FOREWORD.

IT is now more than thirty years since I began to collect information regarding the Smythies Family, with a view to compiling some sort of record of its genealogy. Since that time my views of life naturally have changed and, whatever my earlier ideas may have been, I am now labouring under no delusion as to the absolute value of even the longest and most illustrious of pedigrees. But in human affairs we must have regard to relative as well as to absolute values.

A large amount of time and energy have been spent on the collection and arrangement of the information recorded in this genealogy, and I think it is only right that the result should be made available for the use of those who are likely to be interested in it. Few would venture to assert that good family traditions have not helped to keep many a man straight on the high road of life, or to deny the usefulness of an intelligent study of the careers of others, including those of our own kith and kin, in whom we may often see ourselves instructively reflected.

Increased self-respect, and a desire in no way to be unworthy of those of our own stock who have set a good example, should be the result of a knowledge that our predecessors on the world's stage have been men and women of worth, who according to their lights endeavoured to fill creditably that state of life to which they were called. Whether they were among those whom the world accounted great, or whether they were known only to their own circles as kindly members of their families and good citizens, matters not at all, for equally useful lessons can be learnt in either case; and if amongst our forbears should be found some whose example does not appear to us good, from them, too, useful lessons can be learnt. The notion that a man with a long pedigree can live on credit derived from the deeds or social position of his ancestors, whilst he himself ignores virtue, is absurd; and whatever may have been possible in the past, in these twentieth-century days such an illusion is apt to lead to very unpleasant experiences for those who are foolish enough to entertain it.

With these few remarks, which are intended merely to prevent misconception as to the spirit in which this genealogy is published, I offer it to my relations and connexions, and any others whom it may concern, with all good wishes.

I gratefully acknowledge my indebtedness to those who have so kindly given me their help and sympathy, and responded, often at a cost of time and trouble to themselves, to my frequent applications for tiresome details; and I hope there may be nothing contained in these records which will give pain or offence to anyone.

R. H. RAYMOND SMYTHIES.

THE first portion of these Records to appear in print was the Exemplification of Arms and Grant of Crest to George Smythies of Wyke Court in the county of Somerset, which document, with an illustration of the arms, crest, and mantling, was reproduced in the March, 1869, number (Part XL., First Series) of Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica, as stated on page 1 herein. Over forty years afterwards the Editor of this leading Genealogical Journal again offered the hospitality of its pages to place on record further information connected with the Smythies Family, and this time the contribution was of much greater length and importance, for it embraced the Pedigree and the Genealogical Notes relating to it, which, by the courtesy of the Proprietors of the Journal, are reproduced in this volume.

The first part of the Pedigree was published in December 1910, and the last part of the Genealogical Notes in December 1911, the whole being included in Volume IV., Fourth Series, of the periodical. A comparison of the Pedigree and Notes in Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica with those in this book will, however, shew that certain small errors which appeared in the first publication have been corrected herein, and entries relating to recent events, such as the marriage of Evelyn Arthur Smythies (B 23), and the birth of his son Bertram Evelyn Smythies, have been added, thus making the record more accurate and up-to-date.

Very great care has been taken to ensure the reliability of all statements, and though to quote the authority for every date and name has not been found practicable, the sources from which all the most important data have been derived are given in the genealogical or other notes. Facts regarding people now living, or only recently deceased, have been in most cases ascertained from the people themselves or their nearest relations, or are within the personal knowledge of the Compiler. Wills, official records, legal deeds, parish registers, standard books of reference, and family documents have been the main sources of information regarding the past, and useful additional information has been obtained from such publications as county histories, The Gentleman's Magazine, and The Ipswich Journal.

In "Supplementary Data" several references which could not be used in the Pedigree, or which have not yet been fully investigated, are given. These, it is thought, may be of use to some genealogist in the future, if such should be found, who is desirous of amplifying still further the records of the Smythies Family. Every year the labours of the searcher are being reduced by the publication in printed form of all kinds of records, public and private, which for centuries have been hidden away in cellars or lumber-rooms, unclassified or even unknown, many of them only decipherable by experts and requiring an enormous amount of time, patience, and knowledge to make them available for purposes of research. It seems probable that amongst these may be found the information which is still lacking to make the Smythies Pedigree at the end of the sixteenth and beginning of the seventeenth centuries more clear. Indications are not wanting that the Chancery Proceedings of that period, if thoroughly searched, might yield the information required, and the useful publications of The Parish Register Society might at any time give valuable help in the direction needed. For instance, no record of the marriage of Sir Arthur Smythes (32 on p. 29), Sheriff of Worcester in 1631-3, has yet been found, though it seems probable that he did marry, and that Dorothy Lady Smythes of St. Andrew's, Holborn, who died in 1713 (see pp. 77, 78), was his wife. Lady Smythes' son Ferdinand Smythes, Fellow of Queen's College, Cambridge, died in 1725, aged 78; he was, therefore, 64 when his mother died in 1713, and she was probably about 85. These dates suggest that she was the widow of Sir Arthur, and an examination of the Record Office documents, or parish registers, might confirm this; but as Ferdinand Smythes appears to have died a bachelor, and the main object of research in the early period—to find the father of William Smythies, Vicar of Belchamp in 1623—did not seem likely to be advanced by establishing the connexion between Dorothy Lady Smythes and Sir Arthur, investigation of this question has not been carried further at present.

Another line of research, which seems more likely to justify the time and trouble which would be required to follow it up, is that connected with William Smithes (sic), who was engaged in a lawsuit with Anne Wyatt and others in 1627-28 regarding the purchase of the Manors of Killingworth and Rudfin (see p. 78). This William may have been identical with William Smythes of Cardington (33 on p. 29), and William Smythes of Fleet Street (see p. 29), but on the other hand he may have been William Smythes (11 on p. 24), son of George Smythes of Wrington, about whom more information would be most interesting.

It may seem strange that these matters have not been fully investigated before the publication of this work, but to anyone who has attempted genealogical research it will be known that practically there is no end to possible sources of information, and that as each one is tried others suggest themselves. It was tempting to continue the search and delay the publication until every bit of information desired had been obtained, but had that been done, and the opportunity of publishing which presented itself not taken, it might have resulted in all that is contained in this volume being left unprinted—a mass of manuscript notes more or less unintelligible to anyone but the Compiler.

In these circumstances it seemed best to stop further research for the present and publish at once the records already collected, leaving to the future the task of elucidating those details in the early part of the Pedigree shortly before and after the year 1600 which still remain obscure. More especially did this seem desirable, since the very fact of the publication might be the means of obtaining the desired information.

To allow for additions a set of blank pages has been bound into each volume, so that on these can be entered not only further details regarding the past, but records of births, deaths, marriages, and other events of interest in the future as they occur. Extra illustrations and newspaper cuttings relating to the Family can also be inserted if desired.

The book has been provided with a large number of illustrations, in the hope that this will add to its value and interest both to those now living and to future generations. The reproductions have been executed by Messrs. George Pullman and Sons, Limited, whose excellent work is well known, and much credit is due to them for the trouble they have taken to secure the best results from the materials available.

To Messrs. Mitchell Hughes and Clarke, the publishers, special thanks are due for the interest and skill they have shewn in bringing this work to a successful conclusion.

Pedigree of the Smythies Family.

In March 1869, Part XI., p. 96 of the "Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica," a reproduction was published of the Exemplification of Arms and Grant of Crest to George Smithes of the Court of Wike in the Countie of Somerset, gent., dated 1602, and in a footnote it was stated that the original exemplification was then in possession of Francis Smythies, Esq., of Colchester. This document is still in possession of the family, and an effort has been made by Major Raymond Smythies, the present representative of the eldest branch, with the assistance of the late Dr. George Marshall, York Herald, to draw up a complete pedigree of the Smythies family from the time of the above-mentioned grant, and earlier, to the present day.

Unfortunately, before the completion of the pedigree, Dr. Marshall died, and one link in the chain of ancestry at the end of the sixteenth century still remains to be found. The link required is one connecting Rev. William Smythies, M.A., Vicar of Walter-Belchamp, Essex, in 1623, with his elder contemporary George Smythies* the grantee above mentioned, Alderman and Sheriff of London. Dr. Marshall was engaged in making researches with a view to establishing this link when his illness and lamented death put an end, for the time being, to the investigation of the matter.

In a letter written in 1904 he says, "No doubt we shall get the missing link sooner or later," and in another letter written about the same time, he writes, "I should think William the brother of the Alderman is our man." This William was a younger brother of the grantee, and is referred to in his father's will, dated 1584 (8, Windsor), as then under age. Since, however, George the elder brother was at this date 21, it is probable that William was not much under age, but even if we allow for a large difference in the age of the brothers there would still be ample time for the younger one to marry and become the father of William Smythies who was appointed Vicar of Belchamp in 1623. Unfortunately the will of William, brother of the Alderman, cannot be found, and that of William, Vicar of Belchamp, makes no mention of his parents, who were probably dead at the time it was made (1652). It may be, however, that the father of the Vicar of Belchamp was not William brother of the Alderman. He may have been the son of John, another and elder brother, or of Thomas, John, or George of the Ubley branch of the family, or of one of the sons of George of Wrington. In the absence of documentary proof the matter for the present must remain uncertain, but it has been thought desirable not to delay any longer placing on record the pedigree of the Smythies family, which has been satisfactorily established from the present day to William Smythies who was Vicar of Belchamp in 1623, and in addition to give that earlier portion which is known, but which at present requires a connecting link to combine it with the rest.

* In the grant the name is spelt Smithes, but the grantee in his will signs his name Smythies, and this is the spelling evidently usually used at the time, though the name is often found spelt in different ways in the same document. From the time of William Smythies of Gosfields he and his descendants, so far as is known, have themselves always spelt the family name Smythies, though in print and in early documents it is frequently misspelt.

The following circumstances suggest the direction in which a clue may eventually be found to the connecting link :—

1. Elizabeth, daughter of John Smythes of Wrington, married Robert Goodwyn and was a contemporary of William Smythies of Winesham, who as executor to his will selected his "dear friend Mr. Robert Goodwin."
  2. William Smythies of Winesham, judging from his appointments to St. Mary Matfelon, St. Giles's, Cripplegate, and St. Michael's, Cornhill, evidently had interest in the City of London.
  3. William Smythies, Rector of Mile End, Colchester (son of William Smythies of Winesham), followed two rectors (William and Thomas) of the name of Eyre, and before them Thomas Salwate (or Salwey) was the rector. Appointments to livings being much influenced by family connections these names are significant, for Hester Smythes, daughter of George the Alderman, married Christopher Eyre, and George Smythes himself, in his will (proved 1615), refers to his "cosen Arthur Salwey."
  4. The widow of Thomas Smythies of Lavenham (younger son of William Smythies, Rector of Mile End) owned a farm called Wallass's or Wollis's, and this name is the same as the maiden name of the wife of George Smythes the Alderman, which is found spelt Woolhouse, Wollis, etc. It is possible, therefore, that the farm may have been the property of Mrs. George Smythes (afterwards Lady Savage), and have descended from her to Thomas Smythies of Lavenham.
  5. William Smythes of Fleet Street, in a will dated 20 November 1657, and proved in London 16 December following (521, Ruthen), made bequests to his son William Smythes, to his son-in-law Robert Tilney, and to his grandchildren John, Sarah, Mary, and Elizabeth Tilney, as well as to his wife Elizabeth. The place of this William in the pedigree is still uncertain, but since his son William was alive in 1657 he can hardly have been the father of William Smythies of Gosfields, unless there has been some error made in the records. That William of Gosfields and the testator were nearly related is, however, strongly suggested by the fact that Isaac Smythies, son of the former, was appointed Vicar of Dagenham on the death of Tilney, 2 October 1663. (Newcourt's Repertorium, p. 203.)

Genealogical Notes

TO THE

Pedigree of the Smythies Family.

THE SMYTHES* OF WRINGTON AND WYKE COURT, YATTON, CO. SOMERSET.

- (1) Willus Smythes de Wrington in coñ Somset de familia eodem no'ie in coñ Lancaster.

(2) Johaunes Smythes.

Will'us Smythes de Wyke in coñ Som'set & . . . . fil. . . . Godlowe de Aula R<sub>3</sub> (see 27, below). de Bristow mercatoris.

Joh'es Smythes filius & hæres.
(See 32, below.)

Georgius Smythes de London.
(See 33, below.)

The above pedigree is recorded in Vincent MS. 141,111, which professes to be a copy of the Visitation of Somerset in 1573. Nothing more is known of (1) and (2). The will of Will'us Smythes de Wyke (27) was proved in 1585, and his sons Joh'es and Georgius are mentioned therein (see below).

(3) The will of Robert Smythes of Bristol, dated 30 July 1585, contains the following: "I give and bequeath unto Elizabeth my wife the halfe of all mye household stuffe, my lesser silver salte double guilt . . . my percell guilt bowle . . . etc. . . . and in consideration that she will bring uppe the child Thomas Smythes whom I have taken to bringe uppe at scoole in learninge and maintayne him clenely and well . . . I give unto her twentye pounds yerely to be paide oute of the personage of Wrington . . . and doe give and leave the same to Jessey my sonne that he shall take good order for the same and for the childe brought uppe as he himselfe was wherewith I charge him as deeply as a father maye his sonne." The relationship of the child Thomas Smythes is not mentioned. The will continues: "I give unto my Anne Margaret Bolton twentye five shillings eight pence to be paide yerely out of the personage of Wrington . . . to my neighbour Thomas Coleman . . . my black satin doublett uncut (and) my best velvet night cappe to be delivered immediately uppon my decease . . . unto Joane Whoper my wives daughter my second best gowne faced with velvet and the rest of my goods move-

* In the early (Somersetshire) portion of the pedigree the spelling Smythes has been adopted, except in quotations, this being apparently the form of the name usually preferred by members of the family, but in the documents quoted it will be seen that the spelling varied greatly, the forms Smythes, Smythies, Smythes, Smythics, Smethes, and Smeethes all being used. The last form Smeethes probably indicates most nearly the way in which the name was pronounced.

able and unmoveable I doe give and bequeath to Jessey my sonne whome I make myne executor . . . and I do ordayne and make my good cozens Mr George Badram and John Smythes the sonne of George Smythes my brother overseers . . . givinge them full power . . . duringe the tyme of my said sonne's beinge in the Queenes maiesties service in Ireland." (12, Windsor.)

That Robert Smythes was the brother of Wiffus Smythes de Wyke, and consequently son of Johannes Smythes is shewn by the will of William, dated 1584 (8, Windsor); that his wife was a widow named Elizabeth Whoper with a daughter named Joane, and that he had a son Jessey, is shewn by his own will quoted above.

(4) George Smythes of Wrington, his son John, and several of his grandchildren are referred to in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, collated with 1445, fo. 49<sup>b</sup>, and 1559, fo. 161 [See (7) and (15 to 21), below.] That George Smythes was the brother of William Smythes de Wyke and therefore son of Johannes Smythes, is shewn by the will of William Smythes de Wyke, dated 1584 (8, Windsor). An entry recording the burial of George Smith [sic] at Wrington on 22 July 1590 in the parish registers probably refers to George Smythes. He certainly was alive in 1584, since his brother William made him overseer of his will in that year.

(5) Edward Smythes, William, George, and Robert Smythes are all referred to in the will of Thomas Smythes of Ubleight, dated 1567 (12, Babington), as his brothers. Their relationship to each other and to Johannes Smythes their father is thus established. A bequest in the same will "to my brother Edward's daughter" shews that Edward was married and had a child, but neither the name of the wife nor of the daughter is given.

(6) Jessey Smythes is referred to in the will of his father Robert Smythes (3) quoted above, also in the will of his uncle Thomas Smythes (22) as "my brother Robert's child."

(7) John Smythes of Wrington is shewn by the Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4, above), to have been the son of George Smythes of Wrington; to have married Joane, daughter of . . . Dorrington, and to have had a son John, at. 25 in 1623, and six daughters. There is a short pedigree at the Heralds' College embodying similar information, and in addition shewing that John Smythes of Wrington bore the same arms and crest as his cousin George Smythes the Alderman (see 31, below), but with a crescent for second branch. George Smythes the Alderman refers to him in his will, dated 1614, as his cozen John Smythes of Wrington, and Robert Smythes of Bristol (3) also refers to him in his will, dated 1584, as "John Smythes the sonne of George Smythes mye brother."

The will of John Smythes, dated 6 June 1626, is a valuable document. It confirms the information given in Harl. MSS. regarding his children, and supplements it by giving the Christian name of the daughter married to James Bisse as Mary, the Christian name of the daughter married to Nicholas Harvey as Sarah, the Christian name of his son John's wife as Sara, the Christian name of the husband of his daughter Judith as John, and further, by recording the marriage of his daughter Joane (shewn as unmarried in Harl. MSS.) to Richard Chichester. In it the testator wills "to be buried in the church of Wrington neere unto the place where my sonne John Smythes was lately buried," and makes bequests to "the poore of Wrington; Johane my wife; my cosen William Strode; my son-in-law John Cope; Elizabeth Godwyn my daughter, the wife of Robert Godwyn; my daughter Sara Harvie, wife of Nicholas Harvie; my daughters Jane Barnard, wife of Edward Barnard, gent.; Mary Bisse, wife of James Bisse, gent.; Johane Chichester, wife of Richard Chichester, gent.; and Judith Taverner, wife of John Taverner, gent.; Susan Passion my kinswoman; my brother-in-law John Bickombe, gent.; my daughter-in-law Mary Cope; my daughter-in-law Sara Smythes, a widowe; my grandchild Johanne Strode, etc.

Proved by Joane Smythes the widow at London on 2 September 1626. (109, Hele.)

The will of Joane Smythes of Wrington, widow of the above, is dated 2 May 1638. In it, after expressing a wish to be buried in the church of Wrington "before my seat," she makes bequests "unto my daughter Elizabeth Godwin, my daughter Mary Cope, my daughter Jane Barnard, my daughter Sarah Diar, my daughter Joane Chichester, my daughter Judith Tavernor; my grandchildren Edward Godwin, Sarah Harvey, Elizabeth Godwin, Anna Godwin, Joane Godwin, and Thomas Godwin; two daughters Katherine and Joane; my daughter Mary Byse; . . . my sonn-in-lawe Edward Barnard and my grandson William Strode to be overseers.

Witnessed by Edw. Barnard and George Foorde, and proved 2 July 1639 in P.C.C. by Mary Bisse, daughter and executrix named.

N.B.—John Smythes refers to John Cope as his son-in-law and Mary Cope as his daughter-in-law; Joane Smythes refers to Mary Cope as her daughter. From this it seems likely that Mary Cope was a daughter of Joane Smythes by a previous marriage. A daughter, Sarah Diar, is also mentioned by Joane Smythes, but not by her husband under that name; she is, however, probably identical with Sarah Harvie, who may have become a widow and remarried in the interval between the wills. A daughter Katherine left £10 by Joane Smythes is not mentioned by John Smythes, and her name has not been included in the pedigree. The Parish Registers of Wrington, however, record that "Katherine d. of John Smythes" was baptized there 16 June 1602. A granddaughter Johane Strode is mentioned by John Smythes and a grandson William Strode by Joane Smythes. These may have been children of Katherine Smythes above mentioned, but her marriage is not recorded at Wrington.

(8) Thomas Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record that "Thomas s. of George Smythes" was baptized 26 May 1555, and that on 13 February 1570 "Thomas Smithies" was buried.

(9) Timothy Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record the baptism of "Tymothy s. of George Smythe(s)" on 14 December 1565, and the burial of "Timothy Smythes" 1 October 1566.

(10) George Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record the baptism of "George s. of George Smythes" on 11 November 1569, and the burial of "George Smythe(s)" on 23 August 1570.

(11) William Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record the baptism of "William s. of George Smithes" on 7 October 1576. Between this date and 1626 there is no record of a William Smythes having been buried at Wrington. He is not referred to in the will of his brother Gideon (1609) or the will of his brother John (1626), and no further information regarding him has yet been obtained. He may have gone to London or the eastern counties, and, marrying at about the age of twenty-three, become the father of William Smythes of Gosfields. Having regard to all the ascertained facts this seems most probable.

(12) Gideon Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record the baptism of "Gedion s. of George Smithe(s)" on 5 June 1579, and the burial of "Gideon Smithies" on 30 September 1609. His will, dated 12 September and proved P.C.C., 17 November 1609 (99, Dorset), shews that his wife's Christian name was Elizabeth, and that he had a son living named George (see 14, below).

(13) Edward Smythes. The Parish Registers at Wrington record that "Edward s. of George Smithes" was baptized 5 June 1583. Between this date and 1626 there is no record of an Edward Smythes being buried at Wrington. He is not referred to in the will of his brother Gideon (1609) or the will of his brother John (1626), and nothing more is known regarding him.

(14) George Smythes is mentioned in the will of his father Gideon Smythes (1609), who died at the age of thirty. Nothing more is known regarding him.

(15) Jane Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is mentioned in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above). She was married to Edward Barnard at Wrington on 28 December 1606 (Par. Reg. Wrington), and both she and her husband are mentioned in her father's will (1626).

(16) Elizabeth Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is mentioned in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above). The Parish Registers record that "Elizabeth d. of John Smithes" was baptized at Wrington on 22 June 1595. Her father's will shews that at the time of his death (1626) she was married to Robert Godwyn (or Goodwyn), and her mother's will (1638) gives the names of her children Edward, Elizabeth, Anna, Joane, and Thomas. The name of Robert Goodwyn is of interest owing to the fact that William Smythes of Winesham (PEDIGREE A, 10) by his will, dated 1714, made his "dear friend Mr Robert Goodwin" executor of his will. William Smythes was born in 1635, and it seems likely that the Robert Goodwyn he mentions may have been a son of Robert Goodwyn and Elizabeth Smythes, born in or after 1638.

(17) John Smythes, aet. 25 in 1623, is shewn by Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above) to have been the son of John Smythes of Wrington, and to have married a daughter of . . . Fowen of Bristol. The Parish Registers of Wrington record that he was buried there on 4 May 1626. His father refers to him in his will, dated 6 June 1626, as "lately buried," and also mentions his widow Sara. It is evident from this will that John Smythes, jun., and Sara Fowen had no children.

In "Alumni Ox.," iv., John Smythes is recorded as having matriculated at Brasenose College, Oxford, 26 May 1609, and become a Student at the Middle Temple 1611.

(18) Mary Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is referred to as "a da." married to James Bisse in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above). The Parish Registers record that "Mary d. of John Smithes" was baptized at Wrington 21 October 1599. Her father's will shews that her name was Mary, and that at the time of his death (1626) she was married to James Bisse. She proved her mother's will, dated 1638, on 2 February 1639.

(19) Sarah Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is referred to as "a da." married to Nicho. Harvey in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above). The Parish Registers record that "Sarah d. of John Smithes" was baptized at Wrington 12 February 1597-8. Her father's will shews that her name was Sarah, and that at the time of his death (1626) she was married to Nicholas Harvey. Her mother's will (1638) refers to her and to her daughter Sarah.

(20) Judith Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is mentioned in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31 (see 4 and 7, above). The Parish Registers record that "Judith d. of John Smithes" was baptized at Wrington 24 June 1608, and that she was married to John Tavernor at Wrington on 1 January 1622. (From this it would appear that she was under 14 when married.) Both she and her husband are mentioned in the will of her father (1626).

(21) Joane Smythes, one of the six daughters of John Smythes of Wrington, is mentioned as unmarried in Harl. MS. 1141, fo. 31, etc. (see 4 and 7, above).

The Parish Registers record that "Johanna d. of John Smythes" was baptized at Wrington 22 September 1605, and that she was married to Richard Chichester at Wrington on 22 May 1625. Both she and her husband are mentioned in the will of her father (1626).*

(22) Thomas Smythes of Ubleight (Ubley, near Bristol), co. Somerset, in his will dated 10 March 1567, after expressing his wish to be buried in the church of Ubleight, makes the following bequests: "... to William Busshe (and others), each 20s.; ... to my brother William Smythes' children, my brother George Smythes' children, and my brother Robert's child, £40, equally divided; ... to my brother Edward's daughter 40s.; ... to Thomas my son all my lands, tenements, rents, reversions, and services in Axbridge, Cheddar, and Compton for life, with remainder to my son John and his heirs for ever; ... to the said Thomas £200 at 21; ... to George my son all my lands and tenements in Boltonsborough for life, with remainder to John my son and his heirs for ever; also £200 to the said George at 21; ... to my son John £100 at 21, also my lease of my manor house in Ubleight and of the park there with the lands, etc., provided always that Elizabeth my wife have the profit thereof during her life; ... to my said four brothers my lease of the manor of Dreiton to the use of my daughter Susan and to the child my wife goeth withal; ... my brother Robert Smythes to have my interest in the parsonage of Wrington; ... my tenants of Balchborowe; ... Elizabeth my wife, whom I make executrix, to have the residue of my goods; ... my said four brothers, John Walche, and Thomas Williams to be overseers."

Witnessed by William Busshe, William Hawll (?), William Sallwey, and Ellen Preston, and proved in P.C.C., 1 June 1568, by Justinian Kydd, proctor for Elizabeth Smythes the relict and executrix. (12, Babington.)

(23) Thomas Smythes.

(24) John Smythes.

(25) George Smythes.

(26) Susan Smythes.

Children of Thomas Smythes of Ubleight (22), and mentioned by him in his will quoted above as under 21. Any one of these three sons may have been the father, or grandfather, of William Smythes of Gosfields.

(27) William Smythes of the Court of Wyke in the parish of Yatton, co.

* The following entries in the Parish Registers at Wrington, in addition to those quoted above, evidently refer to members of the family:—

BAPTISMS.

Jone d. of William Smithes, 20 February 1543.
Edith Smithes, 21 February 1546.
Martha Smithes, 3 November 1564.
Robert s. of Jone (?) Smithes, 30 October 1567.

MARRIAGES.

John Kent and Agnes Smythes, 26 June 1552.
William Shepparde and Maud Smythes, 9 February 1555.
John Williams and Gwendoline Smithes, 17 May 1571.
John Allen and Doritye Smithes, 11 November 1583.
John Prigg and Martha Smithes, 11 September 1586.
Robert Egriment and Agnes Smithes, 4 November 1593.

BURIAL.

Jone Smythes, 30 June 1553.

There are also some other entries which may refer to the family, in which the name is spelt Smyth, Smithce, etc.

Somerset, is mentioned in the Vincent MS. 141.111 (see 1 and 2, above) as the son of Johannes Smythes and grandson of Wifhus Smithes de Wrington. In his will, dated 3 September 1584-5, bequests are made as follow: "... unto Jone my wiffe all those goodes which I haue in Glastenbury which were hers before tyme; ... unto my sonne John Smithes of Compton my clocke withe the bell, etc.; ... to John Smithes of Austen Sutton* fyve markes of lawfull moneye of Englande; ... to William my sonne thre score and eleven poundes of lawfull moneye of Englande; ... unto Thomas Earle thelder my best blacke cloke; ... unto Jone my saide wiffe my littell blacke mare, one macer silver parcell gilt and one silver cuppe white and nngilted. All the reste of my goodes not given nor bequeathed, moveable and unmoveable, I give and bequeathe unto George Smethes and unto William Smethes my sonnes, whome I make and ordeyne my whole and sole executors ... I doe ordayne, make, and appointe my brothers Robert Smithes and George Smethes, my cosen John Busshe of Undcombe and Nicholas Mors my neighbour, overseers; ... my will is that yf either of my sonnes, that is to saye George Smethes or William Smethes, happen to departe this naturall life before he come to the full age of one and twentye yeares,† that then his saide porcion so dyeing do remayne to the longest lyver of the twayne; ... my will is that my sonnes John Smethes and Thomas Parmynter‡ shall see and provyde that my wiffe be well used," etc.

Proved by George Smithes and William Smethes, sons, in P.C.C., 26 February 1585-6. (8, Windsor.)

(28) William Smythes was the third son of William Smythes of Wyke Court, and with his elder brother George proved his father's will (see 27, above). The two brothers were joint residuary legatees, and a dispute may have arisen between them as to the division of the property, or William may have died; but however that may be, no mention is made by George in his will, dated 1614, of either of his brothers John or William or of any children of theirs. Either John or William may have been the father of William Smythies of Gosfields.

(29) ... Smythes, a daughter of William Smythes of Wyke Court, married to Thomas Parmynter, whom William Smythes refers to in his will as his son (see 27, above).

(30) John Smythes of Compton, son of William Smythes of Wyke Court (see 27 and 28, above). The Parish Registers of Wrington record the baptism of a John Smithes 22 June 1544, who may have been John Smythes of Compton.

(31) George Smythes (so spelt in the signature to his will) was born circa 1563. § He was admitted to Gray's Inn 14 March 1608-9 (Adm. Reg. Gray's Inn). A member of the Goldsmiths' Company, he was Prime Warden in 1610-11, and Alderman of Bridge from 30 April 1611 till his death in 1615. In 1611 he was elected Sheriff of London, and there is a note in the records of the Goldsmiths' Company that a gratuity of £100 was given to him on his election "towards the tryying of his house and other charges in the time of his Shrievalty." His arms (Argent, a chevron azure between three oak-leaves vert, each charged with an acorn or) were exemplified and a crest granted to him (A demi-arm azure and hand proper, holding a branch of oak-leaves with acorns or, set in a wreath of his colours) on 9 March

* Probably the same person as John Smythes of Wrington, whose father George Smythes of Wrington was still alive in 1584.

† See note to (31), below.

‡ Son-in-law.

§ He was recorded on his monument in St. Mary's Steyning as aged 52 when he died, 11 July 1615, but in his father's will, dated 3 September 1584-5, he is spoken of as under age. If he was 52 when he died it is obvious that he must have been 21 before 11 July 1584. It may be that he was not 52, but in his 52nd year at the time of his death, or possibly his father's will was drafted some little time before it was signed and dated.

1602. This document, signed by William Dethick, Garter Principal King of Arms, and William Camden, Clarendieu King of Arms,* is now, and has been for generations, in possession of the Essex family of Smythies, descended from William Smythies of Gosfields (Vicar of Belchamp Walter, co. Essex, in 1623). In March 1869, being then in possession of Francis Smythies, Esq., of Headgate House, Colchester, it was published in "Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica" (Series I., Part XI., p. 96); it is now the property of his son. In the grant George Smythies is described as "of ye Court of Wike in the Countie of Somerset, gent., descended of that name in the Countie of Lancaster." From this it would appear that by 1602 he was in full possession of Wike Court, which by his father's will was, with all other property, except certain legacies and annuities, left jointly to George and his brother William, the inference being that William had either died or sold his rights to his brother. As regards his descent in the County of Lancaster, we find this referred to also in the Vincent MS. quoted above, and since there are frequent mentions of the name in early records of the northern counties of Northumberland, York, and Lancaster, there seems no justification for concluding that the descent was merely conjectural.†

On 12 April 1588 a licence (Mar. Lic. Chester and London) was granted for the marriage of George Smythies, described as "of St Mathew, Friday Street, Goldsmith," and "Sara Woolhouse, spinster, of St Magnus, London, da. of Anthony Woolhouse, haberdasher, deceased, gen.," also of St. Magnus, London, and of Chapwell, co. Derby.

The Funeral Certificate of George Smithes (College of Arms, Book I., 16, p. 372<sup>b</sup>) shews that he died in July 1615, and was buried at St. Mary's Steyning on 10 August following; that he had four sons, Arthur (the eldest), William, and two named George, who died young, also a daughter Hester, who married Christopher Eyre, Esq., of Wilts, Citizen and Merchant of London, and a daughter Elizabeth, who married Edward Semster (Anne, Frances, and Goodlife are not mentioned). His wife is described as Sara, daughter of Anthoné Wollis [sic] of the county of Derby, gent., late Citizen and Haberdasher of London. His son William is recorded as chief mourner at the funeral, and it is stated that he left a will.

George Smythies' will, dated 25 February 1614, is an interesting document of great length. By it he leaves, with certain provisos regarding a life interest to his wife, etc., the manors of Ladysbury and Obden, co. Worcester, to his son Arthur, and the manor of Templeton in Berkshire to his son William. No mention is made of the Wike Court estate, which had presumably been sold. To the Goldsmiths' Company he bequeaths "one guilt Standyng Cupp of the value of thirty and five pounds with my name and armes to be set thereupon" (this is no longer in possession of the Company and was no doubt melted down with other plate during the Civil War), also a legacy of forty-six pounds, and in addition he directs that a banquet shall be given at Goldsmiths' Hall on the day of his funeral. This

† The following are a few references to the name in the north which seem worth noting:—

In the Roll of Peers, Knights, and Men-at-Arms who were at Agincourt (Hen. V., 1415), Harl. MS. 782, reprinted (1827) by Sir H. Nicholas in his "Story of Agincourt." The Duke of Gloucester with his retynew (Lancas., cxlii.) is mentioned, and among the names, John Smythies.

In "Letters and Papers Foreign and Domestic," Record Office, Henry VIII., vol. iv., Part 2, 1526—1528, p. 1906. Confession of Humphrey Lisle regarding rebellion in Northumberland, 1528. The Book of the Names of the inhabitants of Ryddesdale arranged under surnames, viz., Smythies, six names. The Book of the Names of the inhabitants of Tyndaill, viz., Smythies, six names.

In "A History of the House of Percy," vol. i., pp. 193-4, by Gerald Brenan, the confession of Humphrey Lysle with reference to the rebellion in Northumberland led by his father Sir William Lysle of Felton and William Charleton of Shottlington, is quoted, and the names of the families in rebellion with the numbers of each in arms are given. In Redesdale, according to this account there were two members of the Smythies family amongst the rebels.

In Neve's "Monumenta." Death. John Smythies of York died 8 Jan. 1658, aged 38.

banquet was duly held, and the following memorandum in the books of the Goldsmiths' Company records the event: "12 Jas. 1. 1614.* On Tuesday the 11th July instant the Right Worshipful and worthy member of the City, George Smythes, Alderman, departed this transitory life, and on Thursday the 10th August following he was interred in the chancel of the parish church of St Marye Steyning, there being present at the funeral the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of the City, with many of the Aldermen, his brethren, and other worshipful persons, who dined at Goldsmiths' Hall that day. The Wardens gave license to M<sup>rs</sup> Smythes to have the use of the Hall, plate, linen, and other necessities for the funeral dinner. The plate, etc., she is to receive by inventory, and re-deliver in good plight, without prejudice or charge to the Company the next day after the funeral at the latest."

The will further contains bequests of a cup value £20 to the city of Bristol; ten pounds to the poor of Wrington and Yatton "at the discretion of my cosen Mr John Smythes of Wrington;" "gownes worth twenty shillings a piece" to fifty-four "poor Goldsmythes;" "ringes with deathea heades worth forty shillings" to "my Lady Pemberton, my Lady Jennynge, my brother Barnard, my brother Woolhouse, my cosen Arthur Salvey, my cosen John Smythes," and several others; and "ringes worth twenty shillings a piece" to "my cosen Susane Grub, my cosen William Smythes," and others.

Besides his sons Arthur and William he mentions his daughter Hester and her husband Christopher Eyre, his daughter Elizabeth and her husband Edward Semster, and his daughter Anne.

The will was proved by Sarah Smythes, the widow, on 18 July 1615 (67, Rudd).

A concise account of George Smythes and his wife Sara Woolhouse, who married secondly General Sir Arthur Savage, is given in "The London and Middlesex Note Book," by W. P. W. Phillimore, M.A., B.C.L. (published 1892).

(32) Sir Arthur Smythes, the eldest son of Alderman George Smythes (Funeral Cert. of George Smythes, Coll. of Arms), was left by his father the manors of Ladysbury and Olden, co. Worcester, also property in Gloucestershire (will of George Smythes, 67, Rudd). He was knighted 26 February 1623-4, and was still living in 1653 ("London and Middlesex Note Book"). In 1631-33 he was Sheriff of Worcester (Calendar of State Papers, 1631-33, p. 88, etc.).

(33) William Smythes of Cardington, co. Bedford (Pedigree, Coll. of Arms, D. 24, 39), son of Alderman George Smythes, was left by his father the manor of Templeton, co. Berks (will of George Smythes, 67, Rudd). He was chief mourner at his father's funeral (Funeral Certificate of George Smythes, College of Arms). Matriculated at St. John's College, Oxford, 19 February 1618, æt. 15 (Alumni Oxoniensis, iv.), and was admitted a student of Gray's Inn 1 August 1619 (Foster's "Gray's Inn Registers"). He proved the will of his mother, Lady Savage (200, Alein), 3 June 1654. His marriage to Elizabeth, daughter of . . . Cutts, is recorded in a pedigree at the College of Arms registered by his son William (D. 24, 39).

The above William Smythes may be the same person as William Smythes of Fleet Street, whose will (521, Ruthen), dated 20 November and proved at London 16 December 1657 by Elizabeth Smythes his widow, contains the following:—

"In primis I give and bequeath unto my sonne William Smythes the summe of fiftie pounds. Item I give and bequeath unto my loving sonne in lawe Master Joseph Hobson and unto my loving sonne in Lawe Master Robert Tilney the summe of Twenty pounds a peece to buy mourning for themselves and their wives to wear in my remembrance. Item I give and bequeath unto my grundechild

* From this it would appear that George Smythes died on 11 July 1614, not 1615. The inscription on his monument and his funeral certificate at the College of Arms, however, give 1615 as the date, and his will was proved on 18 July 1615.

Elizabeth Winch the summe of three hundred and fiftie pounds . . . my grandchild Mary Winch (both under 18) . . . my beloved grandchild John Tilney to binde him an apprentice the sume of one hundred pounds . . . my grandchild Sarah Tilney . . . my grandchild Mary Tilney . . . my grandchild Elizabeth Tilney . . . I give unto my sonne William Smythes an Annuity of fifty pounds . . . Item I give and bequeath to my dearly beloved wife Elizabeth Smythes all the remainder of my estate whatsoever as well real as personall . . . making my said wife Elizabeth sole executrix." Witnesses: Edward Richards, Fran: Wiseman, etc.

N.B.—No mention is made of any children of the testator's son William, which is strange if William of Cardington and William of Fleet Street are the same, for William of Bedford, son of the former, had at least two children, Mary and William [see below (41) and (42)], born before 1657. There are details, however, in the will which suggest that father and son were not on the best of terms.

(34) Hester Smythes, daughter of Alderman George Smythes, is mentioned by her father in his will, also her husband Christopher Eyre of Wiltshire, Citizen and Merchant of London (George Smythes' will, 67, Rudd, and his Funeral Certificate at the College of Arms).

(35) Elizabeth Smythes, daughter of Alderman George Smythes, is mentioned by her father in his will, also her husband Edward Semster of Hertts, Citizen and Goldsmith of London (George Smythes' will, 67, Rudd, and his Funeral Certificate, College of Arms).

(36) Anne Smythes, daughter of Alderman George Smythes, is mentioned in her father's will (67, Rudd). She was aged nine in 1615, was about to be married with the consent of the Court in 1624, and was living as Anne Vernon in 1653 (Phillimore's "London and Middlesex Note Book.")

(37) There were two sons named George of Alderman George Smythes who died young (Funeral Certificate at the College of Arms). There were also two daughters, Frances and Goodliffe, who died in their father's lifetime (Phillimore's "London and Middlesex Note Book").

(38) William Smythes of Bedford, son of William Smythes (33), the son of Alderman George Smythes, registered his pedigree from his grandfather (College of Arms, D. 24, 39). In this pedigree the details are very meagre, but we learn from it that William, son of the Alderman, was "of Cardington, co. Bedford," and that he married "Eliz. da. of Cutts," also that William who registered the pedigree had two sisters Eliz. and Mary (39 and 40), and married Mary, daughter of John Manley of Wilshamsted, co. Bedford, and that by her he had the following children: Mary, William, æt. 15 anno 1669, John, Richard, Arthur and Mathew (41, 42, 43, 44, 45, and 46).

(39) Elizabeth Smythes and (40) Mary Smythes, sisters of William Smythes of Bedford (College of Arms, D. 24, 39).

PEDIGREE A.

THE SMYTHIES OF ESSEX AND SUFFOLK.

(A 1) William Smythies of Gosfields and Walter Belchamp, co. Essex.* The Parish Register of Walter Belchamp, co. Essex, begins in the year 1632 with the baptismal entry of "W<sup>m</sup> Smitheis son of William and Ann his wife." A subsequent entry records that this child died and was buried in 1634. In the year 1635 another son was born and named William. The entry is as follows: "1635, Smytheis, William, son of William and Anne his wife. Baptized March 3." The first few entries are followed by a note: "In this year ye Visitors requiring all ye names of children baptized to be written in this (parchment) booke out of ye pap (paper) booke there uppon we goe back to ye yeare 1559," and amongst the entries previous to 1632 is one of the burial of John Smythies, son of William, in 1626. Another entry, recording the baptism of a child named Marie Mathew on 8 October 1643, concludes with the words: "by me William Smythies whoe was inducted July 7th 1623 and left ye Cure this October 8th, 1643." The period during which William Smythies held the living of Walter Belchamp is thus fixed. The Register of Students at Emmanuel College, Cambridge, records that on 4 June 1617 William Smythies was admitted to that College. The date when he took his degree is not mentioned, but the Subscription Book for 1627—44, fo. 78, St. Paul's Cathedral, contains the following entry (translation): "I, William Smythies, Master of Arts, Vicar of Walter Belchamp, admitted to preach and teach God's Word in the church (of Walter Belchamp) and other churches in the Diocese." Signed Gulielmus Smythies, and dated 6 March 1636.

In the return made in 1650 of the Ministers and Elders in the various "Classes" of Essex there is this entry:—

"Gosfield—Rect. Improprate, £40; Possessor, Lord Dacre; Vicarage, £40; Incumbent, Will. Smythies, by sequestration from John Crosse. He is an able Preaching and Godly Minister. Patron, Lord Dacre." (Lansdowne MS. 459, fo. 128.)

The exact date when William Smythies went to Gosfield is not known, but probably it was between 1647 and 1650.† He held the living till his death in 1652. His burial at Gosfield is thus recorded in the Parish Registers: "William Smythes, Minister of this Parish, buryed September ye 13th, 1652."

The will of William Smythies of Gosfields in the County of Essex, Clerke, dated 26 March 1652, contains the following: "... First I give to the poore of Walter Belchamp and Gosfields 20s. I give to Anne my loving wife all that my tenement and lands which I bought of Robert Plann, situate in the said Walter Belchamp and County aforesaid with th'apertenances during her naturall life . . . and the remainder to Isaac Smythies my sone and his heires for ever, provided that if my said wife de<sup>d</sup> this life before my son Willim come to his age of 24

* About 1627 John Raymond, of the Hertfordshire family of that name, bought the Belchamp Hall estate from Sir J. Wentworth, and in 1635 was buried at Belchamp (Berry's "Genealogies," Essex). The families of Smythies and Raymond must therefore have been known to each other at this time, a matter of some interest, having regard to the subsequent intimate connection by marriage between the two families. [See Pedigree A (53, 59, 61, and 66) and Pedigree B (61), also Notes to Pedigree A (61) and Pedigree B (61).]

John Raymond was a member of the County Committee for the selection of "Ministers," and it was probably through him that William Smythies was appointed to Gosfield after his resignation of the living of Belchamp Walter in 1643.

† John Crosse was sequestered in 1614 and his sequestration confirmed before August 1645. The charges against him are set forth in Coles MS., xxviii., pp. 28, 29, Brit. Museum. But between John Crosse and William Smythies there was for a short time an incumbent named John Norton, about whom very little is known. From the following entry in the Gosfield Register it is, however, clear that he was incumbent of Gosfield in 1646: "Mary Norton, the daughter of M<sup>r</sup> John Norton, ye Vicar, and Marye, his wife, was baptized ye 9th day of July, 1646." (From "Notes on Gosfield," by Rev. H. L. Elliot, Vicar, Par. Mag., 1889.)

years that the rents of the said tenement and lands shall be equally divided between my said sons till Williams said age of foure and twenty yeares. Item I giue to my said wife the rents and profits of the Tenement and lands which I bought of John Ward and William Allston situate in Water Belchamp aforesaid during her naturall life . . . . Item I giue unto my said son Isaac two acres of arrable land in the comon fields called Mary Liall comon to him and to his son William and to their heires for ever. Item the said Tenement and lands with orchards (?), garden with apertenes I doe give to my sonne Willim and to his heires for ever all excepting the said two acres."

Signed: William Smythies, Richard Pepys,* and John Scott. Proved at Westminster 26 Sept. 1653 by Anne Smythies, the widow (32, Brent).

(A 2) Isaac Smythies of Dagenham was left property in Walter Belchamp by his father William Smythies (A 1). The Register at Emmanuel College, Cambridge, records the entry of Isaac Smythies 18 May 1839. The date when he took his A.B. degree is not given, but he is noted as A.M. 1646.

Newcourt's "Repertorium" gives (p. 203): Dagenham, Vicarii—Isaac Smithies, A.M. 2 Oct. 1663 per mort. Tilney. Isaac Harrison, S.T.P. 13 Oct. 1674 per mort. Smithies. Patroni, Tho. Darey, Bar.

(A 3) John Smythies. The Walter Belchamp Registers record the burial of John Smythies, son of William, in 1626. (See A 1 above.)

(A 4) William Smythies. The Walter Belchamp Registers record the baptism in 1632 of "Smytheis, William, son of William and Ann his wife," and the burial in 1634 of William Smythies, son of William. In the following year, another son having been born, he was also named William in accordance with a common custom of the time. (See A 1 above.)

(A 5 to A 9). See pedigree.

(A 10) William Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 1), is recorded in Emmanuel College Registers as having entered that College in 1651, and taken his A.B. degree in 1659. In 1660 he was presented by Robert Baldock to the Rectory of Tacolneston in Norfolk, and held that living till 1671, when he resigned (Blomfield's "Norfolk," v., 170); after that he was, as is shewn by a family document (Deed of assignment of the Whitehouse and lands in Winesham in the county of Suffolk by Elizabeth Cremer, née Palmer, widow of Robert Cremer, to William Smythies, dated 18 March 1673), for a time resident in and probably Curate of the parish of St. Mary Matfellow, Whitechapel, but during the year 1673 he became Curate-in-charge of the church of St. Giles, Cripplegate, and his name first appears in the church books as Chairman of the Vestry Meeting held on the 17th April of that year. The titular vicar was one of the bishops, but the position was in fact filled by William Smythies, who for over thirty years, when religious feeling ran high and much tact must have been required, conducted the spiritual affairs of this important parish. The last time his name appears as Curate and Chairman of the Vestry is in April 1704. In the following June Samuel Burgis is shewn as Curate and Chairman. The deed quoted above, and others still in possession of his descendants, shew that during the time William Smythies was at Cripplegate he gradually acquired a property known as the Whitehouse and lands situated in the parish of Witlesham, co. Suffolk, from his wife's relations, the Palmers, the final deed being a release to him of this property by Charles Palmer, his brother-in-law, dated 24 September 1698. To this property he retired in his old age, and for three years acted as Curate of Witlesham.

On 12 November 1674, as recorded in the register of St. Giles's, Cripplegate, the poet John Milton was buried in that church, and William Smythies, being then Curate-in-charge, presumably performed or at any rate assisted at the ceremony. Tolerant in his views and charitable to all in distress, he suffered much abuse and calumny himself through being kind to those whose religious views were different from his own. His enemies tried to prove that he was disloyal to the throne, because in one of his sermons he spoke with disapproval of "the Prince of this World," and some spiteful people brought it to the ear of the King that he was "an associate with dissenters," in those days a serious accusation, but he managed to hold his own and to continue his good works.

As a preacher and religious controversialist he was well known, and a pamphlet of his entitled "The Benefit of Early Piety," addressed to the three young sons of his friend Sir Nathaniel Hern, first published in 1684, had in 1729 reached a fifteenth edition. He is described on the title-page of this pamphlet as "Morning Lecturer at St Michael, Cornhill, London." With Sir R. l'Estrange ("The Observator"), who seems to have made it his business to attack the bishops and prominent clergy, he had a heated controversy, in the course of which he refers to his experiences before the Restoration, and says when "I had hid myself in a private place in the Essex Hundreds I was routed thence by one of Oliver's Agents because my name was then Malignant." ("Three Replies to the Observator," 1684; "The Benefit of Early Piety," 1684; "Advice to Apprentices," 1687; and other pamphlets, British Museum.)

The following entries occur in the Parish Register at Witlesham:—

"1715. The Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr W<sup>m</sup> Smythies, many years Curate of St Giles Cripplegate, in London, and three years Curate of this Parish, was buried in the Churchyard at the Chancell end. June 29."

"1719. M<sup>rs</sup> Hephzibah Smythies, Relict of the Reverend M<sup>r</sup> Smythies, late of Cripplegate, buried. Aged 84. May 12. She lies in the South Wing of the Church amongst her own Relations the Palmers, a Family of Good Sort and Standing in this Parish tho now reduced."

By his will William Smythies left the Whitehouse, Witlesham, with all the lands thereunto belonging, to Hephzibah his wife "during her life and after her decease to my grandson Palmer Smythies and to his heirs . . . willing him to pay yearly to my brother-in-law Charles Palmer forty shillings . . . nevertheless if it shall so happen that his mother Thamar Smythies become a widow then she the said Thamar shall after the death of my said wife have the full rents, etc., excepting the forty shillings . . . so long as she continues a widow. I give . . . goods and furniture to my granddaughter Hephzibah Meadows, desiring her to preserve the wrought Bed for her Daughter Hephzibah, now a child. Also I give unto my wife six spoons, five salts, one silver, one Ladle, one porringer, all silver . . . (annuities here follow) . . . unto each of my two great-grandchildren James and Hephzibah Meadows a silver tankard, and to their sister Sarah Meadows my silver coffee-pot . . . unto my grandson Thomas Smythies of Colchester and to his heirs my Copsyhold house . . . lying in Witlesham . . . with all the copyhold lands adjoining . . . also I give unto my son Peter Smythies and to his heirs my Copsyhold house lately inhabited by Charles Palmer, with all the copyhold Lands . . . lying in Witlesham . . . also I give unto my grandchildren Mary Smythies, Dorothy Smythies, and Susan Smythies of Colchester each of them ten pounds . . . Lastly I give unto my dear friend M<sup>r</sup> Robert Goodwin, Rector of Liston in the County of Essex, Twenty pounds and do . . . appoint him . . . executor. Dated 9 July 1717 (evidently an error for 1714). Proved at London in P.C.C. 15 August 1715 by Robert Goodwyn, the executor named (166, Fagg).

(A 11) Robert Smythies was born when William Smythies his father was Rector of Tacolneston, and his baptism is recorded in the Parish Register as follows: "An<sup>o</sup> 1665. Robertus filius Willielmi Smythies & Hephziba uxoris ejus natus fuit quinto die Novembris baptizatus decimo tertio die ejusdem mensis an<sup>o</sup> p'dicto." The Register of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, contains the following entry: "1684, Jan. 25. Smythies, Robert, S.R. Norf., A.B. 1687."

(A 12) Christopher Smythies was also born when William Smythies his father was Rector of Tacolneston. His baptismal entry in the Parish Register is as follows: "1666. Christopher filius Willielmi Smythies & Hephziba uxoris ejus baptizatus fuit vicesimo octavo (?) die mensis Decembris An<sup>o</sup> p'dicto." He only lived two years and a half. His burial is recorded as follows: "1669. Christopher Smythies sepultus quinto die July."

N.B.—It is likely that James Smythies who is recorded in the College Register as having entered Emmanuel College, Cambridge, 3 July 1686, was another son of William Smythies (A 10), born between 1666 and 1673. He is not shown as having taken the degree of A.B., and he is not mentioned in the will of William Smythies (1714); probably therefore, if he was his son, he died young.

(A 13) Peter Smythies was born several years after his elder brothers, when his father William Smythies was curate-in-charge of St. Giles's, Cripplegate, in the Registers of which church is the following entry: "Baptisms. Peter s. (son of) William Smythies, Clerk, and of Hephzibah, borne 22<sup>d</sup> December (1673), christened 5th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1674." He "was the youngest son of William Smythies, late of Witesham in the County of Suffolk, Clerk" (Cardons Hall in Witesham, Mr. Sergeant Smythies release of title to the Rev. Mr. Palmer Smythies, dated 12 January 1741), and had one son named Sergeant Smythies (see A 14, below).

In the deed quoted above he is referred to as "of the City of Norwich." His wife's name is not known, but the peculiar Christian name given to his son suggests that her surname may have been Sergeant.

Peter Smythies was left the "copyhold house lately inhabited by Charles Palmer with all the copyhold Lands . . . lying in Witesham" by the will of his father, proved 1715 (see A 10, above).

(A 14) Sergeant Smythies, the son of Peter Smythies. In a deed, still in the possession of the family, dated 12 January 1741 (Cardons Hall in Witesham, Mr. Sergeant Smythies' release of Title to the Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr. Palmer Smythies), Sergeant Smythies is thus cited: "Sergeant Smythies of the City of London, only son of Peter Smythies of the City of Norwich in the County of Norfolk, who was the youngest son of William Smythies, late of Witesham in the County of Suffolk, Clerk, deceased." The deed is too long to quote at length. Its object is to remove a doubt, due to the wording of the will of William Smythies, as to the title of Palmer Smythies to three acres of land forming part of the property in Witesham left him by his grandfather William Smythies, and it records that "Whereas the said Peter Smythies the father of the said Sergeant Smythies as youngest son of the said William Smythies was, according to the custom of the said manor, heir of the said William, the said Palmer Smythies to clear the doubt arising upon his title . . . hath contracted and agreed with the said Sergeant Smythies for all his estate, right title and interest therein at the price and for the sum of thirteen pounds two shillings and sixpence."

Sergeant Smythies is believed to have died unmarried. Had he had a son, the son's rights in the Witesham property, as well as his own, would doubtless have been renounced in the document quoted above.

At Emmanuel College, Cambridge, he graduated A.B. 1682 (Grad. Cant. 1659 to 1823, B.M.); became Rector of St. Michael's, Mile End, 20 Dec. 1687 (Newcourt).

In the church of St. Michael, Mile End, is the following mural inscription: "Juxta jacet Gulielmus Smythies hujus Parochiae Rector ann. 32, obit Mar. 7, 1719 [the pedigree in Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205, gives 9 March 1720 as the date of death], æt. 57. Jacet etiam in are proxime suggestum [?, Lettering blurred] Thamor uxor ejus. Obit Nov. 6, 1734, ætatis 69, relictis septem sepultis 4 liberis."

His wife's maiden name was Thamar Furley (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). She was daughter and coheirress of Stephen Furley of Colchester.

John Smythies, Groton, Clerk, who is mentioned in the Suffolk Poll, 1702, may be identical with this John. No mention is made of his son John by William Smythies in his will (1714), and he was probably dead before that date.

(A 17) William Smythies of Colchester, son of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15), was born 10 January 1698-9 and baptized at St. Michael's, Mile End (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). His epitaph in the churchyard of St. Michael's, Mile End, is as follows: "Near this stone is buried M<sup>r</sup> William Smythies formerly of Colchester, Surgeon, who died April 13th, 1772, Aged 75 Years. Deceased was Father of James Blatch, Esq., whose remains are deposited in the next grave, and brother of the Rev. P. Smythies, for many years Rector of this Parish." He was buried 20 April 1772 (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205).

He married as his 1st wife, 12 February 1734, at St. Mary Magdalen's, Colchester, Margarita Richard, daughter of . . . de Vandergues, who was buried at St. Michael's, Mile End, 4 January 1737, and as his 2nd wife Elizabeth, daughter of . . . Blatch (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205), who died 11 September 1807.

(A 18) Thomas Smythies of Lavenham, son of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15), was at Sidney-Sussex Coll., Cambridge, and graduated A.B. 1725 and A.M. 1729 (Grad. Cant. 1659 to 1823, B.M.). He was Master of the Free Grammar School in Lavenham from 1732 to 1746 (Newcourt's "Repertorium," p. 946), and in 1743 purchased the living of Alpheton, co. Suffolk, as shewn by the following:—

An Indenture made 24 Jan. in the 17th year of the reign of King George II. and A.D. 1743 "Between Sheffield Martin of Alpheton in the County of Suffolk, Clerk, and Elizabeth his wife, Catherine Martin of Alpheton aforesaid, Widow and Relict of Thomas Martin of Alpheton aforesaid, clerk, lately deceased, and Christopher Martin of Alpheton aforesaid, Gentleman, only son and heir of the said Thomas Martin, of the one part, and Thomas Smythies of Lavenham in the said County, Clerk, of the other part," which "Witnesseth that on and in consideration of the sum of five hundred pounds" paid by the said Thomas Smythies to Sheffield, Elizabeth, Catherine, and Christopher Martin aforesaid or one of them, . . . "good causes and considerations them thereunto moving they the said Sheffield Martin (etc.) . . . by these presents Do fully and absolutely Grant, Bargain, Sell, Alien, Release a(nd confirm unto the said Thomas Smythies his heirs a(nd Assignes for ever All that the advowson, Nomination (etc.) . . . and right of Patronage of in and to the (Rector)ry and Parish Church of Alpheton aforesaid . . ." . . . "Inrolled in His Majesties High Court of Chancery the eighteenth d(ay) of February in the year within written" (1743).

Anne Smythies (née Summers) was the daughter of Henry Summers of Sible Hedingham, co. Essex, Esq. (Morant), and the following document concerning her seems sufficiently curious to warrant its reproduction in full. The original document was formerly in possession of Rev. James Blatch, Vicar of Basingstoke. (See A 25, below.)

LICENCE FOR A LADY TO CURE THE KING'S EVIL.

Robert Nash, Doctor of Laws, Vicar General in Spirituals of the Right Reverend Father in God Thomas by Divine permission Lord Bishop of Norwich, lawfully constituted. To our well-beloved in Christ M<sup>rs</sup> Anne Smythies, the wife of the Reverend M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Smythies of Lavenham in the county of Suffolk and Diocese of Norwich, health in Our Lord. Whereas We have received sufficient and credible testimony of your skill and knowledge in the art of cureing blotches, breakings-out, and such-like diseases, called the King's Evil, and whereas we have received your consent and subscription to the articles of religion agreed upon by the Archbishops, Bishops, and Clergy of both provinces at the Convocation holden in London in the year of our Lord Christ 1562 and confirmed by regal authority ; and also your oath of allegiance to his Majesty King Geo. 2 according to a late Act of Parliament in that case made and provided ; have thought fit to licence and by these presents do licence you publickly to use and practice the said art of cureing blotches, breakings-out, and such-like diseases, called the King's Evil, within the Diocese of Norwich, and will this our licence to endure during our pleasure and your good demeanour, and no longer nor otherwise.

Dated the 26th day of March in the year of our Lord 1743.

(Signed) JOHN NARKER, Notary Publick, Dep. Reg.

(The Episcopal seal affixed.)

By the will of William Smythies of Winesham Thomas Smythies inherited a copyhold house in Winesham,* with all the copyhold lands adjoining (see A 10, above). This was probably Cardons Hall (see A 31, below).

Thomas Smythies died without issue (affidavit made by Rev. John Smythies in 1815).

* Erratum.—In the pedigree, for "Walter Belchamp" read "Winesham."

Walasses Farm in Great Maplestead belonged to the widow of the Rev. Thomas Smythies in 1768 (Morant's "Essex," ii., 280).

(A 19) Yorick Smythies of Colchester, son of William Smythies (A 17) by his first wife Margarita de Vandergues, was baptized 10 February 1737 at St. Mary-at-the-Walls, Colchester. He died seised in effect intestate, having made a will and the devise therein having all died in his lifetime (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). He was buried in the Church of St. Martin, Colchester, where there is the following inscription :—

"13 Oct. 1824. Died Yorick Smythies, A.M. of St John's College, Cambridge, son of William Smythies and Margaret de Vandergues, 54 years Rector of this parish, 59 years Rector of L. Bentley ; officiating minister of both Churches during nearly the whole of that time, a magistrate for the County of Essex, whose remains with those of his wife M<sup>rs</sup> Anne Smythies, daughter of the Rev<sup>d</sup> Thomas Leigh of Greenwich, who died Jan<sup>y</sup> 27th 1814, aged 76, are deposited in the middle aisle of this Church."

He was Chaplain to the Royal Horse Guards 28 Jan. 1765 to 1787 (Army List).

(A 20) William Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 17) by his second wife Elizabeth Blatch (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). A note in the Twining Family Papers, evidently referring to this William Smythies, states that he died a bachelor.

(A 21) Anne Smythies, daughter of William Smythies (A 17) by his second wife Elizabeth Blatch (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205).

(A 22) James Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 17) by his second wife Elizabeth Blatch, obtained a licence to change his surname to that of Blatch.* This licence is "entered in the Earl Marshall's Book marked I. 32," fo. 103, and dated 14 March 1772. It states that "Whereas our Trusty and well beloved James Smythies of Colchester in our County of Essex Esq<sup>r</sup> has by his Petition "asked to change his surname from Smythies to Blatch, in accordance with the will of Sarah Edwards, his aunt, who left him a legacy on that condition, "our Will and pleasure is that you Richard, Earl of Scarborough, Deputy to the said Marshal . . . do require and command that this our concession and Declaration be accordingly registered in our College of Arms . . . By his Majesty's Command. (Signed) Suffolk."

James Blatch and his wife were buried in Mile End Churchyard, and over their grave is the following inscription :—

"Under this stone lie the remains of James Blatch, Esq<sup>re</sup>, of St Mary's-at-the-Walls, Colchester, who died December 18th, 1811, Aged 63. Also under this stone are deposited the remains of Elizabeth Blatch, widow of the said James Blatch, who departed this life October 22nd, 1815, Aged 72 years."

Elizabeth Blatch's maiden name was Dennis (Twining Family Papers). Her will, dated 9 February 1812, was proved by her son James Blatch, Vicar of Basingstoke, 1815 (Family Papers).

(A 23) Charlotte Smythies, daughter of William Smythies (A 17) by his second wife Elizabeth Blatch, was buried in Mile End Churchyard, and over her grave is the following inscription : "M<sup>rs</sup> Charlotte Doyle, wife of M<sup>r</sup> Joseph Doyle of Stratford-le-Bow, daughter of M<sup>r</sup> William Smythies of Colchester, died of consumption, leaving two sons William and Edward, was buried near her Brother James Blatch March 20th, 1778, Aged 27. This stone was erected to her Memory by her nephew James Blatch, Vicar of Basingstoke." In the same churchyard is buried her son William Smythies Doyle, the inscription stating that he died 28 January 1796, aged 23, and in the Church of All Saints, Colchester, a mural tablet records the death of her second son Edward Doyle. The inscription on this is somewhat quint. It runs: "To the memory of Edward Doyle, Esq., late of Trinity College, Oxford, and an inhabitant of this parish, who on his return from the Hot Well, Bristol, where he had been sometime for the recovery of his health, expired suddenly in his carriage on the 27th of September 1793 in the arms of an affectionate Uncle and in the 19th year of his age." Then follows poetry by "Y(orick) Smythies, Avunculus."

(A 24) John Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 17) by his second wife Elizabeth Blatch. (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 25) James Blatch, son of James Smythies (A 22), died unmarried (Twining Family Papers) and the male descendants of William Smythies (A 17) then became extinct.

(A 26) Mary Ann Blatch, daughter of James Smythies (A 22), married Rev. Richard Hoblyn, had issue and died in 1869. (Twining Family Papers.)
The Rev. Richard Hoblyn was Rector of All Saints, Colchester.

(A 27) Elizabeth Blatch, daughter of James Smythies (A 22), married Augustus Beevor, had issue and died 1852. (Twining Family Papers.)

(A 28) Mary Smythies, daughter of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15), was born at Colchester 17 January 1689 and baptized 13 February. (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 29) Dorothy Smythies, daughter of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15).

(A 30) Susan Smythies, daughter of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15).

N.B.—A 28, 29, and 30 were left £10 each by William Smythies of Witlesham, their grandfather, in his will proved 1715. (See A 10, above.)

(A 31) Palmer Smythies, the eldest son of William Smythies of Mile End (A 15) (Letter dated Probate Registry, Somerset House, 30 June 1881, from J. C. C. Smith, Esq., to Francis Smythies, Esq., of Colchester), was born 18 Oct. 1691 and baptized at Mile End, Colchester, 23 October following (Par. Reg.). He was at Sidney-Sussex Coll., Cambridge, became A.B. 1712, A.M. 1716 (Grad. Cant., B.M.), and Fellow of his College 1727 (Twining Family Papers). He succeeded his father as Rector of St. Michael's, Mile End, and was instituted to the living on 28 March 1720 (Morant). On 1 September 1721 he was appointed also Rector of St. Mary Magdalen and Master of King James's Hospital, Colchester. These latter benefices he held till 1773, when he was succeeded by his son John.

The first page of the Register of St. Mary Magdalen, Colchester, contains the following entry:—

"Palmer Smythies appointed Master of the Hospital of King James alias St Mary Magdalen Hospital, in Colchester, September 1st, 1721, By Thomas, Lord (soon after) Earl of Macclesfield, Lord High Chancellor, who at his own cost and charges fitted up the church for Divine Service after it had been disused at least ever since the siege of Colchester. The expenses amounted to Fifty-two Pounds six shillings and eleven pence halfpenny."

The last signature in the Register of Palmer Smythies as "Hosp. Magister" is dated 21 December 1772. His son John succeeded him in 1773, in which year his signature as Master appears in the books.

In addition to his other appointments Palmer Smythies held the position of Master of the Royal Grammar School, Colchester, to which post he was elected on 20 December 1727, and held the Mastership till 1776, the year of his death, when he was succeeded by the Rev. Samuel Parr.

The title of Royal Grammar School was conferred by Letters Patent 31 of Henry VIII., 1539. This was confirmed and the school endowed 27 Elizabeth 1585.

Palmer Smythies was admitted to the Freedom of Colchester on 9 December 1728. (Red Parchment Book (or Oath Book) of Colchester, p. 229 of the printed version.)

The inscription over the family vault at Mile End in which he is buried is as follows: "Here lie the remains of Palmer Smythies who was 56 years Rector of this Church and whose faithful discharge of every duty to his Parish, his Family, and his Friends will long endear him to their memory. He died Decr. 25, 1776, aged 85."

After the death in 1746 of Thomas Smythies who had bought the living of Alpheton from the Martin family in 1743 (see A 18, above), the Patronage of Alpheton came to Palmer Smythies (Anne the widow of Thomas Smythies may have held the right of presentation jointly with Palmer Smythies till her death) and in 1774 he left it by his will to Francis Smythies his youngest son and executor. The White House estate in Witesham was left to him by his grandfather William Smythies (see A 10, above) and at his death he left it to his sons William, Humphrey, and George and his daughter Anne, "equally to be divided between them," an arrangement which, judging from the will, does not seem to have met with the approval of his eldest son William (see below). A bill of costs to Mr. Palmer Smythies, dated 15 November 1731, for "taking and entering ye absolute surrendr from Mr Thomas Smythies to Mr Palmer Smythies" of "Cardons Hall in Witesham" shews that Palmer Smythies acquired this property from his brother at that date.

The will of Palmer Smythies, dated 6 July 1774, contains the following:—

"I give . . . all that Messuage, Tenement, and farm called the White House and the Barns, Stables, Buildings, Lands and Appurtenances thereto belonging lying in the parish of Witesham or elsewhere in the county of Suffolk . . . unto my sons William, Humphry, and George and my daughter Anne and their heirs and assigns for ever, equally to be divided between them as Tenants in common, moreover I do order and direct that the small piece of Copyhold land in Witesham aforesaid, which I purchased of my late Brother Thomas and also the House, Barn and Stable with the appurtenances in Mile End parish now or heretofore called the Oak be sold by my Executors . . . and that the money arising from such sale shall be divided between my said sons William, Humphry, and George and my said daughter Anne" (here follow recommendations to George to buy an annuity, etc., and then a provision that if) "William shall disturb my said other children in their possession or enjoyment of the said Witesham Estate or shall refuse to join in the sale of the other estates hereby directed to be sold, then I revoke all the covenants and appointments of this my will in his Favour and give, limit and appoint his share to my said other children Humphry, George and Anne and their heirs for ever equally. Item, I give and devise the advowson and Right of presentation of the Living of Alpheton in the county of Suffolk with the appurtenances unto my son Francis Smythies and his heirs for ever upon condition that the next time it shall become vacant he or his heirs shall present my said son Humphry thereto if he shall be then living, and the next time it shall become vacant that he or his heirs shall present my son John thereto if he shall be then living, and the next time it shall become vacant that he or his heirs shall present my Son-in-Law Thomas Twining thereto if he shall be then living." (Humphrey and John were appointed; Thomas Twining died during Humphrey's incumbency.) After leaving his plate and linen to his wife and £100 and an annuity to his daughter Susan, he continues, "residue of my personal estate after payment of my debts and funeral charges . . . I give to my wife and three younger children John, Francis, and Elizabeth, equally to be divided between them, and I appoint my said wife and son Francis to be executor of this my Will. Signed and sealed 6th day of July 1774. P. Smythies. Signed by the said Palmer Smythies in the presence of John Blyth, John Gibson, Ben. Johnson." Proved in P.C.C. 28 January 1777 by Francis Smythies the son. (42, Collier.)

The first wife of Palmer Smythies was Susan Puplet. This is shewn by an indenture dated 2 January 1732 which "Witnesseth that the said Palmer Smythies for and in consideration of the great affection & Love which he beareth unto Thamar Smythies, widow, mother of the s<sup>d</sup> Palmer Smythies, and Susan, William, Humphry, Ann, George, Thomas, & Charles, children of the s<sup>d</sup> Palmer Smythies by Susan his late wife heretofore Susan Puplet" . . . "hath granted . . . Edward Leeds and William Bree . . . the White House . . . Upon this special Trust and Confidence nevertheless . . . that they . . . shall permit and suffer the aforesaid Thamar Smythies, mother of the s<sup>d</sup> Palmer Smythies, to have and receive to her own use and benefit the rents, issues and profits . . . during the term of her nat. Life if she shall so long continue Sole & unmarried," etc.

From the date of the birth of Palmer Smythies himself and of his eldest daughter Susan (see A 34, below) it is clear that he must have married his first wife about 1719 or a little earlier. Her death is recorded by a quaint inscription on a mural monument over the family vault in Mile End Churchyard. The wording is as follows: "Prudent and agreeable | modest without Affectation | sprightly with good Nature | the love of all that knew her | good without Ostentation | pious with Cheerfulness | relying on the Merits of | a crucified Saviour | thro' him beloved of God | SUSAN | the affectionate Wife of | PALMER SMYTHIES | the tender Mother of 10 | Children 7 of which survived | her. Died July the 24, 1731 | And lies buried close up to | this Wall in the Churchyard."

Nothing has so far been ascertained regarding her parents, but it is believed they belonged to Ipswich, where a street called Purplet Street still exists, and that they were possibly members of that colony of Huguenot refugees which at the end of the seventeenth and beginning of the eighteenth century settled in the eastern counties.

The second wife of Palmer Smythies was Elizabeth Brazier, daughter of Rev. John Brazier, Rector of Great Holland and Easchorp, who was a member of an old Essex family descending from Anthony Brazier, Rector of Ingatestone, who died 1609-10 (Letter from J. C. C. Smith, Esq., Probate Registry, Somerset House, dated 30 June 1881); she was, with her two sisters, coheirress of her father (informant, J. K. Smythies her great-grandson in 1880). She married 1732 (see dates: death of 1st wife and birth of first child by 2nd wife); died at Colchester and was buried at St. Michael's, Mile End, in the family vault there. Her will was proved 9 January 1799.

A small oval portrait of Palmer Smythies, painted in oils on canvas by George Roth in 1773, is in possession of Frank Borthwick Smythies, Esq. (B 51), and a copy of it, painted in oils from the original, is owned by Major Raymond Smythies (A 70), also a miniature reproduction on ivory.

(A 32) Furley Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 15) of Mile End, and younger brother of Palmer Smythies, was born 18 September 1693 and baptized 9 October following. (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 33) Hephzibah Smythies, daughter of William Smythies (A 15) of Mile End, was born 14 July 1695 and baptized 11 August following (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205); she married Alexander Meadows and had issue James, Hephzibah, and Sarah. (Add. MSS. 19,086 and will of William Smythies of Withesham.)

(A 34) Susan Smythies, daughter of Palmer Smythies (A 31), was born 13 Jan. and baptized 25 January 1720-1 at St. Mary's-at-the-Walls, Colchester (Extract Family Bible and Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). She was left £100 and an annuity by her father's will. (See A 31, above.)

and baptized 27 December 1721. He died 9 April and was buried 12 April 1722 at Mile End. (Extract Family Bible and Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 36) William Smythies, son of Palmer Smythies (A 31), was born 18 Nov. and baptized 4 December 1722 at St. Mary's-at-the-Walls, Colchester; buried 5 November 1780 at St. Peter's, Colchester. Administration was granted to his daughter Catherine by the Prerogative Court 24 November 1780 (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205; Par. Reg. St. Mary Magdalen, Colchester, etc.). He owned Green Street Hall, North House, and Martels in East Mersey, and "Lucas's" in Stisted parish (Morant's "Essex," i., 430, and ii., 256—58). He was at Sidney-Sussex Coll., Cambridge; became A.B. 1743, A.M. 1761 (Grad. Cant., B.M.) and Fellow of his College ("Gent. Mag.," xvii., 154). He was the first member of the family to benefit by the purchase of the living of Alpheton by the Rev. Thomas Smythies his uncle. Thomas Smythies died in 1746, so also did the Rev. Sheffield Martin, Rector of Alpheton; the living then became vacant for the first time since its purchase by Thomas Smythies, and William Smythies was appointed to succeed Mr. Martin, but was not inducted till 25 March 1747. (Alpheton Par. Reg., Bk. I., p. 60.) He was Vicar of St. Peter's, Colchester, 1759 ("Gent. Mag.," xxix., 607), inducted 1760, and held the living till his death (Add. MSS. 33,521). He is mentioned in his father's will. (See A 31, above.)

William Smythies married, 14 July 1747 (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205), Anna Dorothea Carleton, at St. Michael's, Mile End, Colchester. She died and was buried at St. Peter's, Colchester, 5 September 1777 (mural tablet, left of pulpit, St. Peter's, Colchester). One of the sponsors at the baptism of her daughter Dorothea was Christopher Carleton, who was probably her father, to whom this Christian name is ascribed with a query.

(A 37) Catherine Smythies,* daughter of William Smythies (A 36), born 7 April and baptized at Alpheton 29 April 1748, her sponsors being Samuel Wigg, Elizabeth Smythies, and Catherine Carleton; married 1793 (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205, and Alpheton Register). Her death is thus recorded in the "Ipswich Journal," 10 July 1819, and "Gent. Mag.," July 1819, p. 92: "Monday, died after a painful affliction, aged 71, Mrs Catherine Smythies, da. of the late Rev<sup>d</sup> William Smythies, Rector of Alpheton in this co. and Vicar of St Peter's, Colch." From these references it would appear that Catherine Smythies married a cousin of her own name, but the Register at Alpheton, which for a time was very imperfectly kept, does not make this clear.

(A 38) Dorothea Smythies, daughter of William Smythies (A 36), was born at Colchester 21 November 1751 and baptized at St. Mary's (at-the-Walls) there, her sponsors being Christopher Carleton, Ann Smythies, and Susan Smythies. (Registered at Alpheton in Bk. I., on p. 60.)

(A 39) William Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 36), was born 18 July 1753 and baptized at Alpheton 5 September, his sponsors being Palmer Smythies, George Heath, and Hasler Affleck; Surgeon in the Army; died 1781 or 1782. Administration granted to Margaret his wife by Prerogative Court 23 March 1785. He married Margaret Burgess at New York 28 April 1777 (Par. Reg. Alpheton and Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205), and there died. She survived her husband and married 2ndly Sir Edmund Affleck, 1st Bart., 14 May 1788 (Burke's "Peerage," information given by Elizabeth Smythies his granddaughter, etc.). In Burke's "Peerage" Lady Affleck's Christian name is incorrectly given as Mary instead of Margaret.

(A 40) John Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 36), was born 30 July and baptized 4 August 1754. He died 4 October 1754 and was buried at Alpheton. (Par. Reg. Alpheton and Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 41) Carleton Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 36), died without issue. (Add. MSS. 19,149, and information given by Elizabeth Smythies his great-niece.)

(A 42) Harriet Smythies, daughter of William Smythies (A 36), was born 25 November 1760 and married Jacob Whittington. She made an affidavit in December 1830 of her pedigree from her great-grandfather William Smythies (A 15) of Mile End, in which a curious mistake has been made, from which it would appear that William Smythies (A 17), with his brothers and sisters, and William Smythies (A 36), with his brothers and sisters, were all children of William Smythies (A 15) of Mile End, who died more than two years before William Smythies (A 36) was born, and is shown in the Whittington pedigree to have done so.

It is not surprising that Mrs. Whittington, who was over 90 years of age when the affidavit was made, should have been bewildered by the numerous Williams, but it is curious that the person who drew up the pedigree should not have noticed so obvious an error. Apart from this mistake the particulars regarding individuals, almost all of which it has been possible to check by comparison with wills, parish registers, etc., appear to be perfectly correct (they were no doubt taken from documents), but it is necessary to call special attention to the inaccuracy of this pedigree, as otherwise it might cause serious confusion.

The facts, as set forth in PEDIGREE A, are that William Smythies (A 36), who married Anna Dorothea Carleton, was the son by his first wife, Susan Paplet, of Palmer Smythies (A 31), who was the eldest brother of William Smythies (A 17), who married 1stly Margarita de Vandergues and 2ndly Elizabeth Blatch; Palmer Smythies (A 31) and William Smythies (A 36) being the sons of William Smythies (A 15), who married Thamar Furley.

(A 43) William Carleton Smythies, son of William Smythies (A 39) of Oldland Hall in Oldland, co. Gloucester, in 1830, was born at New York in 1778 (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205). He was gazetted Cornet 6th (Inniskilling) Dragoons 18 August 1796 and was still serving in 1798, but his name disappears from the list of officers in 1799, and he evidently retired before marriage (Army List). He married, 21 March 1799, Emilia Irving, daughter of Joshua Gosselin of Guernsey, and of Ware, co. Hertford, Esq. She died at Bath in 1858, æt. 82, and he died in 1853. (Gosselin Pedigree, Twining and Smythies Family Papers.)

(A 44) . . . Smythies, another son of William Smythies (A 39), who died in infancy, Christian name not known. (Add. MSS. 19,149, fo. 205.)

(A 45) Carleton Smythies, son of William Carleton Smythies (A 43), of Oak Lawn, co. Suffolk, and Roman Hill, near Colchester; married Theodosia, da. of Sir Henry Hawley, 2nd Bart., but died without issue 17 July 1862.* He and his brother Thomas (A 46) were the last male descendants of William, son of Palmer Smythies, Rector of Mile End, by his first marriage, and both failing to leave issue, Henry Raymond Smythies (A 64), direct descendant of Humphrey, the other son of Palmer by his first marriage who left issue, became senior representative of the family.

(A 46) Thomas Gosselin Smythies, son of William Carleton Smythies, died unmarried. He was appointed Vicar of St. John's, Cinderford, 1844. ("St. James's Chronicle," February 3-6, 1844.)

* Sir Joseph Hawley, 3rd Baronet, brother of Mrs. Carleton Smythies, won "The Derby" on four occasions, viz., in 1851, 1858, 1859, 1868.

(A 47) Elizabeth Smythies, living at Weston Lawn, Bath, 1880, died unmarried.

(A 48) Sarah Smythies, living at Weston Lawn, Bath, 1880, died unmarried.

(A 49) Catherine Smythies, married J. Hooper.

(A 50) Christian Mary Smythies, living at Weston Lawn, Bath, 1880, died unmarried 22 May 1891.

(A 51) Joshua Smythies, son of William Carleton Smythies (A 43), died young.

(A 52) Humphrey Smythies, son of Palmer Smythies (A 31), was baptized at St. Mary-at-the-Walls, Colchester, but the record of his birth and baptism, in which it may be noted his name is spelt Humphrey, is in the Register at St. Mary Magdalene, Colchester. The following quaint entry is found on the first page of the Register at South Moreton: "The Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr Smythies gave ten books of the new version of the Psalms for the use of the Singers of South Moreton for which the Church Wardens are annually accountable to the Minister—in the year of our Lord 1766. These books were given—John Bohem, Dennis Alder, Church Wardens." And below, "N.B.—the sole intent of this memorandum is that the Books may not be embezzled privately, Hum'y Smythies." A notice of his preferment to Blewbury-cum-Upton in 1759 occurs in "Gent. Mag.," xxix., 195, and of his preferment to Alpheton in 1781 in the same, li., 48. In Alpheton Church is a mural monument with the following inscription: "In memory of Humphry [sic] Smythies, M.A., Rector of this Parish, who died May 30th, 1806, in the 83rd year of his age." By his father's will he was left a share in the Winesham property (see A 31, above).

Humphrey Smythies married Katherine Abbot (widow of Mr. Abbot of Abingdon), whose maiden name was Carter, and from the date of the birth of their son Henry Yeats (A 59) it is probable the marriage took place about the end of 1763 or beginning of 1764, but enquiries at Abingdon and elsewhere have not been successful in eliciting further information. She died and was buried at Stanground, where her son was Vicar, and a mural monument in the chapel at the east end of the north aisle of the church bears the following inscription: "In memory of Katherine Smythies, Relict of Humphrey Smythies, M.A., Rector of Alpheton in the County of Suffolk and of Staughton in the County of Bedford. Died May 6, 1810, Aged 76." The Register merely records that Katherine Smythies, mother of the Rev. H. Y. Smythies, Vicar, was buried on 12 May 1810.

A miniature portrait of Humphrey Smythies, painted on ivory by Charles Jagger (1770—1827) of Bath, circa 1803, is now in possession of his great-grandson Major Raymond Smythies (A 70).

(A 53) Ann Smythies, daughter of Palmer Smythies (A 31), married the Rev. Brook Nathaniel Bridges, a member of the Kent family of that name (Brook Bridges, Esq., of Goodneston was created a Baronet 1718). The subsequent marriage of her daughter Margaretta to the Rev. Samuel Raymond of Belchamp Hall, Walter Belchamp, formed the first link between the Smythies and Raymond families. A head-and-shoulders portrait in oils on canvas of Rev. Samuel Raymond* and a half-length portrait of Margaretta his wife (30 in. by 25 in.) by John Simpson are now in possession of Major Raymond Smythies (A 70), also a miniature on ivory of Margaretta Raymond.

(A 54 to A 58). See pedigree.

* This is a replica of the portrait in the Belchamp Hall collection, which includes also a portrait of the Rev. Samuel Raymond, when a younger man, by Gainsborough, and a remarkable series of portraits of his ancestors from John Raymond (by Cornelius Janssen), who bought the estate from Sir John Wentworth about 1611, onwards.

(A 59) Henry Yeats Smythies, son of Humphrey Smythies (A 52), whose birth is recorded in the South Moreton Register, was for many years Fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and on relinquishing the office of Bursar, which he had for some time held, he was presented with a silver cake-basket [now in possession of his grandson Major Raymond Smythies (A 70)], on which are engraved the Emmanuel College arms, the Smythies arms (On a field argent a chevron azure between three oak-leaves vert, each charged with an acorn or), and the following inscription: "Magister et Socii Coll. Eman. Henrico Yeats Smythies, S.T.B., in Bursarii munere obcondo Strenno ac fideli D.D.D. MDCCXC." In the previous year he had received preferment as Vicar of the valuable living of Stanground-cum-Pareet, co. Hants, in the gift of Emmanuel College, which he held till his death.

He married Isabella Raymond, the granddaughter of his aunt Ann Bridges (A 53). This formed the second link between the Smythies and Raymond families. A mural monument on the south wall of the chancel of Stanground Church bears the following inscription:—

"Within this church are deposited the remains of the Rev<sup>d</sup> Henry Yeats Smythies, B.D., formerly Fellow and Bursar of Emmanuel College in the University of Cambridge and thirty-three years Vicar of this Parish. He was an active magistrate for the County of Huntingdon and Liberty of Peterborough, the duties of which office he fulfilled for many years with honor to himself and benefit to the public. He was born at South Moreton in the County of Berks Feb. 15, 1763, and died June 20th, 1842, Leaving a Widow and Seven Children, at whose desire this tablet was erected in testimony of their respect for his integrity of character and gratitude for his affectionate kindness as a Husband and Parent. Isabella, Relict of the above, died September 8th, 1858, aged 74 years, and lies buried at Woking in the County of Surrey."

A head-and-shoulders portrait in oils on canvas of Henry Yeats Smythies and a half-length portrait of Isabella his wife (30 in. by 25 in.) by John Simpson* are now in possession of their grandson Major Raymond Smythies (A 70).

The pedigree of Isabella Raymond, wife (and first-cousin once removed) of Henry Yeats Smythies, is recorded in Burke's "Landed Gentry," Burke's "Royal Descents," Ruigny's "Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal" (Mortimer-Percy Volume, Part I.), etc.

(A 60) Catherine Smythies, married William Brewster, Esq. (See this and Brewster pedigree.)

(A 61) Margaretta Smythies, married John Greene, Esq., elder brother of Edward Greene, Esq., who married her sister Emily (A 67). They lived at "Abbey Ruins," Bury St. Edmunds. "The Panels" was bought by their son John Smythies Greene in 1874. Fanny, daughter of John Greene and Margaretta Smythies, married as his 2nd wife Rev. Oliver Raymond, Rector of Middleton, nephew of her grandparents (A 59), and so formed a third link between the Smythies and Raymond families. (See A 53 and A 59, above.)

(A 62 and A 63). See pedigree.

(A 64) Henry Raymond Smythies, son of H. Y. Smythies (A 59), had no issue (see this and pedigrees of his wives' families). A small oil-painting of him on panel by John Simpson is in possession of his nephew Major Raymond Smythies (A 70).

Fanny Heigham, daughter of John Henry Heigham, Esq., J.P., D.L., of Hunston Hall, Suffolk, 2nd wife of Henry Raymond Smythies, is a member of one of the * John Simpson, portrait painter, was born in London in 1782, and for many years was assistant to Sir Thomas Lawrence. In 1834 he went to Lisbon, and was appointed painter to the Queen of Portugal, but returned to England and died in London in 1847. He painted portraits of many distinguished people; one of the Duke of Brunswick is at Windsor Castle.

oldest families in Suffolk, and has an unbroken pedigree of ancestors living in that county from the time of Richard Heigham, who died in 1340. (See Burke's "Landed Gentry," etc.)

(A 65) Julia Smythies, married John Vise Kelly, Esq. (see this and Kelly pedigree). A half-length portrait of her in oils on canvas (24 in. by 20 in.) is in possession of her nephew Major Raymond Smythies (A 70).

(A 66) Walter Tyson Smythies, son of H. Y. Smythies (A 59), married (but had no issue) Anne Rycroft Raymond, his mother's niece. This formed a fourth link between the Smythies and Raymond families. (See A 53, 59, and 61, above.)

(A 67) Emily Smythies, married Edward Greene, Esq. (see A 61), who survived his wife and married secondly Caroline Dorothea, widow of Admiral Sir William Hoste, Bart., and daughter of Charles Prideaux Brune of Prideaux Place, co. Cornwall, Esq. Emily Greene left a son Edward Walter Greene (created a Baronet 1901) and four daughters. Portraits in oils on canvas (circa 30 by 25) of Edward Greene and Emily his wife, by John Simpson, are in possession of Sir E. Walter Greene their son.

(A 68). See pedigree.

(A 69) Raymond Brewster Smythies, son of H. Y. Smythies (A 59), and the only son to have issue, had one son (see A 70, below).

A half-length portrait in oils on canvas (24 in. by 20 in.) of Raymond Brewster Smythies (artist not known) and a miniature on ivory, by Nina Hardy, of Isabella his wife, are in possession of their son Major Raymond Smythies (A 70).

A portion of the pedigree of Isabella Jane Anstey, wife of Raymond Brewster Smythies, is recorded in Rivigny's "Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal" (Mortimer-Percy Volume, Essex Supplement). This shews her descent from Christopher Anstey the poet* and Ann Calvert (see Verney in Burke's "Peerage and Baronetage") her great-grandparents. The father of Christopher Anstey the poet was the Rev. Christopher Anstey, D.D. (who married Elizabeth, daughter of Anthony Thompson, M.P. for Cambridge in 1702), and his grandfather was William Anstey, who was living and married in 1706 to Elinor Reynolds. Christopher Anstey the poet had a country seat and fine property at Trumpington, near Cambridge, but this was sold by his grandson Christopher (uncle of Isabella Jane Smythies), who died unmarried. A fairly full account of Christopher Anstey the poet, and some references to his father, are contained in "The General Biographical Dictionary," by Alexander Chalmers, F.S.A. (London, 1812), "The Dictionary of National Biography," etc. He was granted a mural monument in Poets' Corner, Westminster Abbey.

(A 70) Raymond Henry Raymond Smythies, son of R. B. Smythies (A 69), became, on the death of his uncle Henry Raymond Smythies (A 64) in 1888, the only living male descendant of Palmer Smythies (A 31) by his first marriage. A three-quarter length portrait of R. H. Raymond Smythies (38½ by 26½) in oils on canvas has been painted by Joseph Simpson, R.B.A.

* Several portraits of Christopher Anstey exist. In the quarto edition of his works, brought out by his son John in 1808, a portrait in enamel by Zinck and one in oils by Sir Thomas Lawrence were reproduced. Another portrait by J. Thurston, engraved by Engleheart, was published by W. Walker in 1822. Another, with his daughter Sarah (afterwards the wife of Rear-Admiral Thomas Sotheby), by Gainsborough, is the property of the Rev. John Anstey, his great-grandson. And another by William Hoare, R.A., is in possession of the Corporation of Bath, who also own a portrait of Ann Calvert his wife, by the same artist.

PEDIGREE B.—THE SMYTHIES OF ESSEX AND SUFFOLK,

Descended from Palmer Smythies and Elizabeth, née Brazier, his second wife.

(B 1) John Smythies of Colchester, son of Palmer Smythies (A 31). The Rev. Robert Bashford, Master of King James' Hospital, Colchester, writing 26 March 1903, says: "All his successors . . . owe to the Mr. Smythies, Master in 1805, a debt of gratitude for his plucky and successful law-suit on behalf of the Master's income and statutory obligations. The present hospital dates from King James 1st reign, and originally it was a leper hospital, founded by Count Eudo de Dapifer in the reign of Henry 1st."

Two identical portraits of John Smythies, painted in oils (artist not known), are in existence, one the property of his great-grandson Mr. Arthur Smythies, and the other of his great-great-granddaughter Miss Mary Peachey.

Elizabeth (née Longcroft), wife of John Smythies, was on her father's side a member of an old Hampshire family, and on her mother's was descended from the Bearcrofts of Mere Hall, Worcestershire. This property was possessed by the Bearcrofts in lineal male descent from 1337 to 1822, when it passed to an heiress, whose heirs assumed the name and arms of Bearcroft. (See Burke's "Landed Gentry," etc.)

(B 2, 3, and 4). See pedigree.

(B 5) Elizabeth Smythies married the Rev. Thomas Twining, who, in a bicentenary record of the Twinings of Devereux Court, Strand (published 1910), is thus described: "An erudite classical scholar, an acute critic, a brilliant letter writer, a musician of great ability, and an accomplished linguist. His translation of Aristotle's 'Poetics' is still spoken of with respect." "He was a friend of Johnson, Garrick, Burke, and Burney, formed part of Mrs. Thrale's 'charmed circle' at Streatham, and, on his death in 1804, was made the subject of an eloquent epitaph by the great Samuel Parr."* See also the "Dictionary of National Biography"; "A Country Clergyman of the XVIII. Century" (Murray, 1882); "Papers of the Twining Family" (Murray, 1887), etc. A portrait of Rev. T. Twining was painted by J. J. Hales and reproduced in mezzotint by C. Turner.

Thomas Twining, the founder of the well-known house of tea merchants and bankers, when he first came to London at the end of the seventeenth century lived in the parish of St. Giles's, Cripplegate, and there, in all probability, became acquainted with William Smythies (A 10). If so, the friendship then started would account for the fact that Richard Twining, grandson of Thomas, having taken his eldest son Thomas into his business and finding him unfitted for it, asked Palmer Smythies, grandson of the above-mentioned William Smythies, to take Thomas into his family and prepare him for the university. It was in this way that Thomas Twining the younger became attached to Elizabeth Smythies, the daughter of his preceptor, and subsequently married her. A second marriage took place between the two families in the next generation (see B 6, below), when Richard Twining, nephew of the Rev. Thomas Twining, married Elizabeth Smythies (B 6), his wife's niece. Their son was the next head of the house of Twining, and their daughter Miss Lonisa Twining, who is still living, is well known for her valuable work in the cause of education and philanthropy.

(B 6) Elizabeth Mary Smythies married Richard Twining, the second head of the "House of Twining" of that name (see B 5, above). He was educated at Norwich under Dr. Samuel Parr, was Chairman of the Committee of Bye-laws at the East India House, a Fellow of the Royal Society, and a Member of the Society of Arts. A good portrait of him exists, painted in oils, by Mrs. Carpenter. It is now at Devereux Court, Strand, in possession of his descendants.

* Who succeeded Palmer Smythies as Master of the Royal Grammar School, Colchester.

(B 7) John Robert Smythies, son of John Smythies (B 1). M.I. St. James' Churchyard, Colchester. Author of "Thoughts on the Agricultural Question," contained in a letter to the Earl of Liverpool (London, 1820). A miniature portrait of John Robert Smythies is in possession of his great-granddaughter Miss Mary Peachey. He is also one of the figures represented in the picture, by Ansdell, of "The Country Meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society of England" (1839 ?), engraved by S. W. Reynolds, and published by Thomas Agnew at Manchester in 1843. The document appointing John Robert Smythies Chaplain to H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex was in possession of his son John Kinnersley Smythies in 1880.

(B 8) Elizabeth Smythies, of whom a miniature portrait in water-colour exists in possession of Miss Mary Peachey, her great-niece.

(B 9) John Kinnersley Smythies, son of John Robert Smythies (B 7), spent a great part of his fortune in constructing a flying-machine and making experiments therewith. His appointment as Recorder of Ludlow was announced in "The Times," 9 November 1880. He was the author of a pamphlet entitled "Problems on the Motion of Atoms," pp. 23 (London, 1885).

(B 10 and 11). See pedigree.

(B 12) Henry Smythies, son of John Robert Smythies (B 7), married Harriette, daughter of Henry Waddington, at Liverpool, 1 March 1840. Particulars of the Waddington family and a pedigree are given in the "History of Monmouthshire," by Colonel Joseph A. Bradney, C.B., B.A., F.S.A. (p. 388). The Rev. Joseph Waddington, Vicar of Harworth and Walkeringham, co. Notts, who was born in 1711 and died in 1780, had a large family, and amongst them a son Henry (born 1761), the father of Mrs. H. Smythies. Another, and elder son, William, became a naturalized Frenchman, and his son Thomas was the father of William Henry Waddington (born 1826, died 1894), who became French Ambassador to Great Britain (1883—93). Harriette Smythies died 17 April 1891, aged 79, and was buried at Dunedin, N.Z.

(B 13). See pedigree.

(B 14) Elizabeth Lydia Smythies was born 23 October 1842, and is now (1911) living in New Zealand. Her husband, Samuel Bold Stephens, died at Otepopo 1 July 1877.

(B 15) Harry Waddington Smythies, son of Henry Smythies (B 12), married secondly a widow, Mrs. Stevius. There has been no issue of this marriage.

(B 16) Edward Kinnersley Smythies, son of Henry Smythies (B 12), has (1911) no issue.

(B 17) Fanny Smythies was born in 1847.

(B 18) Rosa Smythies was born in 1850.

(B 19) Robert Smythies, son of Henry Smythies (B 12), was born in 1852.

(B 20) Edward Smythies, son of John Robert Smythies (B 7). Elizabeth (née Elizabeth March Philipps), the first wife of Edward Smythies, by whom he had issue, was the eldest daughter of the Rev. Edward Thomas March Philipps, third son of Thomas March, Esq., and his wife Susan (née Lisle), who was a cousin of her husband. Thomas March, on the death (1777) of his cousin Samuel Philipps, Esq., of Garendon Park and Grace Dieu Manor, assumed the name of Philipps, and in 1796 came into possession of his estates. His grandson

Ambrose Lisle March Philipps, Esq., who succeeded to the family estates in 1862, in addition assumed the ancient name of his grandmother's family, viz., de Lisle (or de Insula). (See Burke's "Landed Gentry," under Philipps de Lisle.)

(B 21). See pedigree.

(B 22) Arthur Smythies, son of Edward Smythies (B 20), during his service in the Indian Woods and Forests Department, wrote several treatises on the subject of forestry for the use of the students at the Imperial Forests School and others interested. These included "Fruit Culture in the N.W. Himalaya," "List of Trees and Shrubs found in the Dehra Dun and Saharanpur Forests," "The Working of the Dehra Dun Sāl Forests," a translation of "Elements of Silviculture" from the French of E. E. Fernandez, besides various articles in "The Indian Forester" and the "Journal of the Imperial Forests School." His wife has on one side French descent, her mother having been a member of the Huguenot family of Paure.

(B 23) Evelyn Arthur Smythies, son of Arthur Smythies (B 22), married 3 April 1911, at St. John's Church, Lucknow, India, Olive Muriel, daughter of Percy Rowland Cripps of Winford Manor, co. Somerset, Esq., J.P. (deceased). The marriage took place from Government House, the residence of Mr. Leslie Porter, C.S.I., officiating Lieut.-Governor of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and his wife (née Aletta Aston), a sister of Mrs. Arthur Smythies (B 22).

(B 24 to 28). See pedigree.

(B 29) Beatrice Inez Smythies married Henry Holmes Jellett, whose father, the Rev. John Hewitt Jellett, had been Provost of Trinity College, Dublin, and whose uncles, the Very Rev. Henry Jellett and Hewitt Poole Jellett, K.C., were respectively Dean of St. Patrick's and H.M.'s 2nd Serjeant-at-Law in Ireland. These three distinguished brothers were the sons of the Rev. Morgan Jellett, Prebendary of Tullycorbet.

(B 30 and 31). See pedigree.

(B 32) Eric Smythies, son of Frederick Smythies (B 26), was born 18 September 1888.

(B 33) Margarita Hilda Smythies was married, 12 October 1911, to A. C. Glynn Baker of Helpmakaar, Lindley, Orange River Colony.

(B 34 to 40). See pedigree.

(B 41) Francis Smythies, son of Palmer Smythies (A 31). An open letter from "An Independent and impartial Free Burgess to the rest of the Free Burgesses of the Borough of Colchester," advocating the appointment of Francis Smythies as Recorder of Colchester, contains the following: "The vacancy of the Recordership, an event which . . . cannot be at a very great distance, will make to you the most important crisis of any that hath taken place since your acceptance of the new Charter. The embarrassed situation of your finances, and the late outrageous attempt of one of your Aldermen and Representatives in Parliament to reduce them to a still lower state by depriving you of the most valuable part of your fisheries, are matters of the most serious Consideration. They call upon you in the strongest manner to elect a man to the Recordership who is both able and willing to vindicate your just and ancient rights . . . Three persons have been talked of as successors to Mr. Mayhew . . . Sir Robert Smyth . . . Mr. Smythies, the Town Clerk, and . . . Mr. Grimwood . . . All the Magistrates, and by far the greatest part of the Corporate body, I find most warmly wish Mr. Smythies to succeed to the office of Recorder. They seem to think him in all respects perfectly qualified for the due execution of it, and indeed I do not find that his most violent enemies have ventured to call in question his abilities for any part of the business that belongs to it. The greatest objection I have heard against him is that he is too sanguine in his temper, and too violent in carrying his party measures into execution; and, I confess, that where I have differed from him in opinion I have thought the same, and have felt the full force of the objection; and, angry as I have been with him at the time, yet I never could suppress a wish that we had had so warm and so steady a friend on our side of the question; and though perhaps a character with less spirit might be more generally popular, yet would it be less adapted to our present perilous situation. In the course of the twenty years that he has exercised the office of Town Clerk . . . whenever I have had occasion to ask his advice he has always given it to me gratis . . . With respect to his behaviour on the Hall, whenever our rights to the Commons, Fisheries, or other public matters have been under consideration, you must have made your own observations, and I dare say they have been such as have done him Credit, both as a Townsman and a Brother Burgess." (Copied from the original, as published, dated 17 November 1787.) Francis Smythies was appointed Recorder.

Portraits in oils of Francis Smythies and his wife are in possession of his great-grandson Mr. Frank Borthwick Smythies, who also has a miniature portrait of Francis Smythies.

(B 42). See pedigree.

(B 43) Mary Ann Smythies, daughter of Francis Smythies (B 41). Sackville Henry Frederick Gwynne of Glanbrau, the husband of Mary Ann Smythies, was a member of the well-known Welsh family of that name. The record of his marriage to Mary Ann Smythies will be found in the Gwynne pedigree given in the "History of Monmouthshire," by Colonel Joseph A. Bradney, C.B., B.A., F.S.A., p. 409. He was baptized at Llanfair ar y bryn 14 August 1778, became Captain in the Monmouthshire and Brecknockshire Militia, Colonel of the Carmarthenshire Volunteers, and Sheriff of Brecknockshire 1807. He and his son sold Glanbrau, and spent the family fortune. He died in 1836. There are now (1911) several descendants of this marriage in the female line, but none in the male. A very interesting account of the Gwynne family is given in "Old Wales," vol. iii., p. 288.

(B 44 to 49). See pedigree.

(B 50) William Smythies, son of Francis Smythies (B 41), married about the year 1797 Grace, daughter of Thomas Richards of Stow Hill, Newport, Monmouthshire. Her mother was Elizabeth Evans, daughter, by his first wife, of Samuel Evans of Goldcliff, co. Monmouth, Esq.

(B 51) Francis Smythies, son of Francis Smythies (B 41), was offered knight-hood by King George IV., but declined the honour. His will contains a comprehensive statement of his lauded property, and its distribution amongst his children and grandchildren.

A portrait in oils (c. 30 inches by 25 inches), by Pickersgill, of Mrs. Francis Smythies (née Caroline Dale) is in possession of Mrs. William Yorick Smythies, by whom it was purchased at a sale at Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Co.'s rooms, on 2 February 1911, when certain pictures, formerly the property of Rev. William Yorick Smythies, who died intestate, were offered at auction. The picture was incorrectly catalogued as a portrait of Mrs. Frances [sic] Smythies.

(B 52) Francis Smythies, son of Francis Smythies (B 51), married Harriet Jane Gardiner, whose mother (née Anne Mangles) was a sister of Frances Mangles, who married 1825 Captain the Hon. Charles Leonard Irby (see "Boston" in Burke's "Peerage"), and had, with other issue, Frances Elizabeth, who married Rev. R. J. Howard Rice (see B 55 and 58, below).

(B 53 and 54). See pedigree.

(B 55) Frank Borthwick Smythies, son of Francis Smythies (B 52), author, under the nom-de-plume "Garboard Streyek," of "The Sea, the River, and the Creek," a series of Sketches of the Eastern Coast (Sampson Low, Marston, Searle, and Rivington, 1884). The maternal grandmother of F. B. Smythies, Mrs. Edmund Gardiner, and the maternal grandmother of his wife, the Hon. Mrs. Charles Irby, were sisters (see B 52 above and B 58 below).

(B 56 and 57). See pedigree.

(B 58) Rosa Smythies, daughter of Francis Smythies (B 52). The maternal grandmother of Rosa Smythies, Mrs. Edmund Gardiner (née Anne Mangles), was first-cousin to Charles Mangles, M.P. for Newport, her husband's father; hence she and her husband are second-cousins once removed (see B 52 and 55 and pedigree below).

(B 59 and 60). See pedigree.

(B 61) Margaret Charlotte Montagu Smythies, daughter of Francis Smythies (B 52), married Samuel Raymond, and so formed a fifth link between the Smythies and Raymond families. The pedigree below shews these links in tabulated form.

FAMILY GROUP AT ORLINGBURY RECTORY

PHILIP RAYMOND, who died young.

Mrs. RAYMOND, of Belchamp Hall (née Margaretta Bridges), grand-daughter of Rev. Palmer Smythies.

SAMUEL MILBANK RAYMOND, who succeeded his father, the Rev. Samuel Raymond, as owner of Belchamp Hall and estates

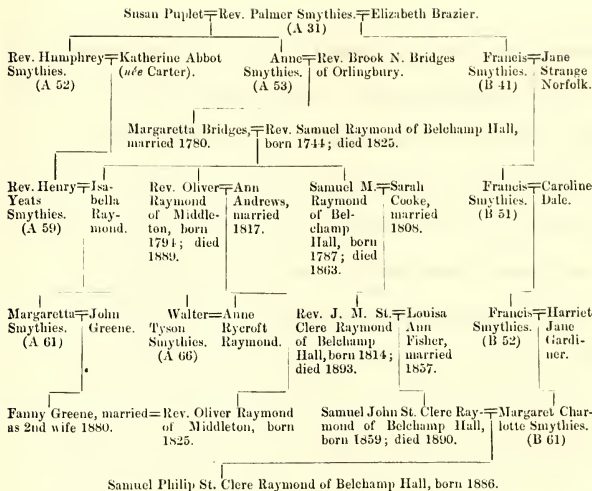

ISABELLA RAYMOND, sister of Samuel Milbank Raymond, who married Rev. Henry Yeats Smythies

Miss BROOK BRIDGES, sister of Mrs. Raymond and grand-daughter of Rev. Palmer Smythies

See Pedigree on p. 51, etc.

From an Oil Painting in possession of THE RAYMOND FAMILY.

From this it will be seen that Margaret Smythies and Samuel Raymond both trace descent directly from Palmer Smythies, she being his great-great-granddaughter by his second marriage, and he his great-great-great-grandson by his first marriage.

(B 62) Jane Harriet Smythies, after her husband's decease, continued to live at Alresford Hall till her death, which occurred on 27 July 1908.

(B 63) Charles Norfolk Smythies married Isabella, daughter of Admiral Sir Eaton Travers, R.N., K.H. The pedigree of the Travers family is of much interest, not only on account of its length, but also on account of the many notable alliances and distinguished services which it records. The following, taken by kind permission from the family papers of Colonel James Conway Travers, gives briefly the direct descent of Mrs. C. N. Smythies:—

(B 64). See pedigree.

(B 65) Charles Alan Smythies, son of Charles Norfolk Smythies (B 63). One of the most important services rendered by Bishop Smythies was the promotion of harmonious relations between the German and English officials and missionaries in East Africa. With this aim in view he visited Berlin in October 1890. There he was the guest of Sir Edward Malet, the then British Ambassador, and had interviews with the Chancellor, General von Caprivi, and the Emperor William II. It may be said with confidence that the good understanding regarding missionary enterprise in English and German East Africa, which this visit materially helped to establish, was of much value to both nations. A "Life of Bishop Smythies," by G. W.,* edited by Edward Francis Russell, M.A., with a portrait as frontispiece, was published at the office of the Universities' Mission to Central Africa, 9 Dartmouth Street, Westminster, in 1898. There is a handsome memorial to him in the form of a reredo in Zanzibar Cathedral, and a memorial tablet in the Church of St. Mary-at-the-Walls, Colchester.

(B 66) Palmer Kingsmill Smythies, son of Charles Norfolk Smythies (B 63), served as a Lieutenant attached to "Boadicea's" Naval Brigade during the Zulu War of 1879. He joined General Crealock's column, and went with it to Port Durford. In 1881, during the operations against the Boers, he was Naval Transport Officer in Natal. He was Lieutenant in command of H.M.S. "Albacore," during the naval and military operations in the Eastern Soudan, at Suakin, 1884-85. As a Commander he held command of H.M.S. "Linnet" on the China station.

(B 67) Lancelot Alan Smythies, son of Palmer Kingsmill Smythies (B 66), was selected in 1910 as a Naval Officer to study Russian. He proceeded to Russia accordingly, and on his return passed the examination in the language as interpreter.

(B 68 and 69). See pedigree.

(B 70) William Yorick Smythies, son of Francis Smythies (B 51), was a boy at Shrewsbury School (1832-1835) in the reign of King William IV., and lived to see King George V. ascend the throne of England. He was fond of telling the story of the visit of the young Princess Victoria to Shrewsbury, when he was at school there—how he with the other boys joined in the cheering which greeted her and her mother the Duchess of Kent. For some years (between 1876 and 1893) he was Inspector of Schools for the Dioceses of Rochester and St. Albans, and during this time lived on his own property near Colchester. In 1897, being in his 81st year, but still full of vigour, he was appointed by the Rev. Basil Beridge to the very valuable living of Algarkirk in Lincolnshire, and held it till his death in 1910. When 88 years of age he made a tour to Italy, Greece, the Holy Land, and Egypt, and was able thoroughly to enjoy his experiences. He was a man of commanding presence, and up to the last retained the full use of his faculties. When he died, at nearly 94 years of age, the name of Smythies for the first time during three centuries ceased to be represented among the clergy of the Church of England.

Some particulars regarding the family of the first wife of W. Y. Smythies (née Harriette Maria Gordon) are given below (B 76). She wrote some novels under the name of "Mrs. Gordon Smythies." His second wife (née Anna Maria Belson), who survives him, belongs to a naval and military family, many members of which have rendered distinguished service. Amongst these may be mentioned Sir Philip Belson, her grandfather's brother, who commanded the 28th Regiment at Quatre Bras, Captain H. F. Belson, R.N., her father, who was presented with a specially-struck gold medal by King Louis Philippe for saving a French transport in the Bay of Biscay, and General Belson, Royal Artillery, her uncle, who was present in thirty-three actions during the Peninsula War. The Belson family is connected by marriage with the de Hochpiet Larpents, and also, through the Anderson-Morsheads, with the Leslies, Earls of Rothes.

(B 71 to 75). See pedigree.

(B 76) William Gordon Smythies, son of William Yorick Smythies (B 70), married his second-cousin Charlotte Mary Keble, daughter of the Rev. Thomas Keble, only brother of Rev. John Keble, author of "The Xtian Year." The connexion between W. G. Smythies and his wife is shewn by the following pedigree :—

(B 78) Violet Mary Gordon Smythies, daughter of William Gordon Smythies (B 76), unmarried in 1911. (See B 76, above.)

WILLIAM DETHICK, GARTER, AND WILLIAM CANDEN,
CLARENCEUX, TO GEORGE SMYTHES OF WYKE COURT,
CO. SOMERSET, 1602.

The following is a full transcript taken from the original document now (1912) in possession of Frank Borthwick Smythies (B 55), who is the head of the third branch of the family descended from Francis Smythies (B 41), youngest son of Rev. Palmer Smythies (A 31) by his second wife Elizabeth Brazier. It is probable that the document came into possession of this branch of the family owing to their continuous residence in Colchester, and to the fact that Palmer Smythies made his youngest son Francis, who was a lawyer, executor of his will. Most, if not all, of the family documents must in these circumstances have come into his hands, but the grant itself does not appear to have been referred to in any will :—

MONUMENT ERECTED TO GEORGE SMYTHES IN THE CHURCH OF ST. MARY STAINING AND INSCRIPTION TO SIR ARTHUR SAVAGE.

The following inscription was in the church of St. Mary Staining ("repaired and beautified" 23 Aug. 1630) "in the which, being but newly builded, there remain no monuments worth the noting but one lately erected, a goodly monument in the south wall of the chancel" (Stow's "London," edit. 1720, Book III., p. 96) with this inscription, viz. :—

"Here lieth the body of George Smithes, Goldsmith and Alderman of London, who took to wife Sarah the daughter of Anthony Wolhouse, citizen and Haberdasher of London, by whom he had issue foure sonnes and five daughters. He departed this life the 11th day of July anno domini 1615 being 52 years of age. To whose memory Sarah his wife, being sole executrix of his last will and testament, at her own proper cost and charges caused the monument to be erected."

"There be also the armorial atchievements of Sir Arthur Savage K<sup>t</sup> and this inscription," viz. :—

"In the vault underneath lieth the body of the Honourable Sir Arthur Savage, Knighted at Cadiz in Spain 1596; General of Her Majesties forces in the Kingdom of France at the Siege of Amiens the 39 of Queen Elizabeth, Collonel, Vice Treasurer, Reeiver General and Councellour of Estate in Ireland. He had issue by his second wife Sarah, daughter of Anthony Woolhouse of Clapwell in the county of Darby (widow of George Smithes, Sheriff and Alderman of London), one only daughter named Jane. He dyed the 13 of March 1632." (Extract from Phillimore's "London and Middlesex Note Book," published 1892.)

CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE CUP BEQUEATHED BY GEORGE SMYTHES TO THE CITY OF BRISTOL IN 1615.

The following letter appeared in the May number (vol. xxiv., p. 60) of "The Connoisseur Magazine," 1909, and is reproduced by kind permission of the Editor :—

To the Editor "The Connoisseur."

SIR,

Amongst the interesting illustrations of the Corporation plate of the City of Bristol, which appear on page 156 of this month's number of "The Connoisseur," there is a representation of a "Monteith" bowl, on which the following inscription is engraved :—

"The gift of Mr George Smyther"—"Exchanged in ye year 1709."

On seeing this I felt sure that the name Smyther (sic) was either a clerical error or a mistake in the inscription, and I accordingly wrote to the Municipal Authorities of the City of Bristol, who most courteously searched their records for me and sent me extracts from them, which I think it will be admitted amply prove that I was right.

In the will of George Smythes, Alderman of London, made in the year 1614, proved 1615, and preserved at Somerset House under the reference number "67, Rudd," the following occurs:—

"Item. I give and bequeath to the City of Bristol one guilt cup of the value of twenty pounds."

This extract, with many others from the will, I have amongst my family papers, the testator being an ancestor of mine, and hence I formed the conclusion that the original cup, which the "Monteith" bowl of 1709 represents, was given by George Smythes, not Smyther. This view the following extracts, kindly sent me by the City Treasurer of Bristol, fully confirm:—

"Extracts from the Minutes of the Bristol Common Council 20th January 1708.

"It is thought fitt that Mr George Smythies, Ald<sup>r</sup> of London giuft to this City (1615) being a large Cupp and Cover wt 66 ounces be exchanged for a Monteath and yt 20 ounces be added."

"A Monteth in weight one hundred and five ounces seaven pennyweights exchanged for a Cupp and Cover weight sixty-six ounces, being the giuft of Mr George Smithies to wh. is added 39 ounces and seaven pennyweights att the City Charges."

It would be foolish, as it would be profitless, to criticise now the action of the Bristol City Fathers of two hundred years ago, but it is impossible to repress a sigh of regret that such an extremely valuable piece of plate as a cup with cover weighing 66 ounces of the year 1615 has been lost to the City of Bristol through the doubtless well-intentioned but mistaken action of its former representatives. It has, however, occurred to me that it is just possible the cup may still be in existence, and traceable, for the records do not state that it was melted down, but only exchanged, and in all probability the arms of George Smythes were engraved on the original cup, though the City arms only appear on the Monteith. In case this should have been so, I give the arms, the original exemplification of which, and the grant of crest (dated 1602), is still in possession of the family: Argent, a chevron azure between three oak-leaves vert, on each an acorn or. Crest: A demi-arm azure and hand proper holding a branch of oak-leaves with acorns or, set on a wreath of the colours.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

R. H. RAYMOND SMYTHIES.

30 March 1909.

The result of the correspondence with the Civic Authorities of Bristol was that a courteous letter was received from the City Treasurer, in which he said:—

"I propose (when properly authorised) to have the name on the Monteith changed from Smyther to Smythes. It will then agree with the name of the George Smythes who left the cup and cover by will to the City in 1615. And I shall be glad to know that this will meet with your approval."

Needless to say a reply was sent stating that this would be entirely satisfactory. It is to be regretted, however, that the publication of the above letter has not so far led to the discovery of the original cup.—R. H. R. S.

TITLE DEEDS OF THE WHITEHOUSE, WITNESHAM.

I.

Deed of Assignment of the Whitehouse and Lands in Witnesham, in the county of Suffolk, by Elizabeth Cremer (née Palmer) of the Parish of St. Mary Matfellow, Whitechapel, widow of Robert Cremer, to William Smythies also of the Parish of St. Mary Matfellow, Whitechapel, previous indentures dated 1666, 1668 and 1673 being quoted. Here follows a detail of the lands amounting to fifty-one acres. The rest of the document merely contains the usual verbose provisions for securing to William Smythies, his heirs, etc., the property known as the Whitehouse and lands, and "for ever debarring" Charles Palmer, his heirs, etc., from any rights therein. The document is signed "Charles Palmer" and sealed with a seal bearing the lugubrious sign of a skull and crossbones.—R. H. R. S.

SOME ROYAL DESCENTS IN THE SMYTHIES FAMILY.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

Since Sir Bernard Burke published his book of Royal Descents in the early part of the last century, the tracing of pedigrees of this character has been pursued with great diligence, and the result is that Burke's list, which included, inter alia, the Raymond descent, has now been supplemented by a very large number of others. The fullest details regarding the descents recorded in these Records will be found in the Mortimer-Percy Volume (Part I.) of that valuable series of genealogical works entitled, "The Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal," compiled by the Marquis of Ravigny. In that volume, on p. 631, etc. (Essex Supplement), will be found particulars of the Smythies descent, through the Ansteyes, from Roger, 4th Earl of March; the descent through the Raymonds, from Lady Elizabeth Mortimer, will be found on p. 122, etc., and the descent through the Fosbrookes from the same lady on p. 474, etc. It will be interesting also to note, by reference to Table I. in the above-mentioned volume, that descendants of Roger, 4th Earl of March, through the marriage of his daughter, Lady Anne Mortimer, to Richard Plantagenet, Earl of Cambridge, are, through the last-named, descended from Edmund, Duke of York, fourth son of Edward III., as well as from Lionel, Duke of Clarence, his second son; and further, that his descendants, through the marriage of Lady Isabel Plantagenet (his granddaughter) to Henry, 1st Earl of Essex, are, in addition, descended from Thomas, Duke of Gloucester, fifth son of Edward III., who was grandfather of the said earl. In the same Table it may be observed that descendants of Lady Elizabeth Mortimer, through the marriage of her son Henry, 2nd Earl of Northumberland, to Lady Eleanor Nevill, are, through Lady Eleanor (a granddaughter of John of Gaunt) descended from John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, third son of Edward III., as well as from Lionel, Duke of Clarence, his second son.

Hence it will be seen that :—

Isabella Smythies (née Raymond) descends from the second and third sons.

Raymond Brewster Smythies descends from the second and third sons.

Elizabeth Anne Smythies (née Fosbrooke) descends from the second and third sons.

Yorick Palmer Fosbrooke Smythies descends from the second and third sons.

Francis Palmer Smythies descends from the second and third sons.

Isabella Jane Smythies (née Anstey) descends from the second, fourth, and fifth sons.

Raymond Henry Raymond Smythies descends from the second, third, fourth, and fifth sons.

It is believed that a line of descent from Plantagenet ancestors might be traced in the case of some members of the second branch of the Smythies' family descended from John Smythies, the eldest son of the Rev. Palmer Smythies by his second wife, but so far the pedigrees given below are all that it has been possible to verify.

The living descendants of Margaretta Smythies, who married John Greene, Esq., of Bury St. Edmunds, include John Wollaston Greene, John Cecil Wollaston Greene, Kenneth Wollaston Greene, Ella Wollaston Greene, Hilda Wollaston Mrs. Manham (née Greene), Rhona Wollaston Greene, Rev. Carleton Greene, Francis Carleton Greene, Marion Raymond Greene, William Herbert Greene, Charles Raymond Greene, Henry Graham Greene, Alice Marion Greene, Maud Churchill Greene, Nora Carleton Greene and Frances Elizabeth Raymond Mrs. Oliver Raymond (née Greene). Full particulars of their descent are given on p. 126 Mortimer-Percy Vol., Part I. of Ravigny's "Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal."

The living descendants of Emily Smythies, who married Edward Greene, Esq., M.P., of Nether Hall, Bury St. Edmunds, include Sir E. Walter Greene, Bart., Lieut.-Colonel Walter Raymond Greene, M.P., Edward Allan Greene, Agatha Royds Mrs. Trevor (née Greene), Raymond Salisbury Rose Trevor, John Walter Taylor, Charles Taylor, Arthur Taylor, Angelica Taylor, Philippa Mabel Taylor, Catherine Marion Mrs. Pell (née Greene), Angela Lillian Adelaide Pell, Barbara Katherine Pell, Helen Lillian Royds Mrs. Charlesworth (née Greene), Frederick Raymond Charlesworth, Julian Basil Charlesworth, Kathleen Agatha Lady Domville (née Charlesworth), Emily Smythies Mrs. Machell Smith (née Greene), Kathleen Machell Mrs. Frank Bradshaw-Isherwood, Christopher William Bradshaw-Isherwood, Richard Graham Bradshaw-Isherwood, Julia Isabella Mrs. Fry (née Greene), Rev. Charles Edward Middleton Fry, Basil Homfray Fry, Captain Eric Edward Boketon Holt Wilson, D.S.O., R.E., Daniel Shaw Holt Wilson, Charles George Holt Wilson, Michael Carlyon Holt Wilson, Algernon Charles Winstanley Wilson, Muriel Barbara Mrs. Robertson-Glasgow (née Wilson), Robert Wilson Robertson-Glasgow, Raymond Charles Robertson-Glasgow, Helen Ursula Mrs. Shaw (née Wilson), Eric Charles Holt Shaw, Alexander Armstrong Shaw, and Ursula Flora Shaw. Full particulars of their descent are given on pp. 126, 127, and 459 Mortimer-Percy Vol., Part I. of Ruigny's "Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal."

THREE OF THE LETTERS RECEIVED BY R. H. RAYMOND SMYTHIES (A 70) WITH REFERENCE TO HIS "HISTORICAL RECORDS OF THE 40TH REGIMENT."

Windsor Castle,
May 1, 1894.

SIR,

I am commanded by The Queen to thank you for presenting Her Majesty with a copy of your "Historical Records of the 40th Regiment," which The Queen accepts with much pleasure.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
(Signed) HENRY F. PONSONBY.

Captain Smythies.

2.

Horse Guards,
War Office, S.W.,
May 11th, 1894.

SIR,

I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter, and copy of your book of the Historical Records of the old 40th Regiment, which I have handed to H.R.H. the Commander-in-Chief, as you desired. I am desired to thank you in His Royal Highness's name for the same, and to say that it will afford him much pleasure to read the history of so distinguished a regiment.

I remain,
Yours faithfully,
(Signed) A. C. FITZ GEORGE, Colonel,
Private Secretary.

3.

Royal Hospital, Kilmainham,
Dublin,
16th May, 1894.

Dear Captain SMYTHIES,

I am very much obliged for your history of the South Lancashire Regiment. It is charmingly brought out, and will, I am sure, afford me both pleasure and valuable information when [I] read it.

Thanking you very much for this handsome present.

Believe me to be,
Very truly yours.

NOTE REGARDING THE PALMER FAMILY.

See Pedigree, page 7, and Genealogical Notes, pp. 32 and 33; also deeds regarding the Whitehouse, Witnesham, p. 60 et seq.

In Add. MSS., 19086, p. 410, will be found the following:—James Palmer, Master in Artes hath an estate in Witnesham better(?) than £100 p. ann. He is also owner of Newplace in Ipswich. MS. of Suff. Families 4, Couder, p. 342.

Also amongst records of burials at Witnesham Church:

Mary Palmer, wife of Robert, buried 29 Aug. 1591.

Mrs. Margaret Palmer, buried 3 May 1690.

Mr. Charles Palmer, buried 25 Nov. 1724.

It has not been ascertained definitely to which of the families named Palmer, James Palmer of New Buckenham and Winesham, belonged, but it is probable that he came from the same family as Sir Thomas Palmer, Bart., of co. Kent. The Smythies Family during the 18th Century married into the Kent Family of Brook Bridges (see p. 11). Sir Brook Bridges, the first baronet of this family, married as his first wife Anne, daughter of Sir Thomas Palmer, and both the Brook Bridges and the Smythies families became related by marriage to the Hawleys, also a Kent family. These circumstances are not cited as proofs, but they shew a connexion between the Smythies Family and families living in Kent, which seems likely to have had its origin in the marriage of William Smythies to Hephzibah Palmer. The Admission Register of Gray's Inn records that on 6th May 1657 two sons of Sir Thomas Palmer, Bart., Herbert and James, were entered as students. Charles Cremer, a close relation by marriage of James Palmer's daughter Elizabeth, was also a member of this Inn.

NOTE REGARDING THE BRAZIER FAMILY.

In a letter dated :—Probate Registry, Somerset House, London, W.C., June 30th, 1881, J. C. C. Smith, Esq., writes as follows to Francis Smythies, Esq. (B. 2) :—

"I suppose you know that Palmer Smythies was eldest son of the Rev. William Smythies, Rector of Mile End, who died 1719-20.

"I have a great deal of information as to Elizabeth Brazier's Ancestry, and I shall be pleased to place it at your service whenever you like to call here.

"I will give you roughly her descent from the first of her ancestors that I have met with." (Here follows the pedigree as below.)

Anthony Brazier, Rector of Ingatstone, ob. 1609-10.==

Anthony Brazier of Ingatstone.==Katherine, dau. of . . .
Will 1637. Will 1650-1.

Edmund Brazier.	John Brazier, Alder- man of Colchester, ob. 1663-4.	==Anne, dau. of William Pel- ham, gent., of Colchester.	Thomas Brazier.	Elizabeth Brazier.	Martha Brazier.
--------------------	---	--	--------------------	-----------------------	--------------------

John Brazier, ob. 31 Aug. 1678==Abigail, dau. of . . .

John Brazier, Rector of Great Holland and Easthorp, ob. 1725.==Ann, dau. of [Francis Wheeler; married
15 Sept. 1694].*

Elizabeth Brazier, 2nd wife [married 13 Jan.=Palmer Smythies (A 31), Rector of 1732].* See pp. 9, 14, 40, 51. Mile End, Colchester.

* The information enclosed in brackets was not entered in the pedigree given by Mr. J. C. C. Smith in his letter, but was supplied by Mr. John Kinnersley Smythies (B 9) in 1880 from an old abstract of title. This document shewed that John Brazier married Ann, daughter of Francis Wheeler, on 15 September 1694, and had issue by her Elizabeth and three other daughters, and that Elizabeth married the Rev. Palmer Smythies (A 31) on 13 January 1732. (N.B.—This reference to the exact date of the second marriage of the Rev. Palmer Smythies was overlooked when paragraph 4 on page 40 was written.—R. H. B. S.)

NOTE REGARDING THE TRAVERS FAMILY.

Since the printing of the Travers pedigree, given on pp. 51 and 52 ante, another pedigree of the Travers family with explanatory letterpress has come to notice. This pedigree is given in "The Family History of Hart of Donegal" (Mitchell Hughes and Clarke, 1907), pp. 90-94, and supplies details, which it is interesting to compare with the particulars of the pedigree contained in this book. In the work referred to it is stated:—

(a.) that "a large number of pedigrees of the Travers families have been arranged by H. J. Sides of the Bodleian Library, from a collection by S. Smith Travers, and were printed by Parker at Oxford in 1864."

(b.) that the pedigree given "has been extracted from the full pedigrees in the possession of Joseph Oates Travers of the Devonshire Regt.," one of the pedigrees being "one by Sir Bernard Burke, corrected and supplied by him to Mr. Smith Travers in 1863."

(c.) that Brian Travers de Nateby who went to Ireland in 1599 "married the heiress of the Estate of Pill, near Bristol," and "is said to be* the son (N.B. not the grandson ?) of Richard Travers of Nateby, who married Grace, the daughter of . . . Redman of Harewood Castle."

(d.) that John Travers, son of Brian, and his wife Sarah (née Spencer) were both buried at St. Finsbarry's, John dying 30 April 1613.

(e.) that Sir Robert Travers, son of John, was killed "in the battle of Cappoquin 1643." But this statement does not agree with the pedigree on the following page, in which Sir Robert is shewn as having been "killed at Knockanoss 13 Nov. 1647." The latter date, which agrees with the pedigree given in this book, seems the more likely to be correct.

(f.) that Richard Travers, eldest son of Sir Robert, married twice, firstly in 1658 Eleanor (not Ellen ?), daughter of Jonas Stowell (not Stewell ?) of Ross, by whom he had a son John, and secondly Maria . . . by whom he had no issue; that Richard had a younger brother John, who also left issue.

(g.) that John Travers, son of Richard, married in 1688 Cassandra Sampson, that he was the second son, that he was born in 1663, and that his will dated 25 March 1727 was proved in Sept. 1727.

(h.) that Robert Travers of Hettysville (sic), son of John, married firstly Elizabeth, daughter of Dillon Newman of Newborough, and secondly Miss Duncombe, and that he died 20 Feb. 1763.

(i.) that John Travers of Hettysville, only son of Robert, married in Oct. 1768 Mehetabel, daughter of James (not John ?) Colthurst of Dripsey Castle, and died 19 March 1791, predeceasing his wife, who died 20 Feb. 1824, æt. 75.

N.B.—According to recent editions of Burke's "Peerage and Landed Gentry," this statement appears to be the correct one, i.e., that John Travers married Mehetabel, daughter of James Colthurst and sister of John Colthurst, both of Dripsey Castle.

* The Editor of "The Family History of Hart of Donegal" states in a footnote (page 92) that "the father of Brian Travers is not known." If that be so the portion of the Travers Pedigree given in this work before 1599 requires a link to connect it with what follows, but no opinion can here be given as to the correctness, or incorrectness, of the statement.—R. H. R. S.

Page 31. In explanation of the statement in the first footnote that it was probably through John Raymond "that William Smythies was appointed to Gosfield after his resignation of the living of Belehamp Walter in 1643," it should have been stated that John Raymond died in 1635, and was succeeded by his son Oliver, who was a zealous Puritan, and a member of Cromwell's parliaments in 1653 and 1656, and therefore that it was probably through Oliver Raymond's interest that William Smythies secured the appointment to Gosfield, though his friendship with John Raymond, the father, was very likely also a contributory cause.

Page 38. To the note regarding James Blatch (A 25) add :—James Blatch matriculated at Balliol College, Oxford, on 30th April, 1792, being then 17 years old; he afterwards moved to Magdalen College, of which he became a fellow, from which he took his degrees of B.A. in 1796, and M.A. in 1798. He also took the degree of B.D. in 1810.

In the note referring to Palmer Smythies (A 31), third paragraph, for "Thomas, Lord (soon after) Earl of Macclesfield," read "Thomas, Lord (soon after Earl of) Macclesfield."

Page 44. To the details of the university career of Henry Yeats Smythies (A 59), add:—He matriculated on 13th Dec., 1780, at Merion Coll., Oxford, before going to Emmanuel Coll., Cambridge, being at the time only fifteen years of age.

He was elected an alderman of the metropolitan borough of Hammersmith in 1906, and during his term of office was Chairman of the Public Libraries Committee and of the Public Health Committee of the Borough. He also served as a Manager of London County Council Elementary Schools, as a Representative Manager, and as Chairman of one of the Care Committees. In 1911 he commanded a representative detachment of the National Reserve at the Coronation of King George V., and in recognition of services rendered in connexion with the inception of that force was awarded the Coronation medal.

Page 46, line 30, for "J. J. Hales," read "J. J. Halls."

Page 47. To the note regarding Harry Waddington Smythies (B 15), add :—H. W. Smythies died in London on 23rd March, 1912, aged 68. His marriage to Marion Stevens, widow, took place nineteen years before his death.

Page 48. The following important addition must be made to the note referring to Evelyn Arthur Smythies (B 23), the information having been received too late to be included in the pedigree itself :—At Naini Tal, India, on 12th July, 1912, a son was born to Evelyn Arthur Smythies and Olive Muriel his wife. This child, who has been named Bertram Evelyn, is the first, and at present the only, representative of the male line in the 10th generation from William Smythies, Vicar of Walter Belchamp in 1623.

Mr. Leslie Porter, C.S.I., was, on the occasion of the Darbar held by the King Emperor at Delhi in December, 1911, promoted from Companion to be a Knight Commander of the Star of India.

Page 51. To the note regarding Charles Norfolk Smythies (B 63), add :— Dr. Smythies matriculated at Trinity College, Oxford, on the 5th December, 1831, his age at the time being recorded in "Alumni Oxoniensis" as 19. (The date of his birth was entered inadvertently in the pedigree as 1811 instead of 1812.) In 1832 he became a student at Lincoln's Inn ; he took his degree as B.C.L. in 1838, and D.C.L. in 1842.
