

Black Bears—climbing trees and mountain sides, or investigating refuse left at camping ground, or walking along the Newfound Gap Highway—are a frequent sight for tourists visiting the Great Smoky Mountain National Park.

POST CARD

Dear Mother, We've been everyplace and seen everything. We just came out of the Smoky Mts.

I nearly froze. We are going on south. ^{Love} Wilma & John

Mabel Haas
1927 E. 17th St
Muncie, Ind

PC -115

A-6—Bears in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park

