NOTES ON THE FAMILY AND GENEALOGY OF BOWERMAN

According to the earliest authentic New England records, the ancestor of the Bowerman family in America was one Thomas Bowerman, who appeared in Plymouth (Mass.) in the year 1633 and in Barnstable (Cape Cod) 1643, where he married Hannah Annable, dau. of Anthony Annable of the same place (que vide). The name itself is variously written Bowerman, Bowman, Burman, Bourman, and occurs in the "Records of New Plymouth" written Boreman.

The will of Thomas Bowerman is dated May 9, 1663, but Mr. Savage says he died May 25, 1679.

The issue of (1) Thomas Bowerman and Hannah Annable are given by "Freeman" as follows, viz.:

- Hannah (1646)
-)2) Thomas (1648)
- Samuel (1651)*
- Desire (1654)
- Mary (1656)
- Mehitable (1658)
- Tristram (1661)

* Killed at the battle of Rheoboth, 26 March, 1676 (See "Francis Baylis, Hist. Memoirs of the Colony of New Plymouth" also "Barber's History of New England" p. 240--et al.).

In the appendix of Savage's Edition of "Gov. Winthrop's History of New England" we find "Thomas Boreman took the oath of a freeman 4 March 1634-5".

From the "Records of New Plymouth", "In the list of freemen for 1643 in Barnstable appears the name of Thomas Boreman, followed by that of Anthony Annable".

In Yarmouth also in 1643 occurs the name of Boreman. "Rec. of New Plymouth" also says "Thomas Boreman of Barnstable and Hannah Annable married 3 March 1644".

In the list of Births, Marriages, etc., of the same place, "Rec. New Plym." occurs the names and marriage of Thomas Burman and Hannah Annable, 1 March 1646, with the following issue, viz.:

- Thomas, about the middest 1648
- Samuel, about the end of July 1651
- Desire, about the end of May 1654
- Mary, the middest of March 1656
- Mehitable, the beginning of September 1658
- Tristram, the beginning of August 1661

"Freeman's Hist. Cape Cod" says "Thomas Bowerman married Hannah Annable, daughter of Anthony Annable, 10 March 1644-45".

Note: (There is a discrepancy apparent in the dates as given by the different authorities, but Mr. Freeman in "Hist. of Cape Cod" regards it as probable that the Thomas Bowerman and Hannah Annable mentioned under different dates are the same persons.)

(2) Thomas (1648) is the only member of the family, so far as known, who has left issue. He was for some time town clerk in Barnstable where he married Mary (vide Quakers) Harper, 9 April 1678, and had issue, viz.:

Samuel
(3) Thomas
Stephen
Benjamin
Hannah
Waite

The "Rec. of New Plymouth" says "In 1678, Thomas Burman was fined 10-0-0 for marrying himself" and, according to Mr. Freeman's "Hist. Cape Cod" "Thomas Burman married Mary Harper, 9 April 1678" and as, according to the same author, the Bowermans were Quakers, the presumption is that Thomas Bowerman was fined for marrying according to the Ceremonies of Friends.

There is no recorded issue of any members of the family of Thomas Bowerman and Mary Harper except that of the second son (3) Thomas, who married Jane (neither full name nor dates being given) and left the subjoined issue, viz.:

Died Oct 11/1721

Ichabod
Judah
David
Joseph
Sarah
Jane
Eliza
Peace
Deborah

Born 1721 died 1796?

from second wife Jane Clifton married Oct 11/1721

In 1688, lands were laid out to Thos. Bowerman, and in 1690, all the remaining undivided land in that section was ordered to be laid out, and Thomas Bowerman was one of two appointed to the task.

In 1702, Thos. Bowerman and another man were chosen by town meeting to settle with the dismissed teacher and preacher. Foreman's "History Cape Cod" says: "In 1834, April 11th, Mr. Jeremiah Bowman died. He was descended from Thomas Bowman, (sometimes written Bourman, Burman, and Bowerman), who was early in Barnstable and whose posterity were in Falmouth where David was born, who married (1) Ruth Dillingham, dau. of Jeremiah Dillingham, and (2) Hannah Wing, dau. of Zaccheus Wing, and had (Issue), Jeremiah, Thomas, Peace."

"Jeremiah married Deborah, dau. of Zaccheus Wing and sister of his father's second wife, and removed, as did also his father, to Sidney, Maine, but returned to this town (Sandwich, Cape Cod) 1788.

"His children were as follows:

Charlotte,
David, who married Sarah Allen,
Ruth, who married Benjamin Swift,
Abner,
Asa, 1786

The mother died 12 Feb'y 1816."

Whether David Bowman, who married Ruth Dillingham, was a brother of Ichabod Bowerman, who married (1) Lydia Mott and (2) Jane Richmond, is not positively settled, but it is yet considered probable from the following calculation.

Thomas Bowerman and Mary Harper were married 9th April 1678. Their 2nd son Thomas was probably born about 1681. About 1720 Ichabod Bowerman was born. This would be about the 40th year of Thomas' age. Again as Ichabod was born about 1720, allowing 1723 for Judah and 1725 for David's birth, we can calculate the probable age of Jeremiah who died in 1834 and show that it is not improbable that David of Falmouth and Ichabod, subsequently of Dutchers Co., N.Y. were of the same family.

Allowing 25 years for the age of David when he married his second wife Hannah Wing, the date of marriage would be 1750 and the birth of his eldest son Jeremiah about 1752, which would give Jeremiah, in 1834, an age of 82 years, quite within the limits of the known family longevity.

Now Jeremiah's youngest son was born 1786 and he had 6 children. Allowing 10 years to have elapsed between his marriage and the birth of his last child, the date of marriage would be 1776 and this would give him an age of 24 years at time of marriage.

No published records exist of the issue of any except Thomas, the son of Thomas Bowerman and Mary Harper, as already stated, and it seems probable that the above David and Ichabod are of this issue. Of Ichabod Bowerman little is now known, except that he was born in Mass., married (1) Lydia Mott and had issue, viz.:
