According to the 1650 census of Solbach, there were SEVEN families living in that small farming village. Note: The name Colla is an early recorded spelling variation on the Christman family. Since the Solbach and Wildersbach communities were in the Alsace territory where ownership switched back and forth between the French and Germans, there were dramatic name changes: Loux - Lux, Christman - Colai - Colla, Mareschal - Schmid, Brintz - Bernhard, Claus - Collas [Christman], Bantza - Banset.

fort # fls = Florins = coinage (personal monetary value in homestead that had to be reported for taxation)
