Lineage and generations unknown

15 November 1969

Van Eps-Van Epps

This effort at charting the Van Eps-Van Epps family had its beginning in discussions with my brothers concerning the validity of certain legends about my grandfather and his people. The meager information available gave rise to a curiosity, which developed from a casual inquiry, into a hobby and eventually could become a principal occupation, except that the necessity of earning a living has a way of asserting itself.

The charts make no effort at recording the history or accomplishments of the family as that area of study is in more competent hands. Our purpose has been to develop the genealogical charts and records in a systematic fashion which I hope will make the lineage of recorded individuals readily available.

In the construction of the charts I have drawn freely from the studies of Prof. Jonathan Pearson, Percy W. Van Epps and Don Keefer. In addition I have had much help from Inez Van Epps Owen, Mary Groer, Jean Van Epps Ireland and Carol Bussing. Personal visits as convenient and such correspondence with a great many gracious and interested people, have provided the information to tie together many branches of the family and update previous studies.

While the charts are not complete, and by their nature can never be considered complete, we have recorded 1575 individuals up to the present time. Each individual has been recorded on a file card with pertinent information and been assigned a serial number. The individual card records the lineage by serial number back as far as we know it. This makes the work of finding the whole known lineage of a particular person a simple task of pulling the cards as noted on his card, from the file, running through the copy machine and calling.

The first chart constructed was of my immediate family as this contained my entire store of information at that time and as the project grew it became necessary to identify both the generation and the individual by number. My grandfather Abraham W. Van Epps was chosen as the datum point and assigned the serial number 0001 and his generation recorded as number 100. This selection would permit recording the generations in either forward or backward progression. He is presently shown on Chart 1 - generation 100 serial 0001. The earliest generation recorded is Dirk Van Eps and Harite Jansen - Chart A, generation 93, number 200.

The direct lineal descendant is recorded above the line and the spouse below. However there are many cases where the spouse is also a direct lineal descendant, in which case the serial number of the spouse is included in small type.

Children are recorded in groups under the family name and the serial number and residence of the parents.

The column of numbers at the upper left of each chart under the heading "lineage" refers to the file cards of the antecedents of all those shown on that particular chart.

Included are some sizable branches of the family which to date we have been unable to tie in with the original settlers, but as we have so far found only one original Van Eps family in America it would seem that they may properly be included at this time while further inquiry is being made.

Many requests for copies make it seem desirable to have them duplicated at this time, so that this much of the work will be preserved and perhaps the distribution of the charts and their critical examination will be the means of acquiring additional information.

In spite of the care exercised in the recording, it seems inevitable that errors have crept into the work and if detected, should be corrected, but I pray the criticism may be gentle.

With every expectation of continuing the work I welcome additional information and meanwhile I hope you find the charts interesting and helpful.
