Rebecca Melvina Young [Y12e6], daughter of James Harvey Young and Mary Ann Yates, was born 10 Mar 1870 in Searcy Co AR (age 2 months when census taker came in June 1870), and died 20 September 1941 at Cave Creek, Newton Co AR. She married James Leonard Dicky in Newton Co on 26 August 1886. They claimed their ages were 21 and 18 when they married. Rebecca was actually age 16; Leonard's age was correct He was born 7 September 1864 in AR, son of James McCutcheon Dickey and Cansada Adaline Thompson, and died 20 January 1948. He was buried in Bens Branch Cemetery at Bass, Newton Co with Rebecca. Her gravestone has her birth year in 1869, but the 1870 census showed that the 1869 date was not correct. In 1900 they lived in Richland Twp, Searcy Co (her birth was given then as March 1869); in 1910 they were in Polk Twp, Newton Co. They had six children by 1900, then one more by 1910 with one dead by 1910. All were born in in AR-

Rhoda Lucinda Young [Y19j5d], daughter of William Carroll Young and Elizabeth Tash Cain, was born 17 October 1876. She married her second cousin William Taylor Stever [Y19k2f] in Webster Co on 12 January 1893, and they lived in Webster Co. Both fathers gave consent for the marriage because the bride and groom were both under age. Rhoda's line is continued under Willaim's name.

Richard Young was a passenger from London to VA on the ship America which departed London on 23 June 1635, headed for the Virginia Colony. Richard was 31 years old at the time; hence he was born about 1604. (88)

Richard Young [y1e], son of William Young Senr and an unknown mother, was born about 1755 and was named in his father's 31 March 1787 will. (Refer to the information given under Richard's brothers Thomas and William.) By the late 1770s Richard may have married since he was shown in the 1790 census with two females in the household. If so, there is no hard evidence that there were any children from this marriage. The extra people in Richard's house could have just as likely been some of the children of his late brother Nathaniel, one nephew being William. About 1783 Richard married Isobel _____ (Crawford? See the Crawford story following Nathaniel Young, son of William Young Senr). Any information on the first wife, if there was one, has not been found. Isobel was born about 1771. There was a Richard Young who served in the Continental Militia under Colonel Brandon after the fall of Charleston in 1780. Since Richard was the only Young with that name in Colonel Brandon's area of command, he must by our subject. On a deed dated 27 April 1795 Richard witnessed a purchase of two tracts on Dutchman Creek north of Tyger River by Buckner Smith from Jesse Christian and wife Rachael. On a 24 February 1809 deed Richard's wife Isobel was named when he sold 50 acres to Reuben Newman, land on the south side of and bordering the Tyger River, and "being part of a tract of land granted to Benjamin Wofford," land next to that already owned by Newman; witnesses were William Young (a nephew?, son of his brother Nathaniel?) and Willis Willeford (Richard's son-in-law). On 17 March 1812 Richard (and William) again were witnesses, this time for the sale of 66 acres on James Creek from Archibald Smith to Isael Beeson. And on 14 September 1815 Richard and Isobel gave to their "beloved son-in-law Willis Willeford and our daughter Polly Willeford his wife" 100 acres, "being part of two tracts of land one granted to Benjamin Wofford and the other to Joshua Smith lying on the south side of Tyger River" near Anthony Shand's field; witnesses were William Young and Thomas Young. Part of this land was purchased from Owen Forester in 1796.

These land deed records can leave no doubt as to where in Spartanburg Co Richard lived. The distance from where James Creek and Tyger River meet, and moving northeast to Dutchman Creek, is no more than five miles on horseback. In 1790 Richard was living two doors from Patty, the widow of his brother Nathaniel, and four doors from his brother Thomas; Reuben Newman lived three doors on the other side of Nathaniel's widow.

Richard died in Spartanburg Co on 14 November 1837 leaving a large estate and over two dozen slaves, and a will dated 29 April 1834. In the will he gave to "my Son William Anthony Young all my Estate Both Real and personal Expting Henry & Nelly" and gave to "my oldest Son Thomas Young my servant henry." He also gave to his "Daughter Polley Welleford my servant Nelly." Son William A Young was named as executor. The will was quite short, and there were no implications that there may have been a first wife or other children. The death date is known from a paper dated 5 December 1837 written by his son William A Young to a Mr Bomer in which William says "I want you to send me sitatons By the Boy my farther died one fourteenth of November Last which I am Left to manage the fares". etc.

Richard served on the American side in the War of Independence in Colonel Brandon's Regiment. Since it was the policy of the new U.S. government to repay its soldiers for their service in the defense of the Continental side in the War by granting the veterans government land, or by granting them escheated land (land taken from the British sympathizers), Richard may have obtained much of his land holdings in this manner. His neighbor Reuben Newman was an appraiser for the estate, and son William was the administrator. Richard had three probable children-

1. Mary Young, b c1786 [Y6]
2. Thomas Young, b 1797
3. William Anthony Young, b 1809

Archibald Smith was a son of the above John Buckner Smith and a brother of Nancy Smith who married Richard's nephew John Archibald Young [Y1]. Arch bought the 66 acres from John Young on 23 December 1808 just before John and his family moved to Giles Co TN. The James Creek land in that sale was described as being "at the north west corner of a tract of two hundred acres originally granted to George Crawford." The 1808 deed was witnessed by John Holley and Buckner Smith. Neither Smith men could sign their names. Soon after Arch sold the 66 acres in March 1812, he moved to Giles Co settling on land just north of and bordering John Young. (JE, NY, 1waehizpy)

Richard Young [Y2c], son of Nathaniel Young and Jemima Young [Y5a], was born about 1803 in the James Creek-Tyger River area of Spartanburg Co SC. He was only a baby when his family moved to Maury Co TN, where he grew up. On 26 July 1821 Richard married Pernicia George in Maury Co. She was born in KY in 1803. In 1820 there are only two George families listed in Maury Co: Jonathan and Hezekiah George. The household of Jonathan appears to be Jonathan, a wife of Pernicia's age, and a young son; the household of Hezekiah, which is quite close to Richard's home, has a teenage girl who was born between 1806 and 1810. Richard and his family were not found in Maury Co in 1830, so they may have been living with Pernicia's family, but in 1832 they lived along the Green Lick Creek near Columbia until sometime after 1844 when they moved west to Hickman Co where Richard was a farmer. They were found at Big Bottom, in Independence Co AR in 1860. By then they had seven children, all born in Maury Co TN-

1. Young, b 1821-1825, alive 1840 (10k)
2. dau Young, b 1826-1830, alive 1840. She probably married a Mr Liles by 1855 because 4 year old Nancy C Liles lived with Richard and Pernicia in Independence Co AR in 1860. (10k,564q)
3. son Young, b 1826-1830, alive 1840 (10k)
4. son Young, b 1831-1835, alive 1840 (10k)
5. Caledonia Young, b 1837 (10n)
6. Leonidas J Young, b 1839 in Maury Co TN, then was at Big Bottom, in Independence Co AR in 1860. He married Dulsena A _____ about 1865 and they lived at White River, Independence Co in 1870, then in 1880 were in at Spring Creek, Yell Co, four counties to the southwest. Dulsena was born AR in 1842. They had two children by 1870, then two more daughters by 1880-

7. Atlantic O Young, b 1843 (19n,564q)

Living with Richard and Pernicia in 1860 were Nancy C Liles, age 4, and twins Jemima A and Mary C George, both age 3. The twins were born in MO and young Nancy was born in TN. (N,10imwkz, 19n,564q)

Richard Young, son of Thomas Young Jr and Sarah Cunningham of Union Co SC, was born 16 August 1810 in Union Co SC. He was apparently the young man living with his parents in Union Co in 1830. (60,62,2ij)

Richard Young, son of William Anthony Young and Mary _____ of Spartanburg Co SC, was born in 1834 in Spartanburg Co. (JE,1np)

Richard Young [Y2d21], son of Thomas Young, was born about 1848 in TN, probably Wayne Co. He and his family were not found in TN in 1860. (10k, 11n)

Richard Andrew Young [Y8g2], son of Alexander Volney Howard Young and Penelope Nellie Hawkins, was born 24 December 1878 in Wilson Co TX, and died 17 January 1881 in Goliad Co. (DW, 80uv)

Richard Archie Young [Y2i1b3], son of William P Young and Catherine Billings, was born 1 February 1900 in Tywappity Twp, Scott Co MO. He lived at Commerce, Scott Co in 1918. He named "Mai Young" (his sister Sula?) at Commerce, Scott Co as his nearest relative when he registered for the WW1 draft. Richard worked for the Missouri Pacific Railroad out of Poplar Bluff in 1918. In 1920 he was shown living with his sister Sula at Valle, Jefferson Co, and was then single. He died at Festus, Jefferson Co in October 1975. (W,Z, 30uv,330w)

Richard B Young [Y4d4], son of John Chumner Young and Ara Katherine Caruthers, was born about 1841 in Giles Co. He did not show up in the 1840 census, but in 1850 gave his age as 13. Richard was not found in the county or with his family after 1850. (SB, L15knq)

Richard Earl Young [Y2d4e2], son of George W Young and Dora Alice Cave, was born 27 February 1898 at McKinney, Collin Co TX. In 1910 he lived in Concho Co. In 1917 he was a salesman living at Kingsville, Kleberg Co TX and named his mother "Dora A Young" of Kingsville as his nearest relative. He sold insurance in 1920 at Alice, Jim Wells Co. In 1930 he lived at Kingsville again, and sold real estate. Earl married Pearl Dessie Gilliland on 23 April 1920 at Alice, Jim Wells Co. She was born in TX on 4 August 1894 in Collin Co, daughter of James Abel Gilliland (1856-1906) and Perminda Emeline Coughran (1856-1896) and died 20 September 1982 at San Antonio. She was buried in Odd Fellows Cemetery at San Antonio. Richard died 26 January 1990 at San Antonio and was buried with Pearl. They had a daughter-

Richard L Young [Y2d4b], son of William J Young and Nancy E Shields, was born in 1865 in Washington Co AR. He was daughter R L Young, age 5 in the 1870 census and was not with her family in 1880. Instead, R L was son Richard Young, age 16 in 1880 census. There was no Richard Young, born in AR about 1865, found after 1880 on census records. His brothers had moved to TX in the early 1890s, but Richard was not one of the new Young families in Collin Co TX where his brothers were in 1900. There was no grave found for him in Washington Co AR. There is a Washington

Co marriage record for a Mr R L Young to Ms N A Malloy on 13 January 1887; the groom was age 22 (born 1865) and the bride was age 16 (born 1871). This must have been Richard. The 1880 Washington Co AR census showed Ms Nancy A Maloy, age 10, one of three daughters of Mrs Lucretia Maloy (1843 AR). There were no other girls in 1880 who could have been Richard's bride in 1887. In 1870 in Washington Co, in White River Twp where Richard lived, Mrs Lucretia Maloy lived with her husband Thomas (1832 TN). He died in the 1870s. The youngest daughter was N A, age 3/12, born in March 1870. There was also a marriage record for a Richard L Young in Jackson Co AR on 9 July 1884 with Molly W Moon; that marriage record did not give the ages for the couple. Jackson Co is six counties east of Washington Co, so this may be a different person. Washington Co is near the northwest corner of AR. After those marriage dates, nothing was found for Richard or Nancy. (314rsm, 749m)

Richard R Young [y23a5], son of Terrell W Young and Jane Manery, was born in 1856 in Webster CoMO. He died in the 1860s, or early in 1870. (W,484q)

Nashville Republican Banner newspaper, 9 Jul 1868:

A Strange Feud

Murder of an Old Man at Culleoka-Bloody Sequel to a Foolish Quarrel.

At Culleoka, ten miles south of Columbia, on the Nashville and Decatur Railroad a shocking tragedy was enacted yesterday morning, the result of a foolish quarrel between two neighbors, Robert Young and James Nash. Some pigs belonging to the latter, had, it seems, been encroaching upon the premises of Young, and a feud had existed for some time between the men consequence the quarrel culminated yesterday morning by Nash shooting Young dead in his own yard, and the flight of the murderer, who is supposed to have got aboard the up train for Nashville. Young was an old man. Nash a middle aged man, and was formerly a conductor on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad. Both are said to have families. (N,10jknqm)

Ronald died at Decatur, Morgan Co in April 1983. Sevenuia was born 29 March 1930, and died at Huntsville, Morgan Co on 7 December 1993. Her gravestone in Maple Hill Cemetery at Huntsville has the family name Pitcock as a middle name, so she may have married before her marriage with Ronald; the death certificate for their son showed her middle name as Virginia with Lamb as the family name. Ronald and Sevenuia married in Morgan Co on 22 May 1952. There is a 14 February 1947 marriage record for Ronald in Morgan Co to an unknown wife, and a 3 April 1947 marriage in Madison Co for Sevenuia Lamb, but not to a Mr Pitcock. Ronald and Sevenuia had at least three children, all at Athens-

His first marriage was with Elizabeth Hansel in Marshall Co on 22 August 1837 Eliza was born in AL in 1826 and they had three children by 1870. Roxie Adaline Young [Y4d1e], daughter of William Thomas Young and Nancy Ann Crawford Boswell, was born 28 January 1881 at Blossom, Lamar Co TX. She married John Robert Wright on 4 April 1899, and in 1900 lived in Lamar Co. In 1910 they were still in Lamar Co, next door to Roxie's parents. The 1910 census showed that this was John's second marriage. Roxie and John were also in Lamar Co in 1930. In 1920 they lived at Akers, Carter Co OK. John R had married Sarah Angie Baucum before he married Roxie and they had children before he married Roxie. John was born in Lamar Co in January 1858, son of Marmaduke Gillenwater Wright (1832 TX) and Sarah Elizabeth Winsett (1834 AL), and died in Lamar Co on 5 December 1939. Roxie probably married again before she died on 13 May 1971. She and John had eight children-

1. Robert A Wright, b Feb 1899
2. Marvin Henry Wright, b 30 Aug 1901
3. Raymond Wright, b 1903

Rufus Knight Young [Y9], son of Amaziah Young and Ann _____ of Providence Co RI, was born 17 April 1795 in Providence Co; he is first found in Giles Co in the 1820 census. The only clues of the parentage of Rufus are that his third child (eldest son) had the name Amaziah; his eldest child was Harriet Knight Young; and the 1850, 1860, 1880, and 1900 census records in various TN counties show that Rufus was born in RI. There was an Amaziah Young living at Cranston Town, Providence Co RI in 1790 with a family of six children. This Amaziah lived among many Knight families. There were many Young families in the county but the Knight families were only at Cranston and at Scituate, with Young families clustered close by. From Cranston to Scituate is about ten miles. In the 1777 military census Rufus Knight (age 16 to 50) lived at Scituate; in the 1790 census there was no Rufus Knight, but there were many Knight families clustered near the Amaziah Young family at Cranston. Circumstantial evidence indicates that Rufus K Young may be a son of Amaziah Young and Ms ____ Knight of Providence Co RI; and family records kept by descendant Albert Young [Y9m3] of St Louis MO states that the father of Rufus K Young was Amaziah and Ann Young from England. Perhaps Rufus' maternal grandfather was the Rufus Knight of the 1777 military census.

From information from another Young cousin, we now know that Rufus's parents were Amaziah Young and Ann ____ _ (Knight?), who were both probably born in England. Rufus, the son, was age 17 when he enlisted for the War of 1812, on the American side. Seaman Rufus was captured when the ship Ned was defeated on 6 September 1813 by the British ship Royalist, at the Bay of Biscay just off the French coast, and was taken to Dartmoor Prison in London for the 21 month remainder of the war. Rufus entered Dartmoor Prison on 27 September 1813, as prisoner #701; his prison records show he was from "the city of Providence." Many of the other prisoners with Rufus, who had prison numbers in the 700 to 721 range, came from Philadelphia, East Haven, NY, etc. Rufus was repatriated from England to France to Providence RI, and was discharged on 16 March 1815. He was released on 29 June 1815, and then went to NY for college. From entrance records at Dartmoor Prison, Rufus Young was described as slight, 5 foot 5½ inches tall. no wounds or marks at age 18. He had blue eyes, an oval face, was fair complected, and had brown hair.

Rufus took a position as Principal of a school in Giles Co TN, probably in the late 1810s, where he met his future bride. We do know Rufus K Young married Rebecca Young [Y1e] in Giles Co on 31 March 1820. Her father owned a great number of slaves and he offered to give Rufus and Rebecca two Negro men and one Negro woman for a wedding Present. Rufus would not accept them as he did not believe in slavery. In April 1820 Rufus bought 25 acres from Lewis Smith along Bradshaw Creek close to Rebecca's uncle Joseph Young [Y3]; this transaction was witnessed by Nathaniel Young [Y1a] and John Young [Y1b], thus signifying that Rufus and Rebecca had already married since the witnesses were her brothers. Also, Lewis Smith was probably Rebecca's first cousin, if not her mother's brother.

In the 1830s Rufus, Rebecca, and their older two children were members of Robertson Fork Church in the northeast corner of Giles Co (now on the Marshall-Giles Co line, just off of the Lynnville-Cornersville road). Perhaps by then they had moved the few miles from Bradshaw to the Cornersville area. Rebecca was born 10 July 1802 in Spartanburg Co (in "Spartsburg," per family records) SC, daughter of John Young and Nancy Smith. Rebecca came with her family to Giles Co at the age of six years and grew up at Beech Hill. After she and Rufus married, they lived in Giles Co until sometime after the summer of 1843, for in August that year Rufus witnessed the will of Joseph Knox Sr in Giles Co. In 1850 Rufus and three of his children were living in Hardeman Co TN; in 1860 this couple was still in Hardeman Co. Rufus was a teacher most of his life, but did some farming. He died on 3 February 1870 in Shelby Co probably close to Collierville where they lived. Rebecca died at Collierville on 19 October 1875. They had eleven children, all born in Giles Co TN-

a. Harriet Knight Young, b 21 Mar 1821
b. Ann Adolphe Young, b 8 May 1822
c. Amaziah Young, b Mar 1823
d. John O Young, b 23 Jan 1824
e. Buckner C Young, b. 20 Feb 1826
f. Nathaniel Monroe Young, b 24 Dec 1826
g. Angeline Young, b 10 Feb 1830
h. Willis Young, b. 21 May 1834
i. Rebecca Young, b 13 Oct 1836
j. Abiathar R Young, b 19 Dec 1837
k. Rufus L Young, b 14 Sep 1840
m. Henry Clay Young, b 10 Nov 1842

Much of source PY's info of Rufus came from research done by Robert V Young [Y9m7] of his Young family in England. Robert was in the US Military in 1946, stationed in Germany, and during a furlough, he traveled from Germany to London and obtained the prisoner of war record of Rufus. All the names and birth dates of the eleven children shown above came from the Young family Bible, owned by Henry Clay Young [Y9m]. You must remember that in 1946, that generation was still familiar with family history handed down which told of the origins of this Young family in America, which were of the great grandparent's generation of those alive in 1946.

Rufus Young's father Amaziah lived in Scituate RI which (in Amaziah's generation) was the center of the early Six Principle Baptist Churches. Also, Rufus Knight, Abiathar Young, Asa Young, etc. enrolled during the Revolution in Scituate in the First Rhode Island Regiment. This troop was nearly obliterated in NY. The First Regiment was reconstituted by the addition of large numbers of black freemen and former slaves (the Continental Army had matched the British promise of freedom for enlistment at this time.) (PY, VS,48a,14rsuv, 15iCjkzcp,12nq)

Rufus L Young [Y9k], son of Rufus Knight Young and Rebecca Young [Y1e], was born in Giles Co TN on 14 September 1840. He probably died in the 1840s, in either Giles Co or in Hardeman Co. He wasn't shown with his parents in Hardeman Co in 1850, when he would have been age 10. (PY,JY,9k,12n)

Rufus Olear Young, born 5 July 1895 at Durant, Holmes Co MS, son of William R Young (Jun 1861 MS) and Esma _____ (Nov 1870 MS, married in 1889), and died at San Diego, CA on 31 October 1939. He was a resident of Memphis, TN at the time, having a home on Jackson Avenue. He left a widow, Ola Alice _____. Rufus left a will written on 9 November 1929 and probated at Memphis in which he left everything to his wife. Although the name Rufus is not a common name, since his parents were born in MS, then he is likely not a descendant of the sons of Rufus K Young [Y9] who lived in the Collierville, Shelby Co area in the latter part of the 19th Century. He was a barber in 1917 at Binghamton, Shelby Co, but was not married then. (M,14p,699u)

Rufus Warren Young [Y2d3d1b], son of John Martin Young and Mary Elizabeth Loftice, was born 28 October 1907 at Rochelle, McCulloch Co TX. He was named after his maternal grandfather. He married Alma Jane Pope in 1929. She was born at Weston, Collin Co on 11 March 1913, and died on 16 December 1993 at Denton, TX. They lived in Collin Co in 1930. Rufus died at Bakersfield, in Kern Co CA on 21 May 1975. (TXd,CAd, Z,W,662v, 150wf)

Russell C Young [Y1f1e4], son of Robert Lee Young and Josephine Williams, was born 5 July 1894 in Giles Co TN. He was a sergeant in WW1, and died on 18 July 1955. Russell was buried in Pulaski's Maplewood Cemetery close to his parents and sister. (75,15u)

Ruth Young, daughter of Thomas Young Sr of York Co PA and Catherine Brandon, was probably never married. (60, JE,2p)

Ruth Young [Y9m5], daughter of Henry Clay Young and Ruth Brooks, was born 10 December 1877 near Collierville, TN. She never married, and died at St Louis MO in January 1978, age 100. Ruth was often called Big Sister by family members. In 1920 she lived with her father and brother Isaac at East St Louis and was the proprietor of a hair dressing salon. In 1930 she lived there with her sister Maud. (PY, Z,14rs,326u, 198wf)

Ruth Young [Y3a2g10], daughter of John A Young and Ida Mae Hayter, was born 20 January 1921 in Archer Co TX. She married Reford Floyd Gardner and lived at Graham, Young Co. He was born 2 April 1919 in Coryell Co TX, son of Floyd K Gardner and Ruby O _____ (McMillion?), and died 17 February 2002 at Graham. He was buried in Megargel Cemetery in Archer Co. Reford was an Archer Co Commissioner for 12 years. They had two sons-

a. Reford Gail Gardner, b 21 Sep 1939
b. Patrick Young Gardner, b 14 Nov 1942

Floyd K Gardner was born 8 Nov 1897 at Turnersville, Coryell Co TX, and died 28 Oct 1935 at Olney, Young Co. He was buried at Megargel, Archer Co. Ruby O _____ was born 14 Apr 1898 in TX, and died at Graham, Young Co on 20 Jun 1996. (Z,M,244w, 58f, 37fdP, 47c)

Ruth Young [y16g6], daughter of John Franklin Young and Alice Scott, was born in 1923 at Madison Crossroads, Madison Co AL. (178f)

Ruth Margaret Young [Y9m3a], daughter of Albert Young and Johanetta Leola Gass, was born 7 December 1907 at St Louis, MO. In 1930 she was a stenographer for a typewriter company. (PY, 326vw, 40f)

Ruth Myrtle Young [Y3a10f4], daughter of James Dow Young and Anna Sandusky, was born 8 January 1917 in Roger Mills Co OK. She married twice, the second husband being Walter A Hienzel. He was born 12 May 1916. In 1995 she lived at Oklahoma City, and died there on 22 May 2003. (LL,N,Z, 331w,148P)

Sallie McGaw Young [Y9c9], daughter of Amaziah Young and Mary Elizabeth Cherry, was born on 7 December 1858 at Williamsport, Maury Co TN. Her middle name was after her maternal aunt and uncle McGaw. Sallie died at Williamsport on 25 November 1860 and was buried in the Williamsport Cemetery. (10qc)

Sally Ann Young [Y12d], daughter of Josiah W Young and Elizabeth Ann Reddell, was born 10

June 1830 in Lawrence Co TN, and was a baby when her family moved to Searcy Co AR. She married Sylvester Taylor in 1848 or early in 1849 in Searcy Co. They lived in Marion Co in 1850, at Prairie, in Marion Co in 1860, Prairie, Boone Co in 1870 and at St Joe, Searcy Co in 1880. Sarah's widowed mother (age 73, born in NC) lived with them in 1880. In 1900 Sally was living with her son George at St Joe.

Sylvester was born 13 December 1822 in Madison Co TN, son of Abraham N Taylor and Hannah Rizley. Sylvester died on 24 February 1897 at St Jo; Sally Ann died 19 June 1907 at Hillsboro, Hill Co TX. She was buried in Chatt Cemetery in Hill Co. In 1850 Searcy Co where Sylvester and Sally lived, there was only one Mrs Elizabeth Young born in NC. From 1880 census records, we know that Sally's mother was born in NC; but since Sally had married before 1850, we cannot see from pre-1850 census records who her Young parents were. In the 1870 census, Sally's mother lived with her and Sylvester. Hence, a check of the 1850 census and before to see if there were other Elizabeth Young mothers born in NC about 1807 and who lived in the Searcy Co area with a husband in 1850 found just one: Elizabeth who was married to Josiah Young, and who had a daughter named Artamisa. This daughter's name relatively rare, but it came up a generation late with Sally Young's granddaughter. In addition, there were no other women born in NC in the 1805-1809 years and lived in this area of AR who might have a name associated with Elizabeth, such as Bettie, Lizzie, etc. Josiah and Nancy Young lived in Richland Twp in 1850. Sally and Sylvester married in Searcy Co, but lived in neighboring Marion Co in 1850 and 1860 (family #298 in 1860). Sally's parents also lived in Marion Co in 1860 (family #219). Most of their children were born in either Searcy Co or in Marion Co. Hence, there cannot be much doubt as to who Sally Ann Young's parents were. Sally and Sylvester had ten children-

1. Robert M Taylor, b 30 Jul 1849
2. Elizabeth Caroline Taylor, b 25 Sep 1850
3. Thomas Hickman Taylor, b 8 Aug 1854
4. Henry Young Taylor, b 30 Oct 1856
5. James Ellison Taylor, b 11 Jun 1859
6. Artemissa Emma Taylor, b 4 Mar 1861
7. Frances Alameda Taylor, b 17 May 1863
8. William Sylvester Taylor, b 17 Nov 1866
9. George Marion Taylor, b 20 Apr 1869
10. John W Taylor, b 8 Aug 1871 (NB, W,25j, 582q, 396r, 581ksu,44c; Much of the research on Sylvester Taylor's family was done by Clyde Pershall of Houston, TX, and by John Steward.)

Sam Davis Young [Y1j4d2], son of Arnie Young and Jennie Mae Harwell, was born 13 July 1904 at Pisgah, Giles Co TN. On 28 December 1948 in Lincoln Co he married Bertha Elise Harwell, his distant Harwell cousin. Elise was born 25 March 1901, daughter of Robert Early Harwell and Sarah Adeline Harwell. Sam and Elise had no children; he died on 18 November 1969, and Elise died on 28 February 1988, both at Pulaski. The father of Bertha's mother Sarah Adeline Harwell was Raleigh Brown Harwell, born in 1832. The grandfather of Sam Davis Young was Stith Capers Harwell, born in 1847. Stith and Raleigh Harwell were brothers, thus making Elise and Sam second cousins. There are no doubt other common ancestors since Elise and Sam both descend from two Harwell lines. In addition, the grandmother of Stith and Raleigh Harwell was Nancy Abernathy (born around the 1770s), while Sam's great grandmother on his Young line was Louisa C Abernathy, born in 1816. (58,75,Z,N, MA, 15v)

Sam Porter Young [Y9c4h], son of James Thomas Young and Haley Priscilla Odeneal, was born on 16 September 1911 at Savannah, TN and moved to Tyronza, AR when he was six years old. He married Norma Shepard at Marion, Crittenden Co AR on 9 June 1938. Just before they married they were living at Memphis, TN. She was born 10 June 1914. Sam died at nearby West Memphis on 5 January 1975 and was buried in the Tyronza Cemetery. Norma died 15 September 1994 and was also buried in Tyronza Cemetery. They had three children, all born at Memphis, TN-

1. James Thomas Young, b 27 Nov 1943
2. Kathryn Haley Young, b 9 Nov 1945
3. Charles Phillip Young, b 3 Mar 1955 (FY, LY, 31wc,61m)

Samuel Young, son of William Young and Margaret Neil of the Enoree River area along the Spartanburg-Laurens Co line in SC, was born about 1772 in 96 District of the South Carolina Colony. He received one-seventh interest in his father's plantation upon the death of his father, but was a minor at the time. On 22 February 1800 after he and his brother James had became of age, they sold their two-sevenths of the land to Daniel McKie. The land was located west of William Stone's property and east of Robert Simms' land. It appears that Samuel and his wife lived with his mother in 1810. If it was he in his mother's household, he had no children at the time. (NY,JE,MM, 2hyz, 1pazehy)

Major Samuel Young, born between 1774 and 1790 in Spartanburg Co SC, may have been a son of William Young of York Co PA and who moved to Spartanburg Co SC, then to Maury Co TN. (JE,60,2a)

Samuel Young, son of Captain William Young of Pittsylvania Co VA, was probably born in Pittsylvania Co in the late 1770s. (JM,NY)

Samuel Young [y17a9], son of Leonard Young and Anna Marie Gross, was born about 1811, and died in 1840 in TN or AL. He married Susan Prudent Nearen in TN about 1830. She was born in 1813 in TN, daughter of Jesse Nearen and Mary Brindle (both from NC), and died 14 January 1897 in Marshall Co AL. After Samuel died Susan married again on December 1843, to Phillip Willis in Marshall Co, and continued living in Marshall Co. He was born in NC in 1793, and this was also his second marriage. She and Samuel had six children, all in TN-

a. Jesse Young, b Aug 1831
b. Jacob Young, b 1834
c. Mary E Young, b 5 Feb 1835
d. Margaret Young, b Aug 1836
e. Rosanna Young, b 1838
f. Barbary Young, b 1841

Prudent's children with Phillip were those born in AL after 1841. (K,571mnq)

Samuel Caldwell Young [Y2d7], son of Thomas A Young and Martha Patsey Joyce, was born 18 August 1839 at Concord, Maury Co TN (age 11 in 1850). He lived in Washington Co AR in 1860, and married Martha Reed there on 1 October 1868. (W,ARm, 10k,11n, 314q)

Samuel Marion Young [Y2d4a], son of William J Young and Nancy E Shields, was born in 1861 in Washington Co AR. He died at Knowles, Lea Co NM on 24 April 1942. His death records named his parents as "William Young" and "Nancy Elizabeth Shields." In 1900 "Samuel M Young" and wife "Marget A" Gribble lived in Collin Co TX. Marget was born in MO in September 1856; they lived in AR for about ten years after they married in 1880, then moved to TX about 1891. In 1910 he and his second wife Serena Morris lived in McCulloch Co where Samuel was a merchant. In 1920 they lived at Knowles, NM and he was a stock farmer. Serena was born in Edwards Co TX in February 1878, daughter of Lorenzo Dow Morris (1849 TX) and Mary F Brown (1857 TX), and married Samuel in 1908. They divorced in Lea Co in the 1920s and Serena then married George H Nollner and lived in Lea Co with her son Paul. Samuel and Marget had seven children by 1900, with four still living. He and Serena had a son-

Saphronia E Young [Y2d8], daughter of Thomas A Young and Martha Patsey Joyce, was born in November 1841 at Concord, Maury Co TN, and died 10 April 1917 at White River, Washington Co AR. She married William Linton Springston in Maury Co on 30 September 1860. He was born in IN in 1836, son of William S Springston and Emily Wright, and died in December 1862 in AR. After William died, Saphronia's son John lived with her parents at White River in 1870, and Saphronia married again, to Jehu M Smith, about 1868. They lived close to her mother and brother Richard at White River. Jehu was born in TN in 1828, and this was also his second marriage. He died in the 1880s in Washington Co. In 1910 Saphronia lived at White River next to her son Thomas. Saphronia had two children with William, and ten with Jehu, all at White River, Washington Co AR. In 1910 she stated for the census taker that she had ten children, with seven still living. This may have been correct if her marriage to Jehu Smith was her only marriage-

She and William married on 9 Dec 1828 in Spencer Co IN. They were buried together in McCord Cemetery in Washington Co. (W,11n, 314qsuvc)

Sara A Young was a daughter of Christopher Young and Mary "Polly" Humphries of Union Co SC. (60,JE)

Sarah Young [Y5d], daughter of Thomas Young and Mary _____, was born 1785 to 1790 in the James Creek-Tyger River area of Spartanburg Co SC. She probably moved to Lincoln Co TN with her family around 1810. In the 1820 census there were four females living with Sarah's widowed mother in Lincoln Co; since Sarah's older sisters had married by then, Sarah may have been one of the four youngest daughters living with their mother. (1ae,16wi)

Sarah Young, daughter of John Young and Margaret Wood of Loudoun Co VA and 96 District (now Laurens Co) SC, was either unmarried by 1814, or was married to a Mr Young, because her last name was given as "Young" in a deed record then. She was living in Spartanburg Co. (NY,JE, 1aehiwyz)

Sarah Young [Y10g], daughter of Archibald E Young and Sarah Powell, was born 6 March 1797 in Pittsylvania Co VA. She married Archibald F Meadows, and probably lived out her life in the northeastern part of Giles Co TN. She was living in Giles Co in 1850, probably a widow. (JM,15n)

Sarah Young [y17a7], daughter of Leonard Young and Magdalena Anna Mary Gross, was born about 1806 in Botetourt Co VA (she was age 44 in 1850, 50 in 1860, 59 in 1870, 79 in 1880). In the 1880 census Sarah gave her parents' birth places as PA. She married Nelson Salmons in the early 1830s. There was no Nelson Salmons family in TN in 1830, so Sarah could have been living under another name. She probably married earlier than 1830 to another man; there was a son born in the late 1820s or in 1830 who lived with them in 1840 in Marion Co, but not afterwards. Sarah's marriage likely took place in either Franklin Co TN or in neighboring Marion Co. Marriage records for both of these counties no longer exist; the Franklin Co records begin in 1838, and not before the early 20th Century for Marion Co. The court houses in both counties burned and early records were destroyed.

Nelson Salmons was born in GA about 1806 (was age 30s in 1840, 45 in 1850, 54 in 1860, 60 in 1870, 77 in 1880). There were no Salmons or Sammons families in Marion Co in 1830, but there was one John Sammons and two James Sammons families in Franklin Co. On census records, Sarah often gave an incorrect age; family records have Sarah's birth year as 1806. In 1840 they lived in Marion Co TN, the county just east of Franklin Co. Both Sarah and Nelson had ages in the 20s. They were in DeKalb Co AL in 1850 (with their name spelled Sammons); he was age 45 and Sarah was age 44. They were both illiterate, so probably could not correct the spelling for the census taker. In 1860 they lived in Cherokee Co AL; in 1870 and 1880 they were in DeSoto Co MS. They had about eight children, all born in TN, probably all in Marion Co. It was only the sons who consistently gave accurate ages to the census takers; the 1850 census appears to be the most accurate. In the 1880 census, all daughters at home showed to be married, but used the Salmons name-

a. son Salmons, b 1826-1930 (568k)
b. Malinda Salmons, b 1832
c. Mary Salmons, b 1833)

f. Samuel B Salmons, b 1841
g. Nancy Adeline Salmons, b 1845
h. Rowland Salmons, b 14 Apr 1846

John Young, age 22 and born in TN, lived with Sarah and Nelson in 1850.
Jeremiah Salmons, born 1801 in GA, lived close by in 1860. In 1850 this Jeremiah lived in Cherokee Co, and one of his farm hands was Roland Salmons, age 24 and born in TN. Jeremiah's wife in 1850 was Lucinda Waters, born in GA in 1809, and dead by 1860. They married at Habersham, GA in 1828. Their children were born in GA if born by 1837; those born in 1839 or younger were born in AL. (K,566h,568k, 570n,567nq,35rs)

Sarah Young [Y21e], daughter of Evan Young and Sarah Ann O'Riley, was born 20 September 1829 in Maury Co TN. She married Colin M Campbell on 11 October 1853 in Maury Co. He was born 1 May 1829 in TN, son of Mrs P C Campbell (1801-1855), and died 29 May 1860. Sarah died 23 October 1857, They were buried in Rose Hill Cemetery. They had two daughters who lived with Sarah's mother in 1860 and 1870-

1. Eva Young Campbell, b 27 Sep 1854 in Maury Co TN. She married Addison Cooper on 27 January 1874 in Maury Co. They at first lived in Maury Co where he was an attorney in 1880, but in 1900 they were in Davidson Co, and Addison was a farmer then. He was born in Maury Co on 2 January 1848, son of Matthew Delamere Cooper (1792-1878) and Mary Ann Brown (1822-1861), and died 10 January 1917. Eva died in Davidson Co on 9 September 1916. Addison was buried in Maury Co in Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Zion with Eva. D B Cooper was the informant for Eva's death certificate. They had three children, all alive in 1910-
   a. Sallie E Cooper, b Nov 1874. She was not married in 1910 and lived at Nashville then. (10s,18uv)
   b. Marian Cooper, b 25 Aug 1876. She married Matthew Delamere Cooper in Maury Co on 28 November 1905. He was the person who correctly gave the information for Marian's mother's death certificate. In 1910 they lived in Davidson Co. He was born 22 August 1870 in Maury Co, son of Duncan Brown Cooper (1845-1923) and Florence Fleming (1843-1870). Matthew's aunt Martha A Cooper (1842-1928) lived with them in 1910. Duncan Brown Cooper, Matthew's father, was a brother of Addison Cooper, Marian's father. Hence, Marian and Matthew were first cousins. Marian died at Nashville on 11 August 1910. In 1920 Delamere Cooper, age 48, was living with his sister Sarah P Cooper (1878-1975) and their father Duncan Cooper (1843 TN) in Davidson Co. Matthew died at Nashville on 5 October 1932. He was buried next to Marian in Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Zion, Maury Co. Matthew and Marian had a son-
      1. Matthew Delamare Cooper Jr, b 29 July 1910, and died in 1937. He was buried in Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Zion, Maury Co. In 1920 and 1930 he and his father lived with his father's sister Sarah P (Cooper) Burch in Davidson Co. (18wf,10c)
      Matthew's parents were also buried in Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery. (W,10smc, 18uvw)
   c. Addison Cooper Jr, b 6 Oct 1878 at Columbia (1876 on death certificate). He lived at Nashville in 1910 and was a chemist. He died in hospital at Nashville on 25 November 1946 from heart failure and was buried in Zion Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Zion, Maury Co. He supplied the hospital with his birth date, but was senile when he did that. He did give the correct names of his parents. Addison never married. (10s, 18uvd)
   Matthew Delamere Cooper and Mary Ann Brown married in Maury Co on 24 Jun 1841. (10qrms,18uv)
2. Sarah Campbell, b 1856 in Maury Co TN. (10qr) (10jknmc,18d)

Sarah Young [Y3a3], daughter of William C Young and Elizabeth Kennedy, was born 11 March 1837 in Giles Co TN. She married Newton Wesley Finley, and died 25 February 1858, probably at the birth of her daughter. Sarah was buried in the Finley family Cemetery near Center Point. Her gravestone says, in addition to the dates, "Consort of N W Finley." Newton then married Harriet Ann Brown on 6 November 1859 in Marshall Co TN, and married Lucy Ann Lentz (Mary J in 1900 census) on 15 December 1878 in Marshall Co. With these two new marriages, Newton lived in Marshall Co. He was born in Marshall Co on 15 April 1831, son of Samuel Finley and Martha Askew, and died 10 October 1909 in TN. He and Sarah had a daughter-

Sarah Ann Young [y1e2e], daughter of Thomas Young and Sarah _____ of James Creek in Spartanburg Co SC, was born 10 April 1843 in Spartanburg Co SC. She married Cary Melfus Vise in December 1867 in Scott Co AR. Cary was born in January 1846 in GA, and moved to Scott Co AR before 1867 since he bought 120 acres there in 1867. In 1870 they lived next door to her brother Phillip and a few doors from her brother Thomas. In 1880 they were next door to brother Thomas in Scott Co. Cary was the Scott Co Assessor, a Justice of the Peace, and was the county sheriff. Sarah died 21 July 1899 at Waldron, Scott Co, and was buried there in Duncan Cemetery. The Weekly Sentinel, 24 Feb 1911

Capt. C.M. Vise Dead

Last Monday about 11 o'clock Capt. C.M. Vise breathed his last at the home of his son-in-law Mr. Jesse Pitts in Waldron.

Capt. Vise was, perhaps, the best known man in the county, having served as sheriff and assessor of the county a number of terms. He was a man whom everybody liked and was one of the most popular officers the county ever had. Capt. Vise had been in very poor health for several months, but, not withstanding this, news of his death was quite a shock to his friends, all of whom regretted to hear of his being called "over the river to rest under the shade of the trees."

The Sentinel joins his many friends in extending condolence to the bereaved family.

The Advance Reporter 24 Feb 1911

Capt. C.M. Vise

Capt. C.M. Vise was born in South Carolina in January, 1846, the oldest of a family of seven children. Being a citizen of South Carolina he believed in "states rights" and enlisted in the Confederate army and served thru the entire war. Though he served so long in the war he came out without a wound or bruise.

He was married to Miss Sarah Young after coming to Arkansas about forty-three years ago. There were nine children born to them, six of whom are living, namely: W.Y., J.T. and Ben Vise; Mrs. S.K. Duncan, Mrs. J.E. Pitts and Mrs. J.R. McDaniel. All of these live in Waldron except J.T. Vise who lives in Mena.

Mr. Vise was a member of the Baptist church in Waldron. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Though he has been in declining health for several years, the immediate cause of his death was pneumonia. He took sick Wednesday night and died Monday morning at 11:20, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J.E. Pitts. The funeral service was held at the residence at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday by Rev. J.W. Hulsey, pastor of the Baptist church. Interment at the Duncan Cemetery.

The Advance Reporter joins the many relatives and friends in sympathy in their sore bereavement. (JE, N,1nq,560rsc)

She married Ernest R Cox in 1894 and they lived at Cedar Hill, Dallas Co TX for the rest of their lives. In 1930 her widowed brother Robert lived next door. Thomas Young Sr, son of William Young who had brothers George and Thomas, was born prior to 1730, probably in England since he was an Episcopalian (see the memoirs of Major Thomas Young at the end of this book). He was a child or young man when he came to York Co PA. He may have married in PA to a Miss Kilgore or Gray. In any case, his first wife died after having a son and daughter. Thomas moved to the South Carolina Colony, settling in the part of 96 District where Laurens Co is now, and in 1764 moved up to the part of 96 which became Union Co in 1798. He married Catherine Brandon, daughter of George Brandon, and sister of Colonel Thomas Brandon who led many well documented battles in the Carolinas against the British in the early 1780s. Catherine died in Union Co after 6 January 1815 when she put her "X" on estate papers of her husband in Union Co; Thomas also died in (then) Union District. His will was written 19 May 1777 and was recorded 3 February 1791 in Union District (the oldest will on file in the county). Therefore, Thomas must have died early in 1791. Witnesses to the will were Thomas Brandon, John Brandon, and William Kennedy. Thomas and his brother-in-law Colonel Thomas Brandon were among the first settlers of the Union Co area of SC; Thomas and his family lived about four miles south of the Union courthouse (which is about fifteen miles east of the Young families of the eastern edge of Spartanburg Co). He was granted 550 acres on Buffalo Creek in January 1785, which he later sold to Colonel Brandon. Thomas also owned land along Fairforest Creek and at the forks of the Broad and Saluda Rivers. On 4 April 1795 William

Young and wife Patience _____ of Laurens Co SC sold to Thomas Young of Spartanburg Co a plantation containing one hundred acres in Spartanburg Co "on a Branch of Tyger River called Jamies Creek" and bounded on the east by land of William Young Senr, on the west by land of George Crawford, and vacant land on the remaining sides. This was land first granted to William on 17 February 1767. The second page of this long transaction states "Wm Young now is and untill the execution of these presents shall stand seized of a good sure perfect and indefineable estate of Inheritance" of the 100 acre plantation. William was selling his yet to be received inheritance. He and Patience both made their mark, being unable to sign. Robert Beard witnessed. A deed of sale of 75 acres "on a branch of Tyger called Jameys Creek" from "Thomas Young Senr" to William Young (Thomas' son) dated 7 October 1809, was witnessed by Richard Young and Sarah Young (Thomas' daughter? or Richard's wife?). This 75 acres bordered other land Thomas already owned and was "granted to my father William Young Sen by his Excellency Governor Montague in the 7th day of February 1767." He sold these 75 acres along James Creek to a William Young in October 1809. This sale was witnessed by Thomas' brother Richard Young, and by Sarah Young; Sarah was apparently Thomas' daughter. The relation of this William to Thomas or Richard has not been determined since there were quite a few adult men named William Young who lived in the county but probably the William who bought the 75 acres was Thomas' son. In any case, Thomas and most of his family moved to Lincoln Co TN soon afterwards. He died in Lincoln Co, leaving a will there which was written 18 February 1813 and proven on 2 November 1813. This will was witnessed by Woodson Haley and Eli Sanders. In this will, people mentioned were: wife Mary Young, and children William Young, (he was executor), Elizabeth Beard, Mary Beard, Jemima Young, Sally Young, Marjory Young, Nancy Young, Daniel Young, and Franky N Young. Thomas mentioned in his will that four of the daughters were still at home. These would have been eldest daughter Jemima, and her yet unmarried younger sisters Sarah, Marjory, and Nancy.

Thomas' wife Mary was still in Lincoln Co in 1820, and living close by was Robert Beard, husband of Mary's daughter Elizabeth. Mary could not write. They had nine known children-

Thomas Young was a son of George Young (Sr) and Elizabeth McCrary of early Laurens Co SC. (60,JE)

Thomas Young Jr, son of Thomas Young Sr and Catherine Brandon, was born in 96 District (became Laurens Co in 1785) in SC on 17 January 1764. His parents soon afterwards moved to Brown's Creek (about four miles from the town of Union). He grew up in the Union area of 96 District and raised a large family. Thomas married twice, first to Lettie Hughes about 1787, and second to Sarah Cunningham on 10 April 1794. Sarah was up to ten years younger than Thomas, and died 4 March 1845. Thomas died on 7 November 1848. He was buried in the Old Presbyterian Church Cemetery near Monarch Mills, SC.

Thomas served with distinction in the Revolutionary War and attained the rank of Major. He wrote of some of his war experiences, which were published in the Orion Magazine in October and November 1843. It is reproduced at the end of this book so that we can appreciate what our forefathers on both sides must have gone through during the Revolution. In it, Thomas mentions his cousin William Young who sided with the British and who offered a hundred guineas to any man who would bring Thomas "into 96." The 96 he was writing about was probably 96 District; Thomas was quite often away from his home area during the war, engaged in battle in NC, in York District (on the east side of Broad River just south of the NC line), and even down "in the low country" at Fort Granby (fifteen miles south of Columbia). After the siege of Fort Ninety Six in June 1781, Thomas returned to his home area. While on a scouting expedition to Mudlick Creek in the south of Union Co (Mudlick Creek crosses the line between Union and Laurens Counties), he ran across his cousin William Young who tried to lure Thomas's party into an ambush; the only damage was to their horses. This William was probably the William who had a plantation along the Enoree River and who had property in the West Indies. Thomas had first settled in Laurens Co but by 1790 had moved to Union Co. Thomas had eleven children-

Thomas Young, son of William Young and Margaret Neil of the Enoree River area along the Spartanburg-Laurens Co line in SC, was born about 1779 in 96 District of SC. He inherited one-seventh of his father's Enoree River plantation in 1788, but because he was not of legal age, had to wait until he and his brothers became adults in order to sell the land. Thomas and his brothers Joseph and John jointly sold their three-sevenths share to Daniel McKie on 13 August 1804. Thomas may have married and moved to Union Co; his older brother Adam is mentioned in the Union Co court records and in Union Co in the 1810 census there were two Thomas Youngs. One was Major Thomas Young (born in 1764), but since Major Young's son Thomas was not an adult by 1810, the second Thomas Young could be the Thomas from the Enoree River area. (NY,JE,MM, 2hyz, 1wzaehy)

Thomas Young [Y4], son of Nathaniel Young and Patty Crawford, was born 29 July 1781 in 96 District (soon to become Spartanburg Co) SC. He married Sarah _____ in Spartanburg Co about 1801, and they moved to Columbia, TN by 1818. The Giles Co census of 1850 shows that Thomas' children born by 1817 were born in SC, and the ones born after that date were born in TN. Hence Thomas and his family were the last of the James Creek-Tyger River Young clan to move to TN. In 1820 Thomas and most of his children were living at Columbia, just a few doors from his cousin Polly Young [Y6] and her husband Willis Willeford. Thomas' wife Sarah was born in SC on 23 July 1785. Her parentage is not known. She died at Bradshaw, Giles Co where they lived, on 18 September 1845; Thomas died at Bradshaw on 18 May 1841. Both are buried in Center Point Cemetery at Bradshaw, about two miles southeast of Beech Hill. Thomas' gravestone says "He lived esteemed by all who knew him and died in Christian triumph." He and Sarah had 11 children-

Thomas Young [y1e2], son of Richard Young and Isobel _____ of the James Creek-Tyger River community of Spartanburg Co SC, was born there about 1797 and remained there the remainder of his life. The 1790 through the 1810 censuses of the county show a male of a generation older than Thomas living with Richard, or living very close to him. In the 1820 census there was no Thomas Young of this age in the county; see the following Thomas Young entry. In September 1815 a Thomas Young witnessed a gift from Richard to Thomas' sister Mary. Richard did name a son Thomas in his 1837 will, so there is no doubt that Richard did have a son of that name. In the 1830 census Thomas first appeared, called "Capt Thomas Young," and was newly married, living quite close to Richard Young. In the 1840, Thomas was the only Thomas Young in Spartanburg Co (age 40s); he lived two doors from William Young (age 20s), and Asa Vise (age 40s) lived between them. In 1850 Thomas was living close to his brother William Anthony Young in Spartanburg Co. Thomas had a wife named Sarah _____ who was born in SC about 1804 (age 30s in 1840 census). Thomas died in the 1860s in Spartanburg Co. Sarah died there in the 1850s. He had six children, all apparently born along James Creek in Spartanburg Co-

Thomas Young M.D., son of Thomas Young Jr and Sarah Cunningham of Union Co SC, was born 15 November 1801 in Union Co SC. He married Mary McBeth on 24 March 1836; she died later that year. Thomas then married Amelia A Rail on 4 January 1844, widow of Ezekiel W Calhoun. Thomas and Amelia later moved to Claiborne Co MS, where he died in 1870. (60,62)

Thomas Young [y17a5p4], son of Daniel

Young and Sarah Elizabeth Vaughan, was born 3 September 1896 in Franklin Co TN, died 18 January 1897 in Franklin Co. (W)

Thomas A Young [Y2d], son of Nathaniel Young and Jemima Young [Y5a], was born 23 January 1805 in Maury Co TN. He married Martha Patsey Joyce on 13 March 1827 at Concord, Maury Co. She was born in TN about 1803. They likely lived in Maury Co in 1830 or else in a neighboring county. There were two Thomas Young families in Giles Co, and one in Lincoln Co, but none in Maury Co in 1830. The Thomas in Lincoln Co was born in the 1780s, and had eight daughters by 1830. The one in Giles Co living next door to Spencer Young was born in the 1770s. And the other Thomas in Giles Co was born in the 1780s. Hence, none of those three were our subject. Thomas A Young's brother Nathaniel was living in Hickman Co in 1830, but not Thomas. Thomas was not found in 1830, and he was not living with any Joyce family in Maury nor in Hickman Co. Thomas' family was likely overlooked in the 1830 census (as were his parents), and actually lived in Maury Co.

The Thomas A Young in Lawrence Co in 1840 (the county west of Giles Co and southwest of Maury Co) was of age to be the son of Nathaniel and Jemima, but his children in 1840 did not match the known children that Thomas had in 1850. The Thomas Young in Maury Co in 1840 did, and his close neighbors were his parents. Thomas and Martha moved west to Wayne Co TN in the late 1840s where he continued farming with his three older sons. Their neighbors in 1850 were Reuben East and his wife Harriet Young [Y9a]; Harriet was a daughter of Rufus Knight Young and Rebecca Young [Y1e] of Giles Co. Thomas and Martha were at Richland, Washington Co AR in 1860. In that census, children Samuel, Saphrona, Washington, and Richard were still at home, and son William was next door. Hence, this was the same family from the 1850 Wayne Co TN census where these five children lived with their parents Thomas and Martha. The 1860 census, though, incorrectly stated that Thomas was from KY and Martha was from NC; furthermore, Martha also claimed she was age 48 in 1860 (born 1812). The 1850 census had her age as 47, born in 1803 in TN; Thomas was 45 then, born in 1805). Thomas and Martha were at White River Twp, Washington Co AR in 1870; he was age 67 (born 1803), and Martha was age 61 (born 1809), both born in TN. Their youngest son was the only child in their home in 1870, but sons John and Washington lived next door with their wives and children. After Thomas died in the 1870s, Martha lived next door to her son Richard, and her grandson John Springston lived with her in 1880 (and in 1870). When she died she was buried in McCord Cemetery at Elkins, Washington Co; her gravestone has no dates, and is very old, but it does say "WIFE OF THOMAS YOUNG." They had at least a dozen children, all in TN-

Thomas Kennedy Young [Y19i], son of John Young and Nancy Adkins, was born in 1816 in Maury Co TN. He married Rosanna Wood. She was born in TN in 1817 (age 32 in 1850, 40 in 1860), daughter of Hiram Wood (1790-1857) and an unknown mother. Family tradition says that Rosanna's mother was a Choctaw Indian. Over the years, Thomas and Rosanna lived in AL in the 1840s. Thomas enlisted in the army at Bellefonte, Jackson Co AL in the Fall of 1837, then was discharged in May 1838 at Fort Mitchell, AL. For this service, he was granted 80 acres in Maury Co. He lived there in 1850. The three youngest brothers Thomas Kennedy, Peter Barney, and William Carroll Young, sons of John Young and Nancy Adkins, all owned farms in Maury Co, but in 1853 the lands in Missouri were opening up and they decided to take their families and go with other pioneers to new lands. In oxen drawn wagons they joined a wagon train and headed for MO. Some of the families stopped along the way as they found land to suit them. The Young brothers finally reached a place northeast of Springfield and camped for a while near what is now Marshfield. This was in Greene Co MO in 1853; in 1855 it became Webster Co. Peter Barney and William Carroll chose fertile, tillable land and began to the task of building their homes. Thomas Kennedy decided to go on westward and finally reached where Paynterville (renamed Bear Creek in 1894) had been built near a spring in Cedar Co, two counties to the northwest. He and his family built a log house, broke the new ground for crops, hunted game and fished the nearby streams. Their house was located on the western slopes of the Ozark Mountain range. During the next two years Thomas acquired more land until he owned a large portion of Cedar County. Three generations of descendants of Thomas KennedyFranklin Co were born and reared on that land, and then finally, sadly gave it up as power and politics took it over in the name of progress. Most of the property is now Stockton Lake.

When the Civil War was under way, Thomas and a son were serving in the army, and were not at home when soldiers came to Rosanna's area and burned their home. Rosanna and the younger children fled to Sevier Co AR. When Thomas returned from the war, he could not find his family. Rosanna died in 1874 in Sevier Co, and soon after several of the younger children (Eliza, Cynthia Emiline, John & James), moved west with their spouses to Indian Territory, Choctaw and McCurtain Counties, and to Lamar Co TX.

William Young Senr [y1], of the Tyger River area of southeast central Spartanburg Co SC must have been born by the early 1730s, considering the birth dates of his known children. Where he was born is unknown, but may have been VA. There are inconclusive pieces of evidence that he, and probably some of his sons, came to James Creek from VA; see Nancy Young [Y7] and Nancy Young [Y5g]. Also, there is a court record from the 18 September 1744 court in King & Queen Co VA whereby certain citizens petitioned the court not to build a bridge over the Rappahannock and Mattiponi Rivers. Two of these petitioners were Henry Crutcher and John Young. The Crutcher name was a well established name with the Young families of Giles Co a century later; see John Crutcher Young [Y1j2] (great-grandson of William Senr) and the numerous other descendants named John C Young of the early and middle 19th Century.

William Senr is first found on a Colonial Platt map (Volume 8, Page 560) of 1764 in which he received 150 acres: "Pursuant to a preceipt directed under the hand and seal of the Hon^{ble} Egerton Leigh Esqr Surveyor General dated the Sixth day of March 1764 I have measured and laid out unto Will^{m} Young a Plantation or tract of Land in Berkly Co containing one hundred and fifty acres situate lying & being on a Branch of Tygar river on the south side not more than ten Inches Deep and about Eight foot wide called Jammys Creek and is Bounded all around on vacant Land, and hath such shape form and marks as the above platt Represents. Certified this 26 day of July 1764. Edwd Musgrove D.S." About the same time he obtained 300 acres nearby, and 100 more acres bounded on the east by "Wm Young Sen^{r}," on the west by George Crawford, and bounded on the remaining sides by vacant land. Both of William's tracts were a grant (Grant Book AAA, Page 323) from Governor Charles Granville Montague of the South Carolina Colony in which William had to pay the Colonial government 3 shillings sterling, or 4 shillings proclamation money, per 100 acres each following March for two years from 17 February 1767. Also, as part of the grant terms, he had to clear and bring into cultivation three percent of the land each year. Berkeley Co formed in 1683 and later discontinued under that name, became part of Spartanburg Co. It should not be confused with the present Berkeley Co close to the Atlantic coast.

William left a 1787 will, portions of which are as follows: "In the name of God Amen Whereas I William Young Senr of the state of South Carolina and Spartanburg Co Being infirm in Body". "will that all my Debts and funeral Charges be Paid". "Thirdly I will and Bequeth that my Land be Equally Divid Betwixt my Two sons Thomas Young and Rich[d] Young. Thomas to have 75 acres Running North and South across the Land and his part Joining his own Land Where he now Dwells and the Lower End to the East 75 acres I give to Rich[d] Joining to Benjamin Wofford Old Place also I will that if Edwd Smith sould Die I Give Mary his wife my Daughter Privilege to come and Live one 25 acres of that Land During her life or Widow hood Lest not to Rent out or Disposs of it Except She wants to Live on And she is not to have any Claim". "also Do Consent and Appoint my sons Thomas and Richard to be the Sole Executors of this my Last Will and Testament. fourthly I Will and Bequeth that all my Moveable Goods be Divided Equally amongst all the Rest of my Children". "this 31st Day of March one thousand seven hundred and Eighty seven." It was signed and sealed by William Young, and was witnessed by James Creek-Tyger River neighbors Millenton "X" Smith and Thomas "T" Brown (both made their marks).

In his will, William did not mention his son William nor William Senr's late son Nathaniel nor Nathaniel's children. The biggest clue that William Senr had children other than those he named in his will are his words in his will which say "all the Rest of my Children" after he carefully named Thomas, Richard, and Mary. It was the custom in this era for the father to give an advance to the inheritance to the older children who had married and left home. And there are other clues of more children: On 4 April 1795 William Young and his wife Patience, of Laurens Co SC, sold to "Thomas Young of Spartanburg Co" for £50 Sterling a 100 acre tract "situate lying and being in Spartanburg Co and State aforesaid on a Branch of Tyger River called Jamies Creek Bounded to the East by land of Wm Young Senr, West by land of George Crawford, and all other sides by vacant land at the time of surveying." In this sale to Thomas, it also said William "shall stand siezed of a good sure perfect and indefineable estate of Inheritance in fee simple of and in all the aforesaid plantation or Tract of one Hundred Acres." See the biography of his son Nathaniel Young. On 7 October 1809 Thomas Young sold seventy five acres to Thomas' son William Young. This land was described as "being part of a tract of land containing one hundred fifty acres granted to my father William Young Sen by his Excellency Governor Montague" in February 1767 "on a branch of Tyger called Jameys Creek and the south side of said river." Thomas refers to his father as "Senr," thus implying that there was a son William Young Junr.

Sixty six acres of the same James Creek-Tyger River land was sold by William Young Senr's grandson John Archibald Young [Y1], son of Nathaniel, on 23 December 1808 in which the land was described as being "at the northwest corner of a tract of two hundred acres originally granted to George Crawford beginning at said corner on a hickory tree near James Creek." This puts Nathaniel's children next to where William Senr lived.

William's wife remains unknown; she probably died prior to William since he made no provisions for her in his will. He must have died soon after March 1787, because at the time he wrote his will William was "infirm in Body." He probably died at his home in the Tyger River-James Creek area of Spartanburg Co. His known probable children were-

a. Mary Young, b bef 1750
b. Nathaniel Young, b abt 1750 [y1b]
c. William Young, b abt 1752 [y1c]
d. Thomas Young, b bef 1756 [Y5]
e. Richard Young, b abt 1755 [y1e]

With the above children, Thomas settled in the Giles Co TN area, and was given the ID number [Y5] indicating in what order he was discovered in the 1980s research. Since that time, it has been assumed that he was actually the third child of William Young Senr [y1]. Any early Young pioneer of Giles Co has an ID number starting [Y1..., [Y2..., [Y3..., etc with a CAPITAL letter Y. Any other Young and descendant who were not pioneers of Giles Co, and whose ancestry was traced, was given an ID number with a small case y, such as Richard Young's [y1e] (his descendants settled in the western side of AR, in Scott Co. (NY,JY, 63,JE, 1wyz)

Captain William Young of Pittsylvania Co VA, was born in 1735 in Pittsylvania Co. He was a sergeant, lieutenant, and a captain in the Virginia Militia under Colonel Logan. William married Elizabeth Stegale. They both died in Pittsylvania Co, he on 26 March 1813 and Elizabeth on 16 July 1820. At least two of their nine children moved to TN-

1. Frances Young
2. Archibald E Young [Y10], b 1754
3. Milton Young
4. Merlin Young, b 7 Nov 1767
5. Peyton Young
6. Wiley Young, b 1772
7. George Young
8. Samuel Young
9. Judith Young (JM,M)

William Young, son of Thomas Young Sr of York Co PA and Ms _____ Kilgore or Ms _____ Gray, was born 24 October 1744 in York Co PA. He served in the Revolution and moved to Maury Co TN, settling along the Duck River about 1807, and raised a family there. He was probably the William Young living close to his brother Thomas in Union Co in 1790. If so, at that time he had two children-

a. son (Major Samuel?) Young, b 1774-1790
b. dau Young, b a1790 (60,JE,2ap)

William Young of the Enoree River in South Carolina Colony, probably a son of William Young who had brothers George and Thomas, was born in the 1740s, more specifically by 1746 since he was granted 200 acres along both sides of the Enoree River in 96 District of South Carolina Colony in 1767 from the government; he had to be a legal adult for that. William had a plantation on both sides of the Enoree River, which was to become in 1785 the boundary line between Spartanburg and Laurens Counties. And on 21 June 1787 "William Young and Margaret his wife" of Union Co sold to Ben Birdman and Cushman Edson of Newberry Co 209 acres in Union Co at the fork of the Enoree and Tyger Rivers. (Possibly a Quaker Community; see the South Carolina entry at the beginning of this book.) This land was originally granted to William by "His Excellency Thomas Pinckney Esq., Council & Commander in chief of the state aforsaid by his grant bearing date the Seventh day January 1787." This land was bordered on the south by land of James Townsend, southwest by land of James Hawkin, northwest by land of William Taylor, and east by land of James Hill. The sale was witnessed by Samuel Jones and Luther Smith (both signed). William signed, but his wife Margaret made her "+" mark. William's signature was identical to his signature on his will a few months later. The deed of sale was signed in Laurens Co and recorded in Union Co. It would seem that William sold his holdings which were too far from his home at the meeting point of Spartanburg, Union, and Laurens Counties along the Enoree River. In his will he indicated that some of this land was also along Durban's Creek in Laurens Co.

William married Margaret Neil, sister of John O Neil (O'Neill?). In William's will, dated 13 October 1787 and probated 24 September 1788 in Union Co he named his wife and seven children, and his brother-in-law. Jeremiah Moore and Hugh W Williams were witnesses, while William's wife Margaret and Thomas Brandon of Fairforest were executors. (Colonel Thomas Brandon of Union Co was born around the 1730s and died in 1802. He witnessed the 1777 will of Thomas Young Sr of Union Co. Colonel Brandon had a son named Thomas, but it was likely that the executor of William's will was Thomas Brandon Sr.) William mentioned in his will that he had a debt of £30,000 for an estate in the West Indies, probably on Grenada.

He was probably the cousin whom Major Thomas Young spoke of in Major Thomas' memoirs (see at the end of this book), especially since William had an estate in the West Indies, which was British territory at the time, and also since the executor of William's will was Thomas Brandon; the Brandon families were Major Thomas Young's in-laws.

William and Margaret lived in an area which had many Quaker families who came to SC from PA. Some of these neighbors were Lamb families, who married the Willefords of the James Creek area of Spartanburg Co. William and Margaret had seven sons-

1. Samuel Young, b c1772
2. Adam Young, b c1773
3. William Young, b c1774
4. James Young, b c1775
5. John Young, b c1776
6. Joseph Young, b c1777
7. Thomas Young, b c1779

John O Neil also witnessed a sale of 140 acres in Spartanburg Co from James Young to James Galt about 1806, land on Lawsons Fork of the Pacolet River. And the last will and testament of Henry O'Neill of Spartanburg on 11 January 1815 named his wife Hannah _____ and son John O'Neill. This will was recorded exactly one month later. (NY,JE,MM, 1wzaehy, 2hyz)

William Young [y1a], son of William Young Senr who left the 31 March 1787 will in Spartanburg Co SC, was born before 1755. He married Patience _____. In the 1790 census (was age 16 and older, with three sons under age 16) he was apparently the William Young who was living a few doors from Shadrack East in Laurens Co. In April 1795 William was living in Laurens Co SC when he sold a tract of Tyger River-James Creek land to his brother Thomas. William could not write, and made his "W" mark on contracts. In 1800 he was still in Laurens Co (living close to Tarleton East). William was over age 45 in that census, and had a son age 16 to 25, another son age 26 to 45, no daughters at home, and William's wife was about the same age as William's.

The 1810 census shows three William Young families in Laurens Co. One William was in Captain McMahan's district and was age 26 thru 44, with a wife of the same age, and no children. The second William was a close neighbor of John Young, and was age 45 and older with no sons, no wife, and a daughter and granddaughter living with him; neighbor John Young was age 16 to 25 with a wife age 16 to 25, and three children under age 10. The third William Young was a close neighbor of Tom Young (age 26 to 44 with no wife nor children), and was age 26 to 44, with no wife and no children. The second William appears to be our subject, and his wife Patience must have died within the prior ten years. In 1820 in Laurens Co there was just one William Young, and he was a generation younger than the William who married Patience. He and Patience appear to have had five children-

1. son Young, b 1774-1790
2. dau Young, b by 1790
3. son Young, b 1774-1790
4. dau Young, b by 1790
5. son Young, b 1774-1790

Apparent relatives of the above Shadrack East can be found in 1850 in Giles Co TN, and afterwards in AR and MO in the counties close to the meeting point of the two states and the Mississippi River. (65,JE,NY,JY, 1zy, 3aehz)

William "Captain Billy" Young, son of John Young Sr and Margaret Wood of the Pacolet River area of Spartanburg Co, was born 21 July 1759 in Loudoun Co VA. William was the first sheriff of Spartanburg Co having been appointed at the newly formed Co's second session in June 1785. In March 1787 his term ended, but he was still referred to as an "Esquire" until at least 1790. William married Mary Salmon, probably the sister of the spouses of William's brother and sister John Young Jr and Elizabeth Young; Elizabeth's husband was the county clerk, George Salmon. Mary was born in 1775 and died in 1847. William no doubt received his "Captain Billy" title in the Revolutionary War. In the 1798 court records, he was still living along the Pacolet River where he had lived for about twenty years. He may have lived in Greenville Co for a short while in 1790 prior to his marriage; there was a William Young in that Co in the 1790 census, living alone. If he and his wife were in Spartanburg Co in 1800, they must have been living on the farm with his parents since William's name did not appear in the 1800 census. He moved to Greenville Co soon after 1798. William sold 1,130 acres on the Pacolet River to his father, "land where John Young Sr lives," on 21 March 1807. William wrote a will which was probated 4 December 1826 in Greenville Co and the Greenville Republican on 18 November 1826 told of his death. Other sources state his death as being 7 December 1829. Since a date from clear newsprint, although quite old, is very readable while a date from a faded bible record and / or eroded gravestone can easily be in error, the likely death date for William would be 7 November 1826. He died in Greenville Co and was buried at Stone House at Pleasantburg. His twelve children were-

1. Ezekiel W Young
2. William H Young, b 1796
3. Robert M Young, b c1798
4. Julieth G Young, b 1802
5. Hamilton Young, b 1805
6. Joseph A Young, b 10 Jan 1808
7. Benjamin Franklin Young, b 1810
8. Emily Young, b 1812
9. Martha Young, b 1813
10. Mary Elizabeth Young, b 1814
11. James Wood Young, b 20 Jun 1816
12. Wallace Harry Young, b 1820 (NY,JE, 1ywz,4a)

William Young, probable son of Nathaniel Young of the James Creek-Tyger River neighborhood of Spartanburg Co SC, was born in the early 1770s. In 1800 William was living four doors from his brother John and was married. His wife was probably Sarah _____, who was born about the same time as William. On 22 August 1814 the will of Richard Chesney (who lived two doors from Richard Young and four doors from William's widowed mother Patty) named Chesney's wife Esther and named executors wife Esther and "friend" William Young and witness Richard Young. The term "friend" when writing wills of two hundred years ago often meant a relative such as an in-law or cousin. And the will of John Leatherwood, recorded 13 December 1820, named children James, Isaac, Elizabeth, Jane, Nancy, John B, Spencer, William, Miles, and grandson Nathaniel, son of Jesse. John B Leatherwood and William Young were the executors; witnesses were William Young, Joseph Barnett, and James Hobby. With so many familiar Young given names, it would appear that there was a close connection between John Leatherwood and William Young.

In 1800 William had a boy and girl under the age of ten, implying that He and Sarah were married in the 1790s. In 1810 he and his family lived next door to Archibald Smith, the brother-in-law of his brother John. On 7 October 1809 there was a land sale from Thomas Young Senr (son of William Young Senr and brother of Nathaniel) to William Young, both of Spartanburg Co. The land sale was for 75 acres on "Jameys Creek" next to Richard Young, and was half of a 150 acre tract originally granted to William Young Senr in February 1767 by Governor Montague. Richard Young (William's uncle and Thomas' brother) and Sarah Young (assumed to be William's wife) witnessed the sale. There William Young and his wife, both born in the 1770s, lived in Spartanburg Co in 1840. By 1810 William had three children-

1. girl Young, b 1795-1800
2. boy (Thomas?) Young, b 1795-1800
3. girl Young b 1801-1810

The 1790 census of Spartanburg Co shows a Frances Claton as head of her household, and living next to William's widowed mother Patty. Frances had two males over the age of sixteen living with her. These men could be her sons, but also, one of them could be William. If William had married a daughter of his Claton neighbors, he may have lived in their home soon after his marriage. This was very common then, especially if the mother-in-law was a widow with a farm to run. (NY, 1aehz)

William Young, son of William Young and Margaret Neil of the Enoree River area along the Spartanburg-Laurens Co line in SC, was born about 1774; see Adam Young, William's brother. (NY,JE,MM, 1wzaehy, 2hyz)

William Young [Y5e], son of Thomas Young and Mary _____, was born about 1787 in Spartanburg Co SC. He married Mary _____, who was born in SC in 1793. In the summer of 1850 in Lincoln Co TN there were three young adults living with him who could be his children, and census records in the county from 1820 to 1840 also indicate that he had more than three children. Information is lacking at this time, but it appears that William's family was-

1. Nancy Young, b 1815
2. dau Young, b 1816-1820
3. dau Young, b about 1820
4. son Young, b 1821-1825
5. son Young, b 1826-1830
6. son Young, b 1826-1830
7. Isaac Young, b 1831
8. Robert Young, b 1833 (16ijknw)

William Young, son of Thomas Young Jr and Sarah Cunningham of Union Co SC, was born 19 February 1795 in Union Co SC, died in 1868, and was buried in Union Co. He married Elizabeth McCrary, who was born in 1795, and died in 1856. She was the daughter of George McCrary and Elizabeth ____. (60, 62)

William Young [Y1d], son of John Archibald Young and Nancy Smith. was born about 1801 in Spartanburg Co SC. He was about 7 or 8 years old when his family moved to the Beech Hill area of the new Giles Co in the early months of 1809. He married Allie (Ala? Aley?) _____ about 1829 in Giles Co TN. In 1830 they were not found, but were probably living with Alie's family in Giles Co. William died about 1849, probably in Marshall Co; Alie and her children lived there in 1850.

There is no actual proof, such as a will or land gift records, to show that William was a son of John and Nancy, but there is substantial evidence that William was a son of John A Young and Nancy Smith: a son of William's approximate age was shown in the 1820 Giles Co census, and in 1840 he lived next door to his widowed step-mother and brother Alexander. Also, in the 1840 census, he had children who's sex and ages exactly matched the children from the 1850 census who were born by 1840. And of all the counties surrounding Giles Co, all had existing marriage records well into the 20th Century, except for Giles Co, which had a courthouse fire at the end of the Civil War which destroyed their marriage records. Hence, no marriage record of around 1829 for William and Allie was found, indicating that they married in Giles Co.

In 1850 Alie (Ala in 1850) was living in District 4 of Marshall Co TN with her children. Her youngest child was born in 1849, so her husband must have died soon before the summer of 1850. District 4 of Marshall Co was next to District 17 of Giles Co (Cornersville area). Ala was born in NC in 1809, but all six of her children from the 1850 Marshall Co censes were born in TN. A search of the 1840 census for Marshall, Bedford, and Lincoln Counties did not show any reliable clues as to who her husband was. Only Giles Co had clues to find her husband.

Since there was an eleven year gap between daughters Drucilla and Lucy, a search of the marriage records in the Giles Co and surrounding counties for Ms Ala _____ and a Mr Young in the mid-1840s found nothing. Allie had a second marriage, to a Mr Blackshear, after 1850 in Lincoln Co, but was again a widow by 1870. That marriage record was also not found. She was then living in District 10 of Lincoln Co (Allie, age 60), next door to her son Gabriel; two children from the 1850 census still lived with her. District 10 is the large northernmost Civil District in Lincoln Co, next to southern Marshall Co to the northwest, Bradford Co directly north, and next to Moore Co to the northeast. Petersburg in Lincoln Co's District 10 is about twenty miles northeast of where William and Allie lived in Giles Co in 1840 and where most of their children were born. In 1880, still in Lincoln Co, she was Aley, age 71, and lived next door to her son Mark, and was next to some Blackshear neighbors; her son Henry was using the Blackshear name, and was age 30. Aley's daughter Sarah was still at home with Aley in 1880. Her children with William Young were-

1. Marcus Madison Young, b Apr 1830
2. Sarah J Young, b Apr 1832
3. Gabriel Young, b Apr 1834
4. Drucilla Ann Young, b 24 Feb 1836
5. Lucy Young, b 1846
6. Henry Young, b 1849

There were two other pre-1870 Young settlers in Lincoln Co, in addition to William and Allie's children. Two were: John Young, born 24 Mar 1842 in NH, moved to IL in the 1850s, and settled in District 3 Lincoln Co about 1867 (southeast area). He married Sarah M Bradford in Lincoln Co on 8 Feb 1870 and had five children. And there was William D Young, born in Franklin Co on 10 May 1834, grew up in Franklin Co, and married Martha E Wiseman in Franklin Co on 4 Jan 1858. They lied in Franklin Co in 1860, then were living in District 2 of Lincoln Co in 1870 (south center of the county), then was in District 4 in 1880 (northeast side of the county, next to Moore and Franklin Counties). They had eight sons. (55,15k,17n, 630nqm, 16mrs)

William Young [Y4g], son of Thomas Young and Sarah _____, was born about 1817 in Spartanburg Co SC, but grew up in Maury Co and Giles Co TN. William married Mary _____ in the 1840s, probably in Giles Co. She was born in VA in 1824. William died in August 1859 in TN. By 1850 they had two sons-

1. John J Young, b 1846
2. Titus Young, b Apr 1850 (SB,15wn)

William J Young [Y2d4], son of Thomas A Young and Martha Patsey Joyce, was born 26 September 1833 at Concord, Maury Co TN (age 16 in 1850, 28 in 1860), and died in December 1908 at Leon, McCulloch Co TX. He lived next door to his parents at Richland, Washington Co AR in 1860, and was shown to be single then. Mr "William J Young" married "Nancy E Shields" in Washington Co AR on 2 September 1858; she was age 18 on their marriage record (born 1840) and William was age 25 (born 1833). Since William, son of Thomas and Martha, was single in their home in 1860, then this marriage must have been secret at first. In 1870 W J Young (age 37) and wife Nancy (age 32) lived in the same White River Twp as his parents, but was not next door. In 1880 in Washington Co, William and Nancy were still there. He was then age 47 (born 1833 in TN) and she was age 42 (born 1838 TN). Their children in 1870 and 1880 were all born in Washington Co AR-

a. Samuel Marion Young, b 1861
b. Richard L Young, b 1865
c. Robert E Lee Young, b Feb 1867
d. William T Young, b Oct 1869
e. George W Young, b Aug 1873
f. Sarah E Young, b 1872

Niece S C Shields, born in 1857 in AR, lived with them in 1880. Living next door in 1870 was Louisa Shields, age 62, born in TN. (W,10k,11n, 314mqrs)

William Young [Y4i3], son of Joseph W Young and Catherine Wilson Stephenson, was born about 1850 at Bradshaw in Giles Co. His father died in 1859, and after 1860 William was not found. (15qr)

William Young [Y1a6a2], son of William N Young and Sarah L Gibson, was born in 1867 in Marshall Co TN. (17r)

William A Young [Y1f2], son of Spencer Young and Manerva Lanentine Abernathy, was born about 1829 in Giles Co. He was a carpenter, and married Elizabeth ____ (Vaughn?). She was born in 1842 in TN. Because of her birth date, Elizabeth and William must have married in 1858. They were not found after 1860, and probably died in the 1860s. Their son was living with William's parents in 1870. William and Elizabeth were probably buried in either Beech Hill Cemetery or in Bee Spring Cemetery. Their graves have not been found. They had a son-

a. Edward Field Young, b Aug 1859 (GW, 15nqzw)

William A Young [Y8g4], son of Alexander Volney Howard Young and Penelope Nellie Hawkins, was born 26 November 1883, and died 3 December 1883 in Goliad Co. (DW, 80uv)

William Abernathy Young [Y1b1], son of John Young Jr and an unknown mother, was born 18 March 1822 in Giles Co. He married Ethalinda Smith on 11 February 1841 at Pulaski. The minister at the wedding was William's cousin (and uncle by marriage) Willis Willeford [Y6b], while the witnesses were William's aunt Martha Young [Y1i], wife of the minister, and Elizabeth Wilson. Ethalinda was born in Giles Co on 26 August 1824, daughter of Robert Smith and Mildred Christmas Rhodes. Ethalinda's grandmother was a sister of William's father, thus making Ethalinda a first cousin to William's father. Ethalinda died on 21 April 1886 and William on 8 August 1904. He was a farmer near Lynnville in the 1860s, but lived near Beech Hill for a few years after marrying. They had no children, but over the years usually had a cousin or other relative living with them. When Ethalinda's sister Mary and her husband Gardner M Harwell died (see Dorothy C Young [Y4f]), William and Ethalinda raised Mary's two orphaned daughters Madora Jane and Ethalinda Martha Mendosa Harwell. From the Robert Smith Bible, we get the information that "Robbert Smith was born 1793 / Mildred C. Rhodes, wife of above was born Dec. 25th, 1804. / Were married in Lincoln County, TN, March 14th, 1822." (NY,GW,B, L,MA,VS, 15wnqrsu)

William Allen Young [Y1d1j], son of Marcus Madison Young and Malinda Eleanor Jones, was born 8 September 1883 in Lincoln Co TN. He lived in Bedford Co in 1900 and 1910. Willie married Nona Belle Brown in Bedford Co on 12 July 1902. "C W Pyrdam" helped with the marriage bond. She was born in Giles Co in 1884. In 1917 they lived at Tullahoma, Coffee Co and William was a carpenter for the railroad. He died at Tullahoma on 12 October 1918 and was buried in "City Cemetery." This Cemetery does not exist, so perhaps the death record meant a popular Cemetery at Tullahoma, such as Maplewood. They had a son-

1. Truman Brown Young, b 1909 (M,301d, 237umv)

William Anthony Young [y1e3], son of Richard Young and Isobel _____ of James Creek of east central Spartanburg Co SC, was born about 1809 in Spartanburg Co. He was a farmer and lived close to Thomas Young, possibly his cousin (born in 1797 and married to Sarah _____). William married Mary _____ about 1830; in the 1830 census of Giles Co they were found, but had no children. She was also born in SC about 1815. William was appointed the administrator of his father's estate in 1837. By 1850 he and Mary had three children-

b. Isabella Young, b 1838
c. William Anthony Young Jr, b 1846 (JE, 1jnw)

William Anthony Young Jr, son of William Anthony Young and Mary ____ of Spartanburg Co SC, was born in 1846 in Spartanburg Co. (JE,1np)

William B Young [y1e2f4], son of Thomas L Young and Lavinia _____, was born in March 1883 in Scott Co AR. He was not found after 1900. (560u)

William B Young [Y1f1d4], son of Thomas Edgar Young and Albina D Montgomery, was born in December 1889 at Pulaski, TN. He was unmarried, and was killed in a railroad accident at Birmingham, AL on 4 December 1909. William was buried in Maplewood Cemetery at Pulaski, next to his parents. (58, MA,15uc)

William Beason Young [Y15e3], son of Benjamin Franklin Young and Elizabeth H Lock, was born 28 March 1878 in Giles Co TN, and moved to Hill Co TX when he was a boy, then to Ellis Co by 1900. He married Pearl Anna Hardy in 1897. In 1900 they lived with his parents in Ellis Co TX. She was born 15 April 1880 in TX, daughter of W T Hardy and Fannie Baird. William was a painting contractor. In September 1918 they lived at Cedar Hill, Dallas Co. He died at Dallas on 10 March 1954 and was buried in Laurel Land Cemetery with Pearl. Ralph Young was the informant for his death certificate. Pearl died at Dallas on 10 April 1947. W B Young was the informant for her death certificate. (M,15s, 54u,56d)

William C Young [Y3a], son of Joseph Young and Sarah _____, was born about 1809 in TN, likely Maury or Giles Co very soon after his parents arrived from SC, William was called William Young Sr since he had a younger cousin of the same name (William Young [Y4g], born in 1817) who lived in the same neighborhood in the 1830s. About 1831 William married Elizabeth Kennedy; William's sister Nancy Young [Y3b] married William Kennedy about 1824, son of John Kennedy and Sarah Britton. There is yet no evidence that Nancy's husband was a brother of Elizabeth Kennedy. The family bible passed down by William's son John listed William's wife's name as Elizabeth Kennedy. Elizabeth was born in 1814 in TN, and was alive in 1880 in Giles Co living with her daughter Elizabeth. Her father was from VA, and mother from NC. In 1835 William was living along Bradshaw Creek, for he sold 137 acres there in February of that year. This was land two doors from John Archibald Young [Y1], and next door to John Abernathy. In 1840 William lived next door to Nancy Paxton, the widow of William's cousin Nathaniel Young [Y1a], and next to Nathaniel's brother Archibald Smith Young [Y1j]. In August 1844 "William Young Sr" sold a 65 acre tract on Bradshaw Creek to Hardin Griggs. This was the southeast corner of William's father's land which was deeded to William. These land transactions over the years show that William and his wife Elizabeth spent most of their lives at Beech Hill, where he was a farmer. In 1855 William was named to be the executor in the will of Sterling Huff, father of Rebecca Huff.

Soon after 25 April 1865 William died. Giles Co Chancery Court Woodruff files M through N, 1830-1900, Case 2975, shows that in 1871 Wesley R Moore of Giles Co sued Joseph & Alfred A Young, Executors of William C Young, deceased over unpaid debts William C owed Mr Moore. In this suit, people named were Elizabeth Young, James C Burgess & wife Margaret, John Clark & wife Amanda, John Rea & wife Mary Irene, John A Young, Lizzie Moore, and Sallie Finley, all of Giles County, A R Moore & wife Nance E in TX, L B Erwin & wife Martha Ann in IL, William B Chiles & wife Eliza of Marshall Co TN, defendants and widow and children of William Young, deceased. William's land and personal property were sold for payment of debts. The land was sold under orders of Chancery Court. Also, in 1886, J C Rea & wife vs Joseph Young, Complainants, stated that William Young died in Giles County during the year 1865, testate, leaving his widow Elizabeth and his children, to wit: Mary J, wife of J C Rea; Martha A, wife of L B Erwin; Nancy E, wife of A R Moore; Margaret K, wife of J C Burgess; Elizabeth or Eliza, wife of W B Chiles; Amanda, wife of John Clark (T J Clark & wife Lizzie, and Sarah, wife of John Lemmons, the last two being grandchildren); Joseph Young; Alfred A Young; and John Young, sons of William Young, deceased. Elizabeth, widow of testator, died in 1885, Joseph and Alfred A Young qualified as executors of her will. By the will of testator, she intended for his children to share equally in his estate. William Young was the owner of 330 acres of land in the 10th District on the waters of Bradshaw Creek. 200 acres was sold at the death of Mr. Young, 130 acres remained to be sold at the death of widow Elizabeth Young. The land was sold to W M Bradford and W T Holly, under orders of Chancery Court. Mary J Rea and her husband J C Rea lived in Van Zandt Co TX. Martha A wife of L B Erwin, died in Van Zandt Co TX on 8 September 1888. Martha A left one son David, who was then thirty five years of age. L B Erwin was living in Red River Co TX in 1891. Lizzie Rea, who married first T J Clark, married second C W Edgerton of Van Zandt Co on March 12, 1889. A R and Amanda were residing in Red River Co TX in 1891.

Graves for William C and Elizabeth have not been found, but may be on his farm if not in the Beech Hill or Bradshaw Cemeteries. They had twelve children-

The MEMOIR Of MAJOR Thomas YOUNG

This memoir was published in the Orion Magazine, in October and November, 1843. Major Young died in 1848 and was buried in the Old Union Presbyterian Church Cemetery, Monarch, South Carolina.

I was born in Lawrence [Laurens] District, S.C., on the seventeenth of January, 1764. My father, Thomas Young, soon after removed to Union District, where I have lived to this day. In the spring of 1780, I think in April, Col. Brandon was encamped with a party of 70 or 80 whigs, about five miles below Union courthouse, where Christopher Young now lives. Their object was to collect forces for the approaching campaign, and to keep a check upon the tories. They had taken prisoner one Adam Steedham, as vile a tory as ever lived. By some means Steedham escaped during the night, and notified the tories of Brandon's position. The whigs were attached by a large body of the enemy before day and completely routed. On that occasion, my brother, John Young, was murdered. I shall never forget my feelings when told of his death. I do not believe I had ever used an oath before that day, but then I tore open my bosom, and swore that I would never rest till I had avenged his death. Subsequently a hundred tories felt the weight of my arm for the deed, and around Steedham's neck I fastened the rope as a reward for his cruelties. On the next day I left home in my shirt sleeves, and joined Brandon's party. Christopher Brandon and I joined at the same time, and the first engagement we were in, was at Stallions' in York District.

We had received intelligence of a party of tories, then stationed at Stallions'; a detachment of about fifty whigs, under Col. Brandon, moved to attack them. Before we arrived at the house in which they were fortified, we were divided into two parties. Capt. Love with a party of sixteen -- of whom I was one -- Marched to attack the front, while Col. Brandon with the remainder, made a circuit to intercept those who should attempt to escape, and also to attack the rear. Mrs. Stallions was a sister of Capt. Love, and on the approach of her brother she ran out, and begged him not to fire upon the house. He told her it was too late now, and that their only chance for safety was to surrender. She ran back to the house and sprang upon the door step, which was pretty high. At this moment, the house was attacked in the rear by Col. Brandon's party, and Mrs. Stallions was killed by a ball shot through the opposite door. At the same moment with Brandon's attack, our party raised a shout and rushed forward. We fired several rounds which were briskly returned. It was not long, however, before the tories ran up a flag, first upon the end of a gun, but as that did not look exactly peaceful, a ball was put through the fellow's arm, and in a few moments it was raised on a ram-rod, and we ceased firing. While we were fighting a man was seen running through an open field near us. I raised my gun to shoot him, when some of our party exclaimed, "Don't fire; he is one of our own men." I drew down my gun, and in a moment he halted, wheeled round, and fired at us. Old Squire Kennedy (who was an excellent marksman) raised his rifle and brought him down. We had but one wounded, William Kennedy, who was shot by my side. I was attempting to fire in at the door of the house, when I saw two of the tories in the act of shooting at myself and Kennedy. I sprang aside and escaped, calling at the same time to my companion, but he was shot (while moving) through the wrist and thigh.

The loss of the tories was two killed, four wounded, and twenty-eight prisoners whom we sent to Charlotte, N.C. After the fight, Love and Stallions met and shed bitter tears; Stallions was dismissed on parole to bury his wife and arrange his affairs.

The next engagement I was in, was at King's Mountain, S.C., I believe on the 7th of October, 1780. I was under the command of Col. Brandon. Late in the evening, preceding the battle, we met Colonels Campbell, Shelby, Cleaveland, and Sevier, with their respective regiments, at the Cowpens, where they had been killing some beeves [beef]. As soon as we got something to eat, for we were very hungry and weary, we retired to sleep at random in the woods. I did not wake until broad daylight. In the morning we received intelligence that Major Ferguson was encamped somewhere near the Cherokee Ford, on Broad River. We pushed forward, but heard no tidings of the enemy. At a meeting-house, on the eastern side of the river, we discovered some signs and continued our pursuit for some distance, when a halt was ordered, and we were on the point of sending out for some beeves, when we met George Watkins, a whig, who had been taken prisoner and was on his way home on parole. He gave us information of the position of the enemy.

A consultation of the officers was then held, and the command was given to Col. Campbell. Watkins had informed us that we were within a mile of the enemy. We were then formed into four divisions; who commanded each division I cannot now say. I think Col. Roebuck commanded the one I was in.

Major Ferguson had taken a very strong position upon the summit of the mountain, and it appeared like an impossibility to dislodge him, but we had come there to do it, and we were determined, one and all, to do it, or die trying. The attack was begun on the north side of the mountain. The orders were at the firing of the first gun, for every man to raise a whoop, rush forward, and fight his way as best he could. When our division came up to the northern base of the mountain, we dismounted, and Col. Roebuck drew us a little to the left and commenced the attack. I well remember how I behaved. Ben Hollingsworth and myself took right up the side of the mountain, and fought from tree to tree, our way to the summit. I recollect I stood behind one tree and fired until the bark was nearly all knocked off, and my eyes pretty well filled with it. One fellow shaved me pretty close, for his bullet took a piece out of my gunstock. Before I was aware of it, I found myself apparently between my own regiment and the enemy, as I judged, from seeing the paper which the whigs wore in their hats, and the pine knots the tories wore in theirs, these being the badges of distinction.

On the top of the mountain, in the thickest of the right, I saw Col. Williams fall, and a braver or a better man never died upon the field of battle. I had seen him but once before that day; it was in the beginning of the action, as he charged by me at full speed around the mountain; toward the summit a ball struck his horse under the jaw, when he commenced stamping as if he were in a nest of yellow jackets. Col. W. threw the reins over the animal's neck -- sprang to the ground, and dashed onward.

The moment I heard the cry that Col. Williams was shot, I ran to his assistance, for I loved him as a father, he had ever been so kind to me, and almost always carried a cake in his pocket for me and his little son Joseph. They carried him into a tent, and sprinkled some water in his face. He revived, and his first words were, "For God's sake, boys, don't give up the hill!" I remember it as well as if it had occurred yesterday. I left him in the arms of his son Daniel, and returned to the field to avenge his fall. Col. Williams died next day, and was buried not far from the field of his glory.

Joseph Williams -- who was a mere boy -- and his brother Daniel, were, I think, subsequently massacred by the tories at Hay's station. I remember to have heard it told that they were surrounded by the tories, and during the fight a crib or outhouse near the building in which the whigs were stationed caught fire, and when they found there was no hope, Daniel Williams threw his father's pistols into the flames, exclaiming that he would rather see them burn, than go into the hands of a tory. Our loss at the battle of King's Mountain, was about twenty-five killed and wounded. The enemy lost above three hundred, who were left on the ground -- among them Major Ferguson. We took, moreover, seven or eight hundred prisoners. Awful indeed was the stench of the wounded, the dying, and the dead on the field, after the carnage of that dreadful day. A few days after the battle, a court martial was held to try some of the tories who were known to be of the most outrageous and blood-thirsty character. About twenty were found guilty, but ten received a pardon of respite. Nine were hung, and the tenth was pinioned [bound], awaiting his fate. It was now nearly dark. His brother, a mere lad, threw his arms around him, and set up a most piteous crying and screaming, as if he would go into convulsions. While the soldiers were attracted by his behaviour, he managed to cut the cords, and his brother escaped.

After the battle we Marched upon the head waters of Cane Creek, in North Carolina, with our prisoners, where we all came very nearly starving to death. The country was very thinly settled, and provisions could not be had for love or money. I thought green pumpkins, sliced and fried, about the sweetest eating I ever had in my life! From this point we Marched over into the Dutch settlements in the fork of Catawba and recruited, until we joined Gen. Morgan at Grindall Shoals.

The next engagement I was at Hammond's store, on Bush River, somewhere near '96. Gen. Morgan was encamped at Grindall Shoals to keep the tories in check. He dispatched Col. Washington with a detachment of militia, and about seventy dragoons [mounted infantrymen], to attack a body of tories, who had been plundering the whigs. We came up with them at Hammond's store; in fact, we picked up several scattering ones, within about three miles of the place, from whom we learned all about their position.

When we came in sight, we perceived that the tories had formed in line on the brow of the hill opposite to us. We had a long hill to descend and another to rise. Col. Washington and his dragoons gave a shout, drew swords, and charged down the hill like madmen. The tories fled in every direction without firing a gun. We took a great many prisoners and killed a few. Here I must relate an incident which occurred on this occasion. In Washington's corps there was a boy of fourteen or fifteen, a mere lad, who in crossing Tiger River was ducked by a blunder of his horse. The men laughed and jeered at him very much, at which he got very mad, and swore that boy or no boy, he would kill a man that day or die. He accomplished the former. I remember very well being highly amused at the little fellow charging round a crib after a tory, cutting and slashing away with his puny arm, till he brought him down.

We then returned to Morgan's encampment at Grindall Shoals, on the Packolette, and there we remained, eating beef and scouting through the neighborhood until we heard of Tarlton's approach. Having received intelligence that Col. Tarlton designed to cross the Packolette at Easternood Shoals above us, Gen. Morgan broke up his encampment early in the morning of the 16th, and retreated up the mountain road by Hancock's ville, taking the left hand road not far above, in a direction toward the head of Thickety Creek. We arrived at the field of the Cowpens about sun-down, and were told that there we should meet the enemy. The news was received with great joy by the army. We were very anxious for battle, and many a hearty curse had been vented against Gen. Morgan during that day's March, for retreating, as we thought, to avoid a fight. Night came upon us, yet much remained to be done. It was all important to strengthen to cavalry. Gen. Morgan knew well the power of Tarlton's legion, and he was too wily an officer not to prepare himself as well as circumstances would admit. Two companies of volunteers were called for. One was raised by Major Jolly of Union District, and the other, I think, by Major McCall. I attached myself to Major Jolly's company. We drew swords that night, and were informed we had authority to press any horse not belonging to a dragoon or an officer, into our service for the day.

It was upon this occasion I was more perfectly convinced of Gen.'s qualifications to command militia, than I had ever before been. He went among the volunteers, helped them fix their swords, joked with them about their sweet-hearts, told them to keep in good spirits, and the day would be ours. And long after I laid down, he was going about among the soldiers encouraging them, and telling them that the old wagoner would crack his whip over Ben. (Tarlton) in the morning, as sure as they lived.

"Just hold your heads, boys, three firest," he would say, "and you are free, and then when you return to your homes, how the old folks will bless you, and the girls kiss you, for your gallant conduct!" I don't believe he slept a wink that night!

But to the battle. Our pickets were stationed three miles in advance. Samuel Clowney was one of the picket guard, and I often heard him afterwards laugh at his narrow escape. Three of Washington's dragoons were out on a scout, when they came almost in contact with the advanced guard of the British army; they wheeled, and were pursued almost into camp. Two got in safely; one poor fellow, whose horse fell down, was taken prisoner. It was about day that the pickets were driven in.

The morning of the 17th of January, 1781, was bitterly cold. We were formed in order of battle, and the men were slapping their hands together to keep warm -- an exertion not long necessary.

The battle field was almost a plain with a ravine on both hands, and very little under growth in front or near us. The regulars, under the command of Col. Howard, a very brave man, were formed in two ranks, their right flank resting upon the head of the ravine on the right. The militia were formed on the left of the regulars, under the command of Col. Pickens, their left flank resting near the head of the ravine on the left. The cavalry formed in rear of the centre, or rather in rear of the left wing of the regulars. About sunrise, the British line advanced at a sort of trot, with a loud halloo. It was the most beautiful line I ever saw. When they shouted I heard Morgan say, "They give us the British halloo, boys, give them the Indian halloo, by G__;" and he galloped along the lines, cheering the men, and telling them not to fire until we could see the whites of their eyes. Every officer was crying don't fire! for it was a hard matter for us to keep from it.

I should have said the British line advanced under cover of their artillery; for it opened so fiercely upon the centre, that Col. Washington moved his cavalry from the centre towards the right wing.

The militia fired first. It was for a time pop-pop-pop- and then a whole volley; but when the regulars fired, it seemed like one sheet of flame from right to left. Oh! it was beautiful! I have heard old Col. Fair say often, that he believed John Savage fired the first gun in this battle. He was riding to and fro, along the lines, when he saw Savage fix his eye upon a British officer; he stepped out of the ranks, raised his gun -- fired, and he saw the officer fall.

After the first fire, the militia retreated, and the cavalry covered their retreat. They were again formed and renewed the attack, and we retired to the rear. They fought for some time, and retreated again -- and then formed a second time. In this I can hardly be mistaken, for I recollect well that the cavalry was twice, during the action, between our army and the enemy. I have understood that one of the retreats was ordered by mistake by one of Morgan's officers. How true this is I cannot say.

After the second forming, the first became general and unintermitting. In the hottest of it, I saw Col. Brandon coming at full speed to the rear and waving his sword to Col. Washington. In a moment the command to charge was given, and I soon found that the British cavalry had charged the American right. We made a most furious charge, and cutting through the British cavalry, wheeled and charged them in the rear. In this charge, I exchanged my tackey for the finest horse I ever rode; it was the quickest swap I ever made in my life!

At this moment the bugle sounded. We, about half formed and making a sort of circuit at full speed, came up in rear of the British line, shouting and charging like madmen. At this moment Col. Howard gave the word "charge bayonets!" and the day was ours. The British broke, and throwing down their guns and cartouch [cartridge] boxes, made for the wagon road, and did the prettiest sort of running!

After this Major Jolly and seven or eight of us resolved upon an excursion to capture some of the baggage. We went about twelve miles, and captured two British soldiers, two negroes, and two horses laden with portmanteaus [saddle bags]. One of the portmanteau belonged to a paymaster in the British service, and contained gold. Jolly insisted upon my returning with the prize to camp, while he pursued a little farther. I did so. Jolly's party dashed onward, and soon captured an armorer's wagon, with which they became so much engaged that they forgot all about me. I rode along for some miles at my leisure, on my fine gray charger, talking to my prisoners, when all at once I saw, coming in advance, a party, which I soon discovered to be British. I knew it was no time to consider now; so I wheeled, put spurs to my horse, and made down the road in hopes of meeting Jolly and his party. My horse was stiff, however, from the severe exercise I had given him that morning, and I soon found that they were gaining pon me. I wheeled abruptly to the right into a cross road, but a party of three or four dashed through the woods and intercepted me. It was now a plain case, and I drew my sword and made battle. I never fought so hard in my life. I knew it was death anyhow, and I resolved to sell my life as dearly as possible.

In a few minutes one finger on my left hand was split open; then I received a cut on my sword arm by a parry which disabled it. In the next instance a cut from a sabre across my forehead, (the scar of which I shall carry to my grave), the skin slipped down over my eyes, and the blood blinded me so that I could see nothing. Then came a thrust in the right shoulder blade, then a cut upon the left shoulder, and a last cut (which you can feel for yourself) on the back of my head – and I fell upon my horse's neck. They took me down, bound up my wounds, and placed me again on my horse a prisoner of war.

When they joined the party in the main road, there were two tories who knew me very well -- Littlefield and Kelly. Littlefield cocked his gun, and swore he would kill me. In a moment nearly twenty British soldiers drew their swords, and cursing him for a d____d coward, for wanting to kill a boy without arms and a prisoner -- ran him off. Littlefield did not like me, and for a very good reason. While we were at Grindall Shoals with Morgan, he once caught me out, and tried to take my gun away from me. I knocked him down with it, and as he rose I clicked it, and told him if he didn't run I'd blow him through. He did not long hesitate which of the two to choose.

I asked Kelly not to tell the British who I was, and I do not think the fellow did. Col. Tarlton sent for me, and I rode by his side for several miles. He was a very fine looking man, with rather a proud bearing, but very gentlemanly in his manners. He asked me a great many questions, and I told him one lie, which I have often thought of since. In reply to his query whether Morgan was reinforced before the battle? I told him "he was not, but that he expected a reinforcement every minute." "He asked me how many dragoons Washington had. "I replied that "he had seventy, and two volunteer companies of mounted militia -- but you know how they won't fight." "By G_d!" he quickly replied, "they did to-day, though!" I begged him to parole me, but he said, "if he did, I should go right off and turn to fighting again." I told him he could get three men in exchange for me, and he replied--

"Very well, when we get to Cornwallis' army, you shall be paroled or exchanged; and mean while, I'll see that your wounds are taken care of."

We got to Hamilton Ford, on Broad River, about dark. Just before we came to the river, a British dragoon came up at full speed, and told Col. Tarlton that Washington was close behind in pursuit. It was now very dark, and the river was said to be swimming. The British were not willing to take water. Col. Tarlton flew into a terrible passion, and drawing his sword, swore he would cut down the first man who hesitated. They knew him too well to hesitate longer. During the confusion, a young Virginian by the name of Deshaser (also a prisoner) and myself, managed to get into the woods. In truth a British soldier had agreed to let us escape, and to desert if we would assist him in securing the plunder he had taken.

We slipped away one at a time up the river, Deshaser first, then myself. I waited what I thought a very long time for the British soldier, and he came not. At last I began to think the British were across, and I gave a low whistle -- Deshaser answered me, and we met. It was now very dark and raining when we came to the Packolette. I could not find the ford, and it was well, for the river was swimming. We therefore made our way up the river, and had not gone far before we approached a barn. It had a light in it, and I heard a cough. We halted and reconnoitred, and finding it occupied by some British soldiers, we pressed on and soon arrived at old Captain Grant's where I was glad to stop. The old man and his lovely daughter washed and dressed my wounds, and in looking over the bag of plunder which the soldier had given us, they found a fine ruffled shirt, which I put on and went to bed. I shall never forget that girl or the old man for their kindness!

On the next day I left with Deshaser, and arrived at home that evening, where I was confined by a violent fever for eight or ten days; but thanks to the kind nursing and attention of old Mrs. Brandon, I recovered. I now slept in the woods for about three weeks, waiting for some of the whigs to come in and commence operations. I was concerned about a horse. The British soldiers, when they took me, dismounted me from the fine charger I captured at the Cowpens and put me on a pacing pony. One day I met old Molly Willard riding a very fine sorrel horse, and told her we must swap. She wouldn't listen to it -- but I replied that there was no use in talking, the horse I would have, and the exchange was made not much to the old woman's satisfaction, for she didn't love the whigs; I don't believe the Willards have forgiven me for that horse swap to this day.

Soon after this I joined a detachment of whigs under Col. Brandon, and scouted through the country till we reached the siege at Fort Motte. There I remained for several days, when we joined a detachment under command of Col. Hampton, to take Orangeburg. The state troops, under Col. Hampton, out Marched us, for we had a piece of artillery to manage. We arrived the morning after them. The tories were lodged in a brick house, and kept up a monstrous shouting and firing to very little purpose. As soon as the piece of artillery was brought to bear upon the house, a breach was made through the gable end; then another, a little lower; then about the centre, and they surrendered.

I then joined a party of dragoons under Capt. Boykin, at the solicitation of Capt. Giles, to capture some horses we heard were billeted out by the British, near Bacon's Bridge, in the low country. It was a most hazardous expedition, and required great courage and prudence. Capt. Boykin had both. We went to the hotel and called for the hostler. Capt. Boykin drew his pistol, cocked it, and told him if he did not open the stable door, he would shoot him dead. You may rest assured he did not long consider about it! They got three very fine animals: two stallions and a gelding. Neither Giles nor I got a horse, and we were in no very good humor, as knew we should have to go back at so rapid a pace that our nags could not stand it. Sure enough, after one day and night's travel, our horses began to fail, and we resolved to take the words; but Boykin begged us to try and keep up, and as we soon should come to another billet of horses, we should have the first choice. Well, next day we did come upon a fine lot of horses, wild as devils. Giles and I went in, and I soon caught a yellow sorrel mare. Giles, who was an excellent judge of horse flesh, was struck with her form, and said to me, "Young, if you will let me have that mare, I will help you catch any horse in the lot!" I gave her to him, and picked me out a bay mare. Time proved that Giles was correct in his judgment, as the yellow mare was never caught in a chase, or beaten in a race afterwards. We were all now well mounted, and pushed off to join our detachment above.

When we arrived at Granby, we were nearly all discharged. Col. Brandon, Major Jolly and myself, resolved to make an excursion to 96 -- where the siege were then going on.

Here I remained during the siege. As we every day got our parallels nearer the garrison, we could see them very plain when they went out to a brook or spring for water. The Americans had constructed a short of moving battery, but as the cannon of the fort were brought to bear upon it, they were forced to abandon the use of it. It had not been used for some time, when an idea struck Old Squire Kennedy, (who was an excellent marksman,) that he could pick off a man now and then as they went to the spring. He and I took our rifles and went into the woods to practice at 200 yards. We were arrested and taken before an officer, to whome we gave our excuse and design. He laughed, and told us to practice no more, but to try our luck from the battery if we wanted to, so we took our position, and as a fellow came down to the spring, Kennedy fired and he fell; several ran out and gathered round him, and among them I noticed one man raised his head, and look around as if he wondered where that shot could have come from. I touched my trigger and he fell, and we made off, for fear it might be our time to fall next.

After the siege of 96, I returned to my old neighborhood, and was engaged in various scouting expeditions till peace was declared. I was on a scouting expedition to Mudlick, under Col. Brandon. We were all mounted. We saw two spies, before we came upon the tories, and pursued them to the creek. Col. Brandon sent out Major Jolly with a flank guard to prevent their outflanking us -- they were on the opposite side of the creek, and commanded the ford, so that we could not cross. Jolly and I approached very near; so near that a cousin of mine, William Young, hailed us and inquired who commanded. A good deal was said to keep us engaged. Young waived his sword to me several times, and hallooed to me to go away; a moment after we were fired upon by a party who had crept up the creek through the bushes. A shot went under Jolly's horse's belly, and another shaved my horse's forelegs. We returned the fire, but did not damage, saving putting a ball through Young's horse's nose. We then retreated, under the hope that they would pursue us, but they did not.

This same cousin of mine had offered a hundred guineas to any man who would bring me into 96. In one of our excursions we heard of a band of tories being concealed in a very dense thicket, over on Sandy River; it was said they had a great deal of plunder. A party, of which I recollect Col. Brandon, Col. Casey, Col. Hughes, and Major Jolly, were members, went to attack them. We got there early in the day, and it was not long before we had possession of the place. In the fight I took a little fellow, by the name of Tom Moore, prisoner. I ran him for some distance, shot at him, and broke his arm. When I took him back Tom Salter wanted to kill him, because Moore had once had him prisoner, and would in all probability have killed him, if he had not escaped. I cocked my gun, and told them no! he was my man, and I would shoot the first one who harmed him. During this skirmish I witnessed rather an amusing scene between Col. Hughes and a Tory. Hughes had dismounted to get a chance to shoot at some fellow through the bushes, when a tory sprang upon his horse and dashed away. Hughes discovered it in time, fired, and put a ball through the hind tree of the saddle and the fellow's thigh. The tory fell, and Hughes got his horse. In this excursion we got a great deal of plunder, which has been concealed by the tories.

Once after this, I was taken by a party of "Outliers," (a name given to the Greys,) the most notorious and abandoned plunders and murderers of that gloomy period. On account of the kindness I had once shown to one of them while a prisoner, in my charge, I was set at liberty without being hurt.

While we were in North Carolina recruiting, an incident occurred which may be well enough to relate. One Capt. Reid was at a neighbor's house, in York District, on a visit. The landlady saw two men approaching the house whom she knew to be tories, and told Capt. Reid he had better escape, for they would kill him. He replied, no! -- they had been his neighbors; he had known Love and Sadler all his life, and had nothing to fear from them. He walked out into the yard, offered them his hand, and they killed him. His mother, a very old woman, came to where we were encamped in North Carolina. One morning we were called out on parade, and this old woman came before us, leaning upon the arms of two officers. She drew from her bosom the bloody pocket book of her son, and three times attempted to go to her knees, but was prevented by the officers who supported her.

Col. Brandon stepped out and asked if there were any here willing to volunteer to avenge her wrongs. Twenty-five stepped out at once. I was one of the number. We started, rode all night, halted in the next day, kept watch in the woods, but slept not; the next night we arrived at old Love's. One part of our company was to attack the house, another the barn. The house was attacked, and the door broken down by a powerful man by the name of Maddox, who was afterwards killed at King's Mountain. In staving open the door, he floored old Love and knocked some of his teeth out. At this moment a cry was raised that they were in the barn, and to the barn we all rushed. One of our men fired through the door and killed one of the murderers, the other was killed in the skirmish. What is most strange about the matter is, that another man was sleeping with them, and in the melee he escaped unhurt. We now felt that we had done all that was required to us, and returned to our quarters in North Carolina.

After the declaration of peace in 1783, Major Thomas Young married, and settled in Union District, upon the spot where he now lives, where he brought up a large family. He is beloved by his neighbors for his kindness, and respected by all for the scars he received in the cause of Liberty.

LOYALIST LIST

Petition to Lord Germain Dated 19 April 1782

The following petition, signed by eleven (11) South Carolina Loyalist Officers, was submitted to the Right Honorable Lord George Germain for presentation to the Crown. The document probably was drafted by Thomas Fletchall, perhaps with the aid of Joseph Robinson (both are signatories thereto). The petition provides the names of approximately 300 Loyalists who were murdered by the Whigs during the Revolution. The petition has been previously published in several books concerning the Loyalists of South Carolina; however, the original document is located in the Public Record Office, London, Manuscript Reference CO5, Volume 82.

Charlestown, South Carolina

19 April 1782
TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY
MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN

WE your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, once the inhabitants of the frontier of South Carolina, now refugees here, humbly beg leave openly to assure our Sovereign that we are His true and loyal Subjects, in which Principles we are confirmed, and stand independent, divested of all temporizing motives, in consequence of which we have sacrificed Our All, in order to enjoy the blessings of the happiest Constitution guarded by the best of Monarchs.

Thus disposed, it is with astonishment and indignation we learn that men about your Royal Person dare to vilify the conduct of your faithful servants in America, we allude to the Duke of Richmond's Speech in the House of Peers the 31st of January 1782, when he openly disapproves of Justice being executed on the Rebel Haynes. It reflects on the characters of Earl Cornwallis, Lord Rawdon, and our Commandant Lieutenant Colonel Balfour, officers who have made the real interest of their Country the constant rule of their truly virtuous conduct.

Gratitude should have drawn this acknowledgment from us, yet we might have been silent, had it not been for the open and extraordinary assertion of His Grace of Richmond “that the loyalists of South Carolina did not hesitate to denominate the execution of Haynes to be Murder, and that of the foulest complexion.” -- this we deny, and are fully of Opinion, that his execution was a proper example, and Just reward for his treason and infidelity and are Sorry the same mode of correcting rebels was so long deferred, through laudable, but we conceive, mistaken motives.

We are not to suppose His Grace is ignorant that the Usurpers in this Province have murdered above three hundred Men, some after and some without pretended trials, on a bare Suspicion of their being attached to your Majesty's Government.

His Grace and virtuous Colleagues (in the support of rebellion) sit at ease fabricating Systems to prolong the War, at the expense of the Blood, the treasure, the honor, the happiness of the Nation, whilst we without regret suffer in support and defense of Government.
We sincerely lament the encouragement Rebellion receives from their opposition to your Majesty's Wise and Just measures, which without doubt has been conducive to prolong this unnatural rebellion, we therefore, actuated by Principles of Loyalty, and conducted by honest sincerity, have presumed to make this declaration of our Sentiments, and that your Majesty's benevolent endeavors for the happiness of your People, be crowned with Success, is the most sincere wish of Your Majesty's Most dutiful and Loyal Subjects
