WELCOME

Hello Everyone;

Welcome to the Summer 2012 issue of the McVicker, Moreland, Pinnell, Scruggs (MMPS) family newsletter. We've included you on my mailing list because you are someone who shares a common interest of searching for information on the surnames associated with our maternal family line. We hope that some of the topics addressed within this newsletter will assist you with your genealogical endeavors.

This issue's Feature Article traces the direct lineage of our MORELAND Family from the 1854 to 1971. Within the News of Interest to the Family Historian we've added the third lesson of the England Beginning Research Series. The BRACKEN surname is featured in the Surname Search section which displays matches of a surname in our database to the huge resources found at RootsWeb.com. You are reminded to look at the Research Connections to see if anyone else is researching your family or a similar surname. Check out our MMPS Databases at the RootsWeb World Connect Project and Ancestry.com

Take a Genealogy

to see if we've added any new ancestral family lines, individuals or new and revised web records that may be of interest to you. Take time to look pages and image galleries recently uploaded to the Maternal and Paternal Ancestors Website at RootsWeb's Freepages. Included here are pages containing worthwhile information about individual surnames, ancestral locations, free genealogy records as well as other topics such as military units, our genealogy reference book library, and historic American roads and migration routes.

As always we will attempt to keep the newsletter brief but informative and hope you will enjoy reading it. If you do not want to remain on our mailing list please let us know and we will stop sending to you. To read our previous newsletters, see the link in the Contact Information section of this issue.

A QUOTE TO NOTE

To be ignorant of what occurred before you were born is to remain perpetually a child. For what is the worth of a human life unless it is woven into the life of our ancestors by the records of history?

FEATURE ARTICLE

A HISTORY OF OUR MORELAND LINEAGE – Part Two

This “Feature Article” is a continuation of the Moreland family and its 200 year migration across the North American continent. Part One of A History of our Moreland Lineage started with our 7th great-grandfather Patrick Moreland of Maryland and ended with an account of his great-grandson George Moreland who was born 1775 and died in the State of Missouri in 1853.

Our line traces through John Moreland, the third son of George and Hannah Moreland, who was born around 1809. The location of his birth is difficult to determine because this event occurred around the time that his father George moved the family from Wilkes County to the York District of South Carolina. During the years John lived in McMinn County he met Sarah Bennett. It is believed that they married there around 1830. The young couple quickly produced a son in December of 1832 whom they named John P. Moreland. Unfortunately this would be the only known child of this union. It is probable that John his father George Moreland as well as the Bennett family of his father-in-law removed west to St. Clair County Illinois in 1833. It is believed that John and his father-in-law then moved on farther west to Missouri sometime around 1835. John Moreland died about 1836 or 1837. There is some family tradition that holds that Indians killed John and his father-in-law, John Bennett, in the Cherokee Nation.

John P. Moreland, only child of John and Sarah Bennett Moreland was only 3 or 4 years old when his father died. His mother Sarah remarried to a James Collins in 1838 when he was but 5 years old. John is believed to be listed in the 1840 census as a member of the James Collins household in Johnson Township, Crawford County, Missouri. By 1850 John, age 19, was living in the household of his grandmother Rosanna Lineberry Bennett at St. Clair County, Illinois. By 1853 he had gone back to Crawford County where he married Lydia Ann Brown, daughter of Robert Brown and Jemima Walker Brown. Four children were produced of this union between 1855 and 1866. In 1857 John acquired land in the Lanes Prairie area of Jefferson Township, Maries County, Missouri. He spent the next 50 years of his life as a prosperous farmer in this locale of Maries County.

Sometime in 1907 John and Lydia moved with the families of their grandson John Alton Jones and granddaughter Martha O. (Jones) Cox from Maries County to Stevens County, Kansas. They settled in Voorhees Township with plans farm and grow watermelons and sell the seed. Records show that in 1913 John obtained a land patent 160 acres of land located within the township. Stevens

John P. and Lydia Moreland c. 1909

County is located in the far southwestern corner of Kansas about 75 miles from the farm of John and Lydia's son William R. Moreland who lived in Beaver County, Oklahoma, and about 115 miles northwest of Woodward County, Oklahoma where their daughter-in-law Mary Etta Pinnell Moreland and grandson Jeremiah “Jerre” F. Moreland were then living. Upon the death, in 1913, of his beloved wife Lydia John sold his property in Stevens County and returned to Maries County, Missouri. It is likely that he lived with his daughter Rhoda (Moreland) Jones and son-in-law Elijah Jones in High Gate until he passed away in 1917 at the age of 84 years.

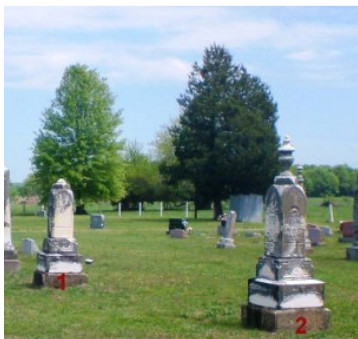

Jeremiah E. Moreland was born at Maries County, Missouri in 1858. He grew up and attended school in the Lanes Prairie area of Jefferson Township. Jeremiah married Miss Laura A. Kinsey on May 16, 1880, and his brother William apparently married Laura's sister Josephine Kinsey on April 18th of the same year. The 1880 census shows both brothers living next to each other with their new brides. A little more than a year later Jeremiah and Laura's first child, a son named Emmett C. Moreland, was born on June 2, 1881. Beginning in October of 1881 Jeremiah had to deal with several tragic events in his life. On October

4th his sister-in-law Josephine died at age 22 years. Then the day after Christmas his six-month-old son Emmett left this earth.

As if that wasn't enough, three months later on March 29, 1882 his wife Laura passed on at the tender age of 21 years. Ten months after the death of his first wife Jeremiah married Mary Etta Pinnell of Lanes Prairie. Five children were born to this union between 1884 and 1899. A sixth child named Pearl born in 1879, was probably Mary Etta's child, and the result of an out-of-wedlock relationship. Thus the eldest daughter known as Pearl Moreland was adopted by Jeremiah as his own. Sometime around 1885 Jeremiah and Mary moved from Maries County, to Kansas. It is believed that they lived at Galena located in Cherokee County up to 1893 or 1894. Jeremiah and his brother William both may have been among the eager settlers who participated in the Oklahoma Land Rush that occurred on September 16, 1893. Although it is fact that Jeremiah settled in Woodward County and William in Beaver County, Oklahoma Territory, each one of the seven counties in the Cherokee Strip, no records have been located to substantiate that he or any other Moreland actually participated in this historic event. Yet there is no disputing the fact that the appearance of the Moreland family in this part of Oklahoma followed very closely upon the heels of the settlers who participated in the Land Rush. Jeremiah E. lived the rest of his days in Woodward County, Oklahoma. The family resided in Tangier Township located just west of the town of Woodward where he made his living raising cattle. Jeremiah E. died, at age 43 and is buried in the Resthaven Cemetery within Tangier Township.

Our Moreland lineage extends through Jeremiah Jerre' Floyd Moreland. Jerre' the youngest child of Jeremiah E. and Mary Etta Moreland was born in 1899. He was only 29 months old when his father died in 1901. His mother subsequently married a neighbor Edwin T. Loyd in 1905. Around 1915, Jerre' and his mother left Woodward County and moved on to Denver, Colorado likely in the company of Jerre's brother-in-law Wesley Thomason and stepfather Edwin Loyd. It appears that Mary divorced or separated from Edwin Loyd while at Denver. Where upon she and son Jerre' moved on west to Tulare County, California where Mary Etta's brother William B. Pinnell was living. Her sons Guy H. Moreland and John Earl Moreland were also living in this area of California at this time. By 1920 Jerre' and his mother were settled in the community of Porterville. It was here that he met his future wife Pearl Ella Scruggs. Jerre' married Pearl in 1923 when they were both students at the University of South California. The couple had three children between 1923 and 1935. Jerre' and Pearl removed to Colorado where he was the Superintendent of Schools in Weld County. In 1936 he and his family moved east to New Jersey. After obtaining his doctorate degree at Columbia University Jerre' was named Superintendent of Schools in Florence, New Jersey in 1940. He later became an ordained Minister of the United Methodist Church. Subsequent to Pearl's death in 1957 Jerre' married Lillian Caine around 1960. Jerre' passed away in 1971 and is buried in Cedar Hills Cemetery at Hightstown, NJ.

Great Places To Look For FREE Genealogy Information

Overwhelmed by the number of family history-related Web sites popping up? The folks at FamilyTreeMagazine, <http://tinyurl.com/re5ryu> have taken the time to sort through them to bring us the best. As a result they have recently identified the following worthwhile websites for those of you who are ready to jump into the gene pool. GeneTree at: <http://www.genetree.com/>. This site, combines DNA and social networking. Although limited to mitochondrial test results so far, its mapping of DNA results is the best we've seen. You can order test kits here, but you can search for you

DNA matches no matter which lab you used.

Sorenson Molecular Genealogy Foundation at:

<http://www.smgf.org/>. This nonprofit organization is dedicated to building the world's foremost collection of DNA and corresponding genealogical information. To date, its database tops 70,000 DNA samples with family trees from around the world.

MitoSearch at: <http://www.mitosearch.org/>. A database from Family Tree DNA lets you search for Y-DNA or mtDNA matches no matter whom you tested with. At Family Tree DNA's site, you can see if your surname is among the 74,355 in the company's client database.

Learn About the Methods and Key Resources Needed to Jump-Start Your Family History Research

Stuck at a brick wall, or feeling overwhelmed by your research? Then it is probably time to time to increase your skill set by educating yourself. Once understanding of records and research planning is acquired we become better researchers. This means we are more selective in what we gather, more confident that we can find information again, and better equipped to scale our brick walls. To assist you with this effort we have included this "Research Courses" article as an on-going feature of this newsletter. Although there are many sources for FREE online genealogy lessons we have decided to start with those tried and proven courses offered by Family Search that can be seen at: <https://familysearch.org/learningcenter/home.html>. These classes are taught by genealogy research consultants from the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah, as well as experts from around the world. Below you will find information about the featured lesson. Click on the URL to get the lesson started.

Database Updates

New Records Uploaded to the Databases at RootsWeb and Ancestry

Our Moreland-Scruggs Family Line (MMPS) database at Ancestry.Com currently contains the records of 3,293 persons. The database can be viewed by all Ancestry subscribers. This tree will change every three months as we edit, remove, or otherwise modify the data therein.

An updated version of our MMPS Database was recently uploaded to the, open to all and FREE, "World Connect" site at RootsWeb.com. Several new records have been added over the past three months. We now have information on 3,158 persons. Since we update the database quarterly to coincide with the publishing of this newsletter our readers are all reminded to take a look at what is new with our family history research. If you do check out the website you may find some new information that will enhance your own research or you may find some errors in ours that we need to know of.

The Database at Roots.web free for all to use. It is located at: <http://tinyurl.com/4z3ky6>. You may also access our family tree by going to: <http://worldconnect.rootsweb.com/>.

The Database at Ancestry.com can only be accessed by subscribers. It is located at the Home Page <http://www.ancestry.com/> in the "Search" pull-down button under "Public Member Trees". Please know that we would always welcome any new information that you may have on our common ancestors.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE WEBSITE ??

Our Ancestors: 380 Years of History in America

Dozens of New Historic Roads Added to Revised "Trails To The Pacific Coast" New ILLINOIS Library Page Added

Since we usually update our website several times between the publishing of this newsletter you are reminded and encouraged to periodically review what is new with regard to the family information and genealogical resources contained at, Our Maternal & Paternal Ancestors 380 Years of History in America: An Archive of Genealogical Information. To access the site's Home Page use the following link: <http://tinyurl.com/3lbrly>.

Over the past three months four new or revised Surname web pages have been created and added to the MMPS SUBSITE. We've also added to the web-page dedicated to the many MMPS War Veterans.

At our ANCESTRAL LOCATIONS sub-site seven new or revised web pages have been created and uploaded to the internet. This includes several new and revised county pages for the State of Maryland.

The scope and volume of the various sub-sites created for our SPECIAL TOPICS sub-sites continued to increase since the last issue of this newsletter. We have added many more links to our Free Genealogy Records and Databases. Here you will find hundreds of links to free genealogy record databases. Most of these free records come from websites such as Family Search, Ancestry.com, Distant Cousin, various U.S. State archives, and Fold 3. We have continued to upgrade and increase the number of volumes within our Genealogy Reference Library. As a result of our growing library of books we've added a separate page for easier access to the 136 volumes now in our ILLINOIS State collection. Most of these books are fully searchable and can be downloaded to your computer. In addition text may be cut & pasted directly to your family tree software or other document. For our readers who have an interest in Historic American Roads And Migration Routes major revisions have been made to the Trails to the Pacific Coast pages. As a result many new trails and several image galleries about routes taken by pioneers to settle in the U.S. States of Washington, Oregon and California. Our War Veterans; Research and Resources sub-site we've revised pages about the 87th Naval Construction Battalion (WWII), and the 6th Special NCB of WWII "Image Galleries". The Immigration Research: Strategies & Resources page has been updated with more links to appropriate interest web pages.

As with the database you may find some new information that will enhance your own research or you may want to advise us of some updated records that we can include at the site. Either way we would appreciate an email from you just to let me know that you've found your way to our online website.

RESEARCH CONNECTIONS

Since the first issue of this newsletter was created its distribution list has grown significantly. Along the way we have interacted with many genealogists that have expressed an interest in one or more of the family lines contained within our MMPS databases located at RootsWeb and Ancestry.com. Because networking is a key to the success of any family historian we feel that it is important for this newsletter to help in making that connection. As a result "Research Connections" has become part of every edition because we all realize the importance of a forum for researchers to reach out to others who may be working on the same family. Since most of the readers of this letter share several surnames in the aforementioned databases we believe that we would all benefit from the publishing of your significant "brick wall".

I am researching a Christopher and Bridget BRACKEN who were each born in Ireland. Christopher in 1827 and Bridget 1832. I would like to know each of their parents and other siblings in the parents family. When Chris and Bridget came to U.S.A. I first saw them on the census in Lewistown, Missouri. Lewis Co. A few years there and then they seem to have moved on. The parents Chris and Bridget had 4 children. John James b-25 Aug 1859 Missouri. William Michael b-July 27, 1861, Missouri, Christopher Charles b- Oct 10,1863, Canada and Mary Jane Bracken b-June 27, 1866 in Canada.

BRACKEN Surname at RootsWeb

The BRACKEN surname is featured in this newsletter. We have traced our Bracken family line back to William Bracken an Englishman who probably lived in Lancashire during the second half of the 16th century. Most of the information we’ve uncovered on this surname begins four generations later with William Bracken’s great-grandson also a William. This William Bracken, (1671-1749), is recognized as the ancestor who migrated to the New World. Our Bracken lineage continues to Hannah Bracken born about 1728 in New Castle County, Delaware is our 6th great-grandmother.
