

22 DEAD AT COLTON.

One New Yorker Lost Life in the Southern Pacific Wreck.

COLTON, Cal., March 29.—The death list of the wreck yesterday of a west-bound passenger train on the Southern Pacific Railroad at an open switch in the Colton yards, to-night totals at least 22. The dead:

Albert W. Shio, mail clerk; George L. Sharpe, Muncie, Ind.; F. I. Walters, Sacramento; William Hill, New York City, and 17 Italians.

While positive statements have been made that there are from four to eight bodies under one of the cars, the railroad officials declare that there is no evidence to that effect. Some of the eight persons still in hospitals may die.

The New York Times

Published: March 30, 1907

Copyright © The New York Times