Cover Photo: Pennsylvania Trading Cards

The cover consists of two images of trading cards. The top one was issued in 1915 and the lower one in 1889. They were both issued by Arbuckle Brothers, NY. The top one is trading card No. 37 from the states and territories series of which there were a total of 54. The bottom one was from the series that was first issued in 1889 when there were only 50 cards in the series. Both cards are presented here for comparison purposes. The logos and map image are slightly different and the text on the back has more detail about the state on the 1915 card. The 1889 series had 49 states (although some were still territories, no Hawaii) and the District of Columbia. The 1915 series added Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Philippine Islands. John Arbuckle was a Pittsburgh merchant who became coffee king around the turn of the century. Several other Arbuckle card series were made including nations, animals, cooking, city views, etc. Other merchants issued similar cards, however map cards were an Arbuckle specialty. Scale: 1" = 150 miles. Size 3 x 5 inches.

This volume features information about the state Pennsylvania. This primarily takes the form of abstracts of census records for various years of the federal census. Articles about Pennsylvania in previous FFRU volumes include:

- Volume 2: "Miscellaneous Pennsylvania Records", "Pennsylvania Marriages prior to 1810"
- Volume 6: "1800 Pennsylvania Census" (this appears again in this volume).
- Volume 7: "St. James Episcopal Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania"
- Volume 14: "Pennsylvania Marriages Prior to 1810" (twice!)
- Volume 28: "Franklin Marriages in Pennsylvania"¹
- Volume 33: "John and Sarah ? Franklin of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania"

Letter from the Editor

As you can see, I'm continuing with Federal Census abstracts of Pennsylvania, as I warned I would do in the last volume. Next volume, back to the South! I'll be doing South Carolina.

Again I've had to make compromises with the number of things to include. I have not for instance, included a "Famous Franklin", but I have put in a Book Review. I have included only a few queries.

I've taken the liberty to interpret some of the census entries in the 1880. For instance, in the Warner C. Foster family, "Zilpha Foster" is listed as a wife, and Polina Franklin as mother-in-law. Therefore, I have included a Zilpha Franklin in the index for this same record...

Book Review: Some early pioneers of western Kentucky, their ancestors and descendants

Call Number: US/Can Book Area; 929.273; H251p; 1990

Author: Peyton, Helen E. (Helen Elvoree Hart), 1921-

Title: Some early pioneers of western Kentucky, their ancestors and descendants / by Helen E. Hart Peyton.

Edition: 2nd ed.

Publication Information: Charleston, South Carolina: H.E.H. Peyton, c1990.

Format: xiv, 786 p.: ill., geneal. tables, maps, port.

Contents: Ancestors of Helen E. Hart Peyton. Richard Parker came to Virginia and North Carolina from Cornwall, England ca. 1647. Early origins of the family are in Yorkshire, England. Richard Parker later moved to Hopkins County, Kentucky. Hart line is traced to Absalom and Nancy Hart of Onslow County, North Carolina. Descendants lived primarily in Kentucky with some in Texas, Virginia and other places.

Includes Cardwell, Davis, Franklin, Hart, Hibbs, Hite, Kirkwood, Sisk, Utley, Wyatt and other related families.

My Observations: There is a brief treatment of the lineage of the famous statesman and the recounting of yet another decendancy myth with a connection between this line and that of the statesman. As with virtually all other such stories, the author found no evidence to support such claims. Despite this, the remainder of the book appears to be well-researched and clearly written. It uses a simple variant of the Henry numbering system, about 80 pages of Franklin material. There are numerous references to source materials.

Earliest Franklin Progenitor: This follows the line of James Franklin, Jr. (born about 1771 in South Carolina, died after 20 Dec 1855 in Kentucky) who married Rachel _____. Franklins from Hopkins County, Kentucky have appeared in Ped:27, Ped:28, 1:13, 3:58, 5:43, 8:46, 8:47, 8:48, 8:49, 8:50, 10:45, 13:37, 19:6, 19:7, 19:8, 19:9, 19:17, 19:18, 19:19, 19:20, 19:21, 26:18, 29:36, 30:32, 30:37

Name: Erastus Morgan Franklin

Birth: 28 Jul 1797 in Pennsylvania

Death: 29 May 1875

Note: Notes written by my Grandmother Minnie Minerva Morrison Dodds, wife of Harry John Dodds. My mothers grandfather Erastus Franklin born July 28, 1797 died May 29, 1875 aged 77 years. Susanne his wife born 1808 died Feb 4, 1877 at 69 years. Mothers mother Isabelle Franklin Hollen born Jan 5th 1832 died Dec 23, 1868 at 36 years and 11 months.

Marriage: Susan Woomer born 1808 in Pennsylvania.

Children:

Isabell H. Franklin born 5 Jan 1832 in Pennsylvania

Elizabeth Jane Franklin born 1833 in Pennsylvania.

The reason I think this matches is that Isabell, although she does not appear in this census, marries a Hollen, and then moves to Van Buren County, Iowa...

34. Looked at other copies of the upper case "P" by this enumerator, and this still looks like a "T" to me, Ed.
35. Household 83/83 appears to be duplicated in Household 204/204. Note the minor discrepancies. Without any further corroboration, I would guess that the 83/83 is more accurate. It seems to have more detail. Ed.

Name: Wescott Franklin

Birth: 1792 in Scuitate, Rhode Island

Death: 1871

Residence: North Abington Township, Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania

Burial: Tripp Hill, Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania

Note: About 1820 Wescott and Lucy moved to North Abington and settled on a farm on Tripp Hill. Lucy died here and is buried in the Wescott Cemetery on Tripp Hill. In 1830 he married Perlina Bailey. About this time he moved his family to Benton Township where he settled on a large farm at what is now Franklin Valley or East Benton. (Note from p. 16 of Bill Lewis's notes: Wescott Franklin once owned the whole lots at Jordan Hollow, now divided into six farms. His was the first frame house at East Benton.) He built the house now owned by Lewis Pierce. He was a member of the General Six Principle Baptist Church and is buried on Tripp Hill.

69. IGI: Myrtle Ellen Franklin 13 Jun 1876, West Newton, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania daughter of John Otis Franklin and Mary Ellen Bakewell

Deborah Franklin was remarkable for her devotion to the American Prisoners, who were in a starving condition, on board the Jersey prison hulks, in the harbor of New York, during the occupation of that city by the British Army. She, and her son Anthony, would venture forth

[p. 367] a small boat, after nightfall, to assist them, and the poor prisoners lowered. bags and baskets, to receive whatever she would bring to relieve their necessities. At length, on the 21st of November, 1780, the British Commandant of the City (Sir Henry Clinton), banished her from New York for her patriotism and kindness to the prisoners on the war ships. The family then removed to Philadelphia, where Deborah Franklin's relatives lived. They probably returned to New York, in the course of two or three years, as letters (now in the possession of Miss Helen K. Morton) were written in 1783 from that City, by the daughter Sarah Franklin, to a young lady friend in Philadelphia, which indicate that the family was becoming settled again in the New York Home. Israel Morris, in a letter to his sister Sarah Buckley, dated 1st Oct., 1783, writes, "Sister Franklin with her family expect to return to New York in a few days; she is still very much afflicted with her old disorder (i. e. Rheumatism)." For four years longer, Deborah Franklin continued to live in New York, until on the 23rd of the 9th mo., 1787, she was released from all her sufferings, which had been greatly aggravated by the inhuman conduct of Gov. Clinton in banishing her from New York at such an inclement season. Her daughter Sarah, in one of her letters, refers to the loss she had sustained, in the following words: "Changes in life, my dear, generally cause a change of language, and as I have experienced the greatest of misfortunes, which to the latest hour of my existence will be engraven on my heart, in characters never, never to be effaced; my pen, which once was all levity, must, if I employ it at all, be consecrated to Melancholy, ah! may thou never feel the smallest part of the anguish I have endured. Thank heaven, thy amiable Mamma, (that word I can not hear, or think of, without the greatest emotion), is still preserved to thee. Be grateful my Dear to Providence for such a treasure, for should it please him to remove her, you can never know the value of the connexion that binds you to each other, until deprived of it."

Tradition says, that Congress adjourned to attend the funeral of Deborah Franklin.

The following is a notice of her death, which appeared in a New York paper of the time:

"Last Sunday morning, after a lingering illness, which she [p. 368] bore with the most exemplary fortitude, departed this life in the 51st year of her age, Mrs. Deborah Franklin, the truly amiable consort of Mr. John Franklin, Merchant of this City, and eldest daughter of the late Anthony Morris Esqre of Philadelphia. Her remains were on Tuesday evening attended by a very numerous and respectable concourse of citizens, of almost every denomination, to the Friends' burying ground, where they were interred, agreeable to the order of the Society.

"This benevolent lady, had, prior to the year 1780, long been subject to those asthenic complaints which frequently subdue the most robust, which she bore with a truly Christian patience. On the 21st of November 1780, the British Commandant of this City, no longer able to hear of, or to bear, the daily accounts of her contributing with unbounded liberality to the relief of her fellow citizens who were prisoners of war, banished her, without regard to her station or sex, or the inclemency of the season, from the city, by which act of cruelty, she became deprived of the use of her feet. But neither the threats, power, or cruelty of Britons could change her sentiments, relative to the justice of her country's cause, nor deter her from exercising her humanity towards those, whom the fortune of war, brought within the reach of her relief. Nor was her benevolence confined merely to those unhappy objects, but extended to all those, without distinction, with whose distress she was acquainted.

"As she lived greatly beloved, she died much lamented, by those who wish to imitate her virtues. She has left a husband, with seven children, to deplore their irretrievable loss."

John Franklin, the husband of Deborah Morris⁵ was a large ship owner, and a prominent merchant in New York. He was the son of Thomas and Mary P. Franklin, was born 4th mo. 27th, 1732; died 8th mo. 29th, 1801. After the death of his wife Deborah Morris in 1787, he m. (2dly) 5mo. 13th, 1789, Letitia, dau. of Sylvanus Townsend, and widow of Benjamin Underhill. By this wife he had no issue. John Franklin was a member of the Society of Friends, and during the Revolution, he proved himself a true citizen, disposed to do his full duty to his country. But a few months after he and his wife had been banished from New York, in 1780, he was requested by General Washington, to act as "Agent [p. 396] for Prisoners" in New York. The following is John Franklin's reply:

Letter from John Franklin to General Washington.

"Philadelphia, January 4th, 1781.

General Washington.

"Thy favor of ye 28th ult. I recd last evening. This opportunity happening so soon, that I am not so fully prepared to reply to the contents, as I wish to be. Am much obligd to my Friend Pintard, and happy in that my conduct has gained the favourable opinion of my suffering countrymen, who have been captivity in New York. My family being sent out, and now settled in this place, Renders my return not so desirable, but being witness to the absolute necessity of an Agent for Prisoners, have determined, (If there is no one thought of more proper), to accept of thy appointment to that service; but as I have, without any other cause that I know of than that of rendering my countrymen small services, whilst in captivity, on their Private account), become so obnoxious to Sir Henry Clinton, that I am something doubtful his admit'g my return to the City, for at purpose, which I thought proper to mention that the General might think of it, before I was proposed. If it's agreed to, shall old myself in readiness to attend thy Orders, and am most respectfully

"Thy Friend &c &c &c

General Washington's answer was as follows:-

"Head Quarters, New Windsor,

" 10 Jan. 1781.

"I am pleased to find by your favor of the 4th inst., that you are willing to accept of the agency for the prisoners, provided [p. 370] Sir Henry Clinton makes no objection to your returning to New York. I shall immediately propose you to him, and will acquaint you with his answer, as soon as I receive it.

" I am Sir

"your most obt servt

"G. Washington.

" On public service

" To John Franklin, Esqr.,

" Philadelphia." ⁷¹

Although no official record can be found accounting for John Franklin's services as "Agent for Prisoners" with Sir Henry Clinton, yet in a Philadelphia paper printed at the time, mention is made of the fact, that while John Franklin was away in the service of his country, his family remained in Philadelphia. Among the lineal descendants of John and Deborah Franklin, are the Townsends, Combes, Leavitts, Coverts, Robbins, Wrights, Lawrences and Van Bergens, residents of New York or its neighborhood.

71. The original of this letter is said to be in the possession of Benj. Franklin of Brooklyn-a grandson of Anthony Franklin (son of John Franklin). [this footnote appeared in the original - FFRU Ed]

The Franklin Family of New York

During the Revolutionary period, few families rendered more valuable services to the Nation, than the wealthy, but modest Franklin Family, of New York. Especial mention may be here made of Walter and John, sons of Thomas Franklin, who married at Westbury Meeting House, 1st month 25th, 1703, Mary, daughter of Nathaniel and Martha Pearsall, of Hempsted, L. I. Both of the brothers were wealthy, and highly esteemed citizens.

John Franklin has been already referred to as the husband of Deborah Morris. Walter Franklin (b. 12mo. 11th, 1728; died 6th mo. 8th, 1780; m. 5mo. 12th, 1774, Mary dau. of Daniel and Sarah [Stringham] Bowne), was a Member of the Committee of One Hundred, having been elected May 1st 1775, by the Freeholders of the Colony of New York, to represent them in all affairs, growing out of the complications then arising between the Colonies, and the mother country. He was also, a Member of the first Provincial Congress of the Province of New York, which met in New York City, May 23rd, 1775. Walter Franklin was senior partner in the firm of Franklin, Robinson & Co., engaged in trade with China and the South Seas. He retired from business, comparatively early in life, with a very large fortune. Mr. W. Roe, in his interesting article on "Old time New York Friends," says, that "Walter Franklin's heart remained free, until he accidentally met a pretty milkmaid, on Long Island. He was riding in his 'chariot,' when he noticed the young woman milking. He stopped, and enquired who owned the farm. She replied graciously, and in 'plain' language, that her father Daniel Bowie was the owner. Walter thanked her, drove on to the house, and there made himself known to Daniel. While the two were talking, Hannah came in to make tea for the City friend, with the romantic result, that she 'made tea' for him ever after.

He died June 8, 1780, leaving three young daughters. The Eldest daughter, Mariah, married Gov. de Witt Clinton, the second, Hannah, married George Clinton, his brother, and the youngest married an Englishman, named John Norton. Each received £20,000 by the father's will, an immense sum in those [p. 372] days. Walter's widow married Samuel Osgood, first Postmaster General, and from 1803 to 1813, Naval Officer of the Port of New York. The Osgoods owned and occupied the house built by Walter Franklin, 8 and 10 Cherry Street, or 73 Queen (now Pearl) Street, which was rented to General Washington, for his official residence, or "Palace," as they called it, and in which he dwelt, when inaugurated in the "Federal Building," on the site of the Sub-Treasury, at the corner of Nassau and Wall Streets. This building was demolished in 1856, but a picture has been preserved, showing it to have been, for those days, quite "palatial." It is said, to have been completely filled with simple-but elegant furniture, and there was an extensive garden attached, much of which, at the junction of Pearl and Cherry Streets was cut off, to form, what is now, Franklin Square. The Franklin house had previously been occupied, for a time, by the presiding officer of the Congress, but was fitted up entirely new, for the use of Gen. and Mrs. Washington."

Those must have been lively times, indeed, when New York became the capital of the Youthful Nation. Sarah Robinson, niece of Mrs. Osgood, wrote to her friend and cousin, Miss Kitty Wistar, at Philadelphia, May 8th, 1789, telling of the arrangements made in the Franklin Mansion, for the President and his family.⁷²

"Great rejoicing in New York, on the arrival of General Washington; an elegant barge decorated with an awning of satin, twelve oarsmen dressed in white frocks and blue ribbons, went down to E. Town (Elizabeth Point), last fourth day (Wednesday), to bring him up. * * * Previous to his coming, Uncle Walter's house in Cherry Street, was taken for him, and every, room furnished in the most elegant manner. Aunt Osgood and Lady Kitty Duer, had the whole management of it. I went the morning before the General's arrival, to look at it. The best of [pg 373] furniture in every room, and the greatest quantity of plate and china I ever saw; the whole of the first and second stories is papered, and the floors covered with the richest kind of Turkey and Wilton carpets. The house did honor to my Aunts and Lady Kitty, they spared no pains nor expense on it. Thou must know, that uncle Osgood and Duer, were appointed to procure a house and furnish it; accordingly they pitched on their wives, as being likely to do it better. I have not yet done, my dear, Is thee not almost tired? The evening after his Excellency arrived, a general illumination took place, except among 'Friends' (Quakers), and those styled Anti-Federalists.

The latter's windows suffered some, thou may imagine. As soon as the General has sworn in, a grand exhibition of fireworks is to be displayed, which, it -is expected, is to be to-morrow. There is scarcely anything talked about now, but General Washington and the 'Palace.'"

The latter term was no doubt a republican sarcasm.

From the pleasant gossip letters of this young lady, and from others that have survived, creased and faded and yellow, in old hair-cloth, brass-nailed trunks in garrets, we may learn much of which history, too dignified for such trivial matters, gives no information. We learn, for instance, that Washington had so frugal a mind, that at the first banquet served to him, he refused to partake of a shad, and ordered it from his table, rebuking the purveyor for extravagance, and himself making his meal on boiled mutton.

"Delicious, festive days, those of the spring and early summer of inauguration year. There is an atmosphere about that era, impossible to emulate now, or even thoroughly conceive, when fetes and balls and receptions kept the town giddy, with what was after all, a decorous and fastidious gayety. Imagine, please, the high caste dames and pretty 'buds' of yore treading stately minuets, clad in stiff silks and satins and brocades, with swains in uniform, or clad in such garments as light blue French coats, with high collars, large gilt buttons, double-breasted marseilles vest (or waistcoat), nankin colored cassimer breeches, shining pumps, big ruffles, and ponderous cravats.

"But they who participated in such festivities were 'world's people,' 'gay folk,' with whom, if not sinful, it was at least inexpedient for 'Friends' to affiliate. So there were few Franklins [pg 374] noted in the 'Almanacs de Gotha' of the period, as mingling in 'Society.'" (See "Old time New York Friends," by Wm. J. Roe.)

Samuel Franklin, brother of Walter and John, was also, in his day, a wealthy and influential citizen. He was the first Director of the Bank, the only one then in the city, now known as the Bank of New York. He left a large family, and his descendants are very numerous.

72. The Sarah Robinson mentioned in the text, was a daughter of a sister of the owner of the Franklin House, married to Rowland Robinson, a merchant of New York. The Kitty F. Wistar to whom the letter was addressed, was a daughter of Mary Franklin and Caspar Wistar, of Philadelphia. The Franklin House became the property of Samuel Osgood, the postmaster-general, through his marriage with the widow of the owner, Walter Franklin. Hence arises the "Aunt Osgood" referred to in the letter. This lady was a daughter. of the Quaker Daniel Bowne of Long Island. [this footnote appeared in the original - FFRU Ed]

Queries

Benjamin Franklin, son of William Franklin and Hannah Eveness, was baptised at Ramsgate, Kent, England, on 15 Aug 1819. He came to Tasmania, Australia, as a convict in 1844 and married another convict, Margaret Sullivan. They then moved to Victoria,⁷³ Australia and raised their family there.

I have looked up the IGI and there appears to be 8 siblings all baptized in Kent. I have not done any research further back than this.

73. Victoria is a state of Australia, located at the southeastern tip of the mainland. It borders New South Wales and South Australia. Tasmania is only 12 hours away by ferry across the Bass Strait
