Notes

John Langford was born about 1755 in Warren County, North Carolina. He married Martha "Patsey" Duke on July 27, 1787. Martha is believed in several sources to be a descendant of Simon and Martha Duke.

The information that most people seem to reference when researching John was written by Seth Warner. It is titled, "The Descendants and Antecedents of John D. Langford & Martha Eliza (Steed) Langford of Warren County, North Carolina" published in August 1982. It comes in form of several booklets.

September 1t, 1759. John and George Langford/Lankford are mentioned next to one another in the Returns of Processioning in Obedience to an order of Vestry, Before the Division of Cumberland Parish. Authors Note: There are 3 important surnames listed throughout the will of John Langford that further provide validity to the family line. They are Duke, Paschall and White. Duke is the surname of his wife. Paschall is the surname of the family that John's Grand daughter Susan and several other Langford's married into. White is the surname of the family that his brother Joab married into.

SUMMARY OF SOURCES FOR JOHN LANGFORD:

____(1) His own Last Will and Testament. (Written on July 5, 1823 and proven in 1828).

____(2) 1786 State Census of North Carolina, Warren County, Captain White's District, Page 4 lists John Lankford: 1 White Male between the age of 21 and 60; 1 Black (under 12/above 50). These are the only 2 people that are listed in the household which would make sense as John did not marry Martha Duke until one year later.

____(3) 1800 US Census, Warren County, North Carolina. Living in the household is: 1 Free White Male under the age of 10 (presumably Benjamin D. Lankford), 1 Free White Male between the age of 10 and 15, 1 Free White Male between the age of 16 and 25, 1 Free White Male between the age of 26-44 (presumably John Langford himself), 3 Free White Females under the age of 10 (Sarah, b. 1797, Delia, b. 1797 & Martha H., b. 1799), 2 Free White Females between the age of 16 and 25 and 1 Free White Female between the age of 26 and 44 (presumably Martha Patsey Duke Langford).

____(4) 1810 US Census, Warren County, North Carolina, Roll 42, Book 1, Page 749. The head of the household is listed as John Langford. The following persons are residing in this household: 1 Free White Male under the age of 10 years old (John D. Langford); 1 Free White Male between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Benjamin D. Lankford); 1 Free White Male age 45 and over (presumably John Langford); 3 Free White Females under the age of 10 (presumably his youngest daughters Mary H. Langford, Ailsey T. Langford and Mahala W. Langford); 2 Free White Females between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Sarah M. Langford and Martha H. Langford); 1 Free White Female between the age of 16 and 25 (presumably his eldest daughter, Delia T. Langford) and finally 1 Free White Female age 45 and over (presumably Martha Duke).

____(5) 1811 Tax List, Smith's Creek, Warren County, North Carolina. The list shows a John Langford owning 382 acres, only 1 white person and 0 slaves are recorded on this document.

____(6) 1814 Tax Rolls, Hawtree District, Warren County, North Carolina. His name is recorded as John Langford.

____(7) 1820 US Census, North Carolina, Warren County, Page 800 (Hand Numbered), (Ancestry.com image # 5 of 14). 3 Free White Males under 10 years old, 1 Free White Male between the age of 26-45 (presumably John Langford himself), 1 Free White Female under the age of 10 (possibly Mahala), and 1 Free White Female between the age of 26-45 (presumably Martha Patsey Duke Langford). The census also annotates that there is 1 person in the household that is employed in manufacturing.

Notes

No other ancestor has intrigued me more than Benjamin D. Lankford during my research into our family's history. He is one of the pivotal ancestors in our family history and the one that has tied many of us together. I know that there are other ancestor's that have touched or intrigued other members of my family, but unraveling the mystery of Benjamin has been one of my quests.

Benjamin D. Lankford was born in 1795 in Warren County, North Carolina. He was the oldest son of John Langford and Martha "Patsey" Duke. Benjamin also has a rather impressive legacy of fathering what I believe to be a total of 15 children between his two wives. Benjamin was a farmer for the entire course of his life. Additionally, Benjamin and several of his children were not the type to stay in the same area over the course of their lifetime. As you will see, there was quite a bit of migration from this family pack

In May 1814, at the age of 19, Benjamin was drafted to fight against the British in the War of 1812. Benjamin was assigned to the 1st Regiment of the North Carolina Militia. This Regiment was commanded by Colonel Durcan McDonald. Benjamin's Company was commanded by a Lieutenant John L. Laughter, who I believe to be none other than John Langford Laughter, son of John Laughter and Mary Langford. I am still as of this date, looking at that connection with some other researchers.

There is also a War of 1812 Pension Record for a John Langford that served in the 1st Regiment of the North Carolina Militia under Colonel McDonald. I had originally assumed that this John Langford was Benjamin's brother, John D. Langford. It seemed to make sense that two brothers would have served in the same Regiment. Upon closer examination though, I have determined that Benjamin's brother John D. Langford could NOT have served in the War of

Family Group Sheet

1812. John D. Langford was born in 1808. This would have made him approximately 6 years old in 1814 when the North Carolina Militia was called into service. I found it hard to believe that there was a 6 year old running across the battlefield with a rifle. On September 15, 2004, I requested the Pension and Bounty Land Warrant File for this John Langford who served with Benjamin. Perhaps he is a cousin or an Uncle. We will soon hopefully see what history will tell us.

A fellow Langford genealogy researcher, was kind enough to share an excerpt from a book that gives us a glimpse of the conditions that Benjamin D. Langford experienced during the War of 1812. The book is: "Frustrated Patriots: North Carolina and the War of 1812," by Sarah McCulloh Lemmon; 1973, The University of North Carolina Press; ISBN 0-8078-1209-9; Pages. 88-89:

"Clothing and shelter were not for the most part a problem for the militiamen, for their term of service was brief. There were, however, some exceptions. The troops called out during the summer of 1812 to man the forts until the regular army could take over found themselves still in service as September wore on. The nights began to get cold and their commanding officers feared that "to many it may prove fatal" unless clothes and blankets were soon secured. Log houses "covered well with clapboards" were erected for shelter. These men were eventually relieved by the regulars. A more difficult situation arose in 1814 and 1815, when the militia again went on duty along the coast, some to Norfolk and others to Fort Hampton and Beacon Island. The men had marched with their summer clothing and, as in the case of Wellborn's Tenth Regiment, were not supplied with winter clothing before cold weather came. Appeals were made in the press for gifts to help these soldiers secure clothing and blankets. The situation at Norfolk was "almost incredible" reported Colonel Duncan McDonald to Governor Miller; some 160 men had already died in his regiment. The men on Beacon Island had no wood for fires, and indeed no fireplaces; their only clothing was summer homespun. Of the 451 men stationed there, only 180 were in good health and able to report for duty."

This person was also kind enough to share another excerpt from a book that describes another interesting insight. This book is called: "North Carolina the History of a Southern State." by Hugh Talmage Lefler and Albert Ray Newsome; 1954 and 1963 by UNC Press: Page 295.

"In September, 1814, after a British force had burned the national capital and had threatened the whole Chesapeake area, Madison (President James Madison) requisitioned 1,500 North Carolina Militia of those already in service to 'march with all possible dispatch to aid in the defense of Norfolk, Virginia. They carried out orders, reached that city, where they were soon joined by another 1,000 from North Carolina. But they remained idle and North Carolina citizens were called on to supply them with clothing and blankets, since the United States government was unable to do so."

Based upon these two separate accounts that tell similar tales, it would appear that Benjamin's Regiment never saw any combat action. Their biggest enemy it would appear was logistics; food, clothing and shelter.

Benjamin was discharged as a private from the North Carolina Militia on February 2, 1815 in Norfolk, Virginia. Shortly after his discharge from the Militia, Benjamin began to migrate to Kentucky. His migration occurred sometime between 1815 and 1817.

Benjamin was allotted 2 bounty land warrants from his service in the War of 1812. They were numbered: 10,069-80-50 and 13,018-80-55. 10,069 and 13,018 are the actual Warrant serial numbers. The 80 signifies the acreage of the Warrant. The 50 and 55 represents the year that the Warrant was issued. I have researched these bounties and Benjamin was not the one that claimed them. This was not uncommon. Many soldiers would sell their bounty land warrants.

Benjamin married his first wife, Nancy Wood, about 1817 probably in Warren County, Kentucky. The proof for this union is rather interesting I think. Benjamin's second wife, Mary Ann Eliza Cherry gives an account of Benjamin's life when she applied to the Pension Bureau to receive Benjamin's Pension check after he passed away in 1854. On page 2 of her affidavit, she mentions the year and place of Benjamin's first marriage (Mary Ann testifies that they were married in Simpson County but at the time of the marriage, it would have actually been Warren County as Simpson County was not formed for two years later in 1819). Additionally, Mary Ann records the year and place of Nancy's death (October 2, 1840 in Simpson County). Benjamin was obviously very honest and forthwith about his first marriage to his second wife in order for Mary Ann to recall this type of information.

Current day Simpson County, Kentucky, is located adjacent to and immediately south of Warren County. Simpson County Kentucky was created by a Legislative Act of January 28, 1819 from Logan, Warren, and Allen Counties. This is important to note because as you may have noticed, Benjamin is found in both Simpson and Warren Counties during his lifetime.

Family Group Sheet

About 1817, Benjamin and Nancy had their first child in Warren County, Kentucky. This causes me to speculate that they were married during their migration in Kentucky while crossing the Cumberland Gap. Nancy Wood was born on July 20, 1795 in North Carolina.

Benjamin named the majority of his son's after famous military leaders and some prominent political figures. A couple of these figures are not so famous in words, but by action. I will add a little history in each of his son's genealogy area of who I believe they were named after.

Benjamin and Nancy had what I believe to be 9 children, all of which are listed below. A descendant of one of his son's, William Alexander Langford was kind enough to share a significant portion of his genealogy research regarding Benjamin and Nancy. Thank you for your insight and information.

In 1828, Benjamin's father, John Langford passed away. In his his Last Will and Testament (written in 1823 and executed in August 1828), John gives his son, Benjamin D. Langford, 55 1/2 acres of land adjacent to John E. Tucker and Michael W. Paschall in Warren County, North Carolina.

I have researched the Warren Co, North Carolina, deeds to determine what became of the 55 acres left by his father, John Langford, to Benjamin D. Lankford. I employed the services of Ginger L. Christmas-Beattie, a very well known Warren County, NC researcher and old document transcriptionist to investigate all of the available Land deeds within 5 years in direction of John Langford's death. She did come up with many interesting Deeds that I was unaware of, but nothing on the sale or disposition of this 55 acres of land.

My current suspicion is that Benjamin was never aware that his father had passed away. John was in North Carolina and Benjamin was living in Kentucky. I believe that Benjamin was never aware that he had been willed these 55 1/2 acres. Secondly, John mentions Benjamin toward the end. Perhaps he believed there was no way to get word to his son Benjamin and merely listed him as a courtesy. I continue to search for a record of this 55 1/2 acre transaction, if it does exist. We may never know for sure.

On October 2, 1840 in Warren County, Kentucky, Benjamin lost his first wife Nancy Wood, after 23 years of marriage. (Source: War of 1812 Pension & Bounty Land Warrant Record). I believe that the Civil War Union Army Veteran, James W. Lankford, was the last child she gave birth to.

On December 10, 1843 in Warren County, Kentucky, 3 years after the death of his first wife, Benjamin married Mary Ann Eliza Cherry. They were married by D.L. Mansfield, Minister of the Gospel. (Source: Marriage Certificate, War of 1812 Pension Record). Mary Ann was also previously married to James Otey. You will see Mary Ann's name listed as Mary Ann Otey. Benjamin D. Lankford and Mary Ann Eliza Cherry had 6 children that I am aware of. The first born was Thomas in 1844 in Warren County, Kentucky and the last was Spotswood Ewing Lankford in 1854 in Warren County, Kentucky.

On December 10, 1854, Benjamin D. Lankford passed away in Warren County, Kentucky. Sadly, it would appear that his last born child Spotswood, was only 6 days old when his Father passed away. It must have made Benjamin feel proud to be able to hold his newly born son just before he died. There are several different dates given for the death of Benjamin D. Lankford, all of which occurred in 1854. These include: December 10, December 13, and December 23. I have opted to choose December 10, 1854 as that was the date given by Mary Ann Eliza Cherry in her affidavit to receive Benjamin's Pension. My search continues for the location of Benjamin's grave site, if there is indeed a marked tombstone.

The 1860 US Census does not show Benjamin, which would support the research that he died in 1854 which would have been before this census. Additionally, this would make me believe that he is buried somewhere in Warren County (possibly Bowling Green) as his wife had not left the county yet.

I have corresponded with Seth L. Warner to get a feel for his thoughts on the connection of my Benjamin D. Lankford and the Benjamin D Lankford that is the son of the John Langford listed in his book. For those who are unaware of Seth, he authored the genealogy booklets entitled, "The Descendants and Antecedents of John Parham Rose and Mary H. (Langford) Rose of Warren County, North Carolina. Mary H. Langford is who I "believe" to be the sister of my Benjamin D. Lankford.

____(5) 1800 US Census, Warren County, North Carolina. Living in the household is: 1 Free White Male under the age of 10 (presumably Benjamin D. Lankford), 1 Free White Male between the age of 10 and 15, 1 Free White Male between the age of 16 and 25, 1 Free White Male between the age of 26-44 (presumably John Langford himself), 3 Free White Females under the age of 10 (Sarah, b. 1797, Delia, b. 1797 & Martha H., b. 1799), 2 Free White Females between the age of 16 and 25 and 1 Free White Female between the age of 26 and 44 (presumably Martha Patsey Duke Langford).

____(6) 1810 US Census, Warren County, North Carolina, Roll 42, Book 1, Page 749. The head of the household is listed as John Langford. The following persons are residing in this household: 1 Free White Male under the age of 10 years old (John D. Langford); 1 Free White Male between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Benjamin D. Lankford); 1 Free White Male age 45 and over (presumably John Langford); 3 Free White Females under the age of 10 (presumably his youngest daughters Mary H. Langford, Ailsey T. Langford and Mahala W. Langford); 2 Free White Females between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Sarah M. Langford and Martha H. Langford); 1 Free White Female between the age of 16 and 25 (presumably his eldest daughter, Delia T. Langford) and finally 1 Free White Female age 45 and over (presumably Martha Duke).

____(7) 1820 US Census, in Warren County, Kentucky. The census shows Benjamin D. Lankford as the Head of Household. Living in the household is 1 free white male between age 16 and under 26 (this would be Benjamin), 2 free white females under the age of 10 (these would be Jane and Eleanor) and 1 free white female age 16-26 (this would be his first wife, Nancy Wood).

____(8) 1830 US Census, Simpson County, Kentucky, Sheet 29A. Living in this household is 1 Free White Male under the age of 5, 4 Free White Males between the age of 5 and 10 years old, 1 Free White Male between the age of ten and fifteen, 1 free white male between the age of 30 and 40 (Benjamin D. was b. 1795 = 35 yrs. old), 4 Free White Females between the age of ten and fifteen, 1 Free White Female between the age of 15 and 20 and 1 free white female between the age of 30 and 40 (Nancy Wood was b. 1795 = 35 yrs. old). There are no slaves listed in this household with a total of 13 people residing at this household. Pay particular attention to the following 5 neighboring families as they are an important anchor on the following 1840 census. They are: Deathridge, Hendrick, Lockhart, Noel and Slds.

____(9) 1840 US Census, Simpson County, Kentucky, Roll 124, Book 1, Sheet 187. This household lists 2 Free White Males between the age of 5 and 10 years old, 1 Free White Male between the age of 30 and 40, 3 Free White Females under the age of 5, 1 Free White Female between the age of 5 and 10 years old and 1 Free White Female between the age of 30 and 40 years old. There are no slaves listed and the total quantity of people listed is 8. Additionally, 2 people in the family are listed as being employed in agriculture. Now for the discrepancies found in the 1840 Census. The first and most obvious error is the spelling of his name. It is listed as Benjamin P. Landford. Secondly, the ages for Benjamin and Nancy appear to be inaccurate. If both Benjamin and Nancy were born in 1795, they would be 45 years old. This means that they would both be recorded inaccurately in the wrong column. Now, do you remember the neighboring families of Deathridge, Hendrick, Lockhart, Noel and Slds? They are all still living right next to Benjamin and Nancy. One family is a coincidence but 5 is unbelievable. This leads me to believe that the enumerator has made multiple errors on this census. This provides me with another important fact. Benjamin has lived in the same location for at least 10 years and possibly as many as 20 years.

____(10) 1850 US Census, Warren County, Kentucky, District 1, Sheet 29, Household #391, (Enumerated on September 2, 1850), Line #13, The census shows Benjamin D. Lankford (Age: 55, Sex: Male, Occupation: Farmer) born in North Carolina, residing with his wife Mary and 6 children.

SOURCES STILL NEEDED FOR BENJAMIN D. LANKFORD:

____(A) Marriage record from Warren County marriage records: 10 Dec 1843; her consent, Sec. E. P. Howell. Benjamin D. Lankford and Mary Ann Otey. A154. <Requested on 09/22/2004 and returned with no record on file.>.

____(B) Marriage Certificate for Benjamin D. Lankford and Nancy Wood.

____(C) Tombstone of Benjamin D. Lankford (If it exists).

____(D) Kentucky Land Grants (If there are any).

____(E) Verification of Benjamin selling the 55 1/2 acres that I believe he received from his father, John Langford. (If it exists). There are several possibilities for locating a record of this type. A listing in North Carolina or possibly even Kentucky is possible.

OTHER BENJAMIN LANKFORD/LANGFORD'S THAT ARE NOT OURS:

I believe that since Benjamin is such an important genealogy link, it is necessary to list some other potential Benjamin

Family Group Sheet

Lankford's that I have ruled out.

- (1) There is a Benjamin Lankford that was born ca. 1792 in North Carolina listed on the 1870 US Census, Mt. Pleasant PO, Harlan County, Roll 468, Book 1, District 1, Page 18, Household #117 that is NOT our Benjamin. Remember, our Benjamin died in 1854 so he could not possibly be living in 1870. This Benjamin is also found in the 1850 Census in Harlan County, Kentucky.
- (2) There is a Benjamin Lankford that was born ca. 1818 listed on the 1870 US Census in Pulaski County, Kentucky. His age is obviously not in the right time frame.
- (3) There is a Benjamin Lankford that was born ca. 1798 in North Carolina living in District 6, Lewis County, Tennessee in the 1850 Census in Household #94.
- (4) There are also some Benjamin Lankford's residing in Alabama, Maryland and Indiana during our Benjamin's lifetime, but they are not close enough in age to consider.

Marriage Notes

Benjamin and Mary were married by Minister D.L. Mansfield - Minister of the Gospel. Different sources list their Marriage as December 9 and December 10, 1843. I have chosen December 10, 1843 as that is the date given on the certificate I received from the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA).

On 09/22/2004, I requested a marriage certificate copy from the county courthouse under the following information: Benjamin Lankford and Mary Ann Otey, Warren County, December 9, 1843; her consent, Sec. E.P. Howell.

Notes

An entire set of genealogy booklets was written on John Dole Langford by Seth Warner. It is called: "The Descendants and Antecedents of John D. Langford and Martha Eliza (Steed) Langford of Warren County, North Carolina (August 1982). Bill K. Langford was kind enough to send me a copy of the pertinent sections. I used this booklet for most of the information on this lineage. A word of caution regarding this booklet however, both Bill and I have found some errors in the book. The primary error that I believe being that Benjamin D. Lankford migrated to Tennessee. For the most part however, it contains a great deal of accurate information from the time.

John's middle name is thought by some to be Dole and David by other's. It could also be Duke for his mother maiden name. I would certainly like to know though as it may be the same as his brother and my ancestor, Benjamin D. Lankford.

SUMMARY OF SOURCES FOR JOHN D. LANGFORD:

____(1) Last Will and Testament of his Father, John Langford (Written on July 5, 1823 and proved in 1828). He was left 55 1/2 acres.

____(2) North Carolina Marriage Bonds, 1741-1868 lists John D Langford and Martha E Steed receiving a marriage bond. Bond Date: 15 Mar 1837, Bond #: 000161645, Image Number: 007615, County: Warren, Record #: 01 147, Bondsman: Henry T Allen, Witness: E W Best.

____(3) 1810 US Census, Warren County, North Carolina, Roll 42, Book 1, Page 749. The head of the household is listed as John Langford. The following persons are residing in this household: 1 Free White Male under the age of 10 years old (John D. Langford); 1 Free White Male between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Benjamin D. Lankford); 1 Free White Male age 45 and over (presumably John Langford); 3 Free White Females under the age of 10 (presumably his youngest daughters Mary H. Langford, Ailsey T. Langford and Mahala W. Langford); 2 Free White Females between the age of 10 and 15 (presumably Sarah M. Langford and Martha H. Langford); 1 Free White Female between the age of 16 and 25 (presumably his eldest daughter, Delia T. Langford) and finally 1 Free White Female age 45 and over (presumably Martha Duke).

____(4) 1830 US Census, North Carolina, Warren County, Smith's Creek District, Page 585 (Hand Numbered), (Ancestry.com image 3 of 6). Living in this household is 1 Free White Male age 10-15, 1 Free White Male age 20-30 (John D. Langford), 1 Free White Female age 15-20 (Possibly Mahala b. Abt. 1811 = 19 years old), 1 Free White Female age 20-30 (Possibly Alicy T.), 1 Free White Female age 60-70 (Possibly John's mother, Patsey Duke Langford), 1 Slave. There are 6 total people living at this household.

____(5) 1840 US Census, Unknown Townships, Warren County, North Carolina, Roll 372, Page 45. He is listed as John D. Lankford. Living in this household are the following people: 1 Free White Male under the age of 5, 1 Free White Male between the age of 30 and 40 (presumably John Dole Langford himself), 1 Free White Female under the age of 5 (presumably Martha A. Langford), and 1 Free White Female between the age of 20 and 30 (presumably Martha Eliza Steed). There is an entry at the bottom of this Census page that reads, "For rest of Warren see last pages of Vol. 9 following Tyrrell County."

____(6) 1850 US Census, Sandy Creek District, Warren County, North Carolina, Page 7B, Household #107. He is listed as John Langford, age: 43, male, occupation: farmer and carpenter.
