Notes

The Breckinridge County Marriage Records burned in 1958 according to the Breckinridge County Archivist. This would make it almost impossible to obtain the "actual" marriage certificate.

Note: Denver and Effie share a common ancestor; Daniel M. Armes, Sr. He is Denver's mother's Grandfather and Effie's Father's Grandfather. This makes them several times removed from one another. Some of Denver's living relatives that I have spoken with have all commented on one of his most prominent physical features. He had rather large ears which by looking at some of the older photographs of him, I can say yes to that.

Research Note: I have attempted requisitioning Denver's death record to multiple sources. I have not been successful thus far. Two likely possibilities exist for this: 1. The December 22, 1975 death is incorrect or 2. The funeral home did not submit the required information to the Kentucky Department of Vital Records.

I would also like to decipher what the "C" for his middle initial stands for as my grandfather James C. Davis shares the same middle initial. It should be noted that Denver had 2 WWI Draft Registration Cards. They both contain identical information, but one of them appears to be a re-write as it is much nicer penmanship. My father believes that C doesn't really stand for anything
