FAMILY NOTES

Children (Family): Heinrich was 28 and Caroline was 25 when they married in 1874. It is quite conceivable that either of them could have been married previously. It could be a son of his first wife or a son of Caroline from a former marriage.

MOTHER NOTES: Caroline Whetstone-ID0385

Residence (after 1917): The house had a back porch that went across the entire length of the back of the house. There was a door in Bedroom #2 where the south window is located. This was used by the mother of August (Caroline Whetstone Haas ID0385) while she lived with them. This door was later removed and replaced by a window.

Hermannshohle (Hermann's Cave) - by the reservoir in Niederhausen
At this time one is trying to preserve this historically valuable building for future generations. In old times, before the erection of the Luitpold-bridge, this house served as a ferry station, where the vehicles (vessels) crossed the Nahe river between Bad Kreuznac and the area around Meisenheim on their trade routes. This is proven, among other things, by a certificate of operations * "Nahe-ferry Oberhausen" in the year 1779, which was granted to Johann Peter Haas by Carl Theodore Lord of Pfalz near Rhein.
This picture was taken on April 19, 1961. (Notes from Wilma: *sort of a franchise to run the ferry granted by the local count or baron. Your g. grandfather Henry Haas was born here.).

18. Email, from Wilma ID0379 dated 1 Jan 2007. I also believed that Henry belonged to Clara.

I had a researcher in Germany look into the birth and found that it was Maria who was the mother.

I have the records in Indiana that tell of the father of Maria, Valentin, went to another town and filed the birth record. It does not show who the father was.

I think that may have been the reason they came to the USA.

They came to be with a brother of Elisabetha, wife of Valentins brother. His name is Becker and he was a preacher.

Will give you those records when I return to Indiana.

43. Obituary, Caroline Whetstone Haas, ID0385, Newspaper Unknown, probably an Ohio paper, Jan 1928. Acc000673/Doc1588.pdf. Extract:

OBITUARY. Caroline Whetstone Haas was born Sept. 8th, 1851, in Crawford county Ohio, and departed this life Jan. 21, 1928, in Muncie, Ind., aged 76 years, 4 months and 13 days. From Crawford county she came with her parents to Williams county. In the year 1873 she was united in marriage to Henry Haas who has preceded [misprint] her in death 23 years. To this union were born nine children, 5 of whom have preceded her to the Great beyond. She leaves to mourn their loss 4 sons, Frank of Hartford City, Ind, John and August of Muncie, Ind and Valentine of Stryker. Fourteen grand children and two great grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends. She was one of a family of 14 children, all girls, of which four sisters remain. In later years she has made her home in Muncie, Ind. Although like most of the older generation she did not have the advantage of an education, but was always fond of reading her Bible, and in her last hours said to her son how she loved church. She was a great worker and always glad if anybody had some work for her, just so her hands were kept busy. Rest dear hands, thy work is o'er. Rest in peace and toll no more. Card of Thanks. We wish to thank all who assisted in any way during the burial of our mother, to the minister and singers also do we extend our thanks. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haas, Mr. and Mrs. John Haas, Mr. and Mrs. August Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Haas and families.

-- In 1901 Warner Gear of Muncie, Indiana, was formed

-- By 1906 Morse manufactured a line of automobile chains that were soon licensed for sale in England and Germany. Then came the production of automotive timing chains, followed quickly by Warner Gear's development of the industry's first manual transmission

-- At the same time, Warner Gear standardized its manual transmissions and introduced the T64, at nearly half the cost of its predecessors.

-- In a sweeping merger in 1928, Borg & Beck, Marvel Carburetor, Mechanics Universal Joint (renamed from Mechanics Machine in 1925), and Warner Gear became the Borg-Warner Corporation.

As we've discussed, I have a few memories about him. I remember the tattoo on his arm. Strange I would remember that at 2 years old when I'd assume I didn't know the alphabet yet. I also remember sitting in his lap playing with his watch chain. The links looked like little pocket knives and I kept trying to open them. He also let me look at his silver pocket knife and told me he would get me one when I got older. I have the watch in its original case. Grandma Haas gave it to me on my 18th birthday at your house out on S.R. 67.

I also remember him taking me to Ball Bros. where he visited with some of his friends. We drove in the 37 [or 36] Pontiac and went to a parking lot where there was an elevated guardhouse that I thought was pretty cool.

I also remember the day of his funeral, although I didn't go. My dad's sister Marian was watching me and I didn't want to go home. My mother got very upset at me and Aunt Marian calmed the waters. Not long after his funeral, I was asked by a friend in the neighborhood, Herby Dudley what my grandfather died from. I replied, "Old age."
(Email 27 Jan 2008)

Did you hear about how he would disassemble their Model T Ford in the garage, hang all the parts on the wall and I assume rebuild the engine about every year? Of course, another story that Mother told me is about how he would build a fire under the crankcase of that car in the Winter to get the oil warm so he could crank start it. The engine must have been really clean. (Email dated 30 Jan 2008).

Subject: Epiphany
To:

At the visitation, I mentioned to Cliff that one of my earliest memories of Grandpa Haas was sitting on his lap, looking at his pocket watch and his pen knife. The watch chain links looked like little knives themselves and I kept trying to open them. I asked him if I could have a real pocket knife. He told me "when you get a little bigger." I was about 20 months old at the time and I remember almost the whole conversation and looked forward to the day he would get me a pocket knife. Needless to say, that day never came. He died about 6 months later.

Grandma Haas gave me that watch when I was 18, but she said she didn't know what happened to the pen knife, which was often attached to the end of the watch chain. Cliff got a lot of personal stuff after Grandma Haas died, including a red velvet box with various jewelry items in it. At the visitation, he said he'd look to see if it was there. It was, and he brought to the funeral the next day. I immediately recognized it as the knife Grandpa Haas carried. Then, I felt his presence in the room. He'd come to take his beloved daughter home with him. You may think that this was just the grief speaking, but I felt as though August Haas was there with me for the first time in 67 years.

I carried his watch to the visitation and funeral. So, for the first time since his death, his most prized personal possessions were reunited.

Now, only Dad, Uncle Walter and myself remember August Haas. His memory will fade when we are gone. But Mother's memory will be a part of everyone she has touched and will endure for many, many years to come.
