Regimental History:

One Hundred and Ninth Infantry

INDIANA

Minute Men. -- Word being received at Indianapolis on the evening of July 8, 1863, that a force of 6,000 cavalry under Morgan had crossed the Ohio River near Mauckport and was moving on Corydon, a call was issued for citizens to organize for defense.

Within 48 hours 65,000 men had tendered their services. From this number regiments 102 to 114 inclusive, and one battalion were organized, the battalion being assigned to the 107th.

One Hundred and Ninth Infantry. -- Col., John R. Mahan; Lieut.Col., James L. Angell; Maj., McHenry Brooks.

This regiment was organized July 10, 1863, with ten companies of minute men. Two of these were volunteers from Coles county, IL, who offered their services and were accepted by the government. Two were from Laporte County, Ind., two from Hamilton, two from Miami, one from Randolph, and one other, making an aggregate of 709 men rank and file.

The regiment left Indianapolis for Hamilton, Ohio, on the 13th, going thence to Cincinnati. The enemy having passed out of the state, the regiment returned to Indianapolis and was mustered out July 17, 1863.

REPORT OF COL. JOHN R. MAHAN, 109TH REGIMENT MINUTE MEN.

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, 1
July 18th, 1863. /

Adjutant General State of Indiana:

SIR: I have the honor to submit to you the following report of the part taken by the 109th Regiment of Minute Men that I had the pleasure of commanding during Morgan's late raid through Indiana and Ohio :

In pursuance of an order emanating from Governor Morton, Commander-in-Chief of the Indiana Militia, at 5 o'clock P. M. on the evening of the 13th we marched from the State House yard to the depot and boarded the train for Ohio.

In the formation of the brigade commanded by Brig. Gen. Carrington my regiment was entitled to the right. At 6 o'clock P. M.

I notified the Superintendent of the road that my regiment was ready to move out, and on account of an unusual delay we were detained until 10 o'clock, at which time, in pursuance of Governor Morton's order, I assumed command of the brigade, and ordered the Superintendent of the road to move the whole brigade out without delay. He pledged me to move us out in ten minutes. At 10 o'clock I was relieved of the command by Brig. Gen. Hascall. At 12 o'clock at night the brigade moved out, and arrived at Hamilton, Ohio, at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 14th, at which place I received a dispatch from Governor Morton, stating that my entire command would be mounted^ at Hamilton, with orders to move as rapidly as possible, which dispatch I handed to Gen. Hascall in person. At 2 o'clock P. M. I left Hamilton, under Gen. Hascall's order, and arrived at Cincinnati at 5 o'clock P. M.

On arriving at Cincinnati I received an order from Gen. Hascall in person, to remain on board the hog cars until he could have an interview with Maj. Gen. Burnside, which order I obeyed, with no small degree of suffering to my men from the intense heat and confinement and strong scented cars. At 8 o'clock P. M. I moved off the train and marched to the Sixth street Market House and camped for the night. At 9 o'clock I repaired to the quarters of General Burnside, and received an order from him for warm supper and breakfast for my entire regiment. At 1 o'clock P. M., the 15th, the heat being very intense in the position we were occupying, I again visited General Burnside's head-quarters and received an order to remove a cavalry force that was occupying Eighth street Park and occupy the same with my regiment, which order I obeyed immediately, and found the quarters to be very palatable to my men, for which they gave three hearty cheers for General Burnside. We remained in that position until after supper. There being a prospect for rain. I received permission from General Burnside to occupy the Court House and two large halls for the night.

At 5 o'clock on the morning of the 16th we marched back to Eighth street Park for breakfast, and at 7 o'clock A. M. we marched to the I. and C. railroad and shipped for Indianapolis, by order of Brig. Gen. Hascall, at which place we arrived on the morning of the 17th, after a tedious ride of twenty-two hours. At 6 o'clock we took breakfast at the Soldiers Home, and at 9 o'clock A. M. we were mustered out of the service.

In conclusion let me state that I cannot speak in too high terms of the officers and men of my command it being composed

Of Indiana and Illinois troops. The officers and men from Indiana did their duty in every respect, and I was particularly pleased with the gentlemanly appearance and soldier like conduct of that part of my command from Illinois. The discipline of all the companies was so perfect that we had no straggling from the regiment, and what is very remarkable we had not one single case of intoxication while the regiment was in the service.

I am, General,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient service,

J. R. MAHAN,
Col. Comd g 109th Reg t Indiana Militia.

82. Newspaper Article, "Baker's Corner Precinct, etc." Noblesville Ledger, Friday 9 Oct 1874, page 1. Acc000897/Doc0780.pdf.

Extract: The Independent Attempts, from a communication signed "Jackson Township," to create the impression that J. R. Gray had taken it upon himself to secure the establishment of a precinct at Baker's Corner, in Adams township, at the request of the Foulke family. This precinct was established by the commissioners at their last session upon the petition of thirty citizens in the immediate vicinity of the place. They are old men, many of them, and good citizens; and what is more, many of them are Democrats, Reformers, and Anti-Secrets. The petitioners working in the matter recommended the appointment of John B. Foulke as Inspector. Mr. Gray and Mr. Hall were both opposed to the establishment of the precinct, offering as a reason that two precincts in a township that size was certainly enough, and an unnecessary expense was incurred by making another. Mr. Gray took it upon himself to notify such of the citizens of Adams township as he could find upon the streets, and asked them to come up and oppose it. Some of whom did so. But the Board finding no special opposition from the township, and through a desire to accommodate the petitioners, established the precinct. And if anything, it is against the interest of the Republican party.

Mr. Gray has repeatedly said that no lawyer should be permitted to extortion off of the county as Dave Moss attempts to do every time he gets a chance. That the tendency to employ lawyers in criminal cases at such enormous figures, as has been practiced in our courts, is wrong, and ought to be abandoned. That when an attorney is appointed to attend to criminal cases, a just compensation only should be allowed by the courts, and not such fees as private parties might pay. Judge Craven appointed Moss to attend to the Foulke case [Amasa Foulke, ID0097] and after the trial he referred the further prosecution to the commissioners. The Board tried to employ Moss to continue before they spoke to any one else. And they considered his fee exorbitant and could get no concessions from him; they then employed Judge Garver & Losey for less than half the amount Moss demanded. They considered Garver & Losey competent, and did not propose to allow further extortion upon the treasury. Of course, the Independent is grieved that its corps o' editors could not get another grab.

Society of Friends--Spicewood.--

This congregation held its first meeting at a house on the land later owned by Elijah JAY (in 1880), one-half mile west of Spicewood, in November, 1865. The preparative meeting for business was held July 26, 1866, in a log cabin on the land of Amos COOK, one-half mile south of Spicewood. Jesse MILLS, Elijah JAY, Patty FURNAS and Lydia Ann COOK constituted the committee then appointed. Christopher SPRAY and Eunice FURNAS were the first permanent Clerks, and Samuel W. COOK the first Treasurer.

The first persons who joined the meeting were Amos HARRY and family, Carey LINTON and family, and William EMRY and daughter Ollie. In the fall of 1869, the society erected their house of worship, at a cost of $910. (This house was still in use in 1880.) The Spicewood Monthly Meeting was first convened for business October 26, 1871. It then had no minister, but by 1880 had four, viz.: John COOK, Eunice FURNAS, Marian SIMONS and Charity REAGAN. John B. and Mary FOULKE were the clerks in 1880. _
