

BISHOP M'GOLRICK TO AID DRYS IN COUNTY OPTION FIGHT

HIBBING, Aug. 23.—Rev. Fr. A. B. C. Dunne, well known Eau Claire pastor who is an ardent dry advocate, Judge Martin Hughes, Bishop McGolrick of Duluth and Charles J. Hall of California are some of the men who will appear as speakers before the Hibbing voters in support of the move to make St. Louis county dry.

This information was given today by members of the local dry committee who are arranging for a series of meetings.

The first meeting was held tonight when Rev. Thomas K. Leech, range missionary; who made the fight against the Kostansek license in Virginia, spoke at the local headquarters.

House-to-House Canvass.

Rev. William Jobusch, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Eveleth, will speak tomorrow night in behalf of the dry cause. Friday night, Matt Dalley, Virginia, will speak at the headquarters.

Charles J. Hall, noted California lecturer who has been on the range for some time in the interest of the drys, will speak at a mass meeting to be held at the Hibbing armory Saturday night.

E. J. Larson of Virginia will also speak at that meeting and Senator Richard Jones, campaign manager, may be present.

Campaign leaders are now working out the plans for the house-to-house and man-to-man campaign. The list of voters at the last election and the signers of the "dry" petition have been obtained. From this list, the precinct and block leaders will get information for the house-to-house canvass.

The "wets" have opened no headquarters.
