

Walking Tour of Walton Price Locations

Most of the buildings once occupied by early Utah members of the Walton Price family are gone. A few are identified in this little tour. The tour centers on Alpine and Millcreek (City of South Salt Lake), Utah, where the Waltons, Prices, Guests, Whiteheads and other relatives resided. Please, no trespassing.

Much more work remains to be done to gather together addresses and photographs of early Walton Price residences and properties. If you are aware of any information not included here (or errors), please contact David Walton (801 226-1123) with the details.

Alpine

Three views (left to right 1950s, 1900, 1998) of Joseph Walton rock house built in early 1860s. Notice changes in entry and attic window. Northeast corner of 200 East and Center Streets.

Thomas Heber Walton home is also standing. It is immediately north of the rock house.

Joseph and Ann Thompson Walton are buried in Alpine Cemetery (first row of graves, far north east corner of cemetery).
