EVILSIZER HERITAGE

The Evilsizer Exchange is published quarterly and distributed freely for the benefit of all who have an interest in the surnames EVILSIZER/EVILSIZOR/EVELSIZER/EVENZIZER/EVELSHEIMER/ etc.

Most of the EVILSIZER/OR families in America today descend from 2 men, one known as Jakob Uebelschausser and the other from probably a brother, name not known.

Many folks have been researching this line for many years and have been unable to establish the identity of Ol' Jakob.

I addressed many of the issues concerning Ol' Jakob in my published book entitled "Evil In The Barn" in 2000. However, my research over the internet continues to disclose many errors in our heritage. This new format of the newsletter is intended to report only the facts and to dispel all of the rumors surrounding our heritage.

It was thought at one time (and the rumor is alive and well today), that Jacob was a Hessian Soldier. There is plenty of evidence to establish that, but herein lies the problem. Evidence also supports that he was , captured, and returned to Germany where he married and had children.

The new format of this newsletter is intended to make sure that all new subscribers are informed of the facts. The first portion of this newsletter will not change from quarter to quarter unless there are new discoveries. New material well be added in each edition after the Table of Contents.

We begin with the Hessian Records:

FACTS, FICTION, TRUTH, THEORIES and TALL TALES

From the notes of Sharon Durels

"Regarding the origin of the Evilsizer name, all Evilsizers seem to feel the name came from Germany or Holland. Germans I have talked to do not think it is German in its present form. Assuming it is an Anglicized German name, I checked names beginning with Ebel....or Abel.... for a while, but found nothing that accounted for the last two syllables, until I ran into a family called Ebelsheiser. their forebears came to America only two generations ago and it might be possible that the American Evilsizers share a common ancestor with this German family. I had an uncle who claimed that Evilsizer, in German, meant "noble house", and that would be the literal translation of Ebelsheiser. the latter name does not have the "s" and "h" together in a "sh" sound, but instead, a syllable divides between those two letters, so that is pronounced "e-bels-hi-ser", which would easily Anglicize to Evilsizer. The member of the Ebel-sheiser family I talked to said their family had originally come from Bavaria."*

Notes from Sandi Evilsizer Koscak

I love the time I went to Seaport Village in San Diego to a "Coat of Arms" Shop. I gave them the name, and for $8.99 they gave me a beautiful color print of the Evilsizer Coat of Arms and describing them as Chick-Pea Farmers. Claimed the name was Sizer and the Evil was added at a later time. This was the greatest laugh of my life. What a rip-off. I have the copy somewhere, but wont give you the pleasure of including a scanned copy on my CD-Rom version of this book. Sorry folks.

Evilsizor History by George Weldon Evilsizor

It has been said by an Evilsizor living in Wood County, Ohio that during the Revolutionary War with Great Britton, the British hired German Hessians to come to America and help subdue the colonists. Receiving no pay as promised, they deserted; the British called them "Evil Traitors". Our original name was Sizor, later called Evilsizor. That was his story.

Dwight Veihland (Descendant of Samuel Blake and Elizabeth Ann Evilsizer) 8-19-1997

I did some thinking on the information you sent. I see actually three Uebelschauser men 1) Johann Jacob 2) Johannes 3) Nikolas.Johann Jacob was born 12-27-1752 has a record for enlisting into the Hessian Army, was taken as a POW, was made an invalid, returned home, separated from the Army, was married in Germany, and had a daughter there. Johannes was born 3-30-1751, has a record for enlisting into the Hessian Army, has no record of discharge from the Army, was married in Germany, and had a son named Johannes Jacob. Nikolas was born on an unknown date in an unknown place in Germany, does not have a record of enlisting in the Hessian Army, has a record of de-section from the Hessian Army presumably between 1778-1780) and has no records after that (ie he disappears)

I think there is a very simple solution to this three body problem. First, all three men only speak German. Consequently they would have had a hard time surviving in Early America, in particular during the Revolutionary War. Probably all three men came from the same area in Germany and were a combination of cousins and/or brothers.

Now when Johann Jacob was taken POW and later wounded, from a German perspective he sort of became a hero, and from a US perspective it was sort of a tragedy. So, his reputation is not so bad. However, when Nikolas deserted from the Hessian Army, his reputation was not so good. After deserting from the Hessian Army, Nikolas probably found life in Colonial America quite tough. He could not speak English very well. In addition to being significantly cultural different than WASP America. So the only way he could survive was to locate himself in the Pennsylvania German community. He could then communicate well, he knew the culture, and he was more probable to find employment, etc. However Nikolas had a problem with his reputation as he was one of the "evil deserters". Even in America, the PA Germans were still Germans. As we all know, Germans value discipline and military service; so if the PA German community found out about his desertion, he would be in deep trouble. If the War was not over, they might have turned him over to the Hessian Army, at which time he would have been executed. If they did not do that, they would have probably tared and feathered him. Then where does he go? How does he survive? He can't go home because if found he will die.

Nikolas was left with one option open to him in which he could completely cover his tracks. He would become Johann Jacob (his brother or cousin). He would become a "hero" rather than an "evil one". He could find employment within the PA German community, and he could begin to build a new life. He could later move out of the community and be forgotten. I do not think it necessary that Johannes or Johan to have had children in the US before they returned. The children born in Berks Co, all probably belonged to Nikolas/Jacob.

So in conclusion, I think there maybe IS something to the Legend of Ol Jakob and a high probability that he is actually Nikolas Uebelschauser.

I have several comments and/or ideas on who Jacob really was. I will summarize.

To me, the structure of the name suggests that Jacob is from Westfallen. This is interesting from the point of the dead end trail. Only part of Westfallen was under Hessian control at the time of the US Revolution. I would guess this to be Kreiss Mindenstadt and Kreiss Luebke (my father comes from this area so I know it quite well)

In spite of the excellent church records in this area, family research in Westfallen can be extremely difficult because of cultural differences with the rest of the western world. In particular, a man's family name may change from generation to generation. The surname does not always follow the male lineage. rather, the surname is dictated by property inheritance. For example, my name Vieland has experienced many dislocations in the last 300 years. The direct male lineage goes from being Vieland to Vierman to Lohmeier to Spectmeyer to Detering between 1729 and 1850. Who ever got the family homeward/business/etc, had by law to carry the family name. So if a man married into a family and the daughter received the inheritance, the children bore the mother's family Names. In addition, the husband had to change his surname. For another Example, when Henrich Spectmeyer married Wilhelminia Lohmeier, he became Henrich Lohmeier. All subsequent legal and church records only mention him by that name. In addition, when the next generation is born, there is generally no mention of the father's maiden name..

The point I am trying to make is that in Westfallen one never knows which direction you are tracing. Evilsizer could be the mother's or father's family. At first thought you might see this as a problem is he was born Jacob Uebel-sheuser, then this is the way the records would read in Westfallen. A problem is that many men from Westfallen who immigrated to America took the father's correct surname on immigration. For example, in my family, the Vieland's who came earlier are Vierman's whereas those who came 20 years later are Vieland, even though they had the same mother and father.

So this is what you may be faced with. Jacob Uebelscheuser's real surname is lost to us. We need to know the first name of the father, then look for the first name in conjunction with the last name. Then find who he married. Find the children for this couple and if Jacob appears, well you have your man. Difficult? Westfallen is complicated.

I would also like to point out that Evilsizer is a good Angelization of Uebelscheuser. Slightly off, but not much. The best would be Ebelsizer. So the phonetics of the name supports that this Jacob belongs to the Uebelschauser family. In my opinion, the name has been conjugated, ie, Uebels-Heuser. This also occurs in Westfallen and Oldenburg when families of similar middle to upper social levels marry. In this case, the newly married couple want both families inheritances, so the only solution was to make everybody somewhat happy.

2) Are we absolutely positive that Jacob was from Germany? Another possibility is the family is English. The name Evilsizer is most certainly from Germany, but it might have evolved. Might be Elsevier. Just a thought.

FACTS, FICTION, TRUTH, THEORIES and TALL TALES

3) Know, interestingly enough, I have heard legends similar to the one of "Ol Jakob" in our family in Missouri, but is told with a much different twist. My grandfather told me when I was a child, a similar family legend. The story has some very sad bends and repeats- First, my grandfather Blake's grandfather (John Wesley Blake, son of Elizabeth Evilsizer) had served in the Civil War for several months. He was married and had about five small children. Something happened in the War. Nobody knows for sure what it was, other than he just could not take it and had some form of stress syndrome. After about five months, he deserted the union Army. His family never heard from him again. We know he remarried, changed his name, and just vanished off the face of Mother Earth. Now here is where the story takes an interesting twist with respect to Jakob. After John Wesley Blake deserted his old life, the family never spoke of him. All information passed down about him was through his mother, Elizabeth Evilsizer. One of the comments that was subsequently passed on to me was that this was not the first time that such a thing happened in this family. In a previous War, (1776 or 1812) another one of our ancestors also had served, deserted his forces, abandoned his family, changed his name, and began a new life. Maybe she was making excuses for her son, or maybe some truth has trickled down through the years.

Letter from Johannes Schwalm Historical Association, November 1997

I personally have already spent many hours on trying to solve the Uebeldhauser riddle. However, I have not been able to get anybody to document for me how, where, and when the story of "Hessian Jakob" developed. It might just contain a clue that would be valuable in the final solution. Unfortunately, all I get is a broad general statement without any source.

In my files I have a letter from the Evangelische-Lutherisches Pfarramt at Loehlbach in Germany in which the pastor offers proof that both the Hessian Jakob and Johannes Uebelhauser did return home, got married in their home parish on dates that would make it impossible for either to have been in Berks Co. in 1779. So they are out of the picture no matter how you slice it.

There is however a possible "sleeper" (Nikolaus) in the military records which appears to have been neglected by the descendants of JAKOB. It will require time, no doubt some money and a lot of patience on the part of the inquirer to "prove him in" or eliminate him from further consideration. And yes, it may turn out to be a "blind alley." JSHA is in no position to do that kind of follow up. I will be willing to guide the person under either of the above options in the event you are seriously interested in working on it. For openers I would want to see a straight line genealogy beginning with yourself and going back to the Jakob of Berks Co PA together with dates and places of birth. I would also want to see some proof that the Jakob of Berks Co did indeed move to Rockingham Co., VA.

The Winchester Hessian Barracks-by Lion G Miles

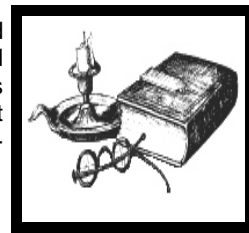

During the American Revolution, Winchester, Virginia, and the surrounding countryside became a detention center for thousands of British and German prisoners of war. It served as a prison camp from 1776-1783.....In September of 1777 twenty Pennsylvania Quakers arrived at Winchester, arrested in Philadelphia as "prisoners of war", but the prisoners most remembered were the so-called "Hessians" captured at the battles of Trenton, Saratoga and Yorktown.... Nearly 30,000 Germans came across the Atlantic during the war years, 17,000 of whom were from the Landgraviate of Hessen-Kassel and 2,400 from the territory of Hessen-Hanau. The first group of German Prisoners to arrive in Winchester were some of the 1,000 Hessians captured at Trenton, New Jersey on December 26, 1776. They had spent the following winter and spring at Lancaster, PA. On August 15, 1777 the Hessians marched to Lebanon and Carlisle where conditions became so crowded, they ordered about 300 to proceed to Winchester. On September 30, in Winchester they were drawn up and parceled out to the country people to work. In the Spring of 1778 local farmers hired many of the Germans to work on their farms. Almost every Hessian captured at Trenton and sent to Virginia returned to his regiment when exchanged in 1778. We will note here that the Hessian Jacob was taken prisoner of war in October 1777 and ransomed in May of 1778. Nikolas deserted to the enemy ALSO in October of 1777.

Letter from the Editor

Now that summer has arrived in Montana after a longer than normal wet cold Spring, I was able to complete a project at the local cemetery. I photographed every tombstone and compared the burial records with the stones and plot numbers for accuracy. Anyone who has ever done this, can sincerely appreciate the recent "scandal" at Arlington National Cemetery. Just in the small (4500) cemetery I completed, there were several inaccurate plot records of where people were buried.

I continue to encourage folks to please send in stories and articles for the newsletter. I consistently struggle for material for the newsletter.

My project for this year (hopefully) will be to expand my Evilsizer/or family web page to included cemetery photos, marriages, and other research findings. So far the year is more than half behind me and I have managed to add nothing. I have spent so much time on the Champaign County website and the Nuckolls Society website, that my Evilsizer's have fallen behind. We now have a scrapbook, in hopes people will send family photos.

I continue to publish family books for individuals at a reasonable price. These include your direct family lines, and family photos if you wish those included. I also publish a CD updated annually with all source documents (marriages, divorces, deaths, births, tombstones, etc) as well as family photos submitted. The books are $18.95 and the CD is $5.95. Contact me directly at Evilsizer3@aol.com if you wish to order.

CORRECTION

John E Huff, son of Elias Huff and Anna Maragret Evilsizer

There were 2 John E Huffs in Schuyler Co, IL, both the same age and same birth state. The incorrect John is named in "Evil In The Barn" and you may wish to make a note.

John Huff who married Sally Woodward was John Jr, the son of John Sr. The pages of the Elias Huff Bible indicate Johns wife was "Maggie" and I don't know why I did not catch this before. This information from Jan Harnden Sarasota, Fl jharnden43@yahoo.com

John E Huff was born Oct 12 1809 in Rockingham Co, VA the son of Elias Huff and Anna Margaret Evil-sizer. He died sometime after 1870 in probably Howard Co, Kokomo, IN. He married Margaret Wilson Mace Oct 19, 1842 in Schuyler Co, IL. The following are the events in his life:

6/30/1830 Floyd Co, IN Census John Huff 100010-000001 pg 359 (next to father Elias)

Neither John or Maggie appear beyond this census, suggesting they perhaps died here. Also unable to locate his son namesake John E born @1854. There is a John E Huff 1900 in Hamilton Co, Ohio born 12/1856 Indiana. He is single and claims his father born in Virginia and mother in Pennsylvania, which fits. Ohio deaths certificates were searched and turned up no clues.

John Huff and Margaret Mace Huff had the following children:

Abijah J –twin– born 11/1840 last located 1875 City Directory of Indianapolis.
 Andrew Lewis, twin– born 11/1840—lived in Indianapolis all of his life, last located in 1910 Census. Md Sarah Seymore

Marjorie was the daughter of Rev Elmer Justice Schomp b 1/8/1866 Galt CA and Lena May McNeal b 4/9/1872 Columbus IL

It seems her name was Evilsizer upon her marriage to Emmet Ambler suggesting she was married previously to an Evilsizer. Contact was made with the submitter of the ancestry tree Sandy (Sandyplains44@aol.com). She claims the documents were submitted by her Aunt in 1950 for documentation to the Mayflower descendants. Her entry for Marjorie's other husband was she married Paul Elberstizen. Because this surname cannot be confirmed a legitimate, it is the marriage entry of Evilsizer is the correct one.

So the search took me to Paul Evilsizer. Only possible candidate would be Paul born 1902-1903 in Delaware Co, IN living there in 1920 with his grandparents. A note from a family member claims he attached to Norfolk Navy Base in 1934, and retired in Navy dying in the 1960's. Just a long shot, but perhaps he joined the Navy earlier, perhaps in Alameda CA where he met Marjorie. They were obviously divorced by 1927. Sandy is going to try and look at the papers to check the last name spelling to confirm EVIL-SIZER.

She remarried a SMITH, as she died 9/8/1985 in Solano Co, CA Marjorie S SMITH born CA 11/27/1905. Poss after death of Emmet in 1942. In 1944 Solano Co, Vallejo, CA is Mrs Marjorie Smith 206 Coral Rd, Dem. Because she was always registered to vote, and this is the county she lived in 1942 and when she died, this is most assuredly her.

FOUND

For no less than 20 years I have tried to find the gentleman who married Victoria Steinberg and gave birth to Wilbur Evilsizer. Wilbur born 1897 appears in the 1900 census with his grandfather, Lafayette Steinberger. He appears again in 1910 with Victoria and her second husband, John Zigler. He shows up in 1920 with his mother and her 3rd husband, Merchant Haymaker. He must have taken the name of his adoptive father, John Zigler, because in 1930 he is in the Marion Co, Indianapolis Census was Wilbur Zigler, wife Bernice and a step-son.. No further info available on Wilbur.

I stumbled onto a notice in a Kentucky Newspaper that answered the years-old mystery..:

Daily Public Ledger, Maysville, KY

4/13/1893

Sensational Elopement

Springfield, OH - Society at Bowlusville, six miles north of here, has been greatly stirred up by the elopement to Kentucky, and marriage there, of Melville Evilsizer, aged 28 and Victoria Steinberger, 15 years old

Carey Melvin Evilsizer was referred to on occasion and Melville. In the 1910 census he is living with his mother and listed as divorced, which is a confirmation of the marriage. For those interested, Cora Victorian Steinberger went on to marry John Zigler, and Merchant Haymaker. Wilbur obviously took the name of his adoptive father, John Zigler. In 1893 Melvin was age 28 and Victoria was age 15.

Carey Melvin Evilsizer was the son of Eddon Jason Evilsizer (1835-1910) and Emily Jane Lowe. (1837-1916)

He Shot The Sheriff

The Day They Shot County Sheriff May

From: The Nashville News (Washington Co, Nashville, IL)

Date: unknown By: Don Lehnhoff

The story is the type that makes for a good Country and Western ballad.
The best part is it's all true.

It concerns a unique bit of Washington County history, recollecting the saga of the only County Sheriff ever to lose his life in the performance of his duty.

It was resurrected recently by Bill Temme when he found what he believes to be one of the bullets fired in the historic shoot out, Temme found the bullet lodged inside the southwest wall of the L & N Depot building now under renovation by the County Historical Society. The bullet was discovered while replacing worn weather boards. "I'd been looking for it for the last year and half," said Temme, who has researched the depot building and its historic significance. "Everybody said it (evidence from the shoot out) was in the southwest corner and that's the only hole on the south side." Temme hopes to determine the caliber of the bullet as a final way of proving who fired the shot. It is logical to assume the bullet cam from the gun of Assistant City Marshall, August Leker, one of three men who died as the result of a confrontation on Wednesday, June 20, 1917. Leker and Sheriff, Jacob "Jake" May had been summoned to the Jankowski salo on which was housed next to the depot around 12:30 P.M. on June 20, to disarm Hiram Rice. Rice, who had taken a shotgun into the saloon and was threatening to shoot John Evilsizer, Jr., his 20 year old perspective son-in-l aw. Evilsizer and Rice's 16-year-old daughter, Ella, planned to be married. In fact, the parents of both had applied for a marriage license earlier that year, but because Ella was under 16, the license had been denied. June 20 was Ella's 16th birthday. Rice had changed his mind about them arriage and now threatened to shoot Evilsizer rather than see the marriage confirmed. Rice was a 60-year-old former City Marshall and had been president of the local miner's union for the last 20 years. He had been suffering from rheumatism and until the day of the shoot out, walked with the a id of crutches. But on that Wednesday, Rice visited several saloons in Nas hville before going to the Jankowski place. When May and Leker confronted Rice on the street between the saloon and the depot, outside the establishment, Rice threatened May with a raised shotgun. "You saw that" said May as Leker pulled a revolver and fired five shots at Rice, missing him with all five. Rice blasted his shotgun into Leker's chest, reloaded, then shot May in the back of his head before he fell to the ground, wounded in the abdomen by one of three bullets fired by May, according to Newspaper reports. Customers from the saloon ran outside to find May and Leker both dead and Rice mortally wounded. Rice was transported to Mt. Vernon hospital where an operation proved useless. He died after signing a confession four days later. In the flowery prose of the Nashville Journal Newspaper of June 28, 1917: "Rice passed from the reach of human courts to face the Supreme Judge." Rice was given no chance of recovery after the operation in Mt. Vernon found the bullet lodged in his hipbone and pierced five intestines. "Sinking spells set in," but before he died he stated that it was a bullet from Leker's gun which had struck home. He claimed Leker fired first. Witnesses at a Coroner's Jury held the day of the shooting differed as to whom fired first. Most said it was Leker. Rice was disarmed after the shooting by Leo Jankowski, the saloon owner a veteran of the Spanish-American War. Rice surrendered without a struggle. Rice was kept under armed guard at his home to prevent a get-away or possible lynching before he was transported to the Mt. Vernon hospital Wednesday night. Thousands of County residents attended the funerals of May and Leker. Leker had been born in Nashville on April 29, 1881. May was born in Lettweiler, Germany on November 17, 1871. He had first been elected Sheriff in 1914 and was the second of five May family members to hold the position in Washington County, since Illinois became a state in 1818. Jacob May was Sheriff from 1874-1878; William H. May was Sheriff from 1922-1926, a cousin, Freeman F. Kaser was Sheriff from 1958-1962 and A. Virgil May was Sheriff from 1962-1966. The day after the shooting, Ella Rice and John Evilsizer again applied for a marriage license but were denied by County Clerk Heckert "under the circumstances." Ella and John eventually married and had a number of children and remained married until death. Newspaper reports identified the bullet, which killed Rice as a 32-calibre. Rice was using a 16- gauge shotgun. The identity of the revolvers used by May and Leker was not given. From the Coroner's Jury testimony, however, the angles indicate the position of the bullet found in the L & N Depot could be one fired at Rice by either Leker or May. The likelihood that it came from Leker's gun is prevalent due to the extreme closeness of his shots to the window of the depot where the bullet was found. The bullet was found three feet from the corner of the depot building about two and one half feet above ground level. Newspaper accounts say Rice was standing about three feet away from the corner of the building on the southwestern side.

John Calvin Evilsizer Jr (brother of my grandpa) was the son of John Calvin Evilsizer and Mary Melissa Graham, grandson of Elliott Rains Evilsizer and Polly Rountree, great grandson of Joshua Evilsizer and Frances Hennings.

PHILLIP EBELSIZER-EVILSIZER

Minor Evilsizer 89th Indiana Infantry-Private

Nathan Evilsizer One of five brothers, sons of Jonathan. 3 of the five sons were killed in the Civil War.

Letter to father:

Nathan Evilsizer, of Captain Thornety's (sic) Ohio regiment was killed at the Battle between Rosencranz and Bragg. I wish you would see his father if he was unmarried and have him come to me with his _____. I will pay you for all such attentions to my benefit. Respectfully yours, (Cant read signature).... Budge (see below)

Research shows that the Battle of Rosecranz and Bragg was at Chicamunga, suggesting Nathan perhaps died in September 1863.
