

INDEX OF PERSONAL NAMES

Indexes and glossary valid for the 2003 edition only: reader's aids with different page numbers are available for use with the original book. Note that some indexed pages contain several references to a particular name, and that a single name may refer to more than one individual, or that a single individual may be indexed under more than one name. This index is strictly alphabetical, e.g. Willington, Woodcock, Wylinton.

Notes:

William Park Dickins: the date of his death was printed as 1907 in the 1934 edition, but in the copy used for this compilation, the date had been corrected to 1909, apparently in a contemporary hand and possibly by the author herself.

William Pynnok: the 1934 text has Pynnok and the author's index, Pynnock.

A Little History Of Cherington & Stourton - Index Of Places

Notes on the Index of Places

1. It appears that where a place was sufficiently close to Cherington and Stourton to be known to local people - the intended readership to judge from the author's Preface - she omitted its county when mentioning it in the text.
2. Counties are correct for 1934; where a place was formerly in a different county, this is stated (see note 11). County abbreviations used are the standard (Chapman) genealogical codes, as follows: BRK Berkshire; CHI Channel Islands; CON Cornwall; GLS Gloucestershire; KEN Kent; LIN Lincolnshire; LND City of London; OXF Oxfordshire; SSX Sussex; WAR Warwickshire; WOR Worcestershire; WIL Wiltshire.
3. Ascot: bearing in mind the comment made in Note 1 above, this is almost certainly the hamlet in Whichford parish rather than any more distant Ascot.
4. Chelmscote: Upper and Lower Chelmscote are two hamlets N. of Brailes and SW of Tysoe.
5. Little Cherington is the NW part of Cherington, bounded to the E. by Featherbed Lane; to the N., by the road between Featherbed Lane and Cherington Mill; to the W., by the road from the mill S. to the church, and to the S., by the road from the church to the war memorial at the top (S) end of Featherbed Lane. When the telephone exchange was built, in the days before STD (numerical area) codes, local numbers used the name "Little Cherington", since the exchange was in Little Cherington (near the Village Hall).
6. Little Wolford: a hamlet in Great Wolford parish, a mile NE of the church.
7. Schawe, diocese of Salisbury: probably Shaw WIL, near Melksham.
8. Sutton, Worcestershire: this is possibly the hamlet of Sutton, 2 miles SE of Tenbury. It is the only Sutton in that county in Lewis's Gazetteer of 1850.
9. Tydilingnton/Tydelingnton: in view of the origins of the other people involved in the assault and the scene of this, Shipston-on-Stour, the names may perhaps refer to what is now Tidmington WAR, just over a mile south of Shipston.
10. Welford may be identified as Welford-on-Avon in Warwickshire by the reference to the bridge near the adjoining hamlet of Binton.
11. Warwickshire places mentioned that were formerly in another county include:
