I am seeking all genealogical and biographical details for the family documented below including their ancestors, children, and grandchildren and the spouses thereof, including the full names of those spouses' parents. All additions and corrections within this scope, however speculative, will be greatly appreciated.

Dirck Jansz Van der Vliet of Flatbush, New York

In America, Van der Vliet became Van Vliet, Vliet, Van Fleet, Fleet, etc. The following information was extracted from "Origins of New Netherland Families" (Harry Macy, New York Genealogical and Biographical Record [April 1992]; 96-96" and "A Genealogy of The Van der Vliet Family in America" (James Vliet [New York City, New York], manuscript) and supplemented by correspondence with Grace Eckel and Pam Sears, along with various postings to Internet discussion groups such as DUTCH-COLONIES-L@RootsWeb.com.

1. Dirck Jansz Van der Vliet was probably born in Nederhemert, just west of Well, a village on the south side of the Bommelerwaard in Gelderland, Netherlands in 1612/13; he died Flatbush (now Brooklyn, Kings County, Long Island), New York after January 1679/80 when he made his will there. Dirck was married three times in Well: "Dirck Jansen van der Vliet, j.g. van Nederhemert [and] Catelijin Aerts, j.d. te Wel" 17 July 1642; "Dirck Jansen van de Vliet, wedér van Lijnke Aerts [and] Huybert Geertsen, j.d., beiden te Well," 10 January 1647; "Dirck Jansz, van der Vliet, wedér van Huïbertgen Gerrits, te Wel, [and] Geertgen Gerrits, j.d. te Wel," 21 May 1654.

The West India Company account book... shows that 16 April 1663 Dirck Jansen Van Vliet [sic] was charged for the passage on de Bonte Koe of his wife Grietje [sic] Gerrits and two children 9 and 4 years old (Book KK, p. 74; HSYB 1902: 25). When Dirck took the oath of allegiance in 1687 he stated he was in the country 23 years, as did his sons Jan (DHNY 1:659), but it is likely that both should have said 24 years, and that Dirck arrived shortly before the rest of his family.

The two children on de Bonte Koe must have been Jan and Hendrick; Herske (Hendrickie) apparently came over at another time, while Gerrit remained behind and Gerardus must have died young.

The immediate descendants of Dirck Jansz Van der Vliet can be traced in Bergen's Early Settlers of Kings County; none of the later accounts of the family are worth mentioning. Dirck had many descendants through his daughters, but whether any of the Vliets or Van Vliets of New Jersey are his descendants has not been satisfactorily proved. Apparently overlooked by Bergen and other family genealogists is an agreement recorded 1 May 1707 in the Flatbush Town REcords (A:254) between Trytnje, the widow of Hendrick Vander Vliet, and the other heirs of Dirrik Jansz Vander Vliet. The other heirs who signed the agreement were Jan Vliet (sic), Jacob Vander Bilt (husband of Marý), Jacob Rensm (husband of Geertruýt), and Hendericke Nelson (apparently a widow and thus able to sign in her own right). There is also mention of Dirrik's son "Gerret Vliet, now dwelling in Holland."

In January 1679/80 Derick Jansz van der Vliet, age 67, and his wife Geertie Gerrits, age 54, of Flatbush, made a will which names his "...oldest daugher Hendrickie, married to Jan Nelse and born of his first wife, named Lynthie Aertsz... son Gerrit Dericksz, born of his second wife... he with Hendrickie has already enjoyed his mother's estate... the four children of the testators, Jan, Hendrick, Marý and Geertruýt (Flatbush Town Records AA:95, also abstracted REC.
47:230).

He was on the assessment roles of Flatbush in 1675, 1676 and 1683; magistrate in 1679, 1680 and 1681; commissioned 25 Oct 1673 as Ensign of the Amersfor (Flatbush) militia under Capt. Elbert (Stoothof) and Lieut. Roelif (Schenk); member of the Reformed Dutch Church in 1677 and deacon on 1680; on Gov. Andros patent for the "New Lotts" of 1677 and in the confirmatory patent by Gov. Dougan in 1685; took the oath of allegiance in 1687. 15 Jan 1679/1680 he and his wife Geertje made a joint will which is recorded p. 95 Liber AA Flatbush records. He died after 29 May 1689 (codicil to his will). (Grace Eckel, correspondence [7 December 1999])

John was first married about 1706 to Feytye Van der Linde; she died probably at Six Mile Run, Somerset County,
New Jersey about 1711. Feytje, otherwise known as Vytie, was the daughter of Roelof "Rudolphus" Van der Linde ("Abstract of Wills," New York Historical Society, Vol. 2, 37-38). John was married second at Six Mile Run, New Jersey about 1712 to MARGARET2 "GEERTJE" BRIolson (Daniel1), born in Millstone River, Somerset County, New Jersey about 1689, died at New Brunswick, Middlesex County, New Jersey, will dated 9 August 1742, will proved 5 November 1742, daughter of Daniel1 and Frances (Greenland) Brinson.

John and Feytje moved to Six Mile Run, Somerset County, New Jersey from Flatbush, New York before 13 June 1711, along with Jan's father. The fact that several members of the Wyckoff family and Jan the Brewer all died in 1737-38 suggests that there was an epidemic at Six Mile Run.

Margaret [Brinson], Barefoot's sister, married John Van Vliet (which became Fleet) and had a son John, and a daughter Frances, who m. Jacob Wyckoff, of Six-Mile Run, and had two sons. [Frances] m. Frances "Vliet" Piatt died on the day of the Battle of Princeton within hearing of the guns, and three sons were in that battle. All five sons founded families. (William H. Benedict, "The Brunson (Brinson—Brynson) Family," Somerset County Historical Quarterly, [Vol. III] [1914])
