or the date a marriage license was issued, instead of the actual marriage date. Even though some of the source material I used did not specify the origin of the marriage date given, I have tried to differentiate the marriage dates as accurately as possible. In a number of cases an approximate date of marriage, using the abbreviation "ca." for circa (about), is shown based upon information provided in various census documents.

Another dating problem involves the recording of marriage banns. A couple's intentions to marry, or banns of marriage, were generally proclaimed in church on three consecutive Sundays, and if no legal impediments precluded the couple from being married, their marriage would be sanctioned after the third proclamation. Unfortunately, the first or second proclamation will often be cited as the marriage date instead of the third. I must admit, however, that this is difficult to avoid in some cases because of missing or damaged records.

Death dates may also vary in that the date of burial, or the date a will was written or submitted for probate, will sometimes be cited by others instead of the actual death date. In those cases where I was unable to verify which of two dates was correct, I generally went with the one that referenced the most credible source material, or simply used the year only.

One of the most common dating conflicts involves the use of the Julian Calendar versus the Gregorian Calendar. On 14 September 1752, the Gregorian Calendar was adopted in both Great Britain and its colonies in North America, and the first day of the year then became January 1. Prior to that date, the Julian Calendar was in effect and the first day of the year was March 25. As a consequence, many dates found in the 1600's and first half of the 1700's for the months of January, February, and March reflect, or should reflect, a double date, such as 15 February 1735/1736. Even though both dates may be perfectly acceptable based upon the calendar that was in use at the time, to be consistent with current dating procedures the second date is most accurate.

LOCATIONS

With respect to the location at which an event took place, there were many cases when it was not possible to find any record giving the exact location that a birth, marriage or death took place. Because I feel quite strongly that dates should always be accompanied by places, if for no other reason than to aid future research, I made a number of assumptions regarding location based upon available information. For instance, if a family is found in the Fayette County, Indiana census records for 1840 and 1850, and they also show up in the deed and tax records of that county for the same period, I did not feel that it was unreasonable to assume that any children they had during this period were probably also born in Fayette County. In some cases, however, my comfort level with assuming a possible location was limited to a state only.

(DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS STONE OF HAMILTON PARISH, VIRGINIA)

GENERATION ONE

1. Thomas Stone. *

NOTE: Although it is commonly stated that Thomas Stone, Gentleman, of Charles County, Maryland, and his wife, Jane Hoskins, daughter of Col. Philip Hoskins, had a son named Thomas, I am not aware of any documentary evidence that substantiates this. In one probate document relating to the administration of the estate of Jane's father, Col. Philip Hoskins, reference was made of Philip's "three other grandchildren, children of Thomas Stone."¹ In Thomas Stone's will, which was dated 25 May 1727, he also mentions or refers to only having three children; David, Mary, and Anne (by naming Anne's son, Gerrard Fowke).² And, in the will of Thomas Stone's second wife, Katherine (Boughton) Thomas Stone, which was dated 26 October 1750, the same three children are again mentioned or alluded to; David (by naming his son, David, Jr.), and Thomas Stone's two daughters, now married, Mary Hanson and Anne Fowke.³ Since Thomas Stone's second wife, Katherine, is not known to have had any children by her first husband, Benoni Thomas, it definitely appears that Thomas Stone of Charles County only had three children, none of whom were named Thomas.^{2,3}

GENERATION TWO

NOTE: Only the author's pedigree ancestor and known siblings are covered in this generation.

2. Thomas Stone. *

Thomas Stone, the eldest son of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, is believed to have been born in about 1721/1722 in Stafford County, Virginia.⁸ This Thomas Stone was later married in about 1741/1742 in Prince William County, Virginia to a woman named Mary Butler.^{5,8} Verification that Thomas Stone was married to Mary Butler was found in Sheriff John Crump's Account Book for Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia for the period 1751-1755.⁵ Mary, who is believed to have been born in about 1720/1721 in Stafford County, Virginia, was the daughter of Joshua Butler and Grace Page.^{8,11}

After their marriage, Thomas and Mary resided in that portion of Prince William County that was later formed into Fauquier County, Virginia in 1759.⁷ Although many Fauquier County records have been lost or destroyed, a number of tax lists were found among some unrecorded "loose papers" in the basement of the Fauquier County Courthouse in 1996.¹² These tax lists were later published by the late John P. Alcock in 2001.¹² In column one of page two of the 1778 List of Tithes taken by William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish, Thomas Stone, referred to as Thomas Stone, Sr. on the list, and his youngest son, James Stone, were residing on the same farm, while Thomas Stone, Jr. and Spencer Stone were residing on adjoining lands.¹² Thomas Stone, Sr.'s son, Benjamin Stone, was listed in column two of page two, indicating that he was probably living some distance away.¹²

Although Mary (Butler) Stone appears to have died prior to Thomas, the actual date of her death is not known. She is believed, however, to have died in Fauquier County, Virginia. Thomas Stone, on the other hand, is believed to have died in Fauquier County in 1788.⁸ The children listed below have been determined through various deed, tax, court, and misc. documents to be those of Thomas and Mary (Butler) Stone.

3. Elizabeth Stone.

Elizabeth Stone, a “probable” daughter of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, is believed to have been born in about 1723/1724 in Stafford County, Virginia.⁸ She was later married in Prince William County, Virginia to a man named Richard Thornberry (also written Thornbury).^{8,9} Richard appears to have died shortly after their marriage as Thomas Stone, and a neighbor named David Darnell, posted an Administrative Bond in Prince William County on 28 March 1743 for Elizabeth to be appointed Administratrix of Richard Thornberry’s estate.⁹ William Stone signed as a witness.⁹

No issue are known from Elizabeth’s marriage to Richard Thornberry, and no additional information has been found concerning this individual.

4. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, is believed to have been born in about 1725 in Stafford County, Virginia.⁸ He was later married in about 1746 in Prince William County, Virginia to a woman named Hannah Conway.^{5,8} Verification that William Stone was married to Hannah Conway was found in Sheriff John Crump’s Account Book for Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia for the period 1751-1755.⁵

Not long after his father passed away, William and Hannah left Virginia and moved south into North Carolina.⁸ On 3 September 1758, William applied for a grant of 320 acres of land on Flat Creek in Granville County, North Carolina.²⁵ He later received a patent for this land during the month of February 1762.²⁶ In March of 1770, William sold his Flat Creek property, and he and his family moved west into Surry County, North Carolina.²⁷ William later applied for a grant of 280 acres of land on Belews Creek in Surry County on 22 December 1778.²⁸ He subsequently obtained a grant for this land in 1780.²⁹ William and all five of his sons were shown in the 1782 list of taxable inhabitants for the Belews Creek area of Surry County.³⁰

On 8 February 1786, William and Hannah sold their Surry County property and moved to Randolph County, North Carolina.³¹ William and Hannah later purchased 90 acres of land on Caraway Creek on 10 April 1786.³² They eventually received a grant from the state of North Carolina for an additional 168 acres of land along Caraway Creek in 1788.³³ Because the recording fees for this property were paid by William’s son, Conway Stone, it is believed that William probably died in about 1788/1789 in Randolph County, North Carolina.^{8,33} Hannah, on the other hand, is believed to have died there in 1792.⁸

5. John Stone.

John Stone, the son of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, is believed to have been born in about 1727 in Stafford County, Virginia. ⁸ He was later married in about 1748 in Prince William County, Virginia to a woman named Mildrudge "Milly" Corder (also written Mildredge Corder). ^{5,8} Although it remains to be proven beyond doubt, Milly is believed to have been the daughter of John and Patience Corder who appear to have been neighbors of Thomas Stone on Elk Run in Hamilton Parish. ⁴³ Verification that John Stone was married to a woman whose maiden name was Corder was found in Sheriff John Crump's Account Book for Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia for the period 1751-1755. ⁵ Proof that Miss Corder's given name was actually Mildrudge, also known as Milly, was found in John Stone's will and other documents. ¹⁰

John and Milly apparently remained in Virginia for about twenty-seven years after their marriage, where they were last found on 26 September 1775 selling 217 acres of land in Fauquier County, "formerly belonging to Thomas Stone, deceased," to a man named Edmund Parke.⁸ Shortly thereafter, John and Milly moved to South Carolina, where they were next found purchasing 200 acres of land on 12 December 1775 in that portion of Ninety-Six District, South Carolina that was subsequently formed into Laurens County, South Carolina in 1785.^{7,44} John and Milly later received a grant from the state of South Carolina on 6 June 1791 for an additional 442 acres of land situated along the Enoree River in Laurens County.⁴⁴

John and Milly Stone appear to have resided in Laurens County, South Carolina for the remainder of their lives. John died in Laurens County in 1800.¹⁰ Although John originally wrote his will on 25 January 1797, he later modified this will on 9 March 1799 by crossing out all references to his son, John, Jr., and replacing John, Jr.'s name with that of another son, Lewis.¹⁰ John's last will and testament was subsequently probated before the Laurens County Court on 17 March 1800.¹⁰ The children listed below were all named in John Stone's will except for Elias.¹⁰

Although John's will indicates that he had a son named Elum, no one by that name has ever been found in any record that I am aware of.¹⁰ As such, I strongly believe that the name Elias was mistakenly written as Elum in John's will.¹⁰ It should also be pointed out that the DNA of an Elias Stone descendant is a 100% match to the DNA of other descendants of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish.⁸ With the exception of John, Jr., all of John Stone, Sr.'s sons were listed on the 1790 and 1800 censuses of Laurens County, South Carolina.^{45,46}

After John passed away, Milly appears to have been residing with her son, Lewis Stone, in both the 1800 and 1810 censuses of Laurens County, South Carolina.^{46,47} Milly is believed to have later died in Laurens County, South Carolina in 1813.⁸

GENERATION THREE

NOTE: The families of all the known grandchildren of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia are covered in this generation.

6. Thomas Stone.

Thomas Stone, the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, was born in about 1743 in Prince William County, Virginia.⁸ That Thomas is the eldest son of Thomas and Mary (Butler) Stone is based upon an affidavit given by a Mr. Richard Roper which was filed in Mercer County, Kentucky Order Book "P."⁵⁰ This affidavit states:

"Proof given by Richard Roper that Thomas Stone was the eldest brother of Baylis Stone and heir at law of Bayles Stone who belonged to the Army of the Revolution and died in service an unmarried man."⁵⁰

Thomas Stone was apparently married twice during his life. He married first to a woman named Elizabeth "Betty" Jackman in about 1763/1764 in Fauquier County, Virginia.¹³ Elizabeth, who was also a native of Virginia, was the daughter of Thomas Jackman and Hester Lee Wright.^{51,52} Elizabeth was referred to as "Betty Stone" in her father's will, which had been written on 15 March 1776, and later probated in Fauquier County, Virginia on 25 March 1776.⁵¹

In early 1777, Thomas enlisted in the Virginia Continental Line to fight in the Revolutionary War, serving in both the 10th and the 14th Regiments.⁸ During the following year, Thomas Stone's name was found in column one of page two of the 1778 List of Tithes taken by William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish.¹² Thomas Stone, identified as Thomas Stone, Jr. on the list, is shown as owing one tithe on property next door to his father, Thomas Stone, Sr.¹² While home on leave from the War in 1779, Thomas received a Fairfax land grant for 320 acres in Fauquier County, Virginia.⁸

Sometime prior to 1790, Thomas and Elizabeth left Virginia and moved to Kentucky, where they may have spent a short time in Lincoln County before settling permanently in Mercer County.⁸ Although Elizabeth is believed to have died in Mercer County, Kentucky, the actual date of her death has not been determined.

On 19 August 1795, Thomas married for a second time to a widow named Ann Bennett in Mercer County, Kentucky.¹⁴ Thomas Stone died in 1829 in Mercer County, Kentucky.¹⁵ His will, which had been written on 10 March 1829, was later probated during the September 1829 County Court.¹⁵ Ann, on the other hand, died in Mercer County, Kentucky in 1832.⁵³ Her will, which was dated 5 September 1832, was later probated during the December 1832 term of the County Court.⁵³

On 26 October 1844, Parazade (Stone) Corder, the daughter of Thomas Stone and Elizabeth Jackman, conveyed her 1/6th part of the estate left to her by her father, Thomas Stone, to her daughter, Elizabeth (Corder) Krumholtz.⁵⁴ This act took place before John A. McHugh, a notary, in East Baton Rouge Parish, Louisiana.⁵⁴

Although Parazade Stone is the only child of Thomas and Elizabeth Stone to have been positively identified to date, her 1/6th share of her father's estate suggests that Thomas may have had as many as six children.⁵⁴ Based upon on-going research in Kentucky, it is believed that the other children listed below are also Thomas Stone's, and I have consequently opted to include them as such. It must be pointed out that Thomas and Elizabeth may have had a son named Ezekiel Stone, but I have not been able to verify this beyond doubt. The exact order of birth of those children listed below is not known.

It should also be pointed out that the 1810 census of Mercer County, Kentucky shows Thomas and his second wife, Ann, along with one female child born between 1794 and 1800.⁵⁵ Because this child is much too young to be one of Thomas and Elizabeth's children, it can only be a child of Thomas and Ann, or someone living with them at the time of the census. Off hand, I can only assume that this is a daughter from Thomas Stone's second marriage, and as such, may be one of the heirs that received a 1/6th share of his estate. Additional research is needed on this family, however, to positively identify all of Thomas Stone's children.

7. Ann Stone.

Ann Stone, the daughter of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, is believed to have been born in about 1745 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ She was later married in Fauquier County, Virginia by a bond dated 3 February 1761 to a man named William Moffett (also written Moffitt). ¹⁶ William, who was a Baptist Minister, was the son of Gabriel Moffett and Mary Helm. ⁶⁵ No additional information has been found concerning this couple.

8. Benjamin Stone.

Benjamin Stone, generally referred to as Rev. Benjamin Stone, is the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler. He is believed to have been born in about 1747/1748 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ (NOTE: Although Benjamin Stone is shown in some genealogies as having been born in 1743, or 26 September 1743, no valid source for these dates can be verified to my satisfaction. If Benjamin had been born in 1743, then he would have been the eldest child of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler. However, in a deposition given by a Mr. Richard Roper in Mercer County, Kentucky, even while all of Thomas and Mary (Butler) Stone's sons, except Bayles, were still living, testimony was given that Thomas Stone, Jr. was "the eldest brother of Baylis Stone, and heir at law" ⁵⁰ As such, I personally believe Benjamin was more likely born in about 1747/1748).

Benjamin Stone was later married in Fauquier County, Virginia to a woman named Anna Asbury.^{17,18} Anna, who had been born in 1748 in Stafford County, Virginia, was the daughter of George Asbury and Hannah Hardage.^{17,18}

According to the Fauquier County, Virginia deed records, Benjamin leased land there from a man named Jeffery Johnson on 26 October 1772.⁶⁶ Benjamin was subsequently shown on the 1777 List of Tithes taken by John Moffett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish, and also on the 1778 List of Tithes taken by William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish.¹² During the Revolutionary War, Benjamin served as a sergeant in the Culpeper County, Virginia Minute Men.¹⁷ He later served in the 4th, 6th, and 9th Companies under General George Washington during the severe winter of 1777-1778 at Valley Forge.¹⁷ Because of the hardships suffered during that winter by Gen. Washington's troops, including three of her brothers and her husband, Benjamin Stone's wife, Anna, rode her horse "Nelly" 250 miles from Virginia to Valley Forge, bringing all of the clothes, blankets and other provisions she could carry, in an attempt to relieve some of their suffering.¹⁸ During the period 1779-1782, Benjamin was with the 2nd South Carolina Regiment.¹⁷

On 24 February 1783, shortly before the end of the Revolutionary War, Benjamin was found to be leasing land in Fauquier County from a Mr. John Moffett.⁶⁶ Not long after this, however, Benjamin and his family apparently moved to Hampshire County, Virginia (now within West Virginia).¹⁷ While in Hampshire County, Benjamin was instrumental in organizing the North River Baptist Church and the Crooked Run Baptist Church.¹⁷

In 1794, however, Benjamin Stone was "called" to Uniontown in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, where he was asked to take over the Bethel Baptist Church.¹⁷ Benjamin later preached the introductory sermon at the Redstone Baptist Association at Uniontown, Pennsylvania on 22 September 1808.⁶⁷ In 1818, after serving as a Baptist Minister in Pennsylvania for nearly twenty-four years, Benjamin and Anna Stone, along with several of their children, moved west into Ohio, where they settled in Harrison County.^{17,18}

Benjamin Stone died at Cadiz in Harrison County, Ohio on 4 June 1833, while Anna died there just two days later on 6 June 1833.¹⁸ Both Benjamin and Anna were subsequently buried in the Stone Cemetery near Rose Valley Crossing in Green Township in Harrison County, Ohio.¹⁸ The exact order of birth of all of Benjamin and Anna's children is not known.

9. Elizabeth Stone.

Elizabeth Stone, the daughter of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, is believed to have been born in about 1751/1752 in Prince William County, Virginia.⁸ She was later married in about 1769/1770 in Fauquier County, Virginia to a man named William Dulin (also written Dullin and Duling).⁸ William, who had been born in about 1749 in Prince William County, Virginia, was the son of William Dulin and Clemence Ball.⁸⁴

NOTE: Unfortunately, considerable confusion surrounds whether or not this William Dulin was only married once, or if he were married twice, once to Elizabeth Stone, and secondly to a woman named Elizabeth Glasscock. Although I too have been unable to resolve this issue to my satisfaction, I personally believe Elizabeth Stone was married to William Dulin, and that she was the mother of at least seven, possibly eight children, all of whom were born in Fauquier County, Virginia. Because of the five year gap between the births of Spencer and George Dulin, the other children that are generally attributed to William, namely George, Polly and Jane may very well be from a second marriage to Elizabeth Glasscock. I simply am not in a position to argue one way or the other concerning this matter. This family definitely requires more research.

According to at least one source that I highly respect, and lending some support to William Dulin being married twice, Elizabeth Stone is said to have died in Fauquier County, Virginia in about 1783.⁸ William on the other hand, appears to have died in about 1818/1819 in Fauquier County, Virginia.⁸⁴ The approximate time of his death is based upon a marriage bond that was posted on 10 February 1819 for his daughter, Jane Dulin, which mentions that her father was deceased.^{84,85} This Jane Dulin was born after Elizabeth Stone's death, and is believed to have been William's youngest daughter from a possible second marriage.⁸⁴

10. Spencer Stone. *

Spencer Stone, the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, was born in Prince William County, Virginia on 3 June 1755. ¹⁹ In about 1777/1778, Spencer is believed to have been married in Culpeper County, Virginia to his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith. ^{19,20} Sally, who had been born on 9 September 1757 in Virginia, was the daughter of Thomas Smith of Ireland, and his wife, Mary Jackman. ^{22,93}

Spencer Stone was found on page two of the 1778 List of Tithes taken by William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish, residing next door to his father, Thomas Stone, Sr., and his brother Thomas Stone, Jr.¹² During the Revolutionary War, Spencer Stone served as a Private in Captain Samuel Scott's Company of the Lincoln County, Virginia Militia (Lincoln County is now within Kentucky), and for his service Spencer received a land grant from Patrick Henry, the Governor of Virginia.⁹⁴ Although a Treasury Warrant for this land, which consisted of 100 acres of property along the Dix River in Lincoln County, Kentucky, had been authorized on 28 June 1780, it was not surveyed until 24 April 1783.⁹⁵

According to the Lincoln County Court records, on 15 October 1805 Spencer petitioned the Court for permission to construct a water grist mill on this property.⁹⁶ The Court ordered the Sheriff to visit the site and ascertain if the construction would cause any damages.⁹⁶ On 11 November 1805, the Sheriff reported that he did not feel any damages would occur, and Spencer was allowed to build his grist mill.⁹⁶

Spencer and Sally Stone resided on their farm along the Dix River in Lincoln County, for more than thirty years prior to Sally's death. Sally was the mother of nine children with Spencer, all of whom were born in Lincoln County, Kentucky except for their first child, John Thomas Stone, who was born in Virginia.²¹ Sally died on 3 January 1813 in Lincoln County, Kentucky.^{21,22} (see remarks below)

NOTE: Unfortunately, there is still some confusion over the death date of Nancy "Sally" (Smith) Stone. Sally's death date is often shown to be 8 March 1815, and this may be perfectly accurate. However, I have never been able to verify where this date came from. The death date that I show of 3 January 1813 was attributed to Spencer and Sally's grand daughter, Martha Jane (Stone) McPherson by her grandson, Jerome H. Scott. It was also the date that was shown in the publication "Echoes of the Past" sponsored by the Stamping Ground Womans Club. Because some of the information presented on the Stone family in this publication was not correct, however, I am not totally comfortable with the 3 January 1813 date for Sally's death either. This issue definitely requires more research.

After the death of his first wife, Spencer Stone remained in Lincoln County for several years. During the fall of 1815, however, Spencer moved to Scott County, Kentucky, where his son, Elias Barbee Stone, had settled sometime earlier.⁹⁷ According to the records of the Dry Run Baptist Church in Scott County, Spencer Stone was admitted into membership there on the third Saturday in December 1815, and remained with that church until October of 1817.⁹⁷ During the following year, 1818, Spencer moved back to his farm on the Dix River, where he remained until his death.⁹⁷

Shortly before leaving Scott County, however, Spencer married for a second time to a woman named Anna (Christy) Lindsey, the daughter of Julius Christy and Agatha Barnett, and the widow of John Valentine Lindsey.^{21,22} Anna (Christy) Lindsey was the mother of Catherine Houston Lindsey who had married Spencer's son, Elias Barbee Stone, in Scott County in about 1814.²¹ There were no issue from Spencer's Stone's second marriage.

Although some of Spencer's children eventually moved to Indiana and other parts of Kentucky, he and his wife remained in Lincoln County. Spencer Stone subsequently died on 1 January 1838 in that part of Lincoln County that was later made a part of Boyle County in 1842.²² Shortly after Spencer passed away, Anna moved to Fayette County, Indiana to be closer to some of her children from her previous marriage to John Valentine Lindsey. Anna subsequently died in Fayette County, Indiana in 1844.⁹⁸ Her will, which had been written on 8 October 1844, was later admitted for probate before the Fayette County Court on 19 November 1844.⁹⁸

11. Bayles Stone.

Bayles Stone (also written Baylis Stone), the son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, is believed to have been born in about 1757/1758 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ During the Revolutionary War, Bayles enlisted in the 11th Virginia Regiment of Sharpshooters under the command of Colonel Daniel Morgan. ^{8,23} During the months of September and October 1777, the 11th Virginia Regiment fought in both the Battle of Freeman's Farm and the Battle of Bemis Heights (collectively called the Battles of Saratoga). ^{8,23} By November 1777, however, military documents indicate that Bayles Stone had become ill. ^{8,23} Bayles, who was not married, subsequently died without issue in the state of New York on 2 December 1777. ^{8,23}

12. James Stone.

James Stone, the youngest son of Thomas Stone and Mary Butler, is believed to have been born in about 1760 in Fauquier County, Virginia.⁸ He was later married, probably in Fauquier County, Virginia, on 25 December 1781 to a woman named Jane "Jenny" Ellis.⁸ Jane is believed to have also been born in Virginia.

James Stone was found on page two of the 1778 List of Tithes taken by Mr. William Pickett for the Lower District of Leeds Parish, residing on the same land as his father, Thomas Stone, Sr.¹² Several years after their marriage, James and Jane moved west into Kentucky, where they settled in Mercer County near his brother, Thomas Stone, and his wife, Elizabeth Jackman.⁸ James Stone was later found on the reconstructed 1790 census of Kentucky residing in Mercer County on 11 March 1789.^{8,120}

James Stone, who was a miller and distiller by trade, died in 1828 in Mercer County, Kentucky.^{8,24} His will, which was dated 8 May 1826, was subsequently admitted for probate before the June 1826 session of the Mercer County Court.²⁴ Jane, on the other hand, died in Mercer County on 2 July 1832.⁸ Even though James Stone is known to have named all of his children in his will, their names were also provided in an affidavit given by a Mr. James Taylor.⁵⁰ This affidavit was filed on page 70 in Mercer County, Kentucky Order Book "P."⁵⁰ The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

13. John Stone.

John Stone, the eldest son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, is believed to have been born in about 1748/1749 in Prince William County, Virginia.⁸ Although it has yet to be verified beyond all doubt, I personally believe that this John Stone was married twice during his life. According to several Stone family researchers, their ancestors, Rev. Corder Stone and Rev. Thomas Stone, were born in Surry County, North Carolina and were the sons of a John Stone and Mary Corder. Unfortunately, a large number of these researchers appear to have confused the John Stone who was married to Mildrudge “Milly” Corder and was the son of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish, with the John Stone who was the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, and was the grandson of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish. In addition, Surry County had not yet been formed when Corder Stone is believed to have been born.⁷ As such, he was most likely born in Granville County, North Carolina, where the family was residing prior to 1770.^{25,27}

Existing documents prove, however, that the John Stone who was married to Mildrudge “Milly” Corder did not move to North Carolina, but instead moved from Virginia to South Carolina.⁸ Therefore the only John Stone who was in North Carolina that was most likely the father of Corder and Thomas Stone, was the John Stone who was the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway.

Although this John Stone is known to have been married to a woman named Bethsey Curry when the 1790 census of Surry County was enumerated, the fact that two unidentified older males were residing in the household at the time the census was taken does suggest that John may have had two sons from a previous marriage.³⁵ Because these two males definitely appear to be too old to be children of John and Bethsey (Curry) Stone, it is my belief that these two older males are Corder Stone and Thomas Stone, who appear to have been born in North Carolina in about 1769 and 1771, respectively.^{35,133,134}

Even though I feel fairly confident that John Stone was married twice, I have not personally found any evidence to confirm that his first wife was named Mary Corder as some researchers claim. It is definitely a possibility, but I simply do not know for sure at this time. I do know, however, that DNA testing of a descendant of the Thomas Stone who was born in about 1771 appears to match up well with other descendants of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish.⁸ In light of the above, I have opted to include Corder Stone and Thomas Stone as being children of John Stone from a prior marriage. Sometime after his first wife passed away, John married in Surry County, North Carolina for a second time to a woman named Bethsey Curry.⁸ Bethsey was the daughter of Malcolm Curry.³⁶

On 10 November 1778, John Stone obtained a 200 acre North Carolina land grant on Crooked Run Creek in that portion of Surry County, North Carolina that was later formed into Stokes County, North Carolina in 1789.¹³⁵ Sometime prior to 1793, however, John and his family apparently moved into Randolph County, North Carolina, where John subsequently received another state land grant of 200 acres on Tom's Creek.¹³⁶ For some reason John Stone apparently moved back to his Crooked Run Creek property in 1797 as he re-recorded that property, which was now situated within Stokes County, North Carolina, on 2 December 1797.¹³⁵ John eventually sold his Randolph County grant to a man named Revil Stafford on 20 May 1800.¹³⁷

John Stone later obtained a 200 acre state land grant along the Little Yadkin River in Stokes County on 29 August 1808.¹³⁸ He subsequently sold ninety-seven acres of that property, however, to a man named Stephen Scott on 7 August 1817.¹³⁹ John obtained another grant on 18 December 1818 for forty acres of land adjoining the remainder of his property.¹⁴⁰ Even though John and Bethsey are both believed to have died in Stokes County, North Carolina, the actual dates of their deaths have not been determined.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. The 1790 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows 3 males over 16 years of age, 1 male under 16 and 3 females. At the present time the relationship of two of the males over sixteen years of age in this census is not known for absolute sure, however I am currently of the opinion that they are very likely the two individuals named Corder Stone and Thomas Stone who were born in North Carolina in about 1769 and 1771, respectively. If these are the two males shown on the 1790 census as having been born before 1774, then it would definitely appear that John Stone must have been married twice, with Bethsey Curry being his second wife.

Those individuals who are listed in the 1790 census who are definitely believed to be John and Bethsey's children are the one male under sixteen years of age (William), and two of the females. These female children have yet to be identified, however. Unfortunately, because subsequent censuses reflect conflicting information regarding numbers of children, additional research is needed regarding this family to identify all of John and Bethsey's children. The exact order of birth of those children from John's second marriage is not known.

14. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, is believed to have been born in about 1751/1752 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ Based upon the approximate ages of William's children, it appears that William may have been married twice during his life. Unfortunately, neither the identity of his first wife, nor a possible second wife, have been determined. Although some researchers believe that he was married to a woman named Rhoda Pryor, I personally have not been able to verify this.

William Stone died in Surry County, North Carolina in 1821. ³⁷ His will, which had been written on 23 March 1819, was subsequently probated in Surry County in 1821. ³⁷ Because no wife was mentioned in his will, it is believed that she must have died prior to 1819. ³⁷ Although the children listed below were all named in William Stone's will, their exact order of birth is not known.

15. Ezekiel Stone.

Ezekiel Stone, the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, was born in Prince William County, Virginia on 24 November 1756. ³⁸ He was later married in about 1779 in North Carolina to a woman named Jane Wood. ^{39,40} Jane is said to have been born in Halifax County, North Carolina on 29 March 1761. ^{39,40}

During the Revolutionary War, Ezekiel served for short periods of time in various military units.^{38,39} He served as a Private in both Captain Richard Good's Company and Captain William Bostic's Company of Major Joseph Winston's North Carolina Regiment, as well as in Captain David Humphrey's Company of Colonel Francis Lock's Regiment.^{38,39} Ezekiel also served as an Orderly Sergeant in Captain William Dobson's Company in Colonel Joseph Williams' Regiment.^{38,39}

During the latter part of 1785, or early 1786, Ezekiel Stone and his family moved into the Old Ninety-Six District of South Carolina, where Ezekiel obtained a land grant for 524 acres of property on 3 April 1786.^{8,38,39} By about 1795, however, they had moved to Sevier County, Tennessee, where they resided for approximately twenty years.^{38,39} Although they later moved to Bledsoe County, Tennessee for a time, they eventually settled in Marion County, Tennessee.^{38,39} Ezekiel, aged 94, was last found on the 1850 census of Marion County living with his youngest son, Richard Stone.¹⁵⁸

Jane is believed to have died in about 1837 in Marion County, Tennessee, while Ezekiel died there on 15 September 1855, or shortly thereafter, just two months shy of his ninety-ninth birthday.^{39,40} Ezekiel Stone had been a Baptist Minister and farmer throughout his life.^{8,39,158}

16. Enoch Stone.

Enoch Stone, the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, is believed to have been born in about 1759 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ He was later married in about 1780 in North Carolina to a woman named Nancy Anthony. ⁸ Nancy, was the daughter of John and Ursula Anthony. ¹⁶⁸

Although Enoch is known to have been a veteran of the Revolutionary War, in what capacity he served has not been determined. ¹⁶⁹ Enoch appears to have died in 1823 in Surry County, North Carolina. ⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Enoch and Nancy's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1790 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 1 over 16, 3 under 16 - females 2. The 1800 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 23110 - females 20010. The 1810 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 11201 - 11102. Although census records indicate that Enoch and Nancy had approximately ten children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of those children listed below is not known.

17. Conway Stone.

Conway Stone, the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, was born in Granville County, North Carolina on 16 July 1761. ^{41,177} He was later married in about 1781 in Surry County North, Carolina to a woman named Elizabeth Galaglee. ⁴¹

During the Revolutionary War, Conway Stone served as a Private in Captain David Humphrey's Company of Colonel Charles McDowell's North Carolina Regiment. ⁴¹ Shortly after the Revolutionary War ended, Conway and his wife moved to Randolph County, North Carolina, where he shows up on the 1790 census. ⁴¹ In about 1809, however, the family moved west into Blount County, Tennessee, where they resided for about twenty years. ⁴¹ From there they moved to Monroe County, Tennessee, where they resided for the remainder of their lives. ⁴¹

Conway Stone died on 25 November 1834 in Monroe County, Tennessee, while Elizabeth died there on 10 July 1842. ⁴¹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. This is also believed to be one of Conway and Elizabeth's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1790 census of Randolph County, North Carolina shows males 1 over 16, 2 under 16 - females 4. The 1800 census of Randolph County, North Carolina shows males 3301 - females 2201. Unfortunately, the 1800 census of Randolph County, North Carolina does not match up well with the 1790 census. As such, the actual number of children born to Conway and Elizabeth is in question. The exact order of birth of some of the below listed children is not known.

18. Hannah Stone.

Hannah Stone, the daughter of William Stone and his wife, Hannah Conway, was born in Granville County, North Carolina on 6 August 1764.⁴² She was subsequently married in Surry County, North Carolina during the month of May 1783 to a man named Daniel Barrow.⁴² Daniel, who had been born on 8 December 1757 in Brunswick County, Virginia, was the son of William Barrow and Amy Lee.⁴²

During the Revolutionary War, Daniel served as a Private under Captain Williamson in the Virginia Militia, but later, after moving to North Carolina, he served in Colonel James Hogan's North Carolina Regiment.⁴² Daniel later fought in the Battle of Guilford Court House on 15 March 1781.⁴² Although Daniel and Hannah moved to Wayne County, Kentucky several years after the Revolutionary War was over, they eventually moved north into Illinois, where they settled in Jackson County.⁴²

Hannah died in Jackson County, Illinois on 19 August 1834, while Daniel died there three years later on 8 November 1837.⁴² Both were buried in the Barrow Cemetery near Campbell Hill in Jackson County.⁴² The children listed below, as well as their birth dates, and the birth and death dates for Daniel Barrow and Hannah Stone, were obtained from a transcription of the Daniel Barrow's Family Record, which was compiled by Andrew Jackson Barrow and entered into the record book of the Unity Church at Campbell Hill in Jackson County, Illinois in 1910.⁴²

19. John Stone.

John Stone, the son of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, is believed to have been born in about 1749/1750 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ Although John had been named in his father's will, which was dated 25 January 1797, his father subsequently modified this will on 9 March 1799, crossing out John's name wherever it was written and replacing it with the name of another son, Lewis. ¹⁰ Whether John was deceased by 1799, moved away, or simply fell out of favor, is not known. No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

20. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, is believed to have been born in about 1752/1753 in Prince William County, Virginia.⁸ At the present time it is not known whether William married in Virginia, or whether he married in South Carolina after moving there with his parents and other siblings. Unfortunately, his wife's name has not been determined either.⁸

Although William Stone was a veteran of the Revolutionary War, very little is known regarding his service. One document that was discovered, however, was a payroll record for the period 1 November 1779 to 1 December 1779.⁸ This document indicated that William Stone had served during the latter part of 1779 as a Corporal in Captain Hext's Company of Light Infantry.⁸ Captain Hext's Company was part of South Carolina's 1st Regiment, and was under the command of Colonel Charles Pinckney.⁸ William's younger brother, Reuben Stone, also served in the same Regiment.⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are all believed to be William's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1790 census of Laurens County, South Carolina shows males 1 over 16, 5 under 16 - females 3. The 1800 census of Laurens County, South Carolina shows males 11010 - females 21110. Although census records indicate that William had approximately ten children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

21. Reuben Stone.

Reuben Stone, the son of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, was born in 1755 in Prince William County, Virginia. ⁸ Although his Revolutionary War pension application says Fauquier County, Virginia, Fauquier County was not formed until 1759. ^{7,48} As a young man, Reuben moved with his family from Virginia to South Carolina. ⁴⁸ Reuben was later married in about 1777/1778, probably in Ninety-Six District, South Carolina, to a woman named Priscilla Fowler. ⁸

During the Revolutionary War, Reuben Stone served as a Private in South Carolina's 1st Regiment. ⁴⁸ Reuben's older brother, William, served in the same Regiment. ⁸ According to Reuben Stone's Revolutionary War pension application, Reuben and his family moved from South Carolina to the newly formed Madison County, Alabama in 1808. ⁴⁸ When the first land sale was held in Madison County on 9 August 1809, Reuben was the eighteenth person to purchase land there. ²⁰⁰ Reuben subsequently died in Madison County, Alabama on 9 February 1849. ⁴⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Reuben and Priscilla's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1790 census of Laurens County, South Carolina shows males 1 over 16, 3 under 16 - females 2. The 1800 census of Laurens County, South Carolina shows males 12110 - females 21010. Nancy Stone, the daughter of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, is believed to have been born in about 1761/1762 in Fauquier County, Virginia. ⁸ As a young girl, Nancy moved with her parents and other siblings to South Carolina. ⁸ Nancy, who appears to have remained single throughout her life, is believed to have died without issue, probably in Laurens County, South Carolina.

24. Lewis Stone.

Lewis Stone, the son of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, is believed to have been born in about 1765 in Fauquier County, Virginia.⁸ As a young boy, Lewis moved with his parents and other siblings to South Carolina.⁸ He was later married in South Carolina to a woman named Mary.⁸ Unfortunately, Mary's maiden name has not been determined.⁸

Sometime after 1810, Lewis and his family moved to Spartanburg County, South Carolina, where they are found on the 1820 census residing at Spartanburg.²¹⁸ Lewis subsequently died in Spartanburg County in 1832.⁸

The 1820 census of Spartanburg County, South Carolina shows males 000101 - females 10101. Even though the 1790 through 1820 census enumerations do not match up well, it is believed that Lewis and Mary had approximately three children, this number could vary, however. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

25. Elias Stone.

Elias Stone, the son of John Stone and Mildrudge Corder, is believed to have been born in about 1768 in Fauquier County, Virginia.⁸ As a young boy, Elias moved with his parents and other siblings to South Carolina.⁸ He was later married in about 1788/1789 in South Carolina to a woman named Elizabeth Fowler.⁸ Elias was a Methodist Minister and farmer by trade.⁴⁹

Elias and Elizabeth sold their South Carolina property in separate parcels between 1810 and 1814, and subsequently moved north into the Indiana Territory, where they filed a land claim on 25 November 1814.^{8,219} Upon arriving in the Indiana Territory, Elias and his family settled in that portion of Knox County that was later formed into Daviess County, Indiana in 1817.^{7,219}

According to family tradition, in 1823, or early 1824, Elias and his older sons traveled to New Orleans to market goods.⁴⁹ Even though his sons returned to Indiana, Elias instead purchased a horse and headed to Alabama to visit his brother, Reuben Stone, in Madison County.⁴⁹ Along the way, Elias apparently came down with malaria and was taken in by a family in Lauderdale County, Alabama.⁴⁹ Elias, unfortunately, did not recover and died in 1824 in Lauderdale County, Alabama.⁴⁹

Although Elias did not leave a will, an inventory and appraisal of his personal belongings at the time of his death were submitted to the Lauderdale County, Alabama Court on 15 May 1824.²²⁰ Elias Stone's estate in Indiana was subsequently probated in Daviess County on 9 February 1827, with his son, Henry Stone, being appointed as Administrator.²²¹

NOTE: The 1800 census of Laurens County, South Carolina shows males 2001 - females 0101. The 1810 census enumeration of Spartanburg County, South Carolina shows males 2111 - females 2101.

GENERATION FOUR

NOTE: The families of all the known great-grandchildren of Thomas Stone of Hamilton Parish in Prince William County, Virginia are covered in this generation.

26. Nimrod H. Stone.

Nimrod Stone, the son of Thomas Stone and his first wife, Elizabeth Jackman, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia on 1 October 1764.⁵⁶ On 28 April 1781, at the age of sixteen, Nimrod enlisted in the military for a six month term to fight in the Revolutionary War.⁵⁶ Upon enlisting, Nimrod served as a Private in a Light Horse Company under Captain William Triplett.⁵⁶ This Company was originally a part of the Virginia Regiment that was commanded by Col. Francis Triplett, but was later placed under the command of Col. Nathaniel Gist.⁵⁶ After the War, Nimrod returned to Fauquier County, Virginia, where he was married by a marriage bond dated 18 December 1786 to a woman named Sarah Russell.^{16,229}

In 1787, just a few months after their marriage, Nimrod and Sarah moved with other family members to Kentucky, where they eventually settled in Mercer County.⁵⁶ Nimrod and his family subsequently moved to Green County, Kentucky in 1812.⁵⁶ However, they later moved north into Indiana in 1819, where they are found on the 1820 census residing in Delaware County (they actually settled in Morgan County, Indiana as Delaware County was not formed until 1827).^{7,56,230} In 1823, Nimrod moved to Vermillion County, Indiana.⁵⁶

Nimrod's wife, Sarah, appears to have died in Indiana in about 1823/1824, as Nimrod is known to have been married for a second time on 22 September 1825 to a woman named Abigail Brown in Vermillion County, Indiana.⁵⁷ Although Nimrod was not found on the 1830 census of Vermillion County, Indiana, it is assumed that he was residing there, as it was in Vermillion County that he later applied for a Revolutionary War Pension on 6 September 1833.⁵⁶ According to the 1840 census of Indiana, however, Nimrod was residing at Madison in Putnam County with the family of Thomas Carleton and Rachel Thomas (Stone) Duckworth.²³¹ Nimrod was listed as being 75 years of age and a Revolutionary War Pensioner.²³¹ (NOTE: Rachel Thomas Stone was the daughter of Nimrod's first cousin, Enoch Stone). According to the "Roster of Soldiers and Patriots of the American Revolution Buried in Indiana," Nimrod Stone died in 1841 at Landersdale in Morgan County, Indiana.⁵⁸ No issue are known from Nimrod's second marriage.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Nimrod and Sarah's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Delaware County, Indiana shows males 020001 - females 021010. Although census and other records suggest that Nimrod and Sarah may have had as many as nine children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

27. Parazade Stone.

Parazade Stone, the daughter of Thomas Stone and his first wife, Elizabeth Jackman, was born sometime between 1765 and 1770 in Fauquier County, Virginia.^{56,59} She was later married on 18 February 1788 in Fauquier County to a man named Bayles Corder.⁶⁰ Bayles, who is believed to have also been born in Fauquier County, Virginia, was the son of John and Gracy Corder.²³⁵

After their marriage, Bayles and Parazade moved to Kentucky, where they may have resided for a time in Lincoln County, prior to settling on a farm on the North Fork of Pitman Creek in Green County.²³⁶ Bayles was later found on the 1800 substitute census - tax lists for Green County, Kentucky.²³⁷ Bayles and Parazade eventually sold their property in Green County, Kentucky, which consisted of approximately 115 acres, to a man named James Murray on 1 December 1804 for one hundred pounds.²³⁶

Sometime after selling their land in Greene County, Kentucky, Bayles and Parazade Corder left Kentucky and moved to Louisiana, where they had settled by 1810 on a farm which was situated approximately 20 miles north of Fort Baton Rouge on the west side of the Mississippi River.²³⁸ Bayles appears to have died intestate in Saint Helena Parish, Louisiana in 1822.²³⁹ Although Bayles Corder does not appear to have left a will, an inventory of his estate was undertaken on 8 August 1822.²³⁹

After Bayles passed away, Parazade apparently moved in with her daughter, Elizabeth (Corder) Krumholdtz, in East Baton Rouge Parish, Louisiana.⁵⁴ According to the Parish Judges Books for the Parish of East Baton Rouge, on 26 October 1844, Parazade, who had apparently been "in a destitute and helpless condition" during the past six years, transferred her one sixth interest in her father's estate over to her daughter, Elizabeth, for taking care of her during this period.⁵⁴ Parazade apparently died shortly after this, as she does not show up on the 1850 census.⁶¹

According to the Succession Records for Saint Helena Parish, East Baton Rouge, Louisiana, which were dated 28 September 1822, the surviving heirs of Bayles Corder were named.²³⁹ Although these surviving heirs are listed below, their exact order of birth is not known at this time.

28. Elisha Stone.

Elisha Stone, the son of Thomas Stone and his first wife, Elizabeth Jackman, was born sometime between 1766 and 1784 in Fauquier County, Virginia. ⁵⁵ He was later married to a woman named Sarah "Sally" Jennings on 6 March 1797 in Mercer County, Kentucky. ⁶² (NOTE: The Historical Records of Old Crab Orchard by Lucy McGhee erroneously show Elisha as "Elijah Stone," and marrying in 1798). ²⁴⁷

Elisha subsequently died in Mercer County, Kentucky in 1829. ⁶³ His will, which had been written on 6 June 1829, was later probated during the September 1829 session of the Mercer County Court. ⁶³ Because Elisha's wife, Sarah, was not mentioned in his will, it is believed that she probably passed away prior to when Elisha wrote his will. ⁶³ Although Sarah is believed to have also died in Mercer County, Kentucky, the actual date of her death has not been determined.

Even though the below listed children were all named in Elisha's will, their actual order of birth is not known. (NOTE: the 1810 census lists three males and four females born before 1810, while Elisha's will only names one son who may have been born before 1810. As such, either two sons died young, or the census was in error).

29. (unknown) Stone.

Thomas Stone and his first wife, Elizabeth Jackman, are believed to have had five children, all of whom were born in Fauquier County, Virginia. ⁵⁴ Unfortunately, the identity of at least one of these children has yet to be determined.

30. Bailess Stone.

Bailess Stone (also written Balis, Bayles and Bailes Stone, etc.), believed to be the son of Thomas Stone and his first wife, Elizabeth Jackman, was calculated to have been born in Fauquier County, Virginia in 1781.⁶⁴ Bailess was later married in Washington County, Kentucky on 16 February 1808 to a woman named Anne Handley (marriage record gives name as Hundley).⁶² Anne, who was calculated to have been born in Virginia in 1784, was the daughter of James and Mary Handley.^{64,252}

Although Bailess and Anne resided for a time in both Greene County and Washington County, Kentucky after their marriage, sometime prior to 1829 they moved to Missouri, where they settled on a farm in Union Township in Lincoln County.^{64,253,254,255} Bailess and Anne were last found on the 1850 census of Lincoln County, Missouri.⁶⁴ Even though Bailess and Anne are both believed to have died in Lincoln County, Missouri, their actual dates of death have not been determined.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Bailess and Anne's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1810 census of Greene County, Kentucky shows males 1001 - females 1010. The 1820 census of Washington County, Kentucky shows males 21111 - females 4011. The 1830 census of Lincoln County, Missouri shows males 1230001 - females 1002001. The 1840 census of Lincoln County, Missouri shows males 1110001 - females 0000101. Although census records indicate that Bailess and Anne had approximately twelve children, this number could vary. The two youngest males on the 1840 census are believed to be grandsons of Bailess and Anne. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

31. (female) Stone.

Thomas Stone and his second wife, the widow Ann Bennett, are believed to have had one daughter who was born between 1794 and 1800 in Mercer County, Kentucky. ⁵⁵ Unfortunately, the identity of this child has not been determined.

32. Hannah Stone.

Hannah Stone, believed to be the eldest daughter of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia. ⁶⁸ She was later married in about 1786, possibly in Hampshire County, Virginia (now within West Virginia), to a man named John C. Williamson. ^{69,70,258} John, who had been born on 7 May 1764 in New Jersey, was the son of William and Elizabeth Williamson. ^{70,258} He was also the brother of the Cornelius Williamson who married Hannah's sister, Rhoda Stone. ^{70,258}

Hannah, who appears to have died in Hampshire County, Virginia (now within West Virginia), was the mother of one known child by John Williamson, a son named John W. Williamson who had been born on 11 July 1787 in Hampshire County, Virginia (now within West Virginia). ^{70,258} After Hannah passed away, John married in about 1793 for a second time to a woman named Elizabeth Lavelly. ^{70,258}

John and Elizabeth eventually moved north into Ohio, where they settled in Montgomery County. Elizabeth died on 15 January 1845 in Montgomery County, Ohio, while John died there on 19 February 1854. ^{70,259} Both were subsequently buried in the Phillipsburg Cemetery at Phillipsburg in Montgomery County, Ohio. ²⁵⁹

33. Rhoda Stone.

Rhoda Stone, the daughter of Benjamin Stone and his wife, Anna Asbury, was born in 1769 in Fauquier County, Virginia.^{68,71} She was later married in about 1786 in Hampshire County, Virginia (now within West Virginia), to a man named Cornelius Williamson.^{71,72} Cornelius, who had been born in about 1768, was the son of William and Elizabeth Williamson.⁷⁰ He was also the brother of the John C. Williamson who married Rhoda's sister, Hannah Stone.⁷⁰

On 1 August 1792, Cornelius and Rhoda purchased 152 and ½ acres of farm land in Hampshire County, Virginia from Rhoda's father, Benjamin Allen.²⁶⁰ They later sold this property on 10 September 1794.²⁶⁰ Shortly after selling their farm in Virginia, Cornelius and his family apparently moved north into Pennsylvania, where they were found on the 1800 census enumeration residing in George's Township in Fayette County.²⁶¹ The family eventually moved west into Ohio, however, where they settled in Clermont County.²⁶²

Although it is believed that Cornelius Williamson died in Clermont County, Ohio, the actual date of his death has not been determined. Rhoda, on the other hand, died in Clermont County on 30 June 1845, and was subsequently buried in the Tealtown Cemetery at Perintown, Ohio.⁷¹

NOTE: This family requires more research. Nearly every potential source shows this couple being born in about 1772 (+ or -) and married in about 1789/1790, yet the 1800 census shows them having two children born between 1785 and 1790. Also, it appears that most sites show this couple having a son named Benjamin who was born in about 1800 in Connecticut. Why would a couple have five children in Virginia and western Pennsylvania, then travel hundreds of miles back east to a state they never lived in to have a child, then race back to western Pennsylvania to be listed on the 1800 census, and have more children there? It simply does not make sense. There was a Benjamin Williamson on the 1850 census of Marion County, Indiana who may be a son of Cornelius and Rhoda, but he was born in Pennsylvania in about 1800.

35. Elijah Craig Stone.

Elijah Craig Stone, the son of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia on 30 July 1775.^{74,75} Elijah Stone was apparently married twice during his lifetime. He married first to a woman named Miriam Gasaway in about 1793 in Virginia.⁷⁵

Shortly after Elijah and Miriam were married, they apparently moved with other family members to Pennsylvania where they are found on the 1800 census enumeration residing in George's Township in Fayette County.^{79,261} After residing in Pennsylvania for several years, however, they moved west into Ohio, where they resided for the remainder of their lives. Elijah's first wife is believed to have died in Harrison County, Ohio shortly after the 1820 census enumerated.⁷⁵

After his first wife passed away, Elijah married for a second time to a woman named Mary Suddith on 12 December 1822 in Harrison County, Ohio.^{75,76} Mary, who had been born in Virginia in 1794, was the daughter of Isaac Suddith (also written sudduth) and Agnes Williams.²⁷¹

In 1823, the Baptist congregation in and around the community of Unionport in Wayne Township in Jefferson County, Ohio established their own church which they called the Pine Run Baptist Church, and Elijah, who was a Baptist Minister and cooper by trade, preached the first sermon there.²⁷² Elijah died on 13 October 1859 at Bloomfield in Jefferson County, Ohio, and was subsequently buried in the Pine Run Baptist Church Cemetery in Jefferson County.⁷⁵ Mary, on the other hand, was last found on the 1880 federal census of Ohio residing with her son, Isaac Sudduth Stone, and his family at Canton in Stark County.²⁷³ Mary, who survived Elijah by approximately thirty years, died at Canton in Stark County, Ohio on 17 May 1889, and was buried in the West Lawn Cemetery there.²⁷¹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. This is also believed to be one of Elijah and Mary's daughters, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1800 census of Fayette County, Pennsylvania shows males 1001 - females 2001. The 1820 census of Harrison County, Ohio shows males 001101 - females 01101. The 1830 census of Harrison County, Ohio shows males 11000001 - females 210001. The 1840 census of Jefferson County, Ohio shows males 111100001 - females 00111. No wife was shown on the 1840 census. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

36. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia on 11 April 1777. ⁷⁷ He was later married in Virginia to a woman named Margaret Gustin. ⁷³ Margaret, who was also a native of Virginia, was calculated to have been born there in 1785. ^{281,282}

Although William and Margaret apparently remained in Virginia for a number of years after their marriage, they eventually moved to Pennsylvania, where they are found on both the 1820 and 1830 census enumerations residing in Allegheny County. ^{283,284} Although I have not been able to find this family on the 1840 census, sometime prior to when the 1850 census was taken William and Margaret had moved west into Columbiana County, Ohio, where they settled in Perry Township. ²⁸¹ William Stone subsequently died in Columbiana County, Ohio on 11 August 1852, while Margaret died there on 12 June 1862 at 77 years of age. ^{77,282}

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be William and Margaret's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania shows males 41001 - females 22111. The 1830 census of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania shows males 01120001 - females 2110001. Although census records indicate that William and Margaret may have had as many as fourteen children, this number could vary. Unfortunately, the 1820 census does not match well with the 1830 census. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

38. Jeremiah Asbury Stone.

Jeremiah Stone, the son of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia on 23 June 1781. ^{78,79} Jeremiah Stone's date of birth was also provided in a letter written by his nephew, William Spencer Stone, on 12 April 1900 to Mary Anne Stone. ⁷⁹ He was later married on 2 May 1805 in Fayette County, Pennsylvania to a woman named Hannah Reed. ^{78,289}

Although Jeremiah and Hannah remained in Pennsylvania for a number of years after their marriage, they eventually moved to Ohio, where they settled first in Harrison County, but later moved to Coshocton County. ^{276,290,291} Because Hannah was not shown with Jeremiah on the 1850 census of Coshocton County, Ohio, it is believed that she probably died prior to that census being taken. ²⁹¹ Jeremiah, who was a carpenter and cooper by trade, died on 29 August 1853 at Keene in Coshocton County, Ohio, and was subsequently buried in the Keene Old Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Coshocton County, Ohio. ^{78,291} It is believed that Hannah was probably buried there also.

39. Benjamin Stone.

Benjamin Stone, the son of Benjamin Stone and his wife, Anna Asbury, was born in Virginia on 11 November 1783. ⁸⁰ He was later married on 22 December 1804 in Greene County, Pennsylvania to a woman named Sarah Larue. ⁸⁰ Sarah, who had been born in Hunterdon County, New Jersey on 8 October 1785, was the daughter of Abraham Larue and Abigail Rittenhouse. ⁸⁰

Shortly after their marriage, Benjamin and Sarah moved to Butler County, Ohio, where six of their children were born, but later moved to Dearborn County, Indiana. Benjamin Stone, who was a Baptist Minister and veteran of the War of 1812, died in Dearborn County, Indiana on 5 March 1833.⁸⁰ Sarah was subsequently found on the 1840 census of Dearborn County, Indiana, along with her five youngest children.²⁹⁶ She was last found in the census records residing with her daughter, Sarah Jane, in 1870 at Cass in Ohio County, Indiana.⁸¹ Sarah, who survived Benjamin by nearly 38 years, died in Ohio County, Indiana on 24 February 1871.⁸⁰ Benjamin and Sarah were both buried in the Mount Carmel Cemetery at Aberdeen in Ohio County, Indiana.⁸⁰ (NOTE: Ohio County had been formed from a part of Dearborn County, Indiana in 1844).⁷

 No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

41. Eleanor "Nellie" Stone.

Eleanor Stone, the daughter of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Virginia in 1789.⁷⁸ Eleanor, who was generally referred to in various documents as "Nellie," was later married in Pennsylvania to a man named Thomas Reed.⁷³ Thomas, who was a native of Pennsylvania, was calculated to have been born there in 1776.²⁹¹ He was the son of Thomas Reed.³⁰⁶

Although Thomas and Nellie remained in Pennsylvania for a number of years after their marriage, in about 1808 they moved to Jefferson County, Ohio.³⁰⁶ In 1833, however, they moved to Coshocton County, Ohio, where they settled on a farm in Clark Township.³⁰⁶ Thomas Reed died in Coshocton County, Ohio on 20 January 1855, while Nellie died there on 12 May 1866.⁷⁸ Both were subsequently buried in the Keene Old Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Coshocton County.⁷⁸ Thomas and Nellie are said to have had ten children, two of whom apparently died young.³⁰⁶ The exact order of birth of the unidentified children is not known.

42. Rebecca Stone.

Rebecca Stone, the daughter of Benjamin Stone and Anna Asbury, was born in Virginia sometime during the period 1780-1790. ⁸² She was later married in 1806 in Pennsylvania to a man named Joseph Hughes (also written Hughs). ⁷³ Joseph, who was a native of Pennsylvania, was calculated to have been born there in 1783. ³⁰⁷

Sometime after their marriage, Joseph and Rebecca apparently moved into the state of Ohio, where they settled on a farm near Monroe in Guernsey County. ³⁰⁹ Rebecca later died in Guernsey County, Ohio on 21 July 1842, and was subsequently buried in the Birmingham Cemetery there. ⁸³ After Rebecca passed away, Joseph married for a second time to a woman named Lucinda Burr on 11 January 1844 in Belmont County, Ohio. ⁷⁶ Joseph died in Guernsey County, Ohio on 18 January 1858, and was buried in the Clearfork Cemetery there. ³⁰⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Joseph and Rebecca's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Guernsey County, Ohio shows males 20001 - females 2101. The 1830 census of Guernsey County, Ohio shows males 1010001 - females 0110001. Unfortunately, the 1840 census of Guernsey County, Ohio does not match well with other census records, and for some unknown reason Joseph was not enumerated. Although census records indicate that Joseph and Rebecca had approximately eight children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

51. John Thomas Stone.

John Thomas Stone, the eldest son of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born in Culpeper County, Virginia on 24 March 1779.⁹⁹ He was later married in Mercer County, Kentucky on 12 October 1799 to a woman named Sarah "Sally" Gaines.¹⁰⁰ Sally, who had been born on 12 March 1782 in Kentucky, was the daughter of William Nathaniel Gaines (also written Gains) and Ann Strother.^{287,314,315}

Shortly after their marriage, John and Sally settled on a farm in Lincoln County, Kentucky, where they appear to have resided for the remainder of their lives. John died in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 11 February 1859, and was subsequently buried in the Horton Graveyard in Lincoln County.^{99,101} His will, which was dated 26 May 1857, was later probated before the Lincoln County Court on 7 February 1859.³¹⁶ With the exception of Strother Smith Stone and the unidentified male Stone, all of the below listed children were mentioned in John's will.³¹⁶ Sally died on 16 June 1861 in Boyle County, Kentucky.^{287,314} The 1860 census of Boyle County, Kentucky indicates she was probably residing with her daughter, Sarah (Stone) Boling, when she died.³¹⁷

NOTE: In John's will, he specifically mentions having a grandson named John W. Stone. Because the grandchildren of John Thomas Stone, Sr. have been fairly well documented, there appears to be only two possibilities which might account for John W. Stone. One being that he was the son of the (male) child that is listed below, and two, that he was the first child of John Thomas Stone, Jr. and Mary Baughman and died prior to 1860. At the present time, however, little weight is given to the first possibility, and I know of no way at this time to verify the second possibility. As a consequence, no additional information will be presented regarding John W. Stone.

52. Nancy "Sally" Stone.

Nancy "Sally" Stone, the daughter of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born on 1 January 1782 in Lincoln County, Kentucky. ¹⁰² She was subsequently married in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 6 June 1803 to a man named Isaac Newton Montgomery. ^{99,103} Isaac, who had been born on 5 February 1781, was the son of Robert and Esther Montgomery. ^{102,103}

Some time after their marriage, Nancy and Isaac moved to Garrard County, Kentucky, where they were found on the 1810 census residing at Lancaster.³²⁹ By the time the 1820 census was enumerated, however, they had moved into Mercer County, Kentucky.³³⁰ Isaac Montgomery later died on 20 October 1840 in that portion of Mercer County that was later formed into Boyle County, Kentucky in 1842.^{7,102} Nancy, on the other hand, died in Boyle County on 3 January 1846.¹⁰² Both Isaac and Nancy were buried in the Old Union Cemetery at Danville in Boyle County, Kentucky.¹⁰²

53. Mary "Polly" Stone.

Mary "Polly" Stone, the daughter of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born in 1783 in Lincoln County, Kentucky. ^{104,105} Mary is known to have been married twice during her life. She married her first husband, Henry Mounce (also written Mounts), on 20 May 1802 in Lincoln County. ¹⁰⁶ Henry, who is believed to have been born in about 1775, was the son of John Matthias Mounce and Mary Smith. ³³⁷ He appears to have died in about 1808 in Kentucky as Mary is known to have married for a second time in 1809. ¹⁰⁷

After her first husband passed away, Mary married for a second time to a man named Alexander Collier on 27 September 1809 in Garrard County, Kentucky.¹⁰⁷ Alexander, who is believed to have been born in Kentucky in about 1782, was the son of Alexander and Sarah Collier.³³⁸ He subsequently died in Garrard County, Kentucky in 1833 during a severe cholera epidemic.³³⁸ Mary, who survived Alexander by approximately twenty-five years, died in Garrard County on 19 September 1858.^{104,105} Both Mary and Alexander were subsequently buried in the Robert Collier Cemetery in Garrard County, Kentucky.¹⁰⁵

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be Alexander and Mary's children, but have not been positively identified as yet. The 1830 census of Garrard County, Kentucky shows males 1020001 - females 1101001. The 1840 census of Garrard County, Kentucky shows males 1 - females 11001001. Aside from Mary, those individuals enumerated on the 1840 census are believed to be Mariah and her three children. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

54. Thomas Allen Stone.

Thomas Stone, the son of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 26 February 1785. ¹⁰⁸ He was later married in Garrard County, Kentucky by a marriage bond dated 16 June 1806 to a woman named Dorcas Montgomery. ¹⁰⁹ Dorcas, who had been born on 15 October 1789 in Lincoln County, Kentucky, was the daughter of Samuel Montgomery, Sr. and Mary "Polly" McFarland. ^{345,346}

Thomas and Dorcas were subsequently found on the 1810 census of Lincoln County, Kentucky residing at Lincoln. ³³⁹ In about 1811, however, Thomas and his family left Kentucky and moved to the Indiana Territory, eventually settling in what is today Gibson County, Indiana. ³⁴⁷ Thomas later served as the sheriff of Gibson County, Indiana for a number of years. ^{108,347} Thomas Stone, who died on 11 August 1822 at Owensville in Gibson County, Indiana, was subsequently buried in the William Benson Cemetery located about two miles south of Owensville, Indiana. ¹⁰⁸ Dorcas, on the other hand, died at Petersburg in Menard County, Illinois on 18 May 1861, and was buried in the Irish Grove Cemetery at Middletown, Illinois. ³⁴⁶

56. Elias Barbee Stone. *

Elias Barbee Stone, the sixth of nine children born to Spencer Stone and Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born on 20 February 1790 in Lincoln County, Kentucky. ^{21,110} He was later married to a woman named Catherine Houston Lindsey. ²¹ Catherine was the daughter of John Valentine Lindsey and Anna Christy. ²¹ Although no record of their marriage has ever been found, it is believed to have taken place in about 1812/1813 in Scott County, Kentucky. ²¹ Catherine, who was also a native of Kentucky, had been born in Scott County on 17 September 1795. ^{21,110}

After their marriage, Elias and Catherine appear to have remained in Scott County until about 1818, at which time they moved to Lincoln County.²¹ Elias, who was a farmer and miller by trade, settled on a small farm in Lincoln County that was situated on Hanging Fork Creek, a branch of the Dix River.²¹ In about 1821, however, Elias and his family moved north into Indiana, settling first in Fayette County, and then later in Wabash County.^{21,367}

While residing in Fayette County, Elias Stone organized the "Church of Christ" Meeting on Sanes Creek.³⁶⁸ The first meeting was held on 4 July 1829, but it was not until 1831 that a building was constructed on ground that he had given for that purpose.³⁶⁸ This church, which was later called the "Orange Christian Church," is the oldest Christian Church in the state of Indiana.³⁶⁸

On 29 October 1834, Elias Stone obtained a tract of land in Liberty Township in Wabash County, Indiana which he subsequently turned over to his son, John Lindsey Stone.³⁶⁷ Although Elias helped his son clear 27 acres of this tract, he and Catherine later returned to Fayette County, where they were found on both the 1840 and 1850 census enumerations residing in Orange Township.^{367,369,370} Sometime after the 1850 census of Fayette County, Indiana was taken, Elias and Catherine moved to Wabash County, Indiana where they are found on the 1860 federal census residing in Noble Township.^{370,371}

Elias Barbee Stone died on 27 July 1870 in Wabash County, Indiana.^{21,110} Catherine, on the other hand, died at the home of her nephew, Hiram Lindsey, in Liberty Township in Wabash County on 21 August 1873.^{21,110} They were both buried in the Boundary Line Church Cemetery near La Fontaine in Wabash County, Indiana.¹¹⁰ This cemetery, which was situated upon land that Elias had acquired for such a purpose, was originally established as a private burying ground in 1863.³⁶⁸ Its use has subsequently been opened to the general public, however.³⁶⁸

57. Lucinda Stone.

Lucinda Stone, the daughter of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 15 June 1792. ^{21,111} Lucinda was apparently married twice during her life. She married first to a man named Nimrod McCoy in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 9 July 1810. ¹⁰⁶ Nimrod evidently died within a few years of their marriage, as Lucinda is known to have married for a second time, also in Kentucky, to a man named George A. Foreman in about 1814. ^{21,111,379} George, who was also a native of Lincoln County, Kentucky, had been born there on 11 February 1789. ^{111,380} He was the son of David Foreman and Elizabeth Horine. ^{111,380}

Shortly after their marriage, George and Lucinda moved with his widowed mother and several siblings to Highland County, Ohio, where they settled along White Oak Creek near the present town of Buford in Clay Township. ³⁸¹ Although George Foreman was primarily a farmer by trade, he also operated a distillery for a number of years, furnishing whiskey to John Florence's tavern. ^{379,381}

George and Lucinda resided in Highland County, Ohio for many years, and it was in that county that all of their children are believed to have been born.^{379,381} Sometime prior to 1860, however, George and Lucinda left Ohio and moved further west into the state of Illinois, where they are found on the 1860 census residing in Newburg Township in Pike County.³⁸² George Foreman subsequently died in Pike County, Illinois on 20 September 1873, while Lucinda died there on 1 January 1874.¹¹¹ Both were buried in the Blue River Cemetery at Detroit, Illinois.¹¹¹

58. Caleb M. Stone.

Caleb Stone, the son of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, is believed to have been born in about 1798 in Lincoln County, Kentucky, as census records indicate he was born between 1796 and 1801. ^{112,113,114} Based upon available records, Caleb appears to have been married three times during his life. Although the identity of Caleb's first wife has not been determined, it is known that he was married in Kentucky in about 1818/1819, as his first daughter was born prior to the 1820 federal census enumeration of Lincoln County, Kentucky. ¹¹⁵

After his first wife passed away, Caleb married for a second time, also in Kentucky, to a woman named Margaret Masten. ²² Margaret is said to have been from Owen County, Kentucky. ²² After Margaret's passing, Caleb married for a third time to a woman named Mary "Polly" Butler on 31 March 1839 in Scott County, Kentucky. ¹¹⁶ Mary, who was also a native of Kentucky, was calculated to have been born there between 1813 and 1817. ^{112,113}

Although Caleb was a member of the Stamping Ground Baptist Church in Scott County, he was excluded from membership during the month of December 1840 for "intemperance and profane swearing." ¹¹⁷ During the month of November 1874, however, Caleb asked to be reinstated, which he was, claiming that he did not have long to live. ¹¹⁷ According to the records of the Stamping Ground Baptist Church, Caleb, who was a wagon maker by trade, died in Scott County, Kentucky during the month of November 1875. ¹¹⁷ Caleb's will, which had been written during the month of September 1872, was subsequently probated in Scott County on 1 February 1876. ³⁸⁹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. Because it has not been possible to positively identify any of these children, it is not known at this time if they are all Caleb's. The fact that only Daniel and Fabrishus show up on the 1850 census suggests that several may have died at an early age, were living with someone else, or had a different surname. The 1820 census of Lincoln County, Kentucky shows males 0001 - females 1001. The 1830 census of Scott County, Kentucky shows males 210001 - females 021001. The 1840 census of Scott County, Kentucky shows males 1211001 - females 00001. The exact order of birth of the children listed below is not known.

59. Silas Harden Stone.

Silas Harden Stone, the son of Spencer Stone and his first wife, Nancy "Sally" Smith, was born in Lincoln County, Kentucky on 9 November 1801.¹¹⁸ As a young man, Silas left Kentucky and moved with several other family members to Indiana, where they settled in Fayette County.³⁹⁸ He was later married in Fayette County, Indiana to a woman named Martha Scott Dicken on 18 December 1823.¹¹⁹ Martha, who was the daughter of Henry Dicken and Elizabeth Lindsey, had been born on 2 April 1807 in Kentucky.^{21,118}

After their marriage, Silas and Martha resided in Orange Township in Fayette County, Indiana, where Silas worked as a millwright and farmer.^{370,396} Silas later received a patent for 80 acres of land in Fayette County on 20 May 1825, and acquired another 80 acres there on 17 April 1833.³⁹⁷ Martha died on 5 January 1885 in Fayette County, Indiana, while Silas died there on 7 January 1887.¹¹⁸ Both were subsequently buried in the Old Orange Cemetery at Orange in Fayette County.¹¹⁸ Silas Stone's will, which had been written on 15 March 1886, was later admitted for probate before the Fayette County Court on 10 January 1887.³⁹⁹

60. Rosanna "Rosey" Stone.

Rosanna Stone, the daughter of James Stone and Jane Ellis, was calculated to have been born in Fauquier County, Virginia in 1783.¹²¹ Rosanna was apparently married twice during her life. She married first on 21 December 1799 to a man named David Carr in Mercer County, Kentucky.¹⁴ David Carr, however, appears to have died in Mercer County prior to 1810, as he does not show up on that census enumeration.⁵⁵

After her first husband passed away, Rosanna married for a second time, also in Mercer County, Kentucky, to a man named John Philip Negley on 11 June 1818.¹²² John, who generally went by his middle name, Philip, had been born in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania in 1777.⁴⁰⁷ He was the son of John Philip Negley and Elizabeth Hoffer.¹⁶⁴⁰ This was also John Negley's second marriage, as he had previously been married to a woman named Catherine Marrs on 17 January 1799 in Mercer County, Kentucky.¹⁴

Although Philip and Rosanna were both listed on the 1850 census of Mercer County, Kentucky, only Philip was shown on the 1860 census.^{121,408} As such, it appears that Rosanna died in Mercer County, Kentucky between 1850 and 1860. Sometime after the 1860 census was taken, Philip apparently moved to Montgomery County, Indiana to reside with his daughter from his first marriage, Susan T. (Negley) Prewitt Brown, as he is known to have died in Montgomery County on 2 October 1865.⁴⁰⁷ Philip was subsequently buried in the Stoner Cemetery at Ladoga in Montgomery County.⁴⁰⁷

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are believed to be Rosanna's children from her first marriage to David Carr, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1810 census of Mercer County, Kentucky shows males 2 - females 3001. Although census records indicate that David and Rosanna had five children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

61. Charlotte Jane "Lotty" Stone.

Charlotte Stone, the daughter of James Stone and Jane Ellis, is believed to have been born in Mercer County, Kentucky in 1786. ¹²³ Charlotte was later married in Mercer County to a man named Thomas Fisher on 11 April 1805. ¹²⁴ Thomas, who was a native of Virginia, was calculated to have been born there in 1776. ¹²³ Thomas Fisher's parentage has yet to be determined.

Although Thomas and Charlotte remained in Mercer County, Kentucky for about forty years after their marriage, they eventually moved to Mississippi where they are found on the 1850 census residing in Hinds County. ¹²³ Both Charlotte and Thomas are believed to have died in Mississippi.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are also believed to be Thomas and Charlotte's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Mercer County, Kentucky shows males 310001 - females 3101. The 1830 census of Mercer County, Kentucky shows males 01121001 - females 1231101. The 1840 census of Mercer County, Kentucky shows males 000100001 - females 00223001. Although census records indicate that Thomas and Charlotte had approximately thirteen children (five sons and eight daughters), this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

62. Enoch Stone.

Enoch Stone, the son of James Stone and his wife, Jane Ellis, was born in Mercer County, Kentucky on 20 September 1787. ¹²⁵ Enoch was apparently married three times during his life. He married first in Mercer County, Kentucky to a woman named Mary Thomas "Polly" Denny on 21 September 1810. ^{124,125} Mary, who had been born in Mercer County on 21 February 1795, was the daughter of Robert Denny and Rachel Thomas. ¹²⁵

Enoch and Mary eventually left Kentucky and moved north into Indiana, where they settled in Putnam County. ²³¹ Mary, however, appears to have died in Putnam County in about 1834, as Enoch is known to have married for a second time in 1835. ¹²⁶ After his first wife passed away, Enoch married secondly on 19 July 1835 in Putnam County, Indiana to a woman named Elizabeth McGinnes. ¹²⁶ Elizabeth, who was also a native of Kentucky, was calculated to have been born there in 1796. ⁴²⁴ Enoch was later found on the 1840 census of Putnam County residing in Greencastle Township. ²³¹ Although Enoch's second wife is believed to have died in Putnam County, Indiana, the actual date of her death is not known. There are no known issue from Enoch's second marriage, however.

After his second wife passed away, Enoch married for a third time to a woman named America. ¹²⁷ America, who was also a native of Kentucky, was calculated to have been born there in 1800. ¹²⁷ Enoch and America were last found on the 1870 census of Indiana residing on a farm in Marion Township in Putnam County. ¹²⁷ Enoch died in Putnam County, Indiana on 6 June 1871. ¹²⁵

63. Ellis Stone.

Ellis Stone, the son of James Stone and Jane Ellis, was calculated to have been born in Mercer County, Kentucky on 27 April 1789. ¹²⁸ He was later married in Mercer County to a woman named Margaret "Peggy" Denny on 2 August 1810. ¹²⁴ Margaret Denny, who had been born on 23 July 1790 in Frederick County, Virginia, was the daughter of John Denny and Martha Hall. ^{89,128,430} (NOTE: Cemetery record shows Margaret Denny's birth year as 1789. I do not believe this is correct, however, as her parents were married on 7 April 1789 in Frederick County, Virginia). ^{89,128}

Sometime prior to when the 1820 census was enumerated, Ellis and Margaret moved to Indiana, where they settled in Monroe County. ⁴³¹ Ellis and Margaret were last found on the 1860 census records of Indiana residing on a farm in Van Buren Township in Monroe County. ⁴³² Ellis subsequently died on 13 March 1867 in Monroe County, Indiana, while Margaret died there on 1 May 1868. ¹²⁸ Both Ellis and Margaret were buried in the Rose Hill Cemetery at Bloomington in Monroe County. ¹²⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be Ellis and Margaret's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Monroe County, Indiana shows males 000010 - females 40010. The 1830 census of Monroe County, Indiana shows males 2200001 - females 0022001. The 1840 census of Monroe County, Indiana shows males 00220001 - females 01001001. Although census records indicate that Ellis and Margaret had approximately nine children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

James Harvey Stone, the son of James Stone and Jane Ellis, was born in Mercer County, Kentucky on 13 April 1791. ¹²⁹ He was later married in Lincoln County, Kentucky to a woman named Nancy Helm on 3 March 1817. ¹⁰⁶ Nancy, who was also a native of Kentucky, had been born there on 16 December 1791. ¹²⁹

After their marriage, James and Nancy moved to Shelby County, Kentucky, where they appear on the 1820 census enumeration. ⁴³⁶ Although James and Nancy resided on a farm in Shelby County, Kentucky for over thirty years, sometime prior to when the 1860 census was taken they had moved to Henry County, Kentucky, where they resided for the remainder of their lives. ^{437,438} James died on 11 July 1863 at Eminence in Henry County, Kentucky, while Nancy died there on 12 July 1872. ¹²⁹ Both James and Nancy were subsequently buried in the Eminence Cemetery in Henry County. ¹²⁹

After his first wife passed away, Nathaniel married for a second time, also in Mercer County, Kentucky, to a woman named Mary A. Graves on 19 October 1833.⁶² Mary, who was a native of Georgia, had been born there in 1794.^{121,132} Although I have not been able to verify it beyond all doubt, I believe this was also a second marriage for Mary.

70. Corder Stone.

Corder Stone, believed to be the son of John Stone and a first wife, possibly a woman named Mary Corder, is thought to have been born in about 1769, probably in Granville County, North Carolina where the family was residing prior to moving to Surry County, North Carolina in 1770.^{25,27,133} (NOTE: The 1830 census of White County, Tennessee indicates he was born during the period 1760-1770).¹³³

Corder Stone and his younger brother, Thomas Stone, were found in the land records witnessing a deed in Surry County, North Carolina on 21 April 1792 between their uncle, Daniel Barrow, and a man named Edward Lovell.⁴⁴³ Sometime after this, Corder and his brother, Thomas, are known to have left North Carolina, and after spending a short period of time in Tennessee, moved further north into Kentucky. Corder was later married on 18 August 1800 to a widow named Mary "Polly" Mason in Lincoln County, Kentucky.¹⁰⁶

Several years after their marriage, Corder and Mary left Kentucky and moved south into Tennessee, where they settled in that portion of the state that was later formed into White County in 1806.⁷ Corder and his brother, Thomas Stone, were later found on the 1812 list of people owning taxable property in White County.⁴⁴⁴ Corder was also found on the 1838 tax list for White County.⁴⁴⁵ Corder, who was a farmer and Minister by trade, was last found on the 1840 census of White County, Tennessee.⁴⁴⁶ Rev. Corder Stone is believed to have died in White County, Tennessee sometime during the period 1843-1845.¹⁴¹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. These are all believed to be Corder and Mary's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of White County, Tennessee shows males 120101 - females 1111. The 1830 census of White County, Tennessee shows males 000110001 - females 00001101. Although census records indicate that Corder and Mary had approximately seven children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of those children listed below is not known.

71. Thomas Stone.

Thomas Stone, believed to be the son of John Stone and a first wife, possibly a woman named Mary Corder, was calculated to have been born in 1771 in Surry County, North Carolina. ¹³⁴ Thomas was apparently married twice during his life. He married first to a woman named Sarah "Sally" Corder. ¹⁴² Although no record of their marriage has been found, it is believed to have taken place in North Carolina prior to their move to Kentucky.

Thomas Stone and his older brother, Corder Stone, were found in the land records witnessing a deed in Surry County, North Carolina on 21 April 1792 between their uncle, Daniel Barrow, and Mr. Edward Lovell. ⁴⁴³ Sometime after this, Thomas and Sarah, along with his brother, Corder Stone, left North Carolina, and after spending a short period of time in Tennessee, moved further north into Kentucky. Although Thomas and Sarah remained in Kentucky for several years, they eventually moved south into Tennessee, where they settled in that portion of the state that was formed into White County in 1806. ⁷ Thomas Stone subsequently acquired 684 acres of land in White County, Tennessee on 10 May 1808, which was situated on Cane Creek, a branch of Caney Fork of the Cumberland River. ⁴⁵¹ Thomas and his brother, Corder Stone, were later found on the 1812 list of people owning taxable property in White County. ⁴⁴⁴ Thomas Stone's first wife, Sarah Corder, is believed to have died in White County, Tennessee.

After his first wife passed away, Thomas married for a second time in about 1824 in Tennessee to a woman named Elizabeth Williams. ¹⁴² Elizabeth, who was a native of South Carolina, was calculated to have been born there in 1793. ¹³⁴ According to the 1830 federal census of Tennessee, shortly after their marriage Thomas and Elizabeth settled on a farm in Jackson County. ⁴⁵² Thomas Stone, who was a farmer and Minister by trade, was last found on the 1850 federal census of Jackson County, Tennessee, where he is believed to have died. ¹³⁴

NOTE: Unfortunately, a number of children enumerated on the pre-1850 censuses of Jackson County, Tennessee do not match up well from census to census, which makes it very difficult to determine how many children Thomas and Sarah actually had. As a consequence, additional research is needed to identify all of Thomas Stone's children from his first marriage. Those children listed below, however, are either known, or are considered very likely to be children of Thomas Stone and his first wife, Sarah Corder. The exact order of birth of some of the below listed children is not known for sure.

Although most genealogies indicate that Nancy was the eldest child of Thomas Stone and Sarah Corder, this appears to be contradicted by an indenture between Ireby W. Stone and his father, Thomas Stone, which was entered into on 5 March 1814.⁴⁵³ Because of the date and contents of this indenture, it would appear that Ireby may have been born as early as 1793, and therefore the eldest child.

John Stone and his second wife, Bethsey Curry, had a female child who was enumerated on the 1790 census of Surry County, North Carolina. ³⁵ The identity of this child has not been determined.

74. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of John Stone and his second wife, Bethsey Curry, was born in Surry County, North Carolina on 3 March 1787. ¹⁴⁴ He was later married to a woman named Mary Edna "Edney" Barner on 22 February 1811 in Stokes County, North Carolina. ¹⁴⁵ Edney, who had been born on 21 June 1791 in North Carolina, was the daughter of David Barner and Martha "Patsey" Gresham. ^{144,478}

After their marriage, William and Edney remained in Stokes County, North Carolina, where they appear to have resided throughout their married life together. Although William was primarily a farmer by trade, he also served at various times as a School Teacher, a Constable, and as a Justice of the Peace in Stokes County. ⁴⁷⁹ Edney subsequently died in Stokes County, North Carolina on 10 March 1861, while William died there on 29 November 1863. ¹⁴⁴ Both Edney and William were buried in the William Stone Family Cemetery in Stokes County. ¹⁴⁴ This cemetery was identified in Volume VI of "Cemetery Records of Rockingham and Stokes County North Carolina," which was published by the James Hunter Chapter of the National Society of the DAR of Madison, North Carolina.

75. John Stone.

John Stone, the son of William Stone, was born in North Carolina. ³⁷ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

76. Ezekiel Stone.

Ezekiel Stone, the son of William Stone, was calculated to have been born in about 1776/1777 in Surry County, North Carolina. ^{146,147} He was later married in North Carolina to a woman named Edith "Eady" Duncan. ¹⁴⁸ Eady, who was calculated to have been born in about 1780 in North Carolina, was the daughter of the Thomas Duncan who died in Stokes County, North Carolina in 1836. ^{146,148} Thomas Duncan's last will and testament, which had been written on 21 November 1831, was probated during the September 1836 session of the Stokes County Court. ¹⁴⁸

Sometime after their marriage, Ezekiel and Eady left North Carolina and moved to Kentucky, where they are found in the 1810, 1820, and 1830 census enumerations residing on a farm in Floyd County. ^{487,488,489} Ezekiel also served as a Baptist Minister with the Burning Tree Baptist Church in Floyd County, Kentucky. ⁴⁹⁰ In about 1836, however, Ezekiel and his family left Kentucky and moved into that portion of Cabell County, Virginia that was later formed into Wayne County, Virginia in 1842, but is now situated within West Virginia. ^{7,490} He and Eady were found on the 1840 census of Cabell County residing with their son, James Marion Stone, and on the 1850 census of Wayne County, Virginia residing on a farm in District 66. ^{146,491}

Ezekiel and Eady Stone apparently sold their farm in Wayne County in 1851 and moved back to Kentucky, where they were last found on the 1860 census residing in Lewis County.^{147,490} Although Ezekiel is said to have died in Lewis County, Kentucky in 1864, the date and place Eady passed away have not been determined.⁴⁹⁰

NOTE: Although some individuals claim that Ezekiel was the son of William Stone and Hannah Conway, this is not accurate. William Stone and Hannah Conway did have a son named Ezekiel who was born in 1756 in Virginia, was married to a woman named Jane Wood, and who died in 1855 in Tennessee. However, William Stone and Hannah Conway also had a son named William, and it was this William Stone, Jr. who was the father of the above Ezekiel.

The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census enumerations. This is also believed to be one of Ezekiel and Eady's daughters, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1810 census of Floyd County, Kentucky shows males 3001 - females 201. The 1820 census of Floyd County, Kentucky shows males 031101 - females 1111. The 1830 census of Floyd County, Kentucky shows males 00011001 - females 00011001. The two additional males shown on the 1820 census are not believed to be Ezekiel and Eady's. The above census records indicate that William and Eady had six children.

77. James M. "Jimmie" Stone.

James M. "Jimmie" Stone, the son of William Stone, was born on 15 December 1778 in Surry County, North Carolina. ¹⁴⁹ He was later married on 10 February 1808 in Surry County to a woman named Sarah "Sally" Denny. ^{145,149,150} Sarah, who was the daughter of Azariah Denny and Sally Wise Felton, is believed to have been born in about 1789 in Surry County, North Carolina. ^{149,150} She was also the sister of the Nancy Denny who married James Stone's brother, William. ¹⁴⁹

Several years after their marriage, James and Sarah moved to Ohio, where they were found on both the 1820 and 1830 census enumerations residing in Morgan Township in Gallia County. ^{498,499} By the time the 1840 federal census was enumerated, however, James and his family had moved further west into the state of Indiana, where they settled in Jay County. ⁵⁰⁰ Sarah subsequently died on 3 October 1846 in Jay County, Indiana, while James died there on 22 May 1848. ¹⁵⁰ Both James and Sarah were buried in the Salamoniam Cemetery at Salamoniam in Jay County, Indiana. ¹⁵⁰

78. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of William Stone, is believed to have been born in Surry County, North Carolina in about 1784. ^{37,151,175} This year is based upon his approximate age as shown on the 1800 and 1810 censuses of Surry County, North Carolina. ^{151,175} William was later married in on 12 June 1809 in Surry County to a woman named Nancy Denny. ¹⁴⁵ (NOTE: there is considerable debate as to whether Nancy Denny married this William Stone, or if she was the first wife of # 95 William Stone, son of Enoch Stone and Nancy Anthony). Nancy, who had been born in about 1793 in Surry County, North Carolina, was the daughter of Azariah Denny and Sally Wise Felton. ¹⁴⁹ She was also the sister of the Sarah Denny who married William Stone's brother, James. ¹⁴⁹

Although I have nor been able to personally substantiate it, a number of researchers claim that William eventually moved to Ohio, where he is said to have died in about 1858.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is believed to be one of William and Nancy's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1810 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 001 - females 101. Although census records indicate that William and Nancy had at least one child, it is believed that they probably had additional children

Enumerated issue: (Surname Stone)

466. (female) ----- b. ca. 1810 in Surry Co., NC. ¹⁵¹

79. Conway Stone.

Conway Stone, the son of William Stone, was calculated to have been born in Surry County, North Carolina in 1786. ^{152,153} He was later married on 5 March 1820 in Surry County to a woman named Elizabeth Nelson. ¹⁴⁵ Elizabeth, who was also a native of Surry County, was calculated to have been born there in 1805. ^{152,153}

Although Conway and Elizabeth appear to have remained in North Carolina for a number of years after their marriage, shortly after the 1830 federal census was taken they apparently moved to Virginia, where they settled on a farm in that portion of Logan County, that was eventually formed into Boone County in 1847 (Boone County is now situated within West Virginia). ^{7,512,513} Both Conway and Elizabeth were last found on the 1860 census of Boone County, West Virginia, and it is there that they are both believed to have died. ¹⁵³

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is also believed to be one of Conway and Elizabeth's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1840 census of Logan County, Virginia (West Virginia) shows males 11201001 - females 121201.

80. Hannah Stone.

Hannah Stone, the daughter of William Stone, was calculated to have been born in Surry County, North Carolina in 1787. ^{154,155} Hannah apparently remained single throughout her life, and was last found on the 1870 federal census of Surry County, North Carolina living with Dr. Franklin and Prudence Steele in Marsh Township. ¹⁵⁵

81. Mary "Polly" Stone.

Mary Stone, the daughter of William Stone, was calculated to have been born in Surry County, North Carolina in 1790. ¹⁵⁴ She was later married in Surry County to a man named Thomas Steele (also written Steel) on 14 November 1806. ¹⁴⁵ Thomas, who was also a native of North Carolina, was calculated to have been born there in 1783. ¹⁵⁴

After their marriage, Thomas and Mary seem to have moved back and forth between Surry County and Stokes County, North Carolina. ^{154,519,520,521} Although they were still residing on a farm in the Marshes District of Surry County, North Carolina when the 1850 census was enumerated, by 1860 they were residing with their son, Martin Steele, on a farm near Hillsville in Carroll County, Virginia. ^{154,522} Mary was last found on the 1870 census of Carroll County, Virginia residing in Pine Creek Township. ⁵²³

82. Ephraim Stone.

Ephraim Stone, the son of William Stone, was calculated to have been born in Surry County, North Carolina in 1792. ¹⁵⁶ He was later married on 5 January 1821 in Surry County to a woman named Catherine "Caty" Crouse. ¹⁴⁵ Catherine, who was also a native of North Carolina, was calculated to have been born there in 1802. ¹⁵⁶

Although Ephraim and Catherine apparently moved into the state of Georgia in the early 1840's, they appear to have only resided there for a few years. ¹⁵⁶ Two of their children, namely, Ephraim Stephen and Martin Lafayette were born in Georgia, however. ¹⁵⁶ Ephraim and Catherine later moved to Tennessee, where they are found on the 1850 federal census residing in Subdivision 26 in Bradley County. ¹⁵⁶ When the 1860 and 1870 censuses were taken, however, they were found residing on a farm in District Three in Cumberland County, Tennessee. ^{526,527}

Ephraim died on 22 February 1877 in Cumberland County, Tennessee. ¹⁵⁷ Catherine, on the other hand, was last found on the 1880 census of Cumberland County residing with her son, Wesley Stone. ⁵²⁸

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be Ephraim and Catherine's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 000001 - females 22001. The 1840 census of Surry County, North Carolina shows males 1210001 - females 012201. Based upon the 1840 census of Surry County, North Carolina and the 1850 census of Bradley County, Tennessee, Ephraim and Catherine appear to have been the parents of twelve children.

83. Nancy Stone.

Nancy Stone, named as a daughter in the will of William Stone, was born in Surry County, North Carolina.³⁷ She was later married on 31 March 1820 in Surry County, North Carolina to a man named Tyras Ellison.¹⁴⁵ Nancy's Brother, Ephraim Stone, was listed as the bondsman.¹⁴⁵ According to several sources found on-line, Tyras is said to have died in about 1835 in North Carolina.⁵³⁷

Sometime after Tyras passed away, Nancy moved to Georgia, where she was last found on the 1860 census of Cherokee County residing with her son-in-law and daughter, William Madison and Mary Martha (Eliison) Stanley, in the Canton District.⁵³⁸ Nancy is said to have died in 1864 in Forsyth County, Georgia.⁵³⁷

84. Sarah "Sally" Stone.

Sarah Stone, believed to be the youngest daughter of William Stone, was born in Surry County, North Carolina.³⁷

NOTE: Although the marriage records of Surry County, North Carolina indicate that a Sarah Stone was married on 8 December 1818 to a man named Hector Ralls (also written Rawls), descendants of Hector Ralls claim that Hector actually married Sarah Stowe, daughter of Abraham Stowe, not Sarah Stone, daughter of William Stone, on that date. According to the 1810 federal census of Surry County, North Carolina, both William Stone and Abraham Stowe had daughters enumerated in the same age bracket. Shortly after their marriage, Hector and Sarah Ralls moved to Greene County, Georgia, where they are found residing on the 1820 census. In light of the above, no additional information will be presented regarding Sarah Stone until further research can be carried out.

85. Thomas Price Stone.

Thomas Price Stone, the eldest son of Ezekiel Stone and Jane Wood, was born in North Carolina on 31 May 1780.³⁹ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

86. Rebecca Stone.

Rebecca Stone, the daughter of Ezekiel Stone and his wife, Jane Wood, was born in North Carolina on 12 October 1782.^{39,159} She was later married in about 1803, probably in Sevier County, Tennessee, to a man named John Nelson Biard.^{39,159} John, who had been born in Buckingham County, Virginia 15 January 1780, was the son of Henry Biard and Keranhappach Nelson.^{39,160}

Although John and Rebecca remained in Tennessee for a number of years after their marriage, in about 1818 they moved south into Alabama, where they were found on both the 1820 and 1830 census enumerations residing in Limestone County.^{540,541} John subsequently died on 9 January 1839 in Limestone County, Alabama and was buried in the Ripley Cemetery at Athens, Alabama.¹⁶⁰ After John passed away, Rebecca moved with her children to Lamar County, Texas.³⁹ Rebecca died in Lamar County on 18 February 1848, and was buried in the Antioch Cemetery near Biardstown, Texas.^{39,159}

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. Based upon the 1820 and 1830 censuses, it appears that John and Rebecca may have had three unidentified daughters, two of whom either married prior to 1830, or died young. A third daughter, born between 1810 and 1815 was listed on the 1830 and 1840 censuses, however. The 1820 state census of Limestone County, Alabama shows males 1 over 21, 4 under 21 - females 1 over 21, 4 under 21. The 1830 census of Limestone County, Alabama shows males 00220001 - females 0102001.

90. William B. Stone.

William Stone, the son of Ezekiel Stone and Jane Wood, was born in Ninety-Six District, South Carolina on 26 January 1791. ^{39,163} He was later married, probably in Sevier County, Tennessee, to a woman named Mary Randall in about 1809. ³⁹ Mary had been born in Tennessee on 30 November 1792. ^{158,163}

Just prior to the War of 1812, William joined the military forces under Gov. William Henry Harrison of Indiana, and fought in the Battle of Tippecanoe against Tecumseh's American Indian Confederation.⁵⁵⁶ He later served in the Creek Wars and subsequently received a commission as a Brigadier General.⁵⁵⁶ In 1815, he served under General Andrew Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, which was the last major battle of the War of 1812.⁵⁵⁶ During the period 1836 to 1840, William represented Tennessee in the United States Congress, after which time he retired to his farm in Marion County, Tennessee.⁵⁵⁶

William Stone died on 18 February 1853 at Delphi in what was then Marion County, Tennessee, but later became Daus in Sequatchie County, Tennessee in 1858.^{7,39,163} Mary on the other hand, died on 1 November 1882 in Sequatchie County.¹⁶³ Both were subsequently buried in the Stone Cemetery in Sequatchie County, Tennessee.¹⁶³

Catherine Stone, the daughter of Ezekiel Stone and Jane Wood, is believed to have been born in about 1793 in Ninety-Six District, South Carolina. ³⁹ Catherine was apparently married twice during her life. She married first in Tennessee to a man whose last name was Robertson, and is said to have had "several sons." ³⁹

After the death of her first husband, Catherine married for a second time to a man named John H. Dunn on 23 December 1848 in Limestone County, Alabama. ^{39,164} Catherine was last found on the 1860 census of Limestone County, Alabama, while John was last found on the 1870 census of Limestone County. ^{165,564} There are no known issue Catherine's second marriage to John Dunn. ³⁹

Kelly who married John's younger brother, Richard W. Stone.³⁹

John and Susannah later moved to Illinois, where they were found on the 1840 census residing in Jackson County.⁴⁵⁴ In about 1844, however, they returned to Tennessee, where they settled on a farm near Concord in Knox County.³⁹ John Stone later served as a Justice of the Peace and Constable in Knox County, Tennessee.³⁹ Susannah subsequently died in Knox County, Tennessee on 25 November 1870, while John died there on 26 May 1881.^{39,166} Both were buried in the Cedar Springs Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Knoxville, Tennessee.¹⁶⁶

93. Richard W. "Dick" Stone.

Richard Stone, the son of Ezekiel Stone and his wife, Jane Wood, was born in Sevier County, Tennessee on 18 May 1800. ^{158,167} He was later married in Tennessee to a woman named Ann B. Kelly. ^{39,158,167} Ann, who was also a native of Tennessee, had been born there on 9 October 1798. ^{158,167} She was the daughter of Alexander Kelly, and also the sister of the Susanna Kelly who married Richard's older brother, John L. Stone. ³⁹

Richard and Ann apparently remained in Tennessee for more than thirty years after their marriage, and were last found on the 1850 census of Marion County, Tennessee residing on a farm in District 1. ¹⁵⁸ Richards father, Ezekiel Stone, shown as being aged 94, was residing with them. ¹⁵⁸ Sometime prior to 1860, however, Richard and Ann moved west into the state of Missouri, where they subsequently settled on a farm in Richmond Township in Ray County. ⁵⁶⁸

Ann subsequently later died in Ray County, Missouri on 12 September 1880, while Richard died there on 11 December 1889. ¹⁶⁷ Both Ann and Richard were buried in the Sanderson Cemetery at Rayville in Ray County, Missouri. ¹⁶⁷

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be Richard and Ann's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Marion County, Tennessee shows males 000011 - females 220001. The 1840 census of Marion County, Tennessee shows males 2100001 - females 1222001. Although census records indicate that Richard and Ann had approximately eleven children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

94. (male) Stone.

Enoch Stone and his wife, Nancy Anthony, had a male child who was enumerated on the 1790 census as having been born in Surry County, North Carolina during the period 1774-1790. ³⁵ Although the identity of this child has yet to be determined beyond doubt, there is a reasonable possibility that his name may have been Ezekiel, and that this was the Ezekiel Stone who witnessed, along with Enoch Stone, the last will and testament of William Stone on 23 March 1819. ³⁷ Unfortunately, no additional information has been found concerning this individual.

95. William Stone.

William Stone, the son of Enoch Stone and Nancy Anthony, was calculated to have been born in 1785 in Surry County, North Carolina. ¹⁵⁴ Based upon the wording in his will, which refers to the "lawful heirs of my last wife, Polly," William appears to have been married twice during his life. ¹⁷⁰ Although the identity of a possible first wife is not known, the wording in his will also suggests that she may have been the mother of William's three eldest children. ¹⁷⁰ (NOTE: there is considerable debate as to whether this William's first wife may have been Nancy Denny, or if she was actually the wife of # 78 William Stone, son of William Stone).

After his first wife died, William married secondly on 22 July 1813 to a woman named Mary "Polly" Gordon in Stokes County, North Carolina. ¹⁴⁵ Mary, who had been born in about 1795 in Stokes County, North Carolina, was the daughter of John Gordon and Barzilla Martin. ^{154,571} She was also the sister of the Elizabeth "Betsy" Gordon who married William's brother, Enoch Stone. ⁵⁷¹

After their marriage, William and Mary appear to have remained in Surry County, North Carolina, where they were last found on the 1850 census, along with their daughter, Melissa, residing on a farm in the Pilot District.¹⁵⁴ Their son, Enoch Stone, was residing next door.¹⁵⁴ William subsequently died in Surry County in 1858.¹⁷⁰ His will, which had been written on 29 January 1858, was later probated during the May 1858 Court.¹⁷⁰ William's sons, Augustine and Enoch Stone, were named Executors.¹⁷⁰

NOTE: Although seven of the children listed below were named in William Stone's will, census and other records indicate that William and Mary may have actually had as many as nine children. Although some sources claim William and Mary had a daughter named Fannie who was married to a man named Milton Flippin, I have not been able to find any conclusive evidence to support this, and William's will did not mention a daughter named Fannie. Unfortunately, the 1820 through 1840 census enumerations for William Stone's family do not match up very well. As a consequence, the true number and ages of William's children is a little fuzzy. One male and one female child, who were born between 1830 and 1840 in Surry County, North Carolina, do not show up on the 1850 census of Surry County, and may have died young.

96. Solomon Stone.

Solomon Stone, the son of Enoch Stone and Nancy Anthony, was born in Surry County, North Carolina in 1787. ¹⁷¹ He was later married on 4 February 1812 in Surry County to a woman named Elizabeth Fletcher. ¹⁴⁵

Sometime after their marriage, Solomon and his family left North Carolina and moved to Indiana, where they were later found on the 1830 census residing in Greene County. ⁵⁷⁵ When the 1840 census of Greene County, Indiana was enumerated, however, Elizabeth was not shown, suggesting that she probably passed away in Greene County prior to 1840. ⁵⁷⁶ Even though Solomon apparently died in 1852 in Greene County, Indiana, he was subsequently buried in the Indiana Soldiers Home Cemetery at West Lafayette in Tippecanoe County, Indiana. ¹⁷¹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is also believed to be one of Solomon and Elizabeth's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Greene County, Indiana shows males 111201 - females 20001. The 1840 census of Greene County, Indiana shows males 01101001 - females 001001. Census records indicate that Solomon and Elizabeth had eight children. The exact order of birth of some of the below listed children, as well as their actual birth dates, are not known.

Hannah Stone, the daughter of Conway Stone and Elizabeth Galaglee, was born in Surry County, North Carolina on 19 January 1783.¹⁷⁸ In about 1809, Hannah moved with other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County.⁴¹ Hannah was later married on 25 August 1818 in Blount County to a man named William Henry McCurdy.¹⁷⁹ William, who generally went by his middle name of Henry, had been born in Wythe County, Virginia on 14 December 1790.⁵⁹⁹ He was the son of Robert McCurdy of Ireland and his wife, Elizabeth Liggett.¹⁷⁸ He was also the brother of the Jane McCurdy who married Hannah's brother, John Stone.¹⁷⁸

Prior to marrying Hannah, Henry had been serving in the military.¹⁷⁸ He had enlisted in Claiborne County, Tennessee in July 1813 to fight in the War of 1812, and was later discharged on 12 July 1818 at Fort Gadsden in Florida.¹⁷⁸

Although Henry and Hannah remained in Tennessee for more than twenty years after their marriage, in 1840 Henry received a land grant for 40 acres in Johnson County, Missouri, and he and his family apparently moved there shortly thereafter.⁶⁰⁰ Hannah subsequently died in Johnson County, Missouri on 5 September 1845, and was buried in the Shiloh Cemetery at Post Oak in Johnson County.¹⁸⁰

After Hannah's death, Henry returned to Tennessee, where he enlisted to serve in the Mexican War on 28 May 1846.^{178,600} He was later discharged on 28 May 1847, at which time he settled in Monroe County, Tennessee, where he married for a second time to a woman named Sarah North on 11 October 1848.^{179,600}

William Stone, the son of Conway Stone and Elizabeth Galaglee, was calculated to have been born in 1787 in Randolph County, North Carolina. ^{41,182} In about 1809, William Stone moved with other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County. ⁴¹ William was later married in Blount County to a widow named Sarah Amanda "Sally" (Hicks) Diddle on 25 April 1817. ¹⁷⁹ Sarah, who is believed to have been born in about 1795 in Tennessee, was the daughter of John Hicks and Comfort Malone. ⁶⁰⁵ She was also the widow of a man named John Diddle, whom she had married on 8 May 1806 in Knox County, Tennessee. ¹⁷⁹

William and Sarah were last found on the 1850 census of Tennessee residing on a farm in District 3 of Blount County. ¹⁸² Although this census shows Sarah as being thirty-nine years of age, this is believed to be an incorrect entry, as it probably should have said fifty-nine. ¹⁸² Although both William and Sarah are believed to have died in Blount County, Tennessee, their exact death dates are not known.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. With the exception of the two females enumerated on the 1830 census as having been born between 1810 and 1815, these are all believed to be William and Sarah's children. Several have yet to be positively identified, however. The two older females are the two daughters of Sarah (Hicks) Diddle, namely Nancy and Mary, by her first husband, John Diddle. The 1830 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 1120001 - females 120201. The 1840 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 00102001 - females 212001. Although census records indicate that William and Sarah had approximately eleven children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of some of the below listed children is not known.

Sometime after their marriage, William and Bathsheba settled in Monroe County, Tennessee. Bathsheba was last found on the 1840 census of Monroe County, Tennessee.¹⁸³ William, on the other hand, was last found on the 1850 census of Tennessee residing on a farm in District 11 of Monroe County.⁵⁴⁶

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be William and Bathsheba's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Monroe County, Tennessee shows males 0121001 - females 000001. The 1840 census of Monroe County, Tennessee shows males 000110001 - females 010100001. Because the 1830 census does not show any female children, it is believed that the two younger females shown on the 1840 census are the wife and daughter of one of William and Bathsheba's sons. Although census records indicate that William and Bathsheba had four children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

109. Joel Stone.

Joel Stone, the son of Conway Stone and his wife, Elizabeth Galaglee, was calculated to have been born in Randolph County, North Carolina in about 1793.^{41,182} In about 1809 Joel moved with several other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County.⁴¹ Joel was later married on 20 March 1828 in Blount County to a woman named Nancy W. Nipper.¹⁷⁹ Nancy, who was a native of Tennessee, was calculated to have been born there in 1814.¹⁸²

After their marriage, Joel and Nancy Stone remained in Blount County, Tennessee, where Joel worked as a painter.¹⁸² Joel Stone appears to have died in Blount County, Tennessee in about 1857/1858, as only Nancy and four of their children were enumerated on the 1860 federal census of Blount County, the youngest being listed as two years of age.¹⁸⁴ By 1870, however, Nancy and her two youngest children were residing in District 10 in Knox County, Tennessee.⁶¹⁴

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is also believed to be one of Joel and Nancy's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 100001 - females 0001. The 1840 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 10100001 - females 10001.

110. John Stone.

John Stone, the son of Conway Stone and Elizabeth Galaglee, was born in Randolph County, North Carolina. ^{41,185} In about 1809, John moved with other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County. ⁴¹ John was later married in Blount County on 27 March 1823 to a woman named Jane McCurdy. ¹⁷⁹ Jane, who was a native of Tennessee, was the daughter of Robert McCurdy of Ireland and his wife, Elizabeth Liggett. ¹⁷⁸ She was also the sister of the William McCurdy who married John's sister, Hannah Stone. ¹⁷⁸

Because no wife shows up on the 1840 federal census of Blount County, Tennessee, it is believed that Jane probably died prior to the census being taken. ⁶¹¹

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (male) or (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be John and Jane's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 200001 - females 01001. The 1840 census of Blount County, Tennessee shows males 0120001 - females 1002. The second female aged 15 - 20 shown on the 1840 census has not been accounted for. Although census records indicate that John and Jane had approximately five children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of the below listed children is not known.

111. Susan Stone.

Susan Stone, the daughter of Conway Stone and his wife, Elizabeth Galaglee, was calculated to have been born in Randolph County, North Carolina in 1796.^{41,186} In about 1809 Susan moved with other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County.⁴¹ Susan was later married in Blount County, Tennessee to a man named Samuel Gilbreath (also written Galbreath).^{41,187} Samuel, who was also a native of North Carolina, was calculated to have been born there in about 1787.¹⁸⁶ Although it has yet to be proven, there is a "possibility" that Samuel Gilbreath is the son of Hugh Gilbreath and Elizabeth Johnston.⁶¹⁵

Although Samuel and Susan remained in Tennessee for several years after their marriage, sometime prior to 1830 they apparently moved to Arkansas.⁶¹⁶ After arriving in Arkansas they appear to have settled first in Union Township in Saint Francis County, but eventually moved to Ruddell Township in Independence County, Arkansas by 1840, where they resided for the remainder of their lives.^{616,617} Samuel, who was a farmer by trade, was last found on the 1870 census of Independence County, Arkansas, while Susan was last found on the 1880 census residing with her daughter, Anne, and her family on their farm in Gainsboro Township.^{188,190} Both Samuel and Susan are believed to have died in Independence County, Arkansas.

112. Mary "Polly" Stone.

Mary Stone, the daughter of Conway Stone and his wife, Elizabeth Galaglee, was calculated to have been born in Randolph County, North Carolina in 1802. ¹⁸⁹ In about 1809 Mary moved with several other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County. ⁴¹ Mary was later married on 25 December 1823 in Blount County, Tennessee to a man named Josiah Roberts. ¹⁷⁹ Josiah, who had been born in Knox County, Tennessee on 1 April 1802, was the son of Jacob Roberts and Martha "Patsy" Dodd. ⁶²⁴

Sometime after the 1830 census of Monroe County, Tennessee was taken, Josiah and Mary apparently left Tennessee and moved to Georgia, where their son, Wilkinson Roberts was born.⁶¹² They later moved west into Mississippi, however, where they were said to have been living in 1845 according to a statement made by Mary's sister, Nancy (Stone) Beasley. Josiah and Mary were later found on the 1850 census of Mississippi residing in District 6 of Itawamba County, where Josiah was listed as being a merchant.¹⁸⁹ Although Josiah and Mary were subsequently found residing on a farm in Pleasant Ridge Township in Fulton County, Arkansas in 1860, by 1870 they were living at Gainsboro in Independence County, Arkansas, where Josiah was serving as a Methodist Minister.^{190,625} The 1870 census of Independence County, Arkansas is the last census in which Mary was found.¹⁹⁰

Josiah died on 13 September 1871 in Independence County, Arkansas, and was subsequently buried in the Campground Cemetery at Bethesda, Arkansas.⁶²⁶ Although Mary is believed to have also died in Independence County, Arkansas, the actual date of her death has not been determined.

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is also believed to be one of Josiah and Mary's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Monroe County, Tennessee shows males 20001 - females 10001. Unfortunately, I have not been able to find Josiah and Mary Roberts on the 1840 census to determine if they had any children other than those listed below.

113. Nancy Stone.

Nancy Stone, the daughter of Conway Stone and Elizabeth Galaglee, was born in Randolph County, North Carolina. ⁴¹ In about 1809 Nancy moved with other family members to Tennessee, where they settled in Blount County. ⁴¹ Nancy was later married in Blount County, Tennessee to a man named Fuquay Beasley. ^{41,187} According to an autobiography written on 11 January 1911 by their son, John Fletcher Beasley, this was Fuquay's second marriage, as he had a son named Andrew and a daughter named Martha from a first marriage. ⁶²⁸

In about 1850, Fuquay and Nancy apparently moved to Georgia, where they settled at Rome in Floyd County. ⁶²⁸ Unfortunately, what became of them afterwards is not known. According to John Beasley's autobiography, he was the only child of Fuquay Beasley and Nancy Stone. ⁶²⁸

141. Reuben Stone.

Reuben Stone, the son of Reuben Stone and Priscilla Fowler, was calculated to have been born in Laurens County, South Carolina in 1801. ²⁰⁶ He was later married in Alabama to a woman named Mary. ²⁰⁶ Mary, who was also a native of South Carolina, was calculated to have been born there in 1802. ²⁰⁶

Sometime prior to 1840, Reuben and Mary moved to Tennessee, where they are found on both the 1840 and 1850 census enumerations to be residing on a farm in Lincoln County. ^{206,642} Reuben and Mary were last found on the 1850 census of Lincoln County, Tennessee. ²⁰⁶

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) were abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. These are also believed to be Reuben and Mary's children, but have yet to be positively identified. The 1830 census of Madison County, Alabama shows males 10001 - females 22001. The 1840 census of Lincoln County, Tennessee shows males 111001 - females 112201. This census may be in error, however, as the 1850 census suggests that Reuben and Mary had three daughters and one son between 1830 and 1840 instead of two daughters and two sons. Although census records indicate that Reuben and Mary had approximately eleven children, this number could vary. The exact order of birth of some of the below listed children is not known.

142. John Stone.

John Stone, the eldest son of Rolley and Elizabeth Stone, was calculated from the 1810 census of Laurens County, South Carolina to have been born sometime between 1784 and 1790, probably in the Ninety-Six District of South Carolina. ⁴⁶ He was later married in South Carolina to a woman whose given name was Mary, but nicknamed "Polly". ⁸ Unfortunately, neither Polly's maiden name, nor her parentage, have been determined.

John apparently died intestate in Laurens County, South Carolina in about 1821, leaving a widow, Polly, and three children. ⁸ John's wife and children were identified in a court case brought by John's mother, Elizabeth, on 6 March 1822. ⁸ This case involved the ownership and partition of lands in Laurens County, South Carolina that had previously been owned by John's father, Rolley. ⁸

144. Sarah Stone.

Sarah Stone, the daughter of Rolley Stone, and his wife, Elizabeth, was born in Laurens County, South Carolina on 7 August 1788.^{208,210} She was later married in 1808 in Laurens County, South Carolina to a man named Jesse Gray.^{8,208,209} Jesse, who had been born in Newberry County, South Carolina on 9 September 1789, was the son of John Gray and Elizabeth Alberts.²⁰⁹

Although Jesse and Sarah remained in South Carolina for several years after their marriage, they apparently moved to Kentucky shortly after the birth of their daughter, Elizabeth, as during the War of 1812, Jesse served as a Private 2 in the 1st Kentucky Volunteer Infantry.²⁰⁹ This unit was under the command of General William Henry Harrison at Cincinnati, Ohio.²⁰⁹ Jesse and Sarah later moved north into Darke County, Ohio, however, where they settled in Washington Township.⁶⁴⁶ After residing in Darke County, Ohio for a number of years, they eventually moved further west into Jay County, Indiana, where they appear to have resided for the remainder of their lives.⁵⁰⁰ Sarah, who was the mother of nine children by Jesse, died during the month of October 1841 in Jay County, Indiana.²⁰⁸

After Sarah passed away, Jesse married for a second time on 1 May 1842 to a woman named Sarah A. Bunch in Jay County, Indiana.¹²⁶ From his second marriage, Jesse Gray had six additional children, namely; Louisa, Joseph, Hezekiah, William, Minerva, and Nancy.⁶⁴⁷ Jesse died on 18 August 1871 in Jay County, Indiana.^{208,209} Both Jesse and Sarah (Stone) Gray were subsequently buried in the Hillside Cemetery at Pennville in Jay County, Indiana.²⁰⁸

She was calculated to have been born in Laurens County, South Carolina in 1794. ²¹¹ Millie was later married in Laurens County, South Carolina to a man named James Thomas Higgins on 25 May 1815. ^{8,212} James, who generally went by his middle name of Thomas, had been born in South Carolina in 1792. ²¹² He was the son of James Thomas Higgins, Sr. and Elizabeth Bramlet. ²¹²

Prior to his marrying Millie, Thomas Higgins served as a Private in Captain James Woods' Company of South Carolina Militia during the War of 1812.^{212,653} His enlistment ran from November 1814 to March 1815, and for his service Thomas later received a bounty of 80 acres of land.²¹²

Thomas and Millie later moved to Alabama, where they settled in Jefferson County.²¹² When the 1850 federal census of Jefferson County was enumerated, Thomas and Millie were found residing in Bethlehem Township, where Thomas was listed as being a laborer by trade.²¹¹ In 1871, Thomas applied for a pension for his service in the War of 1812 and was granted $8.00 per month.²¹² Millie is said to have died in 1860 in Jefferson County, Alabama, while Thomas died there in 1885.²¹²

147. Mary Ann Stone.

Mary Ann Stone, the daughter of Rolley and Elizabeth Stone, was calculated to have been born in about 1796 in Laurens County, South Carolina.²¹¹ Mary was apparently married twice during her life. She married first to a man named Elisha James DeLong in Laurens County, South Carolina.⁸ Elisha is said to have been born during the month of June 1793 in Spartanburg County, South Carolina.²¹³ Although no record of Mary's marriage to Elisha has been found, proof that they were married was found in a court case brought by Mary's mother, Elizabeth, on 6 March 1822.⁸ This case involved the ownership and partition of lands in Laurens County, South Carolina that had previously been owned by Mary's father, Rolley Stone.⁸

Sometime prior to 1820, Mary and Elisha moved to Georgia, where they settled in Captain Hansford's District in Jones County.⁶⁵⁶ Elisha's father, James DeLong, was residing next door according to that census.⁶⁵⁶ Elisha DeLong is believed to have died in Georgia in about 1830.²¹³

After her first husband passed away, Mary married for a second time to a man named William Boyd.²¹³ Sometime after their marriage, Mary and William moved to Alabama, where they settled in Jefferson County.^{211,213} Mary was shown on the 1850 census of Jefferson County living next to her brother Rolley Stone.²¹¹ Because William was not listed on the 1850 census of Jefferson County, Alabama, it is believed that he probably died prior to that census being enumerated.²¹¹ Mary, on the other hand died in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama in 1861.²¹³

NOTE: The offspring listed below as (female) was abstracted from available pre-1850 census records. This is also believed to be one of Elisha and Mary's children, but has yet to be positively identified. The 1820 census of Jones County, Georgia shows males 10001 - females 201.

150. Rolley Stone.

Rolley Stone (also written Raughley, Raleigh, and Rawley Stone), the son of Rolley and Elizabeth Stone, was calculated to have been born in 1801 in Laurens County, South Carolina.²¹¹ (NOTE: Although census records indicate Rolley was born in 1801, his sister, Elizabeth, was born on 18 May 1801. As such either Rolley and Elizabeth were twin children, or Rolley's birth, as shown in the 1850 and 1860 censuses is incorrect).

Rolley Stone was later married in South Carolina to a woman named Tabitha "Tabby" Parsons.^{215,216,217} Tabitha, who generally went by the nickname of "Tabby." was calculated to have been born in South Carolina in 1798.²¹¹ She was the daughter of Isaiah Parsons and Martha Travis.^{215,217}

Sometime during the first half of the 1830's, Rolley and his family left South Carolina and moved to Alabama, where they were found on the 1850 census residing on a farm in the Mud Creek District of Jefferson County.^{211,215} Rolley's widowed sister, Mary Ann (Stone) DeLong Boyd, and her four youngest children were found on the 1850 census residing next door to Rolley and Tabby.²¹¹ While residing in Jefferson County, Rolley Stone and his family were listed as members of the Mud Creek Baptist Church during the period 1844 until 1858.⁶⁷¹

Tabby was last found on the 1870 census of Jefferson County.⁶⁷² Although she undoubtedly died in Jefferson County, Alabama, the actual date of her death has not been determined. Rolley, on the other hand, died on 27 January 1892 at Razburg in Jefferson County, Alabama, and was buried in the Mud Creek Cemetery there.^{215,216}
